Property insurance gets out of date, too

Insurance is not one of those things you can buy and then forget. No doubt your property is worth more today than when you purchased it. And perhaps you've bought more appliances, done some refurnishing, even added a room or two.

Make sure your insurance covers the present value of your home and possessions.

Rayders Smother Ironmen In Conference Opener, 35-0

The Charlevoix Rayders racked up their first loop victory of the season by trouncing an over-rated Mancelona eleven 35 to 0 on the latter's field Friday night.

The Rayders were never in serious trouble in the game as they scored twice in the first quarter, twice in the third period and once in the final stanza against the Ironmen who were big but lacked speed and the punch necessary to get the ball into pay dirt.

The Charlevoix Rayders kicked off to the Ironmen but gained possession of the ball on the Mancelona 48 after the latter failed to pick up a first down. With Tom Lakies and Bud Balch carrying the ball the Rayders moved it to the Mancelona 18 in three plays. Lakies than took it over for the touchdown.

Again the Rayders kicked off and this time Mancelona punted out of bounds on the Charlevoix 48 after failing to gain ground through or around the Rayder line. This time all four Rayder backs, Mike Geneit, Stan Smith, Lakies and Balch did their share in moving the ball to the 16 yard line in nine plays. Lakies again crossed the goal line and VanRaaphorst converted to make the score 14 to 0 as the period ended. Lakies suffered an ankle injury when he was tackled after he had scored and was benched for the remainder of the game.

The second period play was slowed down by a series of major penalties on both teams. The first quarter ended with the Rayder touchdown play so the first play of the second period was the kickoff which Mancelona took on their own 10 yard line. The Ironmen picked up a first down to their own 36 then moved it to their 40 on the next play. A holding penalty, however, put them back on their own 30. Two plays later they lost ground to their own 18. Charlevoix refused another penalty which forced the Ironmen to punt. The Rayders took over on their own 45 and were on the march again when Mancelona recovered a Charlevoix fumble on their 35 yard line.

A pass interference penalty on Charlevoix gave Mancelona a first down on the Rayder 47. However, after three unsuccessful attempts the Ironmen were forced to punt from their own 30 and Charlevoix took over on their own 40. With Balch and Smith the chief ground-gainers the Rayders moved the ball to their own seven but the final run, a 32 yard run by Smith, was nullified because of another major penalty and the half ended with Charlevoix in possession of the ball on the Mancelona 40.

Mancelona kicked off to Charlevoix to open the second half. Ron Vandenberg took the kickoff on the 15 yard line and returned it to the Mancelona 43 from where Balch marched thru the Mancelona line for a 43 yard romp and the third touchdown of the game. VanRaaphorst's conversion kick was blocked but an offside penalty on Mancelona game him a second chance and this time the boot was good.

Mancelona took the kickoff on their own 29 and with the assistance of a 15 yard clipping penalty on the Rayders moved out to their 47 where they bogged down and had to punt.

The Rayders took the ball on their own 32 but a holding penalty pushed them back to their 17. On the next play Balch found a hole in the line and romped to the Mancelona two where he was brought down from behind. On the next play Geneit scored with VanRaaphorst converting to make the score 28 to 0.

Mancelona took the kickoff on their own 35 and picked up two first downs to the Rayder 45 before being pushed back to their own 33 from where they were forced to punt.

Charlevoix took the ball on their own 32, but another major penalty on the first play from scrimmage pushed them back on 17. For the first time in the game Mancelona was able to push the Rayders against their own goal line as Charlevoix found themselves on their three yard line as the quarter ended.

On the first play of the final quarter, Tackle Kenny Wojan who was pulled out of the line and into the backfield for the play, carried the ball out to the Rayder 17. A major penalty on the Ironmen moved the ball out to the 33. Charlevoix, however, was forced to punt from the Mancelona 47. The Ironmen took the ball on their own 11 and marched to midfield. On the next play the Ironmen fumbled and Charlevoix recovered on the Mancelona 42. Smith picked up 10 yards for a first down on the next play before Balch broke away for the Rayders' final touchdown. VanRaaphorst's kick was good and the score remained 35 to 0.

Game of the Week

Charlevoix

vs.

Gaylord

Dope Sheet

Attention will be focused on the meeting of the Charlevoix Rayders and the Gaylord Blue Devils at Kipke field Friday night as the Northern Michigan Class C schedule goes into its second week.

In other action Boyne City will play at East Jordan, Mancelona at Harbor Springs and Pellston at Grayling

Charlevoix fresh from a 35 to 0 victory over Mancelona will be hosting the Gaylord 11 which last week dumped Harbor Springs 26 to 6 and the week before knocked off Class B Cheboygan 13 to 0. The Rayders earlier trounced Class B Rogers City 46 to 0. If comparative figures mean anything, Rogers City last week defeated Cheboygan 26 to 19.

This week Coach Don Carey is devoting practice sessions to possible methods of stopping the speedy and versatile John Burnison who, to date, has scored six of the Blue Devils' eight touchdowns and passed to end Bruce Walker for another. Gaylord's defense is annther of the team's feature as its line has thus far kept all opponents out of Blue Devil territory.

Charlevoix's defense has looked equally as good, however, as they have rolled up 81 points against two rivals while holding them scoreless.

A lot will depend on whether hard-running Tom Lakies, who suffered an injured ankle in the Mancelona game, will be able to return to the lineup for the meeting with Gaylord.

Charlevoix will probably find the Blue Devils one of their toughest opponents. If the Rayders want to stay on the victory trail they will have to play heads up ball all the way.

Red Devils, Blue Devils, Ramblers Chalk Up Opening Victories

Favored teams racked up victories Friday as the 1958 Northern Michigan Class C schedule got underway.

A strong Gaylord eleven rolled over Hrabor Springs by a score of 33 to 6; Boyne City successfully defended its loop title by taking Grayling 20 to 0 and East Jordan edged Pellston 13 to 7.

In the only other loop game Charlevoix rolled over Mancelona by an unexpected 35 to 0 score.

East Jordan	13
Pellston	7

In a game marked by fumbles and interceptions, East Jordan racked up its first loop win of the season to get off to their best start in three years by defeating Pellston 13 to 7.

A Pellston fumble early in the game gave East Jordan the pigskin on their own 25 yard line where the Red Devils started a march which resulted in a touchdown by Quarterback Jim Kenney who went in from the 25 yard line on a wide end sweep. Jim Yettaw's kick was blocked and the score remained 6 to 0.

East Jordan was in possession of the ball at midfield as the first period ended. Following a drive which moved the ball to the Pellston 7, halfback Jack Gee went in to score. Fullback Jim Yettaw kicked the extra point to put the Red Devils ahead 13 to 0.

Pellston returned to the game following the half a determined squad and drove to the East Jordan three yard line before bogging down.

However, in the final period quarterback Barry Anderson got off a short pass to halfback Allen Spencly who went 23 yards to score. Bill McClutchey booted the extra point.

Gaylord	33
Harbor Springs	6

It was John Burnison all the way at Gaylord Friday night as the Blue Devils rolled over the Rams by a score of 33 to 6.

The speedy and versatile halfback took the ball over from the one yard line early in the first period after Gaylord had recovered a Harbor Springs fumble as the result of a bad pass from center. Starting on their own 30 yard line, the Blue Devils marched to the one where Burnison went in to score. His brother, Bob, a quarterback, added the extra point on a kick to put Gaylord ahead 6 to 0.

The Rams snapped back to add a touchdown but failed to get the ball through the uprights and trailed 7 to 6 as the quarter ended. Right halfback Ron Niswander was the ball carrier on the scoring play, taking the ball in from the one yard line following a concerted drive.

Gaylord's right halfback Roger Walker went around left end on the reverse and Bob Burnison booted the extra point to give Gaylord a 14 to 6 halftime advantage.

In the last half John Burnison added three more touchdowns for the lopsided victory. The first of the three came on an end sweep from Gaylord's 47 yard line. The conversion kick was wide and the score remained 20 to 6.

Later in the same period John Burnison got off a six yard pass to end Bruce Walker who, when he was tackled as he took the pass, lateraled back to John Burnison who got away for a 30 yard run and his fourth touchdown of the game. The boot was wide and the score remained 26 to 6.

In the final period it was a 15 yard run around right end by John Burnison which gave the Blue Devils their final tally. Bob Burnison kicked the conversion to make it 33 to 6.

Boyne City	20
Grayling	0

The Boyne City Ramblers successfully defended their league title by defeating Grayling 20 to 0 in their first loop game of the season.

Grayling threatened only once in the game after blocking a Boyne City punt on the nine yard line but their threat was shortlived as the Ramblers controlled the ball most of the game.

Left halfback John Kirby got off a pass from the 15 yard line to end George Shiotelis in the end zone to account for the Ramblers' first touchdown. Shiotelis' boot was wide and the score remained 6 to 0.

In the second period freshman fullback Ron Grubbe took the ball following a Viking punt and romped 67 yards to score. Shiotelis passed to left end Bill DeNike for the extra point to make the score 13 to 0.

Kirby added the final tally midway in the third period as he broke away and went 55 yards to score. Shiotelis's conversion kick was good as Boyne City took the game 20 to 0.

Next Week With Class 'C' Teams

Gaylord at Charlevoix
Boyne City at East Jordan
Pellston at Grayling
Mancelona at Harbor Springs.

For several years Boyne City has run rough shod over the East Jordan Red Devils and the latter will have this in mind when they host the defending champions this week.

East Jordan is on the way up. The Devils edged Pellston by a 13 to 7 score last week and held back several Hornet attacks.

Boyne City, on the other hand, is crippled by serious injuries to veteran center Don Tomkins and end Dave Kirby, both of whom are expected to be out of the line up for some time.

The Jordanites, armed with a new spirit as well as a better team than they have fielded for several years, may take the Ramblers who have lost to St. Ignace 13 to 12 and won over Grayling 20 to 0. The Red Devils would like nothing better than to avenge past losses and given half a chance they may do just that and thus earn the distinction of being the first league team to defeat the defending champions since Charlevoix upset them in 1955.

After taking a beating from Charlevoix, the Mancelona Ironmen will journey to Harbor Springs this week to take on the Rams who were downed by Gaylord 26 to 6. Though the Ironmen were over-rated they should have little trouble with the Harbor Springs eleven who have few veterans around whom to build this year's team.

Though Pellston lost to East Jordan, the Hornets have a big team which should shape up as the season progresses. Grayling is another team that is shaping up after several slim years and this meeting should be a close one. The Hornets, however, should come up with their first win of the season although the score is expected to be a close one.

From the Side Lines . . .

We seem to have a very fast starting team that takes little time in locating the weakness of the defense and once this weakness is found works it into an even weaker point.

The team as a whole looks something like the team of 1945, a year in which the material on hand jelled to a smooth running ball club.

As in 1945, this years team has a hard hitting line, a backfield with the power to close short gaps and the speed and deception needed to break away for long gains.

With the combination of this line, backfield and reserve power, we may find the Rayders bringing home the conference championship—IF—and this little word works both ways—IF we do and IF we had.

Colorful Western Offers Exciting Story at Palace

An engrossing super-western, "The Bravados" with Gregory Peck and Joan Collins has been booked by the Palace Theater for this weekend. The story is a tense and exciting tale about a widower who tracks down, one by one, four outlaws in the belief they are the men who murdered his wife.

What gives the meaty, absorbing story strong dramatic substance is the fact that the vengeful hero, played by Gregory Peck, ruthlessly runs down three of the outlaws before he discovers proof that he had suspected the wrong men.

A mild romantic interest between Peck and Joan Collins has been worked into the proceeding but it has no particular story significance.

A most noteworthy asset is the beauty and grandeur of the mountainous backgrounds against which most of the action takes place. It gives the film a pictorial excellence that has rarely been surpassed on the screen. The picture is photographed in Cinemascope and DeLuxe color.

Community Chest Fund Campaign Launched Monday

This is Community Chest time!

The 1958 campaign to raise $9,996.06 for 11 agencies was launched Monday as a corps of volunteer workers started the job of soliciting for the business-industrial and Professional division of the drive.

Mrs. James Coleman said there were no reports in on the opening days of the drive but again urged that everyone give and give generously to the current drive.

She again asked that "Fair Share" giving be considered by everyone in the community. This is one-fourth of one percent of your income if you earn less than $5,000 a year and one-half of one percent if you annual income is more than $5,000.

Or you may give what you would earn in one day or a figure comparable to one hour's salary per month.

Contributors are again asked to make a pledge rather than a check for the total at this time. By pledging it will create a hardship on the contributor.

The agencies included in the drive are the Community Nurse, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Red Cross, City Recreation, Charlevoix hospital, Charlevoix Association to Aid Retarded Children, Salvation Army, Charlevoix Service Organization, United Fund and the emergency Fund.

County Budget Is Major Problem For Supervisors

In addition supervisors will hear reports from all departments which receive funds thru the county.

The hearing on the request for the consolidation of the two townships which make up Beaver Island will be held Thursday, Oct. 16 according to F. R. Bulow, county clerk, in whose office the petitions for consolidation were filed.

Appreciate What We Have

Among its present industries, a community has its greatest potential for industrial and economic growth.

Assistance which will keep industries and encourage them to expand can be given by every resident. Like people, industries have problems at some time. It is not only the responsibility of the community to assist in solving such problems, it will work to their material benefit. The big industries of today started small and expanded many times to reach their present size. They are now highly important to the economic base of the places where they are located.

Most industries have possibilities for expansion. If they are appreciated by their home community, the chances of local enlargement are high. If local residents take an interest in them, are proud to have them and recognize their problems, industries will have a feeling of being wanted. A considerate attitude on the part of the people will pay dividends when industry expands locally. There will be more jobs, increased sales in the stores and greater community prosperity.

Assisting industries meet their needs is stressed in the fifth of a series of advertisements sponsored by Michigan Press Association and Michigan Economic Development Department on industrial development being carried in the Charlevoix Courier and 300 other daily and weekly newspapers in Michigan as a public service.

This week's advertisement features the drawing of an old-time pump. The caption "You Don't Miss the Water Till the Well Runs Dry" emphasizes the necessity of appreciating what we have now in industry, facilities and resources.

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

IF ODDS 'N' ENDS this week is spattered with a few words like hits, runs, strike-outs or some other baseball term, don't be too surprised since it's being written during a World Series game . . . and a few of these terms might accidently drop into the copy.

HERE'S A STORY we know you're not going to believe . . . Seems as though every time you pick up a paper these days you read about a bear invading a town some place . . . So, you think, that won't happen around here . . . But it did . . . Thursday night there was a big black bear right down town in East Jordan . . . Maybe not on the main street but at the East Jordan Canning Co. . . . Seems the railroad runs past the warehouse . . . The night watchman heard something went out to investigate and found Mr. Bruin . . . Not taking any chances on people doubting his story, he called the police who came on the double and sure enough . . . there was the bear . . . So don't be surprised if one ambles in from the swamps around here . . . There's been plenty of berries and other foods they live on so it could happen . . . After all, didn't Mrs. Bob Withers see one out on US 31 South earlier this year?

WHAT WAS WRONG at the Post Office Saturday? Why the S.O.S.? Perhaps you know but we haven't been able to find out . . . Seems Old Glory was flying upside down Saturday morning . . . A HAPPY BIRTHDAY greeting to one of our old friends, Dr. Perry G. Holden . . . Many of you will remember him when he lived here with his daughter, Mrs. Ellsworth Besemer . . . He later lived in East Lansing and now in Mason . . . He'll be some 93 years old come October 12 and we'd like to wish him well . . . AS YOU KNOW the past week was National Newspaper Week . . . We ran across this bit from the Valley Falls (Kans.) Vindicator which we think is pretty good and we'd like to pass it on to you. After reading it perhaps you can understand our position as a member of a newspaper staff.

"An aroma of fascination surrounds a newspaper, making many persons say they'd like to own one. It is a fascination which clings to everyone except newspaper people. They have no illusiosn.

"Now, if you want to own a newspaper, here is what you'll have to do in one normal day: Explain to Mrs. Smith why Aunt Sarah's 85th birthday party was not on the front page . . . Explain to an advertiser why it is impossible to get him on page three . . . Explain to an ex-subscriber why you had to cut off his unpaid subscription . . . YOU DON'T MISS WATER TILL THE WELL RUNS DRY

We take water for granted. But let the well run dry, and we're in trouble. It's like that with the industries that provide work for our people. We take them for granted. But let one of these industries close and we realize how much it has meant to us.

Industries already present are the community's greatest potential for economic growth. Help your local industries to expand and you will share in the rewards that follow bigger payrolls, more retail sales, and greater community prosperity. Become familiar with the needs of industries in your community. Show that you are interested in helping them find ways to meet their needs.

Join hands with your local industrial development organization and the Michigan Economic Development Department to help your community prosper.

4-H Club Alumni To Raise Funds For Camp Kett

Former 4-H Club members living in Charlevoix county will find it easy to participate in the 4-H Alumni Roll Call now going on to raise funds to help build Camp Kett, according to Dick Smith and Charlevoix County 4-H Alumni Roll Call Chairmen.

During the Roll Call drive which runs until November 15, every man and woman now living in Charlevoix county who ever belonged to a 4-H Club will be asked to answer the Roll Call by contributing $1.00 or more, toward building the new State 4-H Training Center. Contributors' names will be listed at the Center under the county where they lived when they were 4-H Club members.

Special envelopes and Roll Call Cards have been placed at the County Extension office and at other places throughout the county. In addition, 33 organizations in the county have been contacted and given a supply of envelopes for 4-H alumni in these organizations, Dick Smith said.

We do not know how many people there are in Charlevoix county who have belonged to a 4-H Club in their youth, but we believe a great many of them will respond to the 4-H Roll Call when they are aware of its purpose, the chairmen said. Dedicated to training youth leaders, the $300,000 State Training Center will be located on a 140 acre tract owned by the 4-H Club Foundation of Michigan on Center Lake in Osceola County.

"We are pleased that former 4-H'ers will have a part in helping to build Camp Kett," the chairmen added, "because in the years ahead many 4-H leaders and others from Charlevoix county will be attending training programs at the Center. We are confident that our 4-H Alumni will do their share in helping the 4-H Club Foundation of Michigan in this important undertaking. Since there is no mailing list or roster of 4-H alumni, any former 4-H member who hears about the Roll Call is asked to respond on his own and not wait to be contacted," the chairmen concluded.

Home Demonstration Leaders Meet Oct. 14

"Lighting for the Home" is the topic of the October leader training meeting of the County Home Demonstration leaders. The meeting will be held on October 14 in the basement of the Methodist Church in Boyne City, beginning at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Clare Brown, county extension agent in home economics, reports that a lighting engineer from Consumers Power Company will be on hand to answer questions and help with lighting demonstrations. Mrs. Brown recently attended a Lighting School sponsored jointly by Michigan State University, Better Light, Better Sight Bureau, G.E., Sylvania, and the power companies of northern Michigan.

Many beautiful rugs of the Near East are woven by girls from 5 to 16 years old, says the National Geographic Magazine. Laboring from dawn to dusk, they tie the tiny knots in their threads with incredible speed. The largest rugs may take nine child-years to finish.

Arts and Crafts Exhibits to Be Held at Grayling

Those interested in or now engaged in some phase of arts, crafts or home-industries are urged to attend and also to exhibit their work at the second annual northern Michigan show to be held in the Grayling High School Auditorium on October 25. Outstanding speakers will participate and professional instructors will conduct workshops in the afternoon for groups with interests in such fields as ceramics, food products, jewelry, lapidary, oils, pottery, silver, watercolors, woodwork. Exhibits of every working artist, craftsman, home-industry person in the northern 33 counties of the lower peninsula are needed to make the show a success. Sales may be made at the show and the contacts for next year's production will be invaluable.

Those desiring to exhibit are urged to immediately contact Miss Virginia Blackwood of Leland, Michigan to make reservation for the amount of space needed, designating the type of article for display.

Detailed information about the conference and show will be furnished upon request by Mrs. Clare Brown of East Jordan, general chairman.

The success of the first conference and exhibit held at Mt. Pleasant last year under the sponsorship of the Northern Michigan Development Council whose president is Myrton N. Riggs of Cheboygan, created great interest in the need for establishing an area arts, crafts and home industry association and resulted in the holding of several local shows during the year and the promotion of this second annual conference.

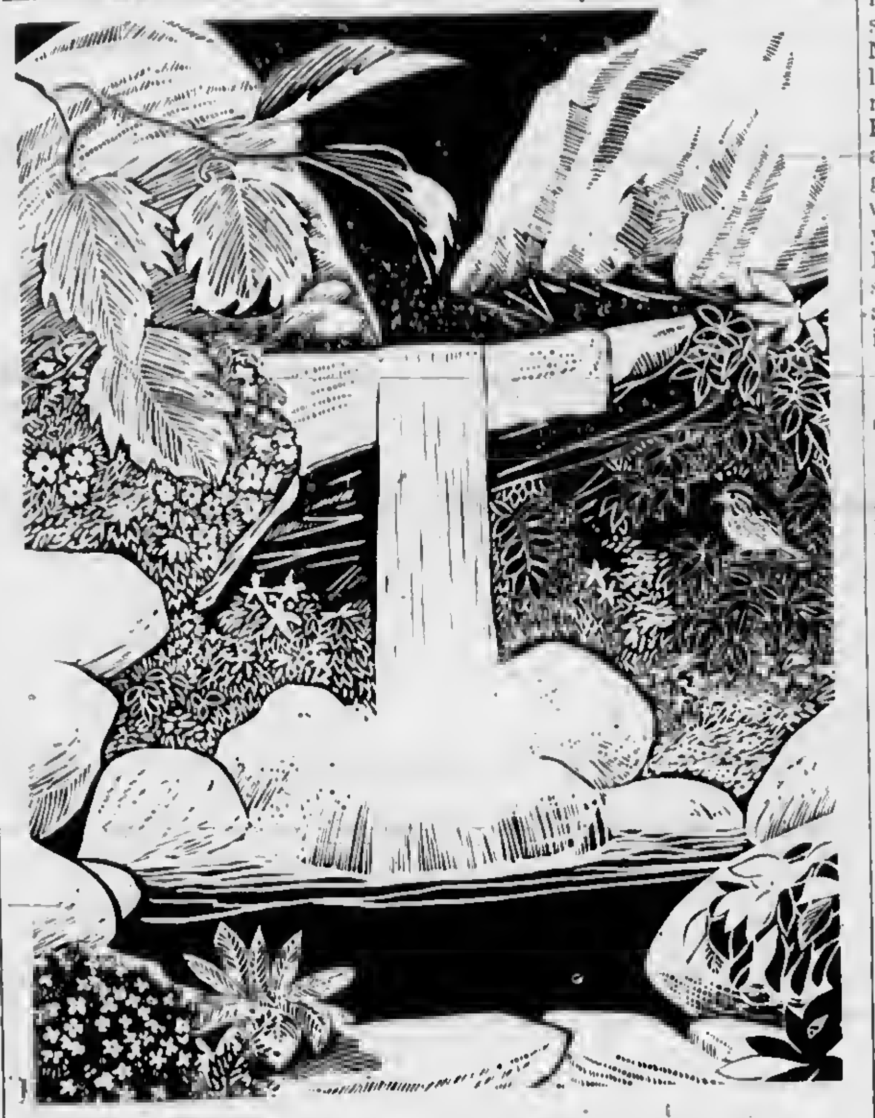
Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn



Beauty Expressed in Action

Most wild birds find the sound of trickling water nearly irresistible. Water that is alive, moving and making small, labial sounds will entice birds as a flame attracts moths on a summer's night. Many a gardener takes advantage of the affection birds have for running water by building a small pool in his garden and an artificial waterfall or a small jet fountain that provides a sparkle of lively action and a twinkle of liquid sound.

Much of the grace found in nature is expressed in movement, the skipping of a brook over stones, the swap of birches in the wind, the slow beat of a seagull's wings, the smooth glide of a hawk upon an upswept current of air, the flowing, elegant ease of a deer bounding over low brush and logs, the lazy lap of waves upon a lake shore — all these witness to the beauty of motion in nature.

Human nature needs quietness and leisurely contemplation if it is to produce its best effect — just as Da Vinci sometimes stood for hours before his unfinished painting, "The Last Supper," before making a brush stroke on the canvas. Still, there could be no paintings without brush strokes, and no great living without great deeds. Action is necessary, and nothing in human experience is more attractive and winsome than a noble thought or emotion in the process of becoming a deed.

One day a lad carrying a basket of eggs down the street, tripped on a curbstone and sprawled headlong on the pavement. The eggs were smashed. A crowd of sympathizers gathered around the sobbing youngster. One dear old lady cried "Dear me, what a pity." A man exclaimed "Poor little fellow, I hope his dad doesn't give him a trimming." One matronly looking woman said tenderly, "There, there. Now don't cry." Then a man stepped out from the crowd and declared "I care fifty-cents worth." Another announced "I care a quarter's worth." In a few moments the boy had enough money for another basket of eggs, because some people translated sympathy into action.

One of the most beautiful sights in the world is graceful movement, especially when good feeling is being expressed in a good deed.

CHARLEVOIX PUBLIC SCHOOLS
MINUTES OF SCHOOL BOARD MEETING
OCTOBER 6, 1958

Present: Boss, Lieberman, Martin, Smith, Bennett, Supt.

Absent: Freedman.

The meeting was called to order at 8:10 p.m.

Minutes of the meeting of September 22 were read and approved.

It was moved by Martin and supported by Lieberman that bills in the amount of $1,672.25 be approved and ordered paid. Motion carried: 4-0.

Dr. Martin was excused.

A report from the bond attorney, of Miller, Canfield, Paddock & Stone, was given by Mr. Lieberman and it was arranged for an application for qualifying of bonds to be sent to the Department of Public Instruction as soon as possible. Preliminary plans from the architect being necessary, it was decided a special meeting of the Board will be called as soon as these plans are ready.

Much consideration was given to making a small change in the transportation program to reduce the time that some kindergarten children are on the bus, and also additional maintenance help to reduce the hours of some who are now working — a report to be made at the next meeting on this program.

The Activities and General Fund financial reports for September were reviewed and discussed.

Bids for fuel oil from Osceola Refining and the Leonard Refineries were received but not accepted.

The meeting adjourned at 9:40 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Albert H. Smith, Secretary

Bowling News

Neff Brothers took over the number one spot this week by splitting with Sinclair. For Neffs it was their sub Buck Ditlifson who led the way with a nice 217 game in a 492 series. For the Oilers it was Tip Riley again leading the way with a 227 game, 572 series. I don't know what Tip's doing different this year but it must be something. Meg also chipped in with a 514 series. Everybody else hit their average except Ken Celner who is having his troubles again.

Brown Motors finally came down to earth as Moonlight beat them all three games for 4 points. Jim Lawyer was again high for Moonlight with a 223 game, 536 series. Doc Ance had a 203 game but his first game was about 80 pins under that so he didn't hit the 500 mark. High man for the losers was Kenny Balch with 472. Browns had a good excuse for losing all 4 points though, they had 24 splits. Have to talk to Andy about that next week, maybe the pinboy was switching wood after Moonlight had rolled.

Freedman No. 1 stayed right up in the battle for first as they took 3 points from (how it hurts to write this) the Airport clan. Freedmans were hot as they had 3 men over the 500 mark while compiling the season of 2634. John Swanson led the way with his 565 series. Don Gilbert was next with a 208 game, 553 series and Cal Peters coming in with a 537 series. For the Airport, 4 men hit over the 500 mark but could only total 2557. They had high single game of the night with 932 and needed it as they won the last game by 3 pins. Dick Harju was high man with a 201 game, 539 series, Des 520, "Andy" Anderson 514 and Hank Felix 507.

Puff's moved into 5th place as they won 3½ points from Swanson's. Puff, who is starting to warm up after that dismal beginning again led his team with a nice 220 game, 552 series. The only thing wrong with that 220 game is that it should have been higher as he started out with 6 in a row. (That means strikes to you non-bowlers)—Poor Puff. High for Swanson's was Bob Ferguson with a 502. Only four Swansons on the team this time. How did Fergi get in there—must be a relative!

Hess Furniture and Freedman No. 2 split 2 points apiece with Bill Novotny leading Hess with a 208 game, 520 series. Everyone else was right around their average except for Herb Moore who was right around 395. There must be to much pressure in that anchor spot Herb—you did much better leading off. For Freedman No. 2 Ted Potter was the leading man with a 458. Young Jerry Burke will improve once they put that foul line in the right spot. Right now it's built to close to the approach for him.

Last but not least Browe Electric came through with 4 points over Lake Construction. Ted wanted a comment tonight sn he rolled a 519 series. That's much better than 90 Ted. All you have to do now is talk to Nat Harriman—he had an 84. For the losers John Wojan was high with a 491 series, while Ole Stevereno Paterka came in the first game with an 85. Steve kept asking me about a summer league so he could keep in practice—now I know why.

High Game — Tip Riley 227.
High Series — Tip Riley 572.

State Forges Ahead to Reduce Fatalities on Highways

September was the ninth consecutive month this year to show a reduction in traffic deaths under the same month of last year, according to provisional figures reported by the State Police.

There were 117 fatalities, a reduction of five or four per cent under 122 in September of 1957. It was the fifteenth consecutive month in which reductions were reported.

Delayed reports of deaths, however, may add to the number for September, but it will still be an excellent record in comparison with the monthly average of 173 fatalities in September during the five-year period from 1952 to 1956. The latter year was the turning point in the improvement record.

For the first nine months of the year the total now stands at 941 deaths as compared to 1104 in the same period last year. This is a saving of 163 lives, or 14.8 per cent.

It is the lowest recorded since 1945, when 739 died during the same period. This was a war year when gas rationing reduced travel.

Since 1945, miles travelled has increased by 17 billion, or 60 per cent, to 29.3 billion in 1957. The number of cars has increased from 1½ million to 3½ million in the same period.

The death rate for the first seven months of 1958 is 4.1 per 100 million miles travelled compared to 9.1 in 1945.

The final figures for August included 144 persons killed and 5,376 injured in 13,630 accidents. Compared with the same month last year, deaths decreased five per cent, injuries dropped three per cent and accidents were reduced 11 per cent.

"Michigan motorists can be proud of their driving performance for the first nine months of this year," said Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, "but it should be pointed out that the real test will begin this month.

"October is the worst month for traffic fatalities, November is second worst and December is tied with August for third. We are well ahead of last year in reducing deaths, but drivers are reminded that extra caution will be required during the remainder of the year to save more lives."

weeks you've got news running out of your ears and other weeks the paper reads like a report on Amalgamated Steel . . . Apologize to an advertiser for an error in his ad and smile sweetly while he tells you what an idiot you are . . . Decipher scribbling that comes in written on check backs, paper napkins, a corner of junior's arithmetic paper or the back of a letter from Cousin Fran . . . Pet a balky lino type that is as nervous as a dish of jello and puts you further behind when you're already behind . . . Cope with a press that is anti-social and wallowing in its own importance that it can, at this final minute, keep you from getting a paper circulated and starts acting like a little boy who wants to go to the bathroom . . . Explain to a customer arriving late with copy that if you get his stuff in you'll have to leave somebody else's out, and then explain to the one you left out . . . Cope with a stack of newsprint that's so full of static electricity you can't pry it apart with tear gas . . . The last run made, you'll feel a sense of relief — for about five minutes. Then you start explaining why you did this or didn't do that and it starts all over again."

HOW DID YOU like the series . . . It's not over, as this is being written . . . but we're sure hopin' our team comes out on top.

AND HOW ABOUT that football game Saturday . . . Old Michigan did a bit of alright for an underdog, don't you think? . . . Unless a couple of other teams fall flat on their faces, that tie did MSU out of a trip to the Rose Bowl . . . But then, lots of things can happen between now and the end of the season so who knows?

BUT ANOTHER game like the Charlevoix-Gaylord game Friday night and we might not be around to enjoy it . . . Holy cats, was that a son of a gun . . . We thought the Rayders would never get rollin' . . . and when they did they didn't roll very far because that last TD came on next to the last play of the game . . . But it was wonderful . . . having the kids win . . . They can say what they like about "It's not whether you win or lose that counts, it's how you play the game" . . . That may be alright for the poets, but us . . . we don't like to lose . . . Sure it's important how you play the game but we don't mind anyone knowing we like to win too . . . And it's good to have a winning team.

Of course, they won't be in the credit column long if they get over-confident, but we give this Rayder crew credit for having better sense than to feel they have it made without trying . . . If Tom Lakies has to be out indefinitely, the Rayders really have their work cut out for them . . . 'Cause from now on everybody's going to be 'up' for Charlevoix . . . But if these kids will tend to their kickin', passin' 'n' buck n' and [illegible] Coach Carey gives the [illegible] to [illegible] . . . we hope.

Michigan Mirror

By ELMER E. WHITE

MICHIGAN Education can be $4,000,000 richer by June 30, 1959 if the state qualifies under all provisions of the new Federal Defense Education Act. The law was enacted with this session of Congress.

And those who fought to keep federal control from local school systems can heave a victorious sigh of relief too. A guarantee against "control follows dollar" tradition was written into the law. This lack of restriction was referred to by a leading educator as the "most significant happening in many years."

IT BROUGHT cheers too from Dr. Lynn M Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, and most Michigan educators. Their simultaneous campaign to safeguard local control was successful.

The key clause reads:

"Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to authorize any department, agency, officer or employe of the United States to exercise any direction, supervision, or control over curriculum, program of instruction, administration, or personnel of any educational institution or school system."

NO PROFESSIONAL educator missed its significance.

In Michigan, where two-thirds of the state sales tax and other money raised by the state goes to the schools, lawmakers and others feel free to make demands upon the school system.

Virtually every session of the legislature brings struggles over whether the schools shall teach certain forms of American history, civics or religion. One of the toughest battles of the 1958 session centered on the compulsory reading of the Holy Bible.

THE "CONTROL follows dollar" practice is a modern form of the ancient "dollar diplomacy," prevalent especially during the early 1900s when American foreign aid usually carried instructions how it was used.

MICHIGAN WILL get slightly over $4,000,000 in Federal aid this year if all goes well. Here are some factors to be considered:

First, Bartlett said he believes the legislature must give its approval before any Federal aid can be accepted.

At least one part of the grant must be matched 50-50 by the state or local governments.

One section of the Federal act, designed to strengthen science, mathematics and foreign language courses in the elementary and high schools, can be worth $2,476,417 to Michigan.

The money is earmarked for laboratories, equipment, and as extra dollars to improve all phases of specialized education in these three major fields.

The state could get $515,477 more for the development and improvement of vocational education programs. Bartlett said this money must be matched or the state gets nothing.

STILL ANOTHER plan covers the improvement of statistical services of state educational agencies. In Michigan it amounts to $50,000.

This will provide more accurate and up-to-date information about the state's educational system, itself. Such data is valuable to quickly point up the needs and to help with planning for the future.

Bartlett already has administrative committees working on the problem of putting the Federal aid plan into operation in Michigan.

The next move, he said, will be up to the 1959 legislature.

MAJOR OBJECTIONS to a constitutional convention have been drowned out in the rush of big and little organizations to endorse a rewriting of the basic law of the state.

It was last revised entirely in 1908.

DEMOCRATS generally oppose the idea so long as the delegates to the convention are chosen according to state senatorial districts—held by Republicans, 23 to 11 at last count.

Republicans have endorsed the idea in their 1958 platform, though many still retain reservations against risking changes in the apportionment system which retains majorities for outstate areas.

THE MICHIGAN Municipal League, a powerful organization of cities of all sizes, supports the proposal. The Michigan Farm Bureau and other major organizations also back the plan.

Oddly enough, there has been no real organized campaign for it, and only a few short weeks remain before the question will go before the voters on Nov. 4.

A person can't hope for success — he has to "hop" for it.

Navy Accepting Applications for Officer Training

The 13th annual national competitive examinations for the Regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps will be given to interested high school seniors and graduates Dec. 12.

Application forms are now available at all high schools, colleges, Navy Recruiting Stations or from the Chief of Naval Personel, Washington, D. C.

Designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval Academy, the NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a regular commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice which has an ROTC unit. All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy and the student receives an annual retainer of $600 for four years. During the summers the student goes on training cruises as a midshipman.

After completing the usual four year college course, he is commissioned in the regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty as a prospective career officer with the Navy's far-flung fleets. For those who apply and qualify immediate assignment to flight training will open new careers in naval aviation.

High school seniors and graduates between the ages of 17 and 21 may apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Those who make a qualifying score will be given a rigid physical examination early in 1959.

From the pool of qualified young men remaining in competition approximately 1,800 will be selected to begin their naval careers next September.

The training program is also open to enlisted men on active duty with the Navy and Marines. Separate quotas are established for applicants from within these services.

Charlevoix's little Rayders rolled over Petoskey's little Northmen Tuesday night by a score of 28 to 13 to rack up their first win of the current season.

The first quarter was scoreless as both teams sought to find their bearings.

In the second period Petoskey scored a touchdown when Dave McCarthy got off a 10-yard pass to John Meyer who went in for the touchdown. Halfback Tom Sutherland plunged over for the extra point as Petoskey went ahead 7 to 0.

The Northmen's lead was short-lived, however, as Jim Sneathen took the kickoff and romped 75 yards to score. Gene McBride ran the ball over for the extra point to put the little Rayders back in the game.

Later in the period Charlevoix recovered a Petoskey fumble on the Northmen's 35. A long run by Sam Supernaw put the ball on the eight yard line from where McBride carried it over to score. Supernaw then went over on a quarterback sneak for the conversion as Charlevoix went ahead 14 to 0. The little Rayders were in possession of the ball as the half ended after recovering another Petoskey fumble.

Early in the second half the little Rayders added another touchdown as Tom Louiselle went over from the four yard line. Perry Smith plunged over for the conversion point to make the score 21 to 7. Later in the same period a transfer student, Dick DeKett intercepted a Petoskey pitchout and went 71 yards to score. Supernaw went over on a sneak for the conversion point to make the score 28 to 7.

In the final period Frank McGeath got off for a 72 yard run to put the ball in scoring position on the eight yard line. The Charlevoix line, however, had other ideas and gained possession of the ball on their own one after Petoskey failed to make their downs. A bad pass from center on the first play from scrimmage gave Petoskey the ball when they blocked the punt. On the next play Jim Titus scored from the one to make the final score 28 to 13.

Planes Swarm to Beaver Island On Dawn Patrol

Beaver Island was host Sunday to the second annual Dawn Patrol which attracted 329 planes from five midwestern states.

Sixty-seven of the group arrived on Saturday, some without reservations, making it necessary for many island residents to open their homes to the visitors.

More than 1,000 visitors came to the island aboard the planes which came from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin as well as Michigan.

The first plane to arrive was piloted by L. Slough of East Jordan; the 100th plane by D. A. Gratemot of Grand Rapids and the 200th by John Burdo of Lansing. Prizes were awarded to each as well as to C. L. Burlpey of Terre Haute, Ind., who came the greatest distance. Tony Marcus of Toledo, Ohio, won the jackpot.

Approximately half of the visitors enjoyed the perch fishing in the harbor at St. James with several reporting excellent catches. The few visitors who went hunting found that the partridges were staying under cover. Other enjoyed color tours around the historic island.

Dr. J. P. Ludwick jr. of Jackson, owner of Beaver Lodge was general chairman of the event which was much more successful than the 1957 Dawn Patrol.

• Weekend guests at the home of Miss Frances Durance were her sister, Mrs. Genevieve Baumgartner and her daughter, Mrs. Mary Grace Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Winters and son, Stephen, and Mr. and Mrs. LeBar Stewart of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Alva Braid of Detroit. Mrs. Bertha Cook of Boyne City joined them and remained for a longer visit with her niece, Miss Durance.

Rayder Ken Wojan (74) pictured running interference for the ball carrier. Tom Lakies (33) in the game against Gaylord Friday while Stan Smith (10) and Ron Balch (31) prepared to join the action from the right.

It was finally Wojan who bucked the lina to score the Rayders two tochdowns which kept Charlevoix's record clean as they defeated the Blua Devils 13 to 0 after a scoreless first half.

Charlevoix-Boyne City Teams Tied for Top Spot in League

Charlevoix and Boyne City moved into a first place tie Friday night after racking up victories by slim margins over Gaylord and East Jordan respectively.

The Rayders dumped Gaylord 12 to 0 and Boyne City edged East Jordan 6 to 0 in hard fought battles.

Elsewhere Pellston defeated Grayling 18 to 0 and Mancelona rolled over Harbor Springs 44 to 0 to move into the win column for the first time.

Boyne City 6
East Jordan 0

The East Jordan Red Devils proved their strength Friday night by holding a desperate Boyne City eleven to one touchdown scored on a 76 yard run by halfback John Kirby. The scoring play came in the first period following an exchange of punts. The attempt to run the ball over for the extra point was halted short of the goal line and the score remained 6 to 0.

The touchdown marked only the second time the Ramblers were able to make their way inside the East Jordan 20. The Red Devils, on the other hand, marched inside the Rambler 20 eight times, once making their way to the three-yard line with four downs to get the ball into pay dirt. However, they lacked the punch necessary to score. The defending champions had seven first downs to four for East Jordan.

The Pellston Hornets who took to the air to pick up most of their yardage defeated Grayling 18 to 0 Friday night to win their first loop game.

Halfback Gary Spencly went over on a two-yard plunge early in the first period and added another touchdown from the same spot to open the second half. The final tally came in the last quarter when end Bill McClutchey took a pass from quarterback Barry Anderson in a play that covered 19 yards. McClutchey took the pass on the one-foot line and fell into the end zone to score.

Mancelona 44
Harbor Springs 0

After losing to Charlevoix the week before by a lopsided 35 to 0 score, the Mancelona Ironmen vented their anger on Harbor Springs Friday night to roll up a 44 to 0 score as the Rams offered little resistance to their attack.

Fullback Jerry Biehl got the action underway on the first play from scrimmage, romping 90 yards to score when the game was less than a minute old. Later in the period he went over again, this time from the 23 yard line.

A bad pass from center as Harbor Springs went back to punt set up the third Mancelona touchdown as the Ironmen took the ball on the Harbor Springs 35. A pass from Jerry Biehl to end Tim Meeder moved the ball to the 20 where Rod Chase took it and toted it into the end zone. Quarterback Jerry Bangston passed to Meeder for the extra point.

Jerry Biehl set up the next Mancelona touchdown, recovering a Harbor Springs fumble on the Rams 29 and taking it to the 15 where Bud Weiser ran it in for the touchdown to give Mancelona a 25 to 0 halftime advantage.

Jerry Biehl scored again early in the second half, this time running 23 yards for the tally. Later in the period Don Biehl intercepted a Rams pass and rolled 60 yards to score. Jerry Biehl place-kicked the ball for the extra point.

In the final period Bangston passed to Weiser on a play that covered 10 yards to conclude the Ironmen's attack.

From the Side Lines . . .

It looked like the big "IF" had gotten into the game when the Rayders found a line that was as fast and as well balanced as their own, along with a passing attack that must have left many stomachs feeling as if they were full of butterflies.

Speaking of butterflies, most of the people in the stands were effected somewhat by them right up to the final seconds of the game.

We were happy to see the Rayder ends snatching those short hard passes over center. We wondered if they would ever get hold of one and keep it.

Looks like we will have to take the Rayders out of the limelight this week as far as the game of the week is concerned, we give that spot to the East Jordan, Gaylord game.

Charlevoix Controls Ball In Second Half For 13-0 Win

The Charlevoix Rayders came up with their second league victory of the season Friday night after defeating Gaylord 13 to 0 in a game which was a battle from the opening whistle to the final gun.

The teams played to a scoreless tie in the first half before Kenny Wojan, who was moved from his tackle spot to the fullback position when Charlevoix needed a line bucker, scored early in the second half and again on one of the last plays of the ball game.

Charlevoix kicked off to the visitors to open the game. Gaylord took the ball on their own 23 and picked up two first downs to their own 47 on a series of plays before they were forced to punt. The Rayders took over on their own 21 and advanced to their 49 before they fumbled. Gaylord recovered and again started a march which soon bogged down and they were again forced to kick out of danger. Another exchange of punts gave Charlevoix possession of the ball on the Gaylord 38 as the quarter ended.

The second period was a repetition of the first with first one team and then the other punting on fourth down when they failed to get through the opponent's defense.

A Gaylord fumble on the kickoff gave the Rayders their first break of the game. Taking the ball on the Gaylord 18, Quarterback Mike Geneit passed to end Joe Beaudoin to pick up a first down and put the ball on the seven yard line. Fullback Tom Lakies who had joined the lineup early in the game advanced to the five but was injured on the play and left the game with a sprained ankle. An offside penalty set the Rayders back to the 12 but Geneit passed to End Steve LaBlance to pick up four yards, Balch picked up one yard and Wojan bucked the line to the 2½ yard line before going over on the next play for the touchdown. VanRaaphorst's boot was wide and the score remained 6 to 0.

It looked as though Gaylord had a march underway after taking the kickoff when Geneit intercepted a Blue Devil pass and returned it to the 26 to break up the threat. With Wojan, Bud Balch and Geneit carrying the ball, the Rayders advanced to the 3½ yard line where the Gaylord line, with its back to the wall, held and Charlevoix lost the ball on downs.

On the first play from scrimmage, Gaylord punted the ball to their own 29 where the Rayders again took over. With Wojan the chief ball carrier Charlevoix invaded Gaylord territory to the 16 yard line. A pass from Geneit to end Steve LaBlance put the ball on the one but a holding penalty pushed them back to their 31 yard line as the quarter ended.

Charlevoix moved to the Gaylord 21 before relinquishing the ball to the Blue Devils on downs to open the final stanza. Again Gaylord punted on the first play from scrimmage and Charlevoix found themselves in possession of the ball on their own 35.

Again the Rayders picked up a first down, advancing to the Gaylord 44 before Vandenberg punted on fourth down. The Blue Devils took the ball on thoir own six yard line and after moving it to the nine on three tries, punted with Charlevoix taking the ball on the Gaylord 45.

This time the Rayder offense clicked and with Balch, Stan Smith and Wojan toting the ball, Charlevoix moved to the 7½ yard line where Wojan went in to score. This time VanRaaphorst's kick was good and Charlevoix went ahead 13 to 0.

The game ended on the next play with Charlevoix in possession of the ball after Gaylord had fumbled on the kickoff.

John Burnison was Gaylord's chief ball carrier. He also did the team's kicking and a major part of their passing. Bob Burnison, Blue Devil signal caller and halfback Roger Walker also shared in the ball carrying duties.

Gaylord proved to be the Rayders' toughest opponent thus far this season. The Gaylord defense held the Rayders to two touchdowns and though the Blue Devils offense was impressive on occasion it failed to penetrate the Charlevoix offense far enough to make it worthwhile.

Charlevoix's line was not too effective in the first half but during the second half tightened up and kept the opponent well in their own territory, thus forcing them to punt frequently on first downs.

Starting for the Rayders were Smith, Balch, Geneit and Bill Poquette in the backfield and VanRaaphorst, LaBlance, Wojan, Dick Muma, Bruce Pease, Scott Supernaw and Beaudoin.

Dope Sheet

The Charlevoix Rayders will travel north to meet the Pellston Hornets in the only afternoon game on their schedule to be played at 3 p.m. Friday.

The Rayders, recuperating from their toughest game of the season against Gaylord, will have their work cut out for them when they meet the Hornets who moved into the win column last week with an 18 to 0 victory over Grayling.

The Pellston eleven is a big, rather speedy team which does a great deal of passing. Coach Francis MacMahan spreads his team all over the field, making it difficult for the defense to anticipate and halt their action. Though they are rather inexperienced and lack polish they are well on their way to be a hard-playing, hard-fighting team which could give the Rayders a lot of trouble, especially if the local eleven should let down after their hard game last Friday.

On the basis of the records of the two teams, the Hornets will be the underdogs going into the game. However, this might be to their advantage if the Rayders should decide to rest on their laurels.

The Rayders, on the other hand, will have an edge if they play the type of ball they have exibited in past games, especially in the second half of the Gaylord meeting when the line tightened up on defense and broke through consistently on offense.

Barring an upset, the Rayders should come through with a victory but in the Northern Michigan Class C league anything is possible so the Rayders will have to be on their toes all the way.

Game of the Week
East Jordan vs. Gaylord

Next Week With Class 'C' Teams

Three Northern Michigan Class C games are on the schedule for Friday night.

Top game will be the meeting between East Jordan and Gaylord on the Blue Devils field. Other games will find Boyne City hosting the Harbor Springs Rams and Grayling playing at Mancelona.

After suffering defeats by slim margins to Charlevoix and Boyne City respectively, Gaylord and East Jordan will clash this week in a game which could be a real battle.

The two teams are tied for second place in loop standings along with Mancelona and Pellston with one win and one loss each. Gaylord's victory was over Harbor Springs by a 25 to 6 score while East Jordan's was over Pellston 13 to 7. Last week the Blue Devils were downed by Charlevoix 13 to 0 while the Jordanites lost to the defending champions 6 to 0.

The Blue Devils, however, with their excellent passing attack and hard running on offense teamed with their equally fine defense should have little trouble with the Red Devils who failed to score against Boyne City last week despite the fact that they were within scoring distance several times in the game. East Jordan looked good at Pellston but the Blue Devils have a faster more polished team which the Jordanites will have trouble stopping if they play the kind of game they played against Charlevoix.

Though Boyne City edged East Jordan by only six points they should rack up a win this week over the Harbor Springs Rams who have displayed a bad case of fumble-itis in all three games this season. A young, inexperienced team with few veterans to hold them together, they will eventually develop into a well balanced team but right now they are having growing pains.

Though Boyne City also has a young team, they have shaped up more rapidly and should successfully defend their title for the third straight week.

The Grayling Vikings sharing the league cellar with Harbor Springs will be no match for the Mancelona Ironmen who last week rolled up seven touchdowns over the Rams. In their game at Boyne City, the Vikings, at times, looked very good but last week they collapsed before the Pellston eleven. If they should snap back they could give the Ironmen a fair game but it's doubtful if they can stop the Mancelona attack, once it starts to roll. The experience of the Mancelona line and the speed and finesse of their backfield will give the Mancelona eleven the punch and confidence they need to run up quite a score.

Cadillac Presents New Silhouette

The sveeping elegance of the newly created silhouette of the 1959 Cadillac Series Sixty-Two six window sedan is more than matched by a powerful engine. The six-window sedna; now on display at Uhrick Pontiac-Cadillac, features all of the advanced engineering and design characteristics of the new models.

New Cadillac On Display At Uhrick Agency

The first of the 1959 model Cadillacs is being presented to the public this week at the Uhrick Pontiac,Cadillac showroom. Extensive changes throughout the entire line of new models brings together majestic new styling and a performance described by the manufacturers to "exceed even further the standards for which Cadillac has been so renown."

Extensive engineering improvements have been made on the new 1959 Cadillac V-8 type engine. Particularly stressed is the greater displacement, higher compression ratio and more effective engine breathing, along with new carburetor heating and engine warm-up controls.

A "first" claimed by Cadillac is a new shock absorber with a nylon film sleeve which holds captive Freon-12. The Freon replaces the air which is used in other types of shock absorbers and expands and contracts with the action of the oil. This is said to keep the unit at its best performance.

There is sweeping elegance in Cadillac's newly created silhouette — from the equisitely wrought grille and hood to the beautifully sculptured rear fins.

Ramblers Aimed At Wide Range of Public Appeal

The Charlevoix Rambler agency today introduced the 1959 American Motors line of cars — the Rambler American, the Rambler and the Ambassador V-8 Rambler.

The Rambler series is conspicuous for its wide range of appeal starting with the 100-inch wheelbase Rambler American, then the 108-inch wheelbase Rambler Six and Rebel V-8 models, and finally the Ambassador V-8, the compact luxury models on a 117-inch wheelbase.

Two models are offered in the Rambler American, a two-door station wagon (added this year) and a two door sedan. Both models in this series are designed to meet public demand for low purchase price, operating economy, ease of parking and maneuverability.

Eleven models, including station wagons, hardtops and sedans are offered in the Six and V-8 series. All are four-door models. Fifteen single-tone and 18 two-tone color combinations, including many metalic finishes, are available. All Rambler bodies are dipped in a rust-preventing primer to seal all metal areas to minimize the wide-spread problem of rusted-out bodies.

Interiors are designed to provide generous room for six persons. Both front and rear seats measure 5 feet in width. This exceptional small car roominess is made possible by single-unit construction whereby the body and underbody sections are fused into an integral welded unit.

As a "personalized comfort" innovation, separate and individually adjustable front reclining seats are optional on all models. The two seats have separate sets of tracks, providing the driver and the front seat passenger with individual front-to-rear adjustments. Also offered as optional are front seat adjustable head rest singly or in pairs.

State Nurseries Shipping Trees For Fall Planting

Shipment of young trees from three state nurseries is underway and landowners are urged to order stock now for fall planting.

The Conservation Department's forestry division recently placed 18,000,000 young trees on sale. This stock includes red pine seedlings and transplants and jack pine seedlings. Prices vary according to age class and species.

Planting stock is sold at cost by state nurseries primarily for reforestation purposes. Trees may not be resold with roots attached or used for ornamental plantings.

When purchasing trees, a landowner must agree that "not more than 40 percent of the trees will be cut for Christmas trees and that the stand will not be reduced by Christmas tree harvesting to less than 600 trees per acre, uniformly distributed."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Dad Knows His "A-Bee-C's"

Quite a "to do" on Main Street yesterday—lucky that Dad Blake was on the scene.

Seems a swarm of bees appeared from some place and hovered low over the sidewalk between the bank and Post Office. Everybody got sort of panicky. Then Dad appeared...

He borrowed a woman's purse-mirror and flashed a beam of sunlight into the swarm. Then he swung the beam slowly across the street into the eaves of Allen's warehouse. Right! The bees followed the light and roosted there.

From where I sit, every problem needs just one good solution. And it occurs to me that in living with our neighbors, our Founding Fathers gave us the right idea. It's called "tolerance." In practice it means that your choice of tea or buttermilk should be as honored as my preference for a glass of beer. Makes for a "hive" of good neighbors.

TWO LANES... OR MANY LANES

CONCRETE ROAD ARITHMETIC
Moderate First Cost
+ Low Maintenance Cost
÷ Long Years Of Service
= Low Annual Cost

The Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956 provides that the Federal government will pay 90% of the cost of building the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways. The states, however, must bear the entire burden of maintaining it!

In fairness to taxpayers that means that the pavement chosen should be the most durable. It also should be the least costly to maintain. Concrete is the answer on both counts!

Roads built to Interstate System standards may cost less—and in no case much more if built with concrete. And once built, concrete roads need far less maintenance and serve much longer than other kinds. All these facts are a matter of record!

Whether the roads have only two lanes or many, you, as a taxpayer, will profit from the choice of dependable, long-lasting concrete, the pavement which has proven best on all counts.

Pontiac Displays Simplicity in Styling

Simplicity in styling is achieved in the 1959 Pontiac models with tha twin "air-scoop" grille housing dual headlamps and a low, cleanly styled body, topped by a slim-lina roof. Vista-Panoramic windshield and largo wrap-around rear windows provida extra vision for driving safety. Vista modals ara also foatured in tha Bonnavilla saries and the Star Chief models now displayed at Uhrick Pontiac-Cadillac.

New Styling and Utility Featured In Pontiac Models

Attractive styling and utility are predominant features of the completely new line of Pontiacs now on display at the Uhrick Pontiac-Cadillac show room. A beautiful simplicity is expressed in all 14 models, including the lower priced Catalina.

Among the 65 brand new features found on the 1959 models are lower, wider, heavier bodies of completely new design; a chassis with wider tread, an engine of 5.13 percent greater displacement for higher performance, a heavier and more rigid frame, new true-contour brakes; plus a long list of freshly engineered features.

The wider tread to improve stability, riding comfort and resistance to cross-winds, is claimed to be an exclusive with Pontiac this year. Wheel tread, the distance between right and left wheels, has been increased nearly five inches.

Inside and out the new models present a pleasing picture in modern design, with flat surfaces and intriguing angles of simplicity and beauty. The low, cleanly styled body, topped by a ski-line roof, provides up to 37 percent more glass area. Contoured vista-Panoramic windshields in all models affords up to 60 percent more visibility.

Pontiac offers 14 models in three series; four Bonneville, three Star Chiefs and seven in the new Catalina series.

THE CHURCHES OF CHRIST
SALUTE YOU

Romans 16:16

HAVE YOU EVER READ OUR PLEA?
then take a moment and read—

WE COME TO YOU with no denominational plea, but only in the name of Christ, desiring to help you find the true way of life, and hoping to be of service to you in every righteous way.

WE BELIEVE the Bible is the inspired Word of God, read 2 Tim. 3:16-17. The Bible does not merely contain our teaching—it alone is our teaching and plea.

WE PREACH that God's commandments must be obeyed, and that the New Testament is the way of salvation, as stated—

FAITH in Christ, for without it, we die in our sins. John 3:16, 8:24.

REPENTANCE from sin, for God demands it of us lest we perish — Acts 17:30 and Luke 13:4-5.

CONFESSION of faith in Christ, for this is the New Testament confession demanded of us—Mt. 10:32.

BAPTISM in tha name of Christ to remit and wash away sins—Acts 2:38; 22:16.

FAITHFULNESS even unto death — Rev. 2:10.

WE PLEAD for tha New Testament church, which is tha body of Christ — Col. 1:18, 24 —and of all tha saved are membars — Acts 2:47—This is God's family on earth.

WE ENDEAVOR to worship in "spirit and in truth" John 4:24. Sincerely, raverently, humbly and scripturally. To changa the worship of God, as set forth in the New Testament is to nullify its value befora God.

WE PRAY FOR UNITY among all professed beliavers in the Son of God for so did he in John 17:20-21. Paul besought the Corinthians to be "of the same mind . . ." and "to speak the same thing." I Cor. 1:10 and set forth tho only basis for unity in Ephesians 4:1-6.

WE CORDIALLY INVITE YOU to come and study the Bible with us and to examine tha merits of the plea.

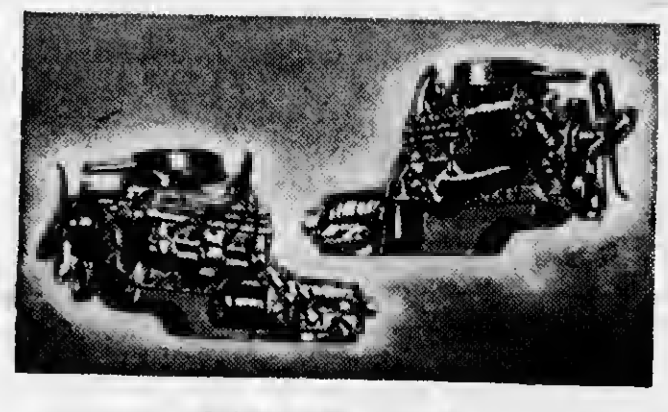
And the ride . . . the miraculous freedom from sway, dive and bounce . . . this is an experience in buoyant travel that you won't believe—until you try it.

But there's still more to the new Pontiac to stamp it as the big change for '59:

Vista-lounge interiors with full 360-degree visibility . . . seats actually wider than a sofa . . . Air-Cooled True-Contour Brakes for smooth, effortless control, stop after stop after stop.

The industry's most advanced V-8, Pontiac's Tempest 420, gives you spectacular new responsiveness. And there's a new companion power plant, the Tempest 420E, that delivers phenomenal extra mileage—and does it on regular octane gas!

Come see why no other car can possibly be so new as the new Pontiac—three series: magnificent Bonneville, dramatic Star Chief and brilliant new Catalina.



2 Great New Engines

If you love action—you get the liveliest on wheels with the new Tempest 420 V-8, acclaimed by automotive experts as America's most advanced power plant.

If you want the accent on economy, choose Pontiac's new Tempest 420E. This new V-8 actually delivers better mileage than many smaller cars with so-called "economy engines" . . . and it uses regular octane fuel.

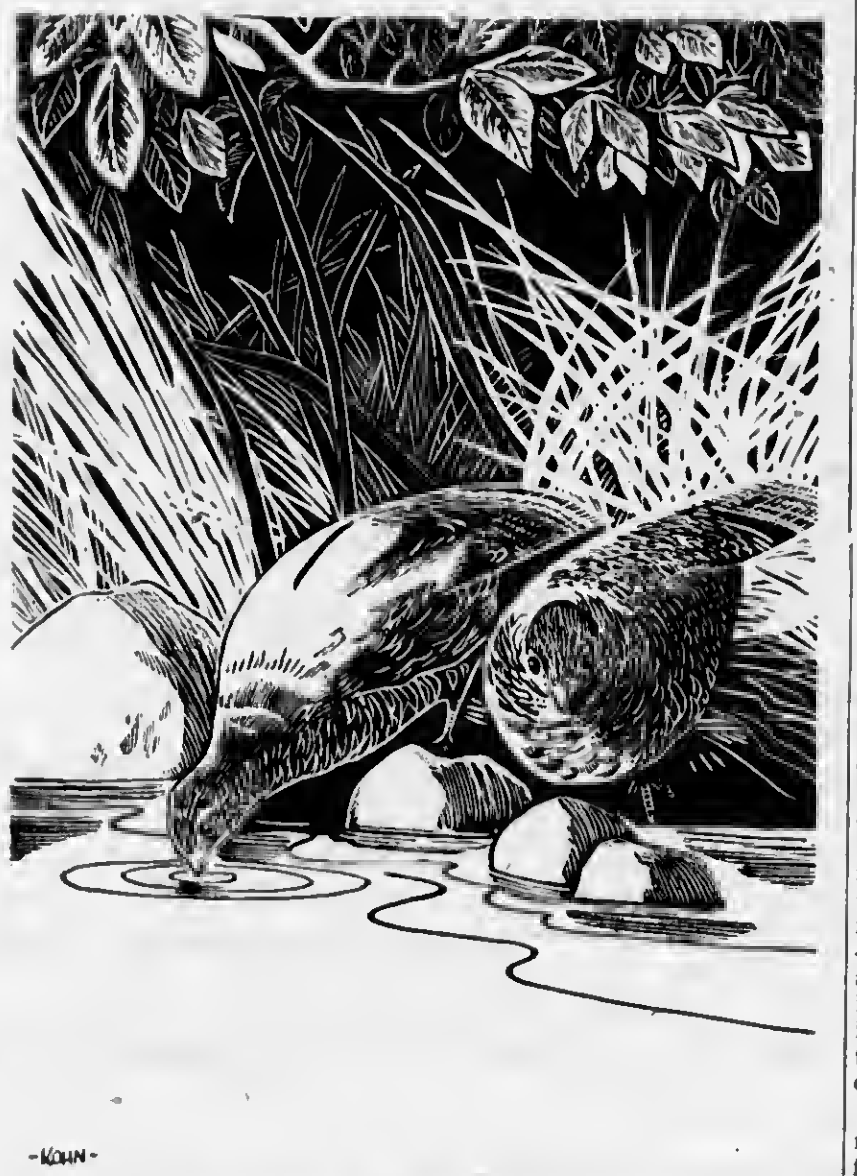
Our Wild
NORTHERN NEIGHBORS
By Harold E. Kohn



Symbol of Wilderness

In the wet sand on the banks of our brook we frequently find the slender, four-toed tracks of the ruffed grouse. The "King of American game birds" loves these near-wilderness acres where it feeds, sips daintily from the amber waters of the brook, mates and rears its young, and dies violently to satisfy the famished, greedy maw of a marauding fox. But some of its rugged, resourceful descendants will somehow manage to escape sudden death and fill the spring air with the thump-thump of its drumming in many a year to come.

It is no accident that ruffed grouse are plentiful in some parts of Michigan and scarce in others. These birds are particular, in their choice of homesites and mighty stubborn about their preferences. They will either have everything their way or altogether refuse to cooperate with Nature in a certain locale, and they will move to a more favorable place.

Ruffed grouse like to be near running water, and they love a mixture of brush and saplings with occasional clearings. They cherish abandoned logging trails, firebreaks and overgrown roads. Old apple orchards are frequenced. Wild blueberry patches are favorite haunts. They love to browse on aspen, birch and hazelnut, on willow, wild cherry, oak and grape. Clover suits their palates, as does raspberry and elderberry.

Anywhere a ruffed grouse lives there will be danger, because its favorite retreats are also the preferred haunts of birds and beasts that find grouse-flesh tender and sweet. But if their natural enemies—hawks, owls and weasels, foxes and bobcats — are too plentiful, ruffed grouse will at last seek safer habitation. These gamy birds can often tolerate man's heavy hunting pressure during the short open season in autumn, but the natural predators that slip upon them on silent wing, or that spring upon them in one split-second of lapsed caution, know no closed seasons and pursue them 365 days and nights of every year.

When I see these beautifully patterned birds proudly strutting across dimly lit forest aisles it is difficult to realize that not many decades ago the ruffed grouse were gunned down by commercial hunters who sold them by the dozens to butcher shops. These birds were then regarded as commonplace and considered part of man's legitimate meat supply, along with chickens, ducks and turkeys, and they became scarce.

Later, when the birds became alarmingly rare, laws were passed against commercial hunting and large bags of game. The introduction of ring-necked pheasants lessened the hunting pressure on ruffed grouse. The disappearance of enemy bobcats and a draining of the ranks of hawks and owls by farmer's shotguns also eased the burden of predation. A grouse's right to live was recognized and his increase encouraged.

Now, when this wild, stealthy companion of my favorite woodland retreats rolls his drums in springtime, or when his mate scurries across the trail with her brood of cottonball chicks, I breathe a prayer of thanks that the avarice of man and the predaciousness of toothed and clawed natural enemies have not been able to erase from the North Country this lordly symbol of the wilderness.

County ASC Committee Sets Soil Conservation Rates

Farmers who may have wondered just how Conservation Reserve annual payment rates are determined for eligible cropland on their farms will be interested in an explanation made today by Carlton H. Smith, Chairman of the Charlevoix County ASC Committee.

Mr. Smith pointed out that the individual farm rates are established by the county ASC Committee on the basis of the Soil Bank law and national program regulations set up by the U. S. Department of Agriculture under the law.

Under the Soil Bank law, the Secretary of Agriculture establishes annual payment rates which give farmers a "fair and reasonable return" on land put in the Conservation Reserve, taking into consideration the value of the land for production of crops customarily grown upon it, prevailing cash rentals for such land, and the incentive necessary to contract sufficient land to make the program effective.

Under Department Regulations, annual payment rates are set on the basis of national, State and county averages, with the County ASC office determining the rate for the individual farm or part of the eligible acreage on the farm. The national average rate of Conservation Reserve annual payments is $13.50 per acre for contracts beginning in 1959 —an increase from the $10 average previously in effect. In Michigan the average payment rate is $15.00 and in Charlevoix County the average is $9.50, for 1959 contracts.

The county committee sets maximum farm payment rates for all farms for which they are requested. Two rates may be set for an individual farm, depending upon the amount and type of land offered for the program. They are:

1. A regular rate which will apply if part of the eligible land on the farm is put into the Reserve or if all eligible land is put in, but some of it for less than 5 years. This rate calls for the reduction (diversion) in Soil Bank base crops on the farm by the number of acres put in the Reserve at this rate. If land offered for the program is less productive than the average for all eligible land on the farm, this rate will be reduced proportionately.

2. An incentive rate which will apply when all eligible land on a farm is put into the Reserve for at least 5 years. This is 10 per cent higher than the regular or diversion rate and will apply to every eligible acre on the farm put into the program. This means that there will be only one rate for the farm.

In addition, a non-diversion rate may apply to farms on which only part of the eligible land is put into the program. This rate—50 percent of the regular rate—does not call for a reduction in acreage of Soil Bank Base crops on the farm.

Under Soil Bank regulations, the over-all maximum annual payment that may be made to an individual farmer is $5,000.00 — Any farm is elegible to participate in the Conservation Reserve if it has cropland regularly used for cultivated crops or tame hay.

Absent Voters May Obtain Election Ballots

Voters seeking absent voters' ballots may obtain them at any time by applying for them according to County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow who announced Wednesday that all ballots for the Nov. 4 general election had been delivered to all city and township clerks in the county.

Voters who will be unable to visit the polls on Nov. 4 for reasons of health or because they will be absent from their voting precincts may vote by absent voters' ballot. They first apply for an application blank which they must fill out and return to the township or city clerk. The ballot will then be mailed to the voter who will mark his ballot and return it in a special envelope provided for that purpose.

Persons planning to be out of town may go to the precinct clerk and vote before leaving the township or city where he is registered to vote.

Absent voters ballots may be obtained until 2 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 1.

People who are ill and unable to pick up an application for an absent voter's ballot may call their township or city clerk and ask that one be mailed or have someone pick up an application blank at the clerk's office. After filling out the application it must be returned to the clerk who will then mail the ballot to the voter.

F. Bruce Bergmann, interior communications electrician third class, USN, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Essex, which has been operating with the U. S. Seventh Fleet off the coast of Formosa in the Far East since mid-September.

After spearheading the U. S. Sixth Fleet's carriers in support of the U. S. Peace Force landings on Lebanon in mid-July, the Essex was rushed to the Far East through the Suez Canal the last week in August when the Formosa crises increased. The movement to the Far East came after seven months of operating with the U. S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Victoria, — the garden-decked capital of British Columbia, is a mecca for retired Americans, Canadians, and Englishmen, the National Geographic Magazine says. The Canadian writer Bruce Hutchison has described it as the "loveliest place in America —a tweedy, daffodilish, green-fingered sort of a place, a golfish, fly-fishing, 5 o'clock teapot place, a thoroughly crazy place, more interested in aphis than America, in caterpillars than civilization, in salmon than socialism."

'59 Dodge Features Style, Comfort, Economy

The tail fins of 1959 Dodge cars, like this Custom Royal four-door Lancer, have softer, more flaring lines. A new high-contour roof provides more headroom and allows easier entry and exit. New engines and advanced torsionaire suspension are claimed to provide greater gas and tire economies. New Dodge models are now being shown at Brown Motors, Inc.

New Dodge Models Go on Display At Brown Motors

Driver comfort, convenience and control features, including swing-out swivel seats, highlight the 1959 Dodge models which are displayed for the first time this week at Brown Motors, Inc. Jet-age refinements of the dart look create a new and distinctive exterior design.

The swivel-type front seats, and instrument panel more closely around a new "easy-to-get-by" steering wheel, plus push-button control of virtually all driver operations, head the list of 1959 advancements inside the car.

Colors and color combinations available on the new cars will feature more light hues, following both style and safety trends. Recent studies, say the manufacturers, show that lighter tints act as safety features.

Four new engines are offered in the various Dodge models — the less expensive Coronet series with either six or eight cylinders, the moderately priced Royal series with an eight cylinder, and the Custom Royal, with an eight cylinder engine.

Two nacelle-styled chrome mountings on the grille house the parking lights. Twin tail lights below each rear fin simulate the jet-tube design while chrome moldings are cut on the bias to permit visibility from the side as well as the rear for increased safety.

Know Your Community Chest

(This is the second in a series of articles about Community Chest agencies designed to better acquaint you with the 11 agencies to which you contribute through your contribution to the Red Feather drive which opened here Oct. 6)

Among the 11 agencies included in the Community Chest drive this year are City Recreation, Charlevoix Girl Scout Council and the Charlevoix Service Organization.

The city has again requested $800 which will be appropriated to its city recreation program which, in 1957, cost a total of $4,533.64.

Included in this is the skating rink, the softball program and lifeguards on the city's three beaches. The first cost the city a total of $1,538.46, the second $758.32 and the latter $2,236.86.

The $800 requested last year was applied to the total which left $3,733.64 to be paid by the city. This year's request is the same as last year's and will be applied to the overall cost as in the past. Without this contribution it would not be possible to have all these facilities available to the residents and visitors for their enjoyment.

The Girl Scout Council has requested $750.00 to be used in conducting the Girl Scout program in Charlevoix during 1959.

According to the financial report submitted by the Council, the program last year cost $1,419.60 and was financed by funds on hand ($126.98), Community Chest contributions which totaled $750 and $638.31 received from campers' fees and the operation of the camp store. Expenses included $1,226.17 for camping plus $193.43 for other expenses including insurance, rent for meeting places, programming, repairs and purchase of equipment and office expenses.

The Council, in August, had $95.69 on hand with which to complete the year's activities.

The Charlevoix Service Organization which has not asked for funds since 1954 has requested $450.00. This will be used to underwrite the cost of sending the Charlevoix Courier to the more than 90 local servicemen. The CSO receives the Charlevoix Courier at cost. There is presently a deficit of $181.55 to be paid from the request which will take the organization through 1959. Many local servicemen through the years have enjoyed the Courier as the result of the funds contributed to the C.S.O.

Surprise Given Crusade Student On Visit Here

Miss Juana Fuentes of Iquique, Chile, a Crusade student at the University of Michigan, was a guest at the First Methodist church Sunday while on a motor trip through northern Michigan.

A graduate of a South American university and a teacher in a Methodist Mission school in Chile, Miss Fuentes also writes for a church publication. The Rev. Frederick McNeil, pastor of the local church, said it was a coincidence that Miss Fuentes who was the author of the devotional article for Oct. 12 in the "Upper Room," a Methodist devotional guide, should attend services at the local church on that date. The article was written some three months ago and at that time Miss Fuentes had no idea of coming to this area.

In Ann Arbor she lives with Mr. and Mrs. James Crippen who had promised her a trip to northern Michigan to see the Mackinac Bridge. They had stopped off in Charlevoix to attend church services.

The Rev. Mr. McNeil said the church had extended an invitation to Miss Fuentes to return later this year for a longer visit and to speak at the church at that time.

Swainson will arrive in Charlevoix after a television appearance in Grand Traverse on Thursday, October 16 and after a series of meetings in Cheboygan County earlier in the day.

Martha Tunison, Charlevoix County Chairman, is in charge of the arrangements for Swainson's visit to Charlevoix County.

Blaze Destroys Farm Home of Don Mortensen

Fire of unknown origin early Friday evening completely destroyed the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Mortensen and their five children in Marion township eight miles south of here.

The family was shopping at Atwood when a neighbor, Mrs. Lawrence Boss, saw the fire and reported it to the Charlevoix fire department. When the firemen arrived at the scene they were unable to save the small one-story frame building which contained the family's belongings.

The family was taken in by Mr. and Mrs. John L. Boss who housed them in a small tenant house on their farm. The family will move to a house on the Henry Potter farm near Fairman's orchards in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Mortensen and their five children ranging in age from five weeks to seven years were given assistance by the Charlevoix county Red Cross chapter and the Goldman Meyer fund. Individuals also gave clothing and furnishings.

Dan Geneit, volunteer fireman, was treated at the Charlevoix hospital for burns to his right hand received while fighting the fire.

Assistant fire chief Patrick R. Martin would make no estimate of the fire.

Junior Chamber Plans Hallowe'en Event for Youth

Did you ever, as a child, have a yen to paint a window at Hallowe'en time?

Charlevoix's youngsters of today will have an opportunity to satisfy such a desire as the result of a Hallowe'en project sponsored by the newly-organized JayCees.

At a meeting Monday the group voted to sponsor a window painting project. Businessmen up and down the business district will be asked to 'loan' their windows for use in the project which will be open to youngsters in the kindergarten through the twelfth grade.

Each class will be assigned a window or windows, depending on how many are available. They will then be supplied special paints to paint their planned picture on their assigned window.

Prizes will be offered for the winning pictures in the various divisions. Local women's social clubs will be asked to furnish judges.

A committee composed of David Fowler, Louis McKenzie and Nick Hamilton was named to handle the event. Additional details will be announced later for the project.

Fall Perch Run Getting Underway

The fall perch run in the waters around Charlevoix appears to be starting. During the past week there has been activity in Lake Charlevoix, Round Lake and Lake Michigan.

Catches around Beaver Island have been tops. During the past week fishermen have also had good catches in Lake Michigan near Charlevoix and in Lake Charlevoix near Ironton. Some good catches were reported from Round Lake last week and the fishing is expected to improve here rapidly with favorable weather.

Boat liveries and bait shops in the area report they are well prepared to supply the needs of visiting fishermen during season.

Robert Bridge Named Director By Tourist Ass'n

Robert Bridge was elected to the board of directors of West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association at the recent fall meeting of the organization held in Grand Rapids.

At the same meeting D. C. Maltby of Bellaire, commercial teacher in the Charlevoix high school, was honored as the resort operator of the year. Mr. Maltby operates the Northland Resort at Bellaire.

Preliminary Plans For New High School Tentatively OK'ed

Schematic preliminary for a proposed new Charlevoix high school submitted by Gordon Cornwell architectural firm of Traverse City were tentatively approved at a special meeting of the Board of Education Monday evening. Estimated costs and plans for financing will be announced after the architects have made a recheck of figures and the project is formally approved by the board of education. It is expected a detailed announcement will be made next week, a spokesman for the board said.

The decision to building a new high school stems from the final reports of the school study survey sponsored last year by the Charlevoix Parent-Teachers association. Summary and recommendations of the survey stated that the "physical facilities are extremely inadequate on several counts." It pointed out the present high school was originally designed to serve a much smaller school population. It further reports the building to be an extreme menace to the safety of the students in the event of fire, explosion or other emergency.

Soon after the survey report was completed the Board of Education started a study of the basic problems to be encountered in the construction of a new school and engaged the services of the Gordon Gornwell architectural firm. The building committee for the school study survey has been collaborating with the Board of Education and the architects throughout the preliminary planning for a new high school.

Schematic plans submitted by the architects after a detailed study of local school needs as related to accomplishments of other school districts which had a similar problem were recently presented to the School of Education at Michigan State University for criticism and suggestions. The plans met with complete approval of this department.

Guest Speaker to Tell of Work at Children's Home

Charles Whitmar, deputation worker of the Michigan Regular Baptist Children's home at St. Louis, Michigan, will be the guest speaker at the Eastport Baptist church at 8 p.m. Sunday. He will present the work and operation of the home which will be illustrated with slides.

Located five miles northeast of St. Louis, the home takes care of 35 children on a 100-acre farm.

The women of the Eastport church have been canning fruits and vegetables for the home in recent weeks.

The public is invited to attend.

Potter Predicts Wild Spending if Democrats Win

Republican Senator Charles E. Potter lashed out against "spendthrift Democrats" as his reelection campaign swung through Charlevoix and Emmet Counties, Monday.

"The fastest way to stifle new jobs, raise taxes and cheapen your money is to strengthen the Democratic hold on Congress," Potter told the Petoskey Lions Club.

"They will consider it a mandate for the wildest orgy of spending in the Nation's history. All the New Deal and Fair Deal projects for fastening new Federal controls on the people are being dusted off in anticipation of gaining a green light at the polls, Nov. 4."

Potter took issue with Politician Harry Truman's attempt to blame Republicans for rising governmental costs.

"The recently adjourned Congress controlled by Democrats hiked by five billion dollars the spending authority requested by President Eisenhower," the Senator said. "If Republicans hadn't fought it on the floor and right up to the White House level,

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

A RESIDENT on Park ave. has a candidate for the meanest man in the world . . . Seems his car struck a small dog, a pet of a youngster who was playing on the sidewalk nearby . . . And instead of stopping to see what he could do he drove on, leaving three pre-school age youngsters to pull the dying animal from the street.

As for the accident itself, no one is saying he should have swerved the car to avoid striking the dog because many serious accidents have happened as the result of this . . . But the person who told us about it did think he could have stopped when he saw the children . . . who might have been bitten by the injured dog.

WE'VE HAD ALL sort of wild animal stories and after last week's bear story we thought we'd heard them all . . . But here's another one . . . The Archie Rounds drove in from Lansing Friday night and were going to their home at the corner of Chicago Dr. and Central ave. near the Chicago club grounds when something crossed the street in front of their car . . . At first they thought it was a cat but as it come into full view they found it was a fox . . . the prettiest red fox you'll ever see . . . What he was doing that close to town, we haven't the slightest idea . . . Certainly there's no chickens around for him to feast on . . . We've never heard of one invading civilization before . . . We always thought they were shy as well as sly . . . Could we be wrong?

IN ANSWER to all the questions about homecoming . . . it's going to be Oct. 24, according to the latest from Mr. Bingham's office . . . That will be the Grayling game . . . Does that answer your questions?

THE PERCH RUN is on . . . And how those fishermen can sit out in the middle of Round Lake with a gale blowing past and concentrate on fish we'll never know . . . But they're a brave lot and from what we hear were well rewarded for their patience with sizable catches . . . If the weather would clear up a bit we might even take a crack at fishing . . . that is, if we were sure the perch were biting like mad . . . 'cause we love to eat 'em.

AUTUMN'S really here . . . and one of the most beautiful sights you'll ever see is the view across Round Lake toward Little Island . . . where the rains we've been having have washed the sand clean . . . and where the trees are red and gold in a setting of evergreens . . . and all this reflected in the mirror smooth water of the lake.

ANOTHER WEEK . . . another football game . . . This one with Boyne City who suffered an upset the other night when Harbor Springs clipped 'em . . . Seems Boyne City had a bad [illegible] of over-confidence which [illegible] their undoing at the hands [illegible] the Rams . . . Let's hope it [illegible] catching 'cause we'd hate to see anything happen to that winning streak the Rayders have going . . . So to Coach Carey and the Rayders . . . lots of luck and let's keep 'em coming . . . those wins, we mean.

Plans Made for Second Annual Arts, Craft Show

Miss Isadore Williams, marketing specialist of the University of Tennessee, will be the guest speaker at the Second Annual Arts, Crafts and Home Industries Show held in Grayling on October 25. Miss Williams has been instrumental in the growth of the Southern Highland Guild and has spent 30 years in developing handicraft and arts there.

Mrs. Velma Huston, supervisor of home economics in the Upper Peninsula, will also tell of her experiences in operating an experimental art and craft shop for Michigan State University at L'Ance this summer.

Section meetings will be held in the afternoon in the areas of marketing, ceramics, food products, weaving, general design, oils and water colors, and Indian arts.

All persons interested in arts, crafts and home industries are invited to attend and to exhibit at this show, according to Clare Brown, county extension agent in home economics.

The meeting will start promptly at 10 a.m. and will be held in the Grayling High School Auditorium. This should be the largest exhibit of handicraft articles ever assembled in northern Michigan.

Plymouth Styling New - - Front to Rear

A new sport deck and slender, outward canted tail fins capped with chrome are rear view focal points in the all new styling of the 1959 Plymouth models now on display at Brown Motors, Inc, This Fury two door hardtop, like all new Plymouths, has new styling from bumper to bumper and from road to top.

New Plymouth Presented Today At Brown Motors

The 1959 Plymouths which were presented today at Brown Motors, Inc., are offered in 29 models which includes a new Sport Fury series. In addition to the Sport Fury in the new line up, Plymouth also offers the Fury, the Belvedere and the Savoy series. For the first time Plymouth offers two convertibles, one each in the Sport Fury and the Belvedere line.

Designers have given the '59 Plymouth models a new appearance from front, side and rear. Front end styling makes the car look wider and lower. The new grille is a split lattice work of aluminum bars extending the full width of the car. It is topped by a new hood, and new double-barreled front fender to house the dual head lights.

The compound windshield which wraps around the sides and curves into the roof panel is now standard on both the two door and four door hardtops as well as on the convertibles.

There is individual side molding-treatment for each the Sport Fury, Fury, Belvedere and Savoy series. Each of the series has the all new rear quarter panel and tail fin which are outward canted and chrome capped.

There are 14 new body colors available in Super Enamel, the new exterior finish claimed to double "high gloss life." There are 12 new shades and 23 different two-tone combinations not including Sportones and reverses.

A new 3-stage carburetor, standard on all Plymouth V8s, along with new manifolding is said to reduce gas consumption in the middle speed ranges. A new rear axle ratio of 2.93:1 is available at no extra cost with the Torque-Flite transmission. A new Golden Commando 395 V8 engine ,said to have exceptional "get-away" ability in traffic is available for all Plymouth models.

Don't Knock Knox

Congressman Victor A. Knox says it is very important to us in Northern Michigan that we send Senator Charles E. Potter back to the Senate for another important six-year term since if he is defeated on November 4th Wayne County will have two votes in the Senate and the rest of the state none. Another city millionaire's son, beholden to the U A W Boss, to make the laws whereby we live. Let us not vote away our freedoms.

While Congressman Knox is in Charlevoix County next Wednesday, October 22nd, plan to meet him, congratulate him on his support of legislation dealing with Social Security, Highways, Lamprey Eels, St. Lawrence Seaway and a host of others. Pledge him your support. Let's all help to

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn

In Spots

Autumn comes to the North in spots rather than simultaneously. A part of creation is still in the midst of spring — as are the shaddy-mane mushrooms, which magically make an appearance in pastures and waste places now, as morel mushrooms did in the month of May. Some plants are flowering in October as if it were their summertime — Jerusalem artichoke, blue gentian, ladies' tresses, asters, and goldenrod being among them. But here and there, in spots and patches, autumn is making itself felt. The whitetail fawns are losing their spots and the adult deer are shedding their summer coats and replacing them with winter garb. Chipmunks are retreating to their winter homes and settling down to a long deathlike sleep. Moles dig deeper into the earth, below the frost line. Ferns turn brown and die. Drone and worker bees expire and bumblebee queens find winter quarters well protected from freezing temperatures. Leaves turn color. Berries and nuts ripen. Brook trout spawn. Squirrels gather and store acorns and hickory nuts. Here and there, amidst the remnants of summer, there are signs of fall and of forthcoming winter. Autumn is here — in spots.

The best things of life, like autumn, come to us in spots. Knowledge does, friendship does and so does happiness. The longer one lives and the wiser one grows, the more capable he becomes of accepting and adjusting to this partial, incomplete nature of life. In early childhood we are impatient with incompleteness. We ask questions like "Where is God?", "What does God look like?", "Why do things change all the time?", "Why do people who do wrong get punished?", "Why doesn't God give me everything I want?", "Why do people die?", and we are seldom satisfied with the answers. We pile on the "Whys" until parents, running out of knowledge and patience, tell us to "run along now and play." But the incomplete answers frustrate and fret us. We demand satisfaction. "But why?", we persist. Later, as we mature, we learn that no one has all the answers to our questions.

Our knowledge is spotty. It is not all-encompassing. Our world cannot be fully explained. Here and there we have a hint of what the universe means. We see in the regular rising and setting of the sun and the predictable ebb and flow of the tides that this universe is orderly and not capricious or whimsical. We know something of the mixed complexity and simplicity of life here, the hundreds of thousands of different species of life, yet all made of only about one hundred elements and all functioning on a ew basic principles, such as eating, growing, moving and reproducing themselves. But in every realm, before we have gone far, we pass over the borders of knowledge and into the domain of mystery. A leading biologist declared a short time ago that biologists do not thoroughly understand even one biological reaction. Thomas Edison, emphasizing how limited science is in its outreach into the mysterious, onetime said, "We don't know the millioneth part of one percent about anything. We don't know what water is. We don't know what light is. We don't know what gravitation is. We don't know what enables us to keep on our feet when we stand up. We don't know what electricity is. We don't know what heat is. We don't know anything about magnetism. We have a lot of yhpotbeses about these things, but that is all." Edison did not mean we know nothing about anything. Rather, he was saying that the ultimate, complete, and final answers are elusive. As Saint Paul put it, "Now we see through a glass darkly . . . We know in part." We know in spots.

We are friends in spots. Do you know any human being of whom you wholeheartedly approve, any person who is thoroughly perfect? Do you have a friend whose mind and heart are entirely exposed to you, with whom you agree on every issue, big or little, whose likes and dislikes are in all ways identical with your own? No, friendship means agreement on some matters, but not in everything, the sharing of some interests, but not all, a basic understanding, but not complete understanding. If we look far enough and deeply enough we will find in those we love most an area of mystery and one of disagreement and another of imperfection. There can never be a complete union of minds. We are friends at certain points and in patches.

We are happy in spots. To complain because we are not altogether, thoroughly happy is the height of foolishness. Everyone, even the wealthiest man on earth, can think of something he still lacks. The man or woman who is most blissfully married can find some fault somewhere in the marriage partner. The most successful worker can find some distasteful element in his task. If you have some meaningful purpose to work for, someone to love, a few friends, a God to worship and obey, a clear conscience, and all of life's barest necessities, you can be grateful, even though you are not altogether happy. Nobody is. The happiest person is happy only in spots.

Autumn's progress gives us a clue as to what we can all profitably do. Autumn is spreading, from one spot to another, until at last there wil be only a few places where it has not reached—like the sheltered nooks where insects still live, and the deep holes of the earth to which many creatures have fled for warmth, and the depths of Lake Michigan where the temperatures remains the same summer and winter. It will never be thoroughly autumn everywhere, but the season is growing upon us. The spots of autumn are enlarging.

So must we grow, expanding our knowledge, our friendship with God and man and our capacity for happiness.

Plan Series of Policy Workshops For Agriculture

A series of Public Policy Workshops have been set up in this area, according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent. These Public Policy Workshops were tried out in several areas of the state last year. They met with so much interest that local people have asked that they be sponsored here.

These workshops will be held at the 4-H Center at Petoskey and will include people from Charlevoix and Emmet counties. These will be daytime meetings and will be held on Tuesdays during the winter months.

There will be six sessions for these Public Policy Workshops. The dates are November 4, 11, December 2, 9 and 16 and January 6. The meetings will run from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. There is no charge for the workshops unless you want to purchase your lunch.

Six outstanding topics will be discussed at these workshops by Art Mauch, agricultural extension specialist from Michigan State University. These six topics are as follows: (1) Your Products and Dollars Abroad, (2) What's Your Vote for Financing our Schools?, (3) Standing Rnom Only — How will we use Michigan's Space in the Future?, (4) Farm Program, (5) Vertical Integration, and (6) Training for effective Leadership in your Community.

Anyone interested in atending these workshops should try to attend all of them. Charlevoix county can send a small number of people and if anynne is interested they shnuld contact the Extension offcie immediately so that your name will be placed on the list.

Dairymen May Sign for Herd Record Keeping

October is the sign-up time for owner-sample dairy herd record keeping program in Charlevoix county, according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent. The year for the program runs from October 1 through September 30. Dairymen signing up now can complete a full year's record.

Milk testing records are used to spot high producing cows, figure feeding rates, a basis for culling and for selecting herd replacements. The summary for last year shows that cows producing 10,000 pounds of milk returned over feed cost more than $300 per cow, but cows producing less than 8,000 pounds turned only $200 per cow.

Dairy farmers in Charlevoix county interested in joining the owner-sampler milk testing program should contact the County Extension Office in Boyne City. Farmers must take their own milk samples and their own milk weights. The samples are tested and results then sent to Michigan State University where they are placed on the IBM machines. Within a few days dairy farmers have their dairy reports returned to them.

Bowling News

BY DES

Brnwn Motors mnved into the number one spot again as they kept Freedman No. 1 in third place by taking 3 points from them. N Empey was high man for Browns as he had a 201 game, 537 series although Frank Ochs beat Narm out for higa game with a 207. For the losers Don Gilbert had the high game with 203, but John Swanson, who couldn't quite hit the 200 mark, was high man and led his team with a nice 571. Bill Baker also had a 511 for Freedmans.

Neff Brothers were pushed back intn 2nd place as they dropped three to the (much easier tn write this week) Airport Inn. For the Inn, Soupie and Des battled it out with Soupie winning by one pin 525 - 524—lucky! Neffs couldn't seem to get anybody going and the best they could do was a 461 by Howard Struthers.

Moonlight Gardens moved up in the race as they took 3 points from Swanson's. Moonlight did not throw anything big, as Jim Lawyer was high with 485. For the losers Stub was high with 440. Wait a minute while I check the card and see if Ferguson bowled — yeah, he was there—419.

Sinclair moved up a little closer as they won 3 points from Hess Furniture. For the Oilers, it was Meg, like John, not quite hitting the 200 mark, but leading the way with a nice 565. Meg had a lot of help though from "Bantam Ben" Wallace with a big 233 game 536 series, and Tip O'Rile with a 203, 182, —, 510 series. Ken almost made 500 tonight. For Hess it was C. T. Bennett leading the way with his 459. (No wonder they only took one point) It's the first time this year Itch has led the team. Must be that weekend in G. R. did things for him. Herb improved on his 395 of last week though —this time he had 398.

Browe Electric passed Puffs in the standings as they passed them in two games and total for 3 points. For Browes, Ted was high man again with 460 Puff was in there trying as he switched to lead-off position and paced his team with a 514. Nobody else on his team could give him much help though.

Lake Construction led by Ron Wojan took three points from Freedman No. 2. Ron had a 524—here's a coincidence—the same identical series—and scores as mine. We each had games of 159, 175 and 190. Steve must have practiced—70 pins over his average this week. Nice going "rubber legs." Freedman No. 2 looks as if they are improving even though they only took 1 point. They had one game of 815. Bob Coakley was high for Freedman's with 476.

I'd like to congratulate all the teams this week. For the first time in 6 weeks the individual and team scores were all totaled up. Thanks, it sure saved time.

Legion Post to Hold Stag Dinner Wednesday Night

Leslie T. Shapton Post No. 226, of the American Legion will hold its annual fall stag supper next Wednesday at the Post home on East Garfield avenue.

Following the supper, which is set for the hours of 6:00 to 9:00 p.m., a short meeting will be held at which the Department of Michigan's new group insurance plan will be brought up for explanation and discussion. All veterans of this district are cordially invited to this supper.

Apart from its low cost, the insurance plan is unique in that it requires no physical examination and there is no age limit.

The insurance program, if adopted, will be available to all members of the Leslie T. Shapton post.

Charlevoix's Little Rayders racked up their second victory of the current season by defeating Boyne City 20 to 0 at Kipke field Tuesday night.

Gene McBride went in from the eight yard line to score the Rayders' first touchdown in the first quarter following a long drive. The attempt to run the ball over for the extra point was stopped.

The second quarter was scoreless and the half ended 6 to 0.

Midway in the third period Sam Supernaw went over from the six on a quarterback sneak with Tom Louiselle adding the conversion point on a line plunge.

Late in the final period, Dick Lederman scored from the four with Supernaw adding the conversion point.

Next Tuesday the J-V's will host Mancelona here at 7:30 p.m.

Gas Price Cut By Standard Oil

A one cent reduction in the retail price of gasoline was announced Wednesday by the Standard Oil Co. The one cent drop is effective in Northern Michigan while southern Michigan gets a one and three-tenth reduction.

Under the new price schedule the cost of gasoline, including all taxes, will be 34.9 cents per gallon or approximately 25.1 cents plus state and federal taxes.

In announcing the lower price, A. V. Fraser, Standard Oil's eastern regional manager, points out that retail prices at service stations are not determined by the company but by the individual dealer. He noted further that the price cut indicates again the intense competition existing at both the wholesale and retail levels of the oil industry despite improved quality and rapidly increasing costs.

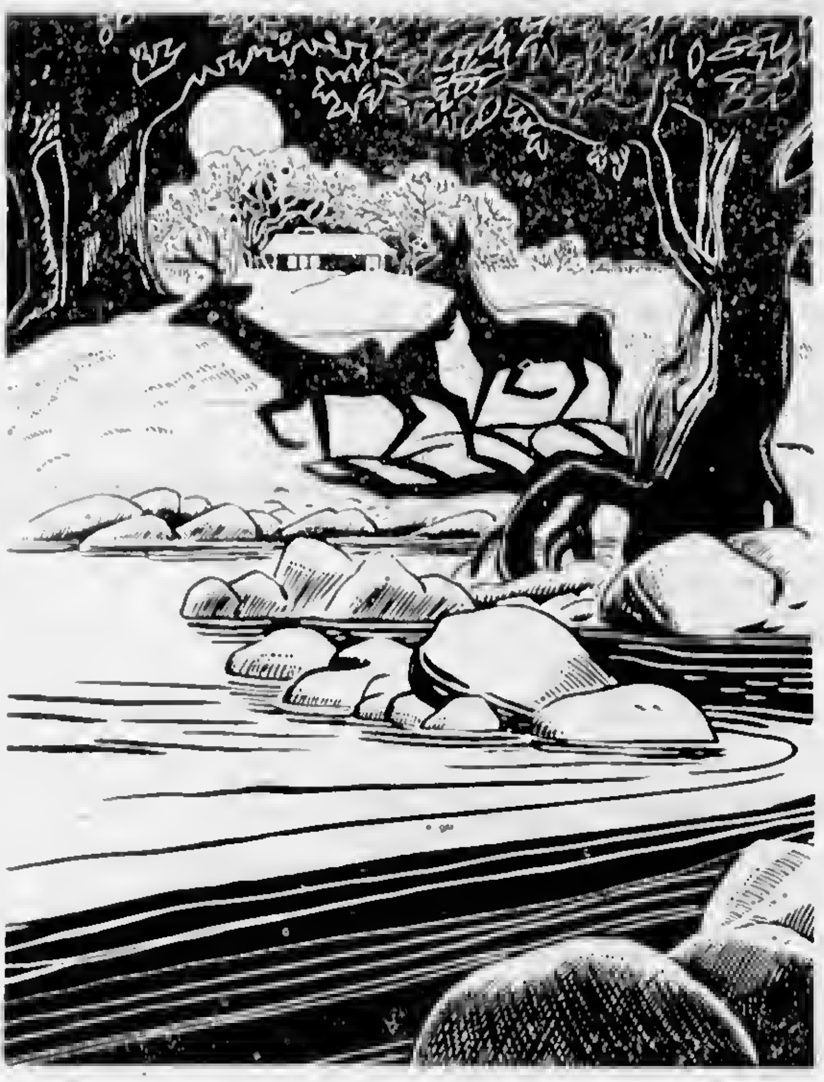
Our Wild NORTHERN NEIGHBORS

By Harold E. Kohn



When summer is over, and a thin veil of autumn haze is dropped over the North, the whitetail deer become restless. Summer has been a lazy time for the deer tribe. Does have fed heavily on lush browsings, rested, and nursed their young. Bucks have lived idly, guardedly, always protecting their highly sensitive growing antlers. Excepting for a few outlaw poachers, hunters have not molested the deer population.

But now the deer have departed from their days of peace, and have entered a season of excitement. The velvet has fallen in tatters from the bucks' hardened antlers, and the big males shadow-fight with sappling poplars, ash and birches. I know a spot laced with shadows, within a hundred yards of a woodland cabin, where the ground is badly beaten by buck-hooves, and the bark has been torn from saplings as high as a tall buck can reach. The necks of bucks will swell now as the rutting season comes on, and the beautiful creatures will stamp and paw the ground and give the brush a sound thrashing with their antlers. When one buck meets another there will follow an angry clash of antlers and much pushing and shoving until one is vanquished, exhausted, and often bleeding from antler-punctures in his hide. Bucks will now run with does, and after them, and their increased activity will cause them to lose weight rapidly.

For a while whitetail does wildly flee from their ardent suitors, but after two or three weeks of coyness they accept the attention of the males, and for a week or ten days does and bucks run in pairs. Then the mating season tapers off. The deer become quiescent, although a very few remain interested in mating for some time to come, as is shown by an occasional fawn being born in the North as late as August — from two to three months later than his cousins.

So in October and November the age-old drama is enacted by which the wilderness replenishes its kind.

Nuisance Fish From Salt Waters Invading Lakes

The sharp increase in the alewife in lakes Michigan and Huron prompts the question: Is this the rumbling of a biological explosion?

Four years ago no mention was made of the alewife in Michigan records. In 1957, 33,625 pounds of this so-called nuisance fish were taken from Lake Michigan and an additional 1,868 pounds from Lake Huron, according to conservation department reports.

A member of the herring family, the alewife came to the Great Lakes from salt water. To date it has little commercial value and its alarming increase in Michigan's waters is causing considerable concern among fishermen and conservationists. Not only is the fish a nuisance in the nets of the fishermen, but it seems to be taking the place of the valuable lake herring. As the alewife increases, the herring seems to decrease in almost the same proportion.

Concern is also being expressed over the presence in Lake Huron of the gizzard shad, another salt water newcomer and member of the herring family Although the increase of the shad is not spectacular, its presence troubles fish biologists.

New Chevrolet Presents Styling Transformation

A complete styling transformation, along with safety, comfort and performance are incorporated in the Chevrolet for '59, according to Charlevoix Oil Co., spokesmen who are presenting the new models today.

In shape and in detail the new styling reflects the influence of a space-conscious age. Lines sweep rearward in a virtually level plane. Tops are flatter and visibility is dramatically increased.

There are five series of models offered this year by Chevrolet. The Impala models have been broadened to include a new four-door sedan and a four-door hardtop, in addition to the sport coupe and the convertible. The Bel Aire series is offered in two and four door sedans.

The Biscayne series offers a two and four door sedan and a utility sedan. This new series takes over the lowest price niche, formerly the Delray, now discontinued.

The station wagon series includes a two and four door Brookwood, a four door Parkwood, a nine passenger Kingswood and the sumptuous four door Nomad. All station wagons feature a tail gate which lower into the tail gate.

Rounding out the passenger car line is the two passenger Corvette sport coupe with new refinements and improvements.

Power plants include a new Hi-Thrift Six and V8 engines ranging in horsepower from 185 to 315. The new six cylinder includes improvement which the manufacturers say will increase fuel mileage up to 10 percent.

Other mechanical improvement are noted in larger braking surfaces, advanced design in the Turboglide transmission, a second shock-resistant universal joint for easier steering.

Bodies are finished in a new acrylic lacquer which adds depth to color and retains remarkable luster longevity.

Temper gets you into trouble but it's pride that keeps you there.

Well Seasoned

Lumber should be thoroughly dry before it is used for cabinets and built-ins in order to avoid shinkage. Best plan is to store lumber for several weeks in the room where it will be ultimately installed. For best results, ordinary home craftsmen should use Douglas fir, west coast hemlock or western red cedar. These woods work easily, take excellent finishes and are long lived and durable.

Hornets Never Threaten Charlevoix Wins 26-0

Rayder Ron Vandenberg (84), who was shifted from his regular end position to the fullback spot last week, pictured picking up yardage in the Charlevoix-Pellston game which the Rayders won by a 26 to 0 score.

Harbor Springs Shocks Boyne; Mancelona and Gaylord Win

The Harbor Springs Rams with two losses to their credit prior to Friday upset the Boyne City Ramblers 24 to 20 to become the first team to down the defending champions since mid-season 1955. The Rams' victory highlighted the action in the Northern Michigan Class C league Friday night and knocked the Ramblers out of a first place tie with the Charlevoix Rayders who defeated Pellston 26 to 0 to assume the league lead.

In other action Gaylord downed a stubborn East Jordan eleven 6 to 0 and Mancelona defeated Grayling 28 to 0.

A completed pass on fourth down with two minutes remaining in the game gave the Harbor Springs Rams the scoring opportunity they were looking for to upset the defending champions on the Ramblers' home field Friday night.

Going into the game with Boyne City, the Rams were definitely the underdogs but remembering their heart-breaking loss to the league champions last year they drew first blood in the meeting as halfback Doug Meeker went over from the 30 yard line to put his team ahead 6 to 0 early in the game.

The advantage was short-lived, however, as Ramblber halfback Tom Kujawski scored from two yards out, Jack Dixon ran the ball over on a quarterback sneak to put Boyne City ahead 7 to 6 as the period ended.

In the second period John Kirby scored from the 13 and fullback Doug Grubbe from the 18 to give the Ramblers a 20 to 6 lead after Kirby went through the line to score the extra point.

As the end of the half drew near Meeker broke away and went 79 yards to put the Rams back in the game and cut the Rambler lead to 20 to 12.

The third quarter was scoreless but in the final period the Rams broke lose with a touchdown by halfback Ron Niswander from the 11 yard line to make the score 20 to 18.

With two minutes remaining, the Rams, deep in their own territory gambled on a fourth down pass and made it as end Ken Garver took a 10-yard pass from quarterback George Pamp and romped 70 yards for the victory.

Mancelona 28 Grayling 0

At Mancelona it was the story of the Biehls as quarterback Don Biehl and his uncle, Jerry Biehl, scored all of the Ironmen's 28 points to defeat the Grayling Vikings who never threatened in the meeting.

The first period was scoreless but in the second quarter Don Biehl scored from the 15 and later from the 20 to give the Ironmen a 14 to 0 lead after Jerry Biehl had scored the conversion points.

Jerry Biehl opened the second half action by romping 50 yards on a punt return to score with Don Biehl making the score 21 to 0. In the same period he scored again, this time from the 10, with Don Biehl giving a repeat performance on the conversion.

Grayling never threatened.

All games were played on rain-soaked fields. High winds made passing and punting difficult and temperatures in the low 40's made ball handling equally as difficult.

Gaylord 6 East Jordan 0

At Gaylord the Blue Devils and the East Jordan Red Devils played a scoreless first period before end Bruce Walker scored from 15 yards out after taking a 26-yard pass from John Burnison. A high pass from center eliminated the Blue Devils' chances to add the extra point.

East Jordan invaded Gaylord territory to the one-yard line but lost the ball on downs when they failed to push over.

Rayders Hold First, But Boyne City Slips Before Showdown

Driving rains and high winds did little Friday afternoon to halt the Charlevoix Rayders who marched to their third loop win of the year by trimming Pellston 26 to 0.

The victory left Charlevoix in sole possession of the league lead after the Harbor Springs Rams knocked the defending champions, the Boyne City Ramblers out of first placed by defeating them, 24 to 20.

Though running was difficult on the rain-soaked field, Charlevoix got off four that resulted in touchdowns and many more which ate up yardage and put the ball in scoring position. The Hornets, however, were held to few gained as rain cut their passing attack to shreads. The play was also spotted with fumbles as the result of the weather conditions.

Pellston kicked off to the Rayders who took the ball on their own 23 yard line and marched to the Pellston 33. However, two major penalties in a row set them back to their own 37. On the next play halfbabck Bud Balch broke away and romped 63 yards to score. Dick VanRaaphorst's boot was good as the Rayders went ahead 7 to 0.

Fumbles highlighted the action on the next series of plays as the Hornets fumbled on their 30 yard line with the Rayders recovering. On the next play Charlevoix fumbled and Pellston recovered. However, they were forced to punt after three tries and Charlevoix took over on their 28. On the next play Balch again got away, this time for an 82 yard run and a touchdown. The boot was wide and the quarter ended 13 to 0 with the Rayders well in command of the game.

Pellston punted from their own nine to open the action in the second quarter. The Rayders on a series of downs moved the ball from their own 45 to the Pellston 23 where the Hornets took over on downs. Charlevoix gained possession of the ball on the 29 after blocking a Pellston punt but lost it to the Hornets on the Pellston 10 when the Rayders fumbled.

The half ended on the next play.

Charlevoix kicked off to the Hornets to open the second half and gained possession on their own 18 yard line when Pellston was forced to punt from their 33 on fourth down.

A steady march with fullback Ron Vandenherg, Balch and Mike Geneit carrying the ball picked up five first downs and moved the ball into the Pellston 10 where they drive bogged down and Pellston took over on downs. The Hornets were pushed back to their eight yard line as the quarter ended.

On the second play of the final period, Charlevoix gained possession on the two yard line after blocking a Pellston punt Geneit carried it over on the next play. VanRaaphorst added the extra point on a kick and Charlevoix led 20 to 0.

Pellston took the kick-off on their 35, advanced to the 40 but had to punt on fourth down and the Rayders took over on their 46. An offside penalty, however, set them back to their 41. With Vandenberg carrying the ball the Rayders picked up two first downs to the 20. Balch picked up six yards, Vanlenberg added nine more and Stan Smith advanced to the three. Vandenberg picked up two yards on the next play before going in for the touchdown. The conversion kick was blocked and the score remained 26 to 0.

Four plays later Pellslon relinquished the ball to Charlevoix on their 43. They moved to the Pellston 30 as the game ended.

Coach Don Carey substituted freely with most of his bench seeing action.

Next Week With Class 'C' Teams

Northern Michigan Class C play this week will find Mancelona playing at East Jordan and Gaylord invading Grayling Friday night and Harbor Springs entertaining Pellston at 8 p.m. Saturday.

In the fourth loop game Charlevoix will play at Boyne City Friday night.

Led by the Biehls, Don and his uncle, Jerry, Mancelona will invade Red Devil territory this week to take on the Jordanites who, on successive weekends, have held opponents to one touchdown. Though they lack scoring punch they have one of the best defensive teams in the league, they lack speed which has hampered their offensive attack all season. However, they have improved greatly and are well on their way ot becoming one of the stronger teams in the loop as the midway mark in the season nears.

Mancelona bowed to the Charlevoix Rayders by a score of 35 to 0. However, since then they have rolled over Grayling (28-0) and Harbor Springs (44-0). The latter upset Boyne City last week 24-20.

This could be a close game but it is doubtful if the Jordanites have enough to stop the Biehls who last week accounted for the Ironmen's 28 points between them. The week before Jerry Biehl scored three touchdowns.

After a hard-fought game with East Jordan, the Blue Devils will travel to neighboring Grayling this week to take on the Vikings who are alone in the loop cellar Paced by speedy John Burnison, Gaylord should have little trouble with the Vikings who have three loop losses. Gaylord has a record of two wins and one loss, the latter to Charlevoix.

The Pellston-Harbor Springs game will be an interesting one for a number of reasons. If the field is dry the Hornets, who dropped last week's game to Charlevoix (26-0), could give the Rams a good game.

The Rams, however, will be flying high after upsetting the defending champions and ready for the Hornets. Until Friday's win over Boyne City, the Rams had been trampled by Gaylord and Mancelona by scores of 26 to 6 and 44 to 0. It is not known what brought them to life last week but whatever it was, chances are Coach Charlie Paige will try it again this week in an effort to keep his team on the victory trail.

The Rams will find that the Hornets are no push-over, especially if the field is dry so the Pellston eleven can take to the air.

This game could be a toss up. The Rams will have a slight edge because of their win over Boyne City but on the other hand, the Hornets are a big outfit that's getting tougher with each game.

Game of the Week
Charlevoix vs. Boyne City

Dope Sheet

Charlevoix will travel to Boyne City this week to take on arch rivals, the Ramblers

The Rayders were hoping they would be the team to upset the defending champions but Harbor Springs deprived them of that by dumping the Ramblbers 24 to 20 last Friday.

But since the Rayders and Ramblers are old rivals, past records will be forgotten as they meet as equals. In these games anything can happen and usually does.

Everyone is asking "What does Boyne City have?" . . They've defeated Grayling (20-0) and East Jordan (6-0) while losing to Harbor Springs and St. Ignace 13-12) in a non loop game. Charlevoix has defeated Mancelona (35-0), Gaylord (13-0) and Pellston (26-0) as well as Rogers City (46-0).

On paper Charlevoix should take the game with little trouble and Coach Don Carey's Rayders, remembering the past two years, would like nothing better than to trample the Ramblers. The latter, however, has a way, of fighting back when the chips are down and will be up for this meeting.

But unless the Rayders let down, which is unlikely, they should move one game closer to the loop title which they lost to Boyne City in 1956.

The Charlevoix Rayders hold a perfect record over the Pellston Hornets and the Gaylord Blue Devils. Neither of these teams have beaten the Maroon and white since joining the league in 1945 and 1946 respectively.

From the Side Lines . . .

The Rayders looked as thou coach Carey had put the fear of defeat into them, even the weather didn't seem to hamper them to any great degree. Of course we can't say that Pellston had a strong team to field against the Rayders.

Despite the score the Rayders had their troubles in handing the Hornets their defeat, it is possible that we have a bunch of mudders on our hands as the team worked well in the wet and cold.

It seemed our line was charging hard, much more so than in the past, let's hope the hard hitting was not a result of trying to keep warm but that old slam bang line play that Charlevoix teams have produced in the past.

This week's game will tell; no matter what the weather conditions the Rayders are going to have to hit hard to stay on top of the conference heap.

Applications for Election Board Asked by City

Applications for appointment to the election board for the Nov. 4 general election may be obtained at the office of the city clerk, according to Clifford G. Riley, deputy clerk, who said Wednesday that applications had been slow in coming in.

According to state law it is necessary to have a 50-50 split of party workers, that is, Republicans and Democrats, on each election board.

Since the city is planning to employ the two-election board system during the Nov. 4 election, there is need for many more applications before election boards can be named.

The city will use one board during the hours the polls are open, from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Another board will report at 8 p.m. to count the votes. This is being done in an effort to facilitate the counting of the votes. A record vote is anticipated.

If you would like to serve on either of the election boards, you may obtain an application at the office of the city clerk in the city hall.

Community Chest Drive At $1,437 Mark

The 1958 Comunity Chest fund drive reached the $1,437 mark Tuesday according to Mrs. James Coleman who reported that approximately 70 percent of the business solicitations were included in the amount given above. This figure is approximately 14 percent of the campaign goal of $9,996.06.

The industrial - professional - business division of the drive is scheduled to end this week. The residential solicitation which began Monday is to be completed Oct. 24.

The mail solicitation is also underway with letters going to summer residents, local clubs and lodges and to summer businesses and others.

Again Mrs. Coleman urges that everyone give to the best of his ability so the 1958 goal of $9,996.06 can be reached by the end of the month. It is necessary that the funds be raised so the participating agencies may continue their work in the community.

A dead person may vote, legally, if he mails an absentee ballot and then dies before election day.

of this city; four brothers, George of Chralevoix, James of Mt. Clemens and William and Robert of Detroit and three sisters, Mrs. DeWitt Dennis of East Jordan, Mrs. Emmet McCann and Mrs. Mildred Frye of Charlevoix. Mrs. Kiser was a native of this city and had spent most of her life here.

Surviving Kiser is a son by a previous marriage to Juanita Russell who died April 21, 1953, after being shot in their home at Twin Lake north of Muskegon. Kiser told officers he had been removing a bullet from a gun when it fired accidentally, the slug entering her hip and penetrating her abdomen. Before she died in a Muskegon hospital, she corroborated his statement. However, her son, Wayne, by a former marriage, who was then four years old, told police his mother and step-father were arguing at the time of the shooting.

Wayne now lives here with his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Russell. The other child, Tommy, now 5, lives in Cheboygan with his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kiser, sr., who resided in East Jordan until 1955. Kiser is also survived by a sister.

Supervisors Name Curtis to Preside At Board Meeting

Russell Curtis, Marion township supervisor and past chairman of the Charlevoix county board of supervisors, was elected temporary chairman of the annual fall session of the board at its opening session Monday morning. Mr. Curtis was asked to head the group in the absence of Barney Milstein of East Jordan, who is acting postmaster in that community.

Reports and requests for appropriations were heard from all units which receive funds from the county.

Major items to be decided by the hoard before the meeting ends is the adoption of the 1959 budget, establishing of officers appropriations, salaries and apportionment of the taxes. There will also be a hearing Thursday on the consolidation of the two townships, St. James and Peaine, which make up Beaver Island.

Potter Predicts . . .

the cost would have gone up nearly six billion dollars more."

Potter called the Ex-President the architect of zooming living costs.

"Prices went up 50 per cent during his seven years in office and gobbled up three fourths of all the wage increases workers gained. In six Republican years the increase has totalled only eight per cent," he insisted.

"Of 15 increases in individual income tax rates since 1913, 14 are chargeable to the Democrats. There were 10 tax cuts in the same period, seven credited to Republican leaving Democrats with the sorry record of only three cuts. The largest tax cut on record in 1954 lopped $7.4 billion dollars a year of the cost of government. It was a Republican adjustment, 62 percent of which went to individuals. It has saved the American taxpayer $33 billion dollars to spend as he sees fit."

Potter was almost on home grounds in his vote drive thru Charlevoix, East Jordan, Boyne City, Petoskey and Harbor Springs. It kept him occupied from breakfast to midnight in the district where he won his first congressional victory.

Before a service club luncheon in Boyne City, he flayed the grasping for political power of Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers.

He charged that Labor bosses are ready to spend half a million dollars to defeat him because he won't take their orders.

"They are finding that I don't purge easily," the Senator said.

"The big issue of the election is whether the American people will let the Jimmy Hoffas and the Reuthers expand their life and death control of congressional votes, which now involves at least 20 Senate members and 130 to 150 Representatives."

Contrasting the 90 per cent vote cast in the recent French election with the 50 per cent turnout in our last presidential election, Potter blamed grass roots apathy in America for the rise in power of the Reuther leadership.

"I say that the misuse of dues-money paid by union members— Republicans and Democrats alike — to gain his political objective is as reprehensible as the fast and loose use of Teamster funds by the Jimmy Hoffa gang, as revealed in the sordid story unfolded before the Senate rackets investigation," Potter declared.

"Only an aroused citizenry — Republicans and Democrats alike — can safeguard the freedoms we all love."

Turn Down Proposal To Consolidate Two Island Townships

The Charlevoix county board of supervisors adopted a budget of $226,522 for 1959 before adjourning late Saturday, following one of the busiest October sessions in recent years.

The budget was $14,677 over the 1958 budget of $211,845.15 but far below the tentative budget of $279,145.85 set last spring.

A 6.5 mills tax levy on the county's state equalized valuation of $33,118,300 will raise $215,269 toward the 1959 budget. The remainder will come from refunds, fees, costs and similar sources.

The budget, however, was only one of several major issues brought before the board at this session.

One issue tabled until the final meeting following a hearing Thursday was the proposed consolidation of the two townships, Peaine and St. James, which make up Beaver Island.

Petitions requesting the consolidation were filed at the office of the county clerk earlier this fall. Last Thursday petitions objecting to the action were presented before the board. After a long discussion during which both sides were heard the proposal was tabled until the final meeting Saturday when it was turned down by a vote of 12 to 10 with three members absent. A two-thirds vote was necessary for adoption.

Advocates of the proposed consolidation were urging its approval so that funds received by the township with the population center, St. James, could be used for roads in Peaine township which is the site of the airport, inland lakes and resort development.

Officers salaries which are always adopted at the October session in alternate years was another major item acted upon by the board.

Supervisors Up Budgets to Departments

The appropriation to the county welfare department continued to be the largest single appropriation made. The department was given $60,000, an increase of only $550 over last year's sum of $59,450 and far below the department's request for $85,685.

Other appropriations follow: county board of education, $5,530, an increase of $1,100; Whiting Park, $3,063, an increase of $63; county agricultural agent, $5,050, an increase of $50; field and game conservation, $525, an increase of $125 or $175 to each of the three organized conservations clubs in the county; district health department No. 4, $10,545.25 which includes $199 salary increase for the county nurse and $240 for rent.

Other appropriations which remained the same were: advertising, $1,500; Civil Defense, $1,000; Child Guidance Clinic, $981.00; veterans' affairs, $800; 4-H fall achievement day, $350; apiary inspection, $150; Children's Aid Society, $250.

The only appropriation which was less than in 1958 was one made to the Soldiers and Sailors Relief fund. This was $200 for 1959 as compared to $300 in 1958.

A bid for the installation of an oil furnace in the county jail was also accepted. The bid submitted by Frank Novotny and Sons, local plumbers, for $4,385 was accepted. A second bid was submitted by John Mol plumbers. The new furnace will replace the one installed when the jail was built more than 30 years ago.

The board addressed a request to the legislature asking that direct relief funds be returned to a matching funds basis (50-50) instead of the 70-30 basis now in use.

They also voted to send a communication to the State Tax Commission asking that its formula for assessing woodlot owners be changed.

Chest Drive Nears Halfway, Mark Is $9,996

The 1958 Community Chest fund drive to raise $9,996.00 for 11 agencies neared the half-way mark this week with $4,716.65 reported by Mrs. James Coleman, fund chairman.

This figure is 48 percent of the total for the fund drive which is in its third week.

A breakdown of funds received to date show that $2,276.50 has been contributed by the business-industry - professional division which includes the schools, county building and the city hall; $877.50 by summer residents; $5.00 by the Charlevoix Rebekah lodge, the only organization to contribute thus far and $557.65 in the residential drive which includes the townships.

In announcing the progress of the drive, Mrs. Coleman urged workers to complete their assignments at the earliest possible date in an effort to bring the campaign to a conclusion.

She went on to say that if the current drive is to be successful so that the 11 participating agencies may carry on their work everyone must give his "fair share." "Fair Share" giving can be defined as one day's salary by the average person. If everyone would give one day's salary, or if it would be more convenient, pledge one hour's salary for a 12-months period than the drive could be brought to a successful conclusion.

Athletic Field Site Selected for New Junior-Senior High

The Charlevoix Board of Education approved the proposed plans for a new high school presented by Gordon Cornwell and associates, architechs of Traverse City, at a meeting of the board Monday evening. Following the approval of plans the board adopted a resolution calling for a special election to be held Nov. 10 to vote on a bond issue of $995,000.00 to finance the project.

The need for a new Charlevoix high school and the proposed plan to meet that need will be discussed by Gordon L. Freedman at an open meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening in the community room at the city hall.

Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, this meeting will afford the public an opportunity to get a first hand picture of the problems confronting the school district.

Mr. Freedman, a member of the board of education, has worked closely with the board, architects and various committees in an attempt to present an adequate plan to meet present and future need and at the same time hold the tax burden to a minimum.

The program provides for the construction of a new junior and senior high school building to be located adjacent to the present athletic field on property owned by the school district. The present high school building, built in 1904 to accomodate an enrollment of 150 students, will be razed to provide playground space adjacent to the present music and shop building. This building will be converted to house the large kindergarten enrollment along with the cafeteria and kitchen for the elementary school.

Covering an area of 66,000 square feet, the new high school cost is estimated at $926,000 completely equipped with furniture and laboratories. This figure is based on the maximum bids that may be expected, Mr. Cornwell explained in presenting the proposal. The estimated cost of wrecking the old high school and converting the music and shop building totals $19,000. Miscellaneous costs which include site improvement, survey, bonding expenses, first year interest, etc., are estimated at $50,000.

The proposal for the new high school includes six class rooms for the junior high school along with a general education laboratory (assemble room). The latter includes a stage, work tables, movable cabinets suitable for dividing the room into individual work areas. Designed with a seating capacity of 220, it provides adequate space for assemblies, school programs and other group activities.

The senior high school plan has five general class rooms, two commercial rooms, two fully equipped science laboratories, home economics room fully equipped and a general education laboratory with stage and seating capacity of 320. In addition there are adequate counselling rooms, teachers' work rooms and students' work room. The administration unit which includes the school library is located to serve both the junior and senior high schools.

This section of the new building is to be located at the north end of the site about 140 feet south from Garfield ave., and a like distance west of May st.

From the south entrance of this building there is a covered breeze-way leading to the activities building. The activities building will include the shop, drafting room, music room, cafeteria and kitchen, gymnasium, boys' and girls' locker rooms. Gymnasium dimensions are 110 by 90 feet. Telescoping bleachers, extending the length of each side, afford a 1,000 seating capacity.

Also in this building will be the heating plant and maintenance shop. The capacity of the heating system is designed to adequately serve anticipated expansion of both the junior and senior sections of the building.

Proposed structures are of steel construction, with brick exteriors and masonry block interior walls and partitions. This type of construction is said to lend itself readily to any expansions program that may be necessary and is equally adaptable should curriculum changes necessitate interior alterations. Both units are of one-story design.

It was pointed out at the meeting Monday night that the present softball diamond will have to be relocated further to the south to provide adequate space for the new structures. The present athletic field can remain as is. With completion of the new high school this field will be conveniently located to provide athletes with access to locker rooms and showers.

Needed---A New High School

At last there are plans underway to provide the Charlevoix school district with a high school adequate to meet the needs of the community. The present high school, built in 1901 to serve 150 students has long since past its usefulness.

The present junior and senior high school enrollment of 413 students has necessitated the housing of 59 seventh grade students in the elementary school causing further overcrowding in that department. Even attempting to accomodate the remaining 354 high school students in a building designed for 150 appears impossible. It certainly is a serious handicap to an efficient educational program as well as a serious hazard in view of the fact the building is old and of wood construction.

There is every indication that student enrollment will increase even faster than the anticipated increase revealed in the recent school study survey sponsored by the Parent-Teachers association. That can only mean the situation is going to become more serious each year. Building of a new high school is inevitable. It can be delayed but it can not be avoided.

The proposed plans have been studied, compared, and revised to eliminate every possible cost inconsistent with economies based on present and future needs of the school district.

Electors in the school district should familiarize themselves with the present situation and the proposed plans to meet the needs of the community. An honest appraisal based on conditions as they affect the community as a whole should leave no doubt in the minds of electors that the proposal for a new high school should be approved now.

INJUN SUMMER . . . with the smell of burning leaves, a chill in the air, leaves turning red and brown, pumpkins, talk of trick and treat . . , we're having it in Charlevoix these days . . . The weekend was heavenly . . . All this was climaxed by a beautiful autumn sunset . . . On days like these one is tempted to say that autumn is the favorite time of the year . . . we love it but we can't help but think of the cold wintery days ahead and then we lose the spirit.

AUTUMN is homecoming time, too, and in every garage, vacant building or store house the barriers are up to everyone but members as this class or that club decorates its float for the homecoming parade scheduled for 4 p.m. Friday . . , Each year these parades have gotten better so we're looking forward to this one . . . Last year's, you'll remember, had to be postponed a week because of the Asian flu which hit northern Michigan in mid-October . . . We're hoping nothing happens this year so it can go off on schedule . . . Just keep your fingers crossed that the weather will be good . . . For those participating in the parade and for the spectators . . . 'cause there's nothing that will spoil a parade faster then rain and nasty weather . . . So see you on Bridge st. Friday afternoon . . . You name the corner.

DO SEA SHELLS fascinate you? . . . Mrs. Bud Gill has received a beautiful collection of them from the Elwood Livingstons who live in Naples, Fla. . . . She's planning a window display in their downtown store later this year so be on the lookout for it . . . Incidently, the former resident and classmate of hers who sent her the collection of shells also collected one earlier for the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D. C. so he's quite an authority on them.

HAPPENED TO BE shooting the breeze the other night with Gordon Neff who casually mentioned that he was going to Montana next month on a hunting trip . . . for deer and antelope . . . When we sounded interested we got more of the details and we think they're pretty amusing . . . Seems Gordon, Stub Swanson, Bernic Ward jr. and sr. and Mayor Chet Crago of Petoskey are making the trek . . . One of the catches, however, is the fact that they have to ride heaven knows how many miles through the mountains to the hunting camp . . . Since none of them are horsemen they've bought a horse and are learning to ride . . . Seems the horse had other ideas recently and proceeded to take off but the rider hung on despite the fact that he lost his wallet and his dignity . . . Can't you just see them now . . . riding horses and carrying all their gear . . . and leading a few pack horses behind them . . . just like on television in the good old days . . . We'll bebt they will have a whale of a time . . . Wouldn't you like to, be there and watch them riding in to the camp . . . If they have half the fun they've had telling about it, it will turn out to be the expedition of the year.

THE COMMUNITY Chest drive is on . . . or didn't you know? We hope you've dug deep in your jeans and given just as much as you can so that the goal of $9,996.06 can be met . . . It's a lot, we know, but all these agencies need your support if they are to continue the wonderful services they offer our community . . . So remember, when the gal (or guy) with the red feather calls, greet her (or him) and make your contribution to the United Fund . . . So they'll have to call only once instead of 11 times for that's the number of agencies that'll receive funds through your 1958 contribution.

THERE WAS A game last week and in print we'd like to say "well done" to Coach Carey and his staff and the rugged Rayders . . . So they played for keeps, or so we were told . . . All they did was play a terrific game . . . and that's why they've gone as far as they have . . . and the reason they'll continue their march if they tend to their P's and Q's as dictated by Coach Carey and his able assistants . . . And you know, we think that Carey guy knows what he's doin' . . . for a lot of reasons but here's one . . . Earlier we were bemoaning the fact that we were playing Mancelona and Gaylord the first two weeks of the season . . . Says the smart coach, "I think we'll be better off for playing them now . . . because they're going to get a lot better as the season progresses" . . . and how very right he was . . . because the two teams are presently tied for second place . . . behind the Rayders.

THIS WEEK our Rayders will be playing in the homecoming game . . . It's with Grayling who hasn't won a game in many a moon . . . but who says they couldn't clip the Rayders if the latter got too cocky . . . But we think this is a smart Rayder outfit and that these kids know that the season isn't over and that they have to take 'em, one at a time . . . So lots of luck . . . let's make this homecoming the best ever.

THERE WAS a game last week . . . And a Boyne City player, Pat Bryan, was racked up and ended up in the hospital for observation . . . And who were the first visitors he has come Saturday? . . . Several members of the Rayder squad who stopped by at the hospital to see how he was . . . We think it's pretty thoughtful of some of our guys . . . And it's appreciated by Coach Paul Pfahler and his Ramblers . . . for it was Coach Pfahler who told us about this incident and in telling it added . . As long as Charlevoix and Boyne City can have this sort of relationship, who's worrying about our young folks? . . . And it's true . . . we might add . . . 'Cause these kids of ours have more than most of you kive them credit for.

IN THE MAIL this week a letter from Mrs. Ed Boss at Pompano Beach, Fla., with a clipping from a Fort Lauderdale Sunday paper . . . Under the heading of "Strange as it may seem" (a sort of Ripley's Believe it or not" type of thing) . . . Accompanied by a clever little cartoon drawing of a rabbit shaking hands with a woodchuck, was this enlightening bit of info released by the Michigan Conservation Dept. . . . "Because cottontails have had a hard time surviving on Beaver Island in Lake Michigan, woodchucks have been introduced to the island to provide the rabbits needed underground winter shelter" . . . Alright, so we didn't know it . . . did you? . . . Wonder if it was done under the FHA plan.

In the letter which accompanied the clipping, Mrs. B. mentioned that the Paul Kullanders had been over from Bonita Springs to visit them and that Paul was looking fine, feeling good and almost as brown as a native . . . She closed her letter with this greeting "Best regards to all you snowbirds" . . . That, we take it, is meant for all us poor souls who have to spend the winter in Charlevoix.

telephone lines

by LES JOHNSON, Manager

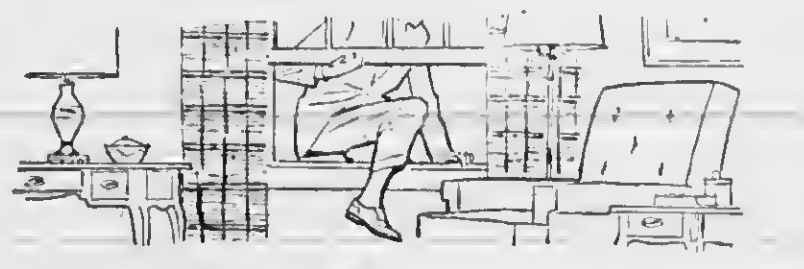
TODAY'S CHILDREN LEARN about the value of the telephone almost before they can walk. Here's a story of a six-year-old daughter who knew exactly what to do when she heard a man trying to break into the house. She ran to the phone and got the police. The fact that the intruder turned out to be her father (he had lost his keys) takes nothing away from her prompt action in a crisis.



THE TELEPHONE COMPANY has a special way of recognizing noteworthy deeds by telephone employees in time of crisis. Telephone folks have a long tradition of service to the public; but each year the company makes a practice of giving medals, cash and citations to employees for some particularly outstanding deed beyond the call of duty. This year, for instance, awards were given to a Pontiac telephone man credited with saving the life of an auto accident victim, and to an Ann Arbor repairman who rescued a man from fire.

A SMALL BOY called the Information Operator to ask for a local number. After she had supplied it, the operator suggested to the small boy that he would find it in the telephone directory. "I know," he agreed, "but I can't do that 'cause I'm standing on the directory to reach the telephone."

DO YOU HAVE TROUBLE reaching your phone? Do you sometimes find yourself upstairs when it rings downstairs? Did you know that you can save yourself and family any amount of rushing about? And very inexpensively, too. All you need is a bedroom extension phone. More and more people are discovering the wonderful convenience and extra fun of having extension phones. How about calling our Business Office about it today?

Noted Pianist to Open Concert Season Series

The Twelfth season of the northern Michigan Community Concerts Series for the 1958-59 members will open on Thursday evening, October 30th in the Petoskey High School Auditorium when they will present the Puerto Rican-born pianist Jesus Maria Sanroma.

An all-time favorite among American pianists, Sanroma's remarkable record is eloquent testimony to his popularity. He has played over 2,000 concerts in 19 different countries, over 600 performances with over 100 different orchestras. He's starred at the major music festivals both here and abroad. A radio and television favorite, he often appeared on coast-to-coast broadcasts over all the top networks, and he stars every year as both MC and artist on his own television series in Puerto Rico.

Sanroma is equally at home in classic and romantic music, or in the works of the moderns of whom he has been so brilliant a champion. He's presented world premiers of works by Hindemith, Piston and Dukelsky, and has introduced to America compositions by Honegger, Stravinsky and Ravel.

A champion of the music of his own people, Sanroma recently recorded an album of 50 "Danzas puertoquenas" by the Puerto Rican composer Jaun Morel Campos, released on Balserio Records in celebration of the 100th anniversary of the composer's birth.

All concerts of the 1958-59 Northern Michigan Community Concert series will start at 8:30 p.m. and admission will be by membership only.

Other concerts to be presented this season will include: William Warfield, baritone on December 4; The Festival Quartet on February 18, 1959 and Lola Montes Spanish Dancers on March 17, 1959.

Fireman
Save Your Firehouse!

Looking back over these columns for the past six years, I notice I've always been partial to the "unlikely" twist.

For instance, the policeman who got a ticket for parking . . . the candidate who forgot to vote on Election Day . . . the firemen who discovered that the firehouse was burning.

But now I've got to confess one on myself. I started with the Clarion twenty years ago—and every night since, a copy of the newspaper has been left at my front door. Not so last night—my subscription expired!

From where I sit, the trouble with all of us now and again is that we get so wrapped up in other people's affairs that we neglect our own. It's like the people who are concerned with my right to enjoy an occasional glass of beer. I don't impose my choice on them—why shouldn't they act likewise. We all have enough to do to keep our own "papers" in order.

Mary makes things grow. A full generation ago she planted love in a young man's heart . . . nourished it . . . watched it bloom through shrill and quiet years alike.

And Alec knows—a love like this deserves security.

Blue Cross-Blue Shield health care helps provide it—even after retirement —and it'll never be canceled because of old age or long illness. What's more, Alec and Mary are protected against unexpected hospital or medical expenses.

But then, perhaps you and your family are protected by Blue Cross-Blue Shield, too. If not, ask about it . . . especially the new "M-75" medical plan.

Couple to Make Home at Sault Ste. Marie Following U. P. Trip

Mr. and Mrs. David Houseworth are making their home at Sault Ste. Marie following a wedding trip through the upper peninsula.

The couple was married Oct. 11 at the Community Church of God here with the Rev. George L. Majors officiating in the presence of more than 200 guests.

The bride is the former Elaine Bascom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Bascom. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Houseworth of Wolverine.

Baskets of yellow and white mums, candelabra and palms decorated the church for the wedding.

Mrs. Inez Stanley of Petoskey was the organist and Mrs. Lorna Keeton, also of Petoskey, was the soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a ballerina length gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta for her wedding. It was fashioned with a full skirt and strapless bodice with a jacket featuring long sleeves and a peter pan collar. A cap of lace edged with seed pearl secured her fingertip veil and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

Mrs. Benton Gabbard of Moscow, Mich., was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of blue chiffon styled with a scoop neckline and a blue velveteen cummerbund. She wore matching blue accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and white mums.

Charles Hudson of Houghton assisted the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Robert and John Bascom, brothers of the bride, Douglas Houseworth of Alanson, nephew of the bridegroom, and Ted Orosz of Sault Ste. Marie.

Mrs. Bascom chose a gown of royal blue crepe, black accessories and a corsage of white carnations for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Houseworth, mother of the bridegroom, wore a black crepe dress, matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception followed at Fellowship hall.

For traveling the bride wore a powder blue suit, black accessories and a white orchid corsage. The couple is now at home at 339 W. Portage st. in Sault Ste. Marie where the bridegroom is enrolled at Soo Tech.

The bride atended Jonesville high school and had been employed at the J. C. Penny Co. in Petoskey. The bridegroom is a graduate of Alanson high school.

Guests were present from Petoskey, Alanson, Wolverine, Albion, Marshall, Eckford, Moscow, Manitou Beach, Iron River, Sault Ste. Marie, Grand Rapids and Lansing.

was adopted for the first time. Effective Jan. 1 deputy clerks will start at $2,400 and receive an increase of $150 each year until the maximum salary of $3,000 is reached.

Other salary increases follow: county Clerk, $4,400, an increase $330; county treasurer, $4,200, an increase of $350; friends of the court, $2,130, an increase of $280. Other counties in the district served by the friend of the court share in the costs of this office The above figure is Charlevoix county's share custodian, $3,200, an increase of $200; day deputy for sheriff's dpeartment, $3,700, an increase of $200; night deputy for sheriff's office, $3,140 for first year and $3,350 after one year of service; matron at county jail, $900, an increase of $100 which includes all fees.

The per diem pay scale for both the County Welfare Commission and the County Election Commission and canvassers was increased from $10 to $15. The county Road Commissioners annual fee remmained at $500.

Annual salaries which remained the same were those of the prosecuting attorney who receives $3,850; register of deeds, $3,850 or $2,000 for the office of register of deeds and $1,850 for the abstract office; welfare director, $3,600 and probate judge, $5,000 which is set by law; sheriff, $3,850.

The recommendation that the county abstract office be discontinued was turned down by the board. The committee recommended that the abstract division be turned over to private interests thus eliminating the need for a deputy clerk in this office.

Clerical assistance would then be hired as needed by the register of deeds. In making its recommendatinn the committee was following the policy adopted by many other counties in the state.

Plan Work Bee at McSauba Ski Slope

A work bee will be held at Mt. McSauba again Sunday to clear brush from the north run now under construction according to Dr. Anderson, president of the Charlevoix-Mt. McSauba Recreation corp.

The bee will begin at 1 p.m. Everyone who can spare the time is urged to join the bee so that work on the run can be continued in preparation for the forthcoming ski season.

Anyone who can work on Saturday is asked to call Dr. Anderson who will arrange to have someone at the mountain to supervise the work.

Last Sunday a group of 13 men worked on the new trail. On Saturday a group of high school youngsters also did some work on it.

Michigan Mirror

By ELMER E. WHITE

MONEY CAN BUY Michigan's most compelling needs. The problem is where to get the money.

Leaders in every field of govtive committees that more cash will make the difference between inadequate and satisfactory services.

IN AN ELECTION year, political parties are blaming each other. Demncrats insist on more spending for needed services. Republicans refuse to spend money the state doesn't have.

The best explanation from an administrator caught in the middle came from Charles F. Wagg, state mental health director, who said that, despite emergencies, lawmakers did not give him an extra dime.

"There just isn't an extra dime," he said.

LEGISLATORS. who have been studying the state's revenue structure for two years, plan major proposals for new and revised taxes for the 1959 session.

They believe a personal income tax could be passed, one which economists call "the fairest possible." This is a hot subject and at this time lawmakers carefully quote others without committing themselves.

Republicans and Democrats agree some changes must be made.

Perhaps a boost on the $1.25 per barrel tax nn beer. The intangibles tax increase is expected to start another fight.

WITH CURRENT revenue falling $10,000,000 behind estimates for the year; with the economic situation adding to welfare rolls; with the growing population demanding services, new taxes are almost a certainty.

"We can't go on spending money we don't have forever," said one legislator.

SYMPTOMS of the money crises are visible on every side.

Part of the story came from Controller James W. Miller, who said that 274 building projects — those costing $20,000 or more — are still on the planning boards.

These will cost about $226,000,000. Money has been provided for only 195 of the projects and payments must be kept up to finance them, estimated to cost $101,000,000.

Miller said the projects have been delayed so long that they will have to be re-planned just to recognize technological advances in building construction techniques.

PROBATE JUDGES are demanding quick action to house and care for 1,500 mentally ill children on waiting lists for state mental hospitals.

Public health officials are fighting for more money to keep their services at the present level for a larger number of people.

SCORES OF SCHOOLS in Michigan are borrowing against anticipated school aid to keep operating this year. The debt will be taken out of payments to be made early next year and later.

What will happen at that point is anybody's guess.

The legislature guaranteed $190 per pupil as the school aid formula last winter. They feared —and their fears came true— that there would not be enough money to pay the shot.

Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, blames the legislature for "callous irresponsibility" for not giving the schools more.

Bowling News

BY DES

The Oilers are making their bid as they moved to within 3 points of first. The Oilers downed Moonlight 4-0 as three men hit over the 500 mark—Meg with a big 214 game 559 series — Ken Cellner finally coming to life, tying Meg with high game for the evening 214 in a 557 series—and Ted bowling better with a 202 game, 517 series. No wonder Ager bowled better. They bowled these games last weekend and Ted always was ready to go on a hot night. For Moonlight, they had two men over the 500 mark Jim Lawyer with a 541 and Doc Ance with a 505. If Gordon and Grover had just been there things might have been different because even Dick Edwards had a 490. Wait a minute, my mistake—they were there. They had —well—they were there anyhow.

Airport Inn, I'm happy to say took 3 points from Puffs. Puff had a nice one-two combination as he led off with a 570 and Ron Cunningham followed with a 537. Ed Lemcke had high game tho with his 203. For the Inn "Deserpops" led the way with his (my) 572 series, having 2 nice games of 202 & 203. H. Felix followed up with a 201, 563 series and then Nick Hamilton (the boy who gets this in the paper for us every week) with a 206, 531 series.

Neffs regained the top spot in the league in the see-saw battle for first as they took 3½ points from Browe Electric. D. Bergmann was high for Neffs with a 510 series although H. Struthers had the high game with a 210. For the losers Ted Browe was high with his 446.

Brown Motors stayed right in the running even though the best they could do was split 2 points apiece with Lake Construction. For Browns, F. Ochs led the way with 464. For Lake, the Wojans weren't quite up to par and George Bergmann took the spotlight with a nice 537. "Stevereno" took the spotlight in the second game—only it must have been shining on the wrong alleys.

Freedman No. 1 moved into a tie for second with Browns as they took 4 points from—get this — Freedman No. 2. They know which side their bread is buttered on.—Only kidding fellas. Actually it looked like No. 1 was trying to help No. 2 as the best they could muster was a 511 by Cal Peters—John had splits—I don't know what happened to Bill. For the losers, only one man over 400—H. Pearsol with a 458.

Hess Furniture took 3 points from Swanson's although the best they could do was a 483 by Ed Culbertson. Herbie wasn't even there. It must have been a rough weekend of hunting because Herb loves to bowl. The Oilers weren't so dumb were they? For Swanson's Bob Ferguson was high with a 449.—I just happened to notice Novotny's scores for Hess—162, 171, —, 430 series—"Wha' hoppen Bill?"

Cutter Sundew Tows Disabled Craft to Port

A disabled 25 ft. open boat carrying 1500 pounds of fish from Beaver Island to Charlevoix was found late Wednesday by a lake steamer, drifting three miles west of Aux Ile Galets (Skillagalee) in a heavy fog which covered Lake Michigan.

The finding of the craft ended a seven hour search by the U. S. Coast Guard after the Beaver Island ferry, Emerald Isle, had reported the craft drifting 18 miles northwest of here as the result of engine trouble. Lifeboats were dispatched from the Charlevoix and Beaver Island stations at 3:30 p.m. but before they could signal the small boat fog set in, hampering the search. At 7:30 p.m. the Sundew, stationed here, was sent to assist.

The cutter after being notified that the small boat had been found, reached the area shortly after 11 p.m. and towed the craft to Charlevoix, arriving at 1 a.m.

The boat was owned by Jack Connaghan, 42, of St. James who was accompanied by Perry Palmer, 26. They had left St. James at 10 a.m. Wednesday and had been adrift several hours before being sighted by the Emerald Isle which offered them a tow to the island. They refused and asked the ferry crew to notify the Coast Guard.

Rayder Reserves Score Victory Over Mancelona

The Charlevoix Reserves racked of a 14 to 8 victory over the Mancelona Reserves at Kipke field Tuesday night.

A 68 yard run by Jim Sneathen late in the final period saved the game for the little Rayders who were trailing 0 to 7 as time was running out.

The first period was scoreless before the local eleven put on a drive that moved them to the 30 yard line from where quarterback Sam Supernaw went in to score. Gene McBride went over for the conversion and the Charlevoix squad went ahead 7 to 0.

After holding off a Mancelona attack on the two yard line for four downs early in the third period, Mancelona finally scored from one foot out when Dennis LaCroix went over on a quarterback sneak. The pass attempt for the extra point was broken up. Later Mancelona racked up two points when a Charlevoix player was caught in the end zone following a bad pass from center.

With about two minutes remaining, Sneathen went around left end for his 68 yard run to give the Rayders a victory. McBride added the conversion.

The little Rayders will play a return game with Boyne City at Boyne City at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Summer Resident Injured in Crash Near Pontiac

Miss Gertrude Shryock, of St. Louis, Mo., and a summer resident of Boulder Park was injured seriously and her companion, Mrs. Ethel Funk, 67, of University City, Mo., was killed when their car, driven by the latter, went out of control after being side-swiped and struck a parked truck in Pontiac late Wednesday.

The pair had left Charlevoix earlier in the day for a visit in Detroit before returning to their respective homes in St. Louis. Mrs. Funk was killed outright.

Miss Shryock suffered a fractured right leg and crushed knee cap, fractured left hip, severe bruises and lacerations. Unbossed

We Mean

Charles E. Potter

REPUBLICAN — U. S. Senator

Think for a moment what that means—

Then think what the opposite means, "Bossed, beholden to, errand boy, messenger, mouthpiece for."

To be acceptable to the boss of Solidarity House, a candidate for any public office must be all these things 100%. To be acceptable to the string pullers of the Democratic party of Michigan a man must agree to be the exclusive servant of a small segment of the people of Michigan.

Senator Potter is UNBOSSED. He refuses to serve the selfish interests of an organized minority at the expense of the rest of the country and this state.

That is why a half million dollars of dues money is being spent to defeat him.

We ask you to vote Republican, but in any event vote.

For more on this, tune in channel 13, Cadillac, Sunday, Oct. 26, 3:30 to 4:00 p.m., an on Nov. 4 vote.

James-Hildren Exchange Wedding Vows At Pilgrim Holiness Church Ceremony

Ellsworth — The Pilgrim Holiness church was the scene Saturday afternoon of the wedding of Harriet Georgia James and William Hildren of Petoskey.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John James and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hildren of Petoskey.

The Rev. W. L. Silvers officiated at the single ring service in the presence of more than 150 guests. Bouquets of gladioli and baby mums decorated the church for the service.

Alice Veldkamp sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Miss Sherk who also played the traditional wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of light blue flowered taffeta for her wedding. It was fashioned along princess line and featured a white taffeta sash with a back bow. A seedpearl tiara secured her fingertip veil. Her corsage was of pink and white carnations.

Jean McClure of East Jordan as maid of honor wore a pink flowered taffeta gown. Her corsage also was of pink and white carnations.

Daniel Drost of Charlevoix assisted the bridegroom as best man. Joseph Martinchek, brother-in-law of the bride, and Allen Towsley, both of Charlevoix, seated the guests.

Mrs. James selected a teal blue dress and rose and beige accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Hilden, mother of the bridegroom wore a light blue suit and navy accessories. Their corsages were of pink and white carnations.

Imediately following the service a reception was held at Community hall. The refreshment table was centered with a tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple baked by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Russell Goodenough of Alba.

The bride is a graduate of the Ellsworth high school. The bridegroom attended the Charlevoix high school.

EVERYBODY BENEFITS

Trucks are the only commercial vehicles which serve all of Michigan—bringing merchandise and materials fro mevery part of the world to every Michigan household, farm and business concern.

In fact, for hundreds of Michigan communities motor vehicles are the sole means of transportation—autos and buses for passengers, trucks for freight. These communities are not served by any other transportation system!

So, you see, because trucks can and do go wherever there are roads, ample supplies of food, furniture, medical supplies, tools and machinery — necessities and luxuries from everywhere — are available anytime to people in all of Michigan.

Those in small out-of-the-way communities are as well fed, well housed and well clothed as the people of Michigan's largest metrolopitan centers — thanks to trucks!

Charlevoix Dumps Boyne, First Time Since 1955

The Charlevoix Rayders shut out the Boyne City Ramblers 18 to 0 Friday to spoil the Ramblers' homecoming festivities.

The victory was the fourth straight conference win for the Rayders who are alone in the loop top spot. The loss was the second in league play for the Boyne City eleven who last week were dumped by the Harbor Springs Rams 24 to 20.

In the game Friday night Tom Lakies who returned to the line-up after recuperating from an ankle injury scored two touchdowns while Bud Balch got away for a 26 yard run and a touchdown on one of the last plays of the game to give the Rayders the victory, their first over the defending champions since the season of 1955.

Charlevoix kicked off to the Ramblers who took the ball on their 32 and picked up a first down to their 46 where they were forced to punt.

The Rayders took the ball on their 30, picked up a first down to their 41, moved to the 42 from where Lakies broke away for a 58 yard run and a touchdown to put the Rayders ahead 6 to 0 midway in the opening period. The conversion kick was blocked and the score remained 6 to 0.

Again Charlevoix kicked off to the Ramblers who took over on their 20 yard line when Dick VanRaaphorst's boot went into the end zone. On fourth down Charlevoix took over on the Boyne City 19 after a pass from center was fumbled. The Rayders moved to the five yard line but were set back on a penalty and lost the ball to the Ramblers on downs as the quarter ended.

The Ramblers again failed to move the ball and were forced to kick on fourth down with Charlevoix taking the hall on their own 49. Charlevoix picked up a first down to the Boyne 40 and then moved to the 35 before a fumble in the backfield set them back to the Boyne 46 where the Ramblers took over on downs.

After two tries through the line and an incomplete pass, the Ramblers punted to the Rayder 36. After picking up a first down to their own 49, a fumble set the Rayders back to the 43 from where they punted on fourth down. Boyne was forced to punt after three tries failed to move the ball and the half ended with Charlevoix in possession of the pigskin on the Boyne 40.

The third quarter was a see-saw battle between the 30 yard markers with first one team and then the other punting on fourth down. Late in the period Charlevoix fumbled to the Ramblers who were on the Charlevoix 37 as the quarter ended.

Early in the final period Boyne City advanced to the Rayder 17 where they lost the ball on downs.

With Lakies and Bud Balch carrying the ball Charlevoix started a march that put the ball on the one yard line in 13 plays. On the next play Lakies went in from the one yard line to put Charlevoix ahead 12 to 0. The conversion kick was not good.

Boyne City took the kick-off and marched to the 35 before being set back to their own 26 where Charlevoix took over on downs. On the next play Balch broke away for the touchdown as time ran out. The conversion kick, which was wide, was the final play of the game.

This game marks the fifth shutout of the season and the fourth in loop play for the Rayders.

Blue Devils and Ironmen Win To Put Spotlight In Gaylord

Mancelona	14
East Jordan	0

Mancelona dumped East Jordan 14 to 0 and Gaylord rolled over Grayling 33 to 0 Friday night to move into a second place tie in Northern Michigan Class C standings.

The following night the Harbor Springs Rams trounced Pellston 33 to 12 to join Boyne City in a third place tie.

The Ramblers were dropped to third place in loop standings after falling victim to the first place Charlevoix Rayders by a score of 18 to 0 Friday night. Grayling is alone in the loop cellar with a record of four loop loses for the season.

At East Jordan the Red Devil defense held the Mancelona Ironmen to two touchdowns in a hard fought game.

The first period was scoreless and it wasn't until the middle of the second quarter that Jerry Biehl went in from the five yard line following a concerted drive to score Mancelona's first touchdown. He then ran the ball over for the extra point.

East Jordan made its only bid for a touchdown in the third period when the Devils advanced to the 10 yard line after recovering a Mancelona fumble. However, the threat was cut short when Jerry Biehl intercepted a Red Devil pass on the 10.

Gaylord	33
Grayling	0

The versatile Johnny Burnison was responsible in one way or another for the five touchdowns scored by the Blue Devils in their meeting with Grayling Friday night.

In the first quarter he got off two touchdown passes to end Bruce Walker, the first for a play that covered 33 yards and a second one which covered 31 yards. He came back in the second quarter to run a punt back 65 yards for a touchdown and then passed to end John Johnston on a play which covered 55 yards and another to quarterback Terry Cremeans for 18 yards which resulted in touchdowns. His brother, Bob Burnison, connected on three of five conversion attempts as the half ended 33 to 0.

Coach Don Burnison substituted freely in the second half, benching his starting eleven, in order to keep the score down.

Grayling was handicapped by the loss of halfback Roger Hatfield early in the game. Grayling managed once to get to the four yard line where they lost the ball on downs.

It is interesting to note that Burnison gained 205 yards via the aerial route in the game.

Harbor Springs	33
Pellston	12

At Harbor Springs Saturday night it was the passing combination of freshman quarterback George Pamo to end Ken Garver which accounted for three of the Rams five touchdowns against Pellston.

On the third play of the game Pamp passed to Garver for five yards and a touchdown. Early in the second period he repeated the play, this time for eight yard with Garver falling into the end zone. A 31 yard pass from Pamp to Garver opened the second half action. Later in the same period tackle Stan Huffman recovered a Pellston fumble and lumbered 39 yards to score and Doug Meeker scambered 17 yards to conclude the Rams scoring attack.

George Coveyou was successful on three of his five conversion attempts.

Pellston scored midway in the second quarter on a 15 yard pass from Barry Anderson to end Gary Skelton who then romped 25 yards for the touchdown. Their final tally came late in the game when the Rams second stringers fumbled deep in Hornet territory and Anderson passed to Gary Spencly for seven yards and the touchdown.

Garver received a knee injury and was taken to Little Traverse hospital for treatment.

Game of the Week
Mancelona
vs.
Gaylord

This Week With Class 'C' Teams

The battle for second place will highlight the action in the Northern Michigan Class C league this week as Mancelona travels to Gaylord to take on the Blue Devils.

In other games Harbor Springs will play at East Jordan and Boyne City will journey to Pellston to take on the Hornets in the only afternoon game scheduled for 3 p.m.

The fourth game will find Charlevoix hosting Grayling in a homecoming game Friday night.

All games with the exception of the Boyne City-Pellston bout will he played at 8 p.m.

When Mancelona and Gaylord meet this week they have one thing in common . . . both have lost to the league leading Charlevoix Rayders. The former lost to the Rayders 35 to 0 in the opening loop game of the season while the latter lost to them the following week by a 13 to 0 margin.

Their victorles, however, have been impressive ones. Mancelona dumped a strong Oscoda outfit 26 to 0 in a pre-season game and after losing to Charlevoix went on to defeat Harbor Springs (44-0), Grayling (28-0) and East Jordan (14-0) Gaylord has posted victories over Class B Cheboygan (18-0), Harbor Springs (26-6), East Jordan (6-0) and Grayling (33-0).

Both teams boast players who are high scorers. For the Blue Devils it is Johnny Burnison who has scored five touchdowns and passed for five more. For Mancelona it's the Biehls. Jerry who has accounted for six touchdowns plus two extra points and one TD pass and Don who has three TD's to his credit along with three conversions.

Both teams do a great deal of passing and both have excellent defenses.

There is no doubt that this game will be a close one but the Blue Devils will be playing in home territory and they are sparked by John Burnison who is a consistent player. These will be the only advantages in the game so the Devils should have a slight, very slight, edge.

The Harbor Springs-East Jordan game should also be a close one. Harbor Springs is now in third place with a last minute victory over Boyne City (24-20) and a 33 to 12 win over Pellston while losing to Gaylord (26-6) and Mancelona (44-0). East Jordan has only one win, a 13-7 victory over Pellston while losing to Boyne City and Gaylord by scores of 6-0 and to Mancelona (14-0).

Harbor wth two wins will be favored but East Jordan has an excellent defensive team though they lack the punch to score and the Rams will have to battle for every yard. Their chances for a victory will also depend on the return of Ken Garver to the line-up. Garver suffered a knee injury in the Pellston game and it will not be known until later in the week whether he will be ready for Frday's game.

Boyne City will have to defeat the Pellston Hornets if they want to hold their third place in loop standings. With this to spur them on, the Ramblers should roll up a win over the Hornets whose only victory has been over the cellar-dwelling Grayling Vikings.

Dope Sheet

The Charlevoix Rayders will entertain the Grayling Vikings in a homecoming game at Kipke field Friday as the last half of the 1958 season comes into view.

In successive weeks, Charlevoix will host East Jordan and travel to Harbor Springs to take on the Rams.

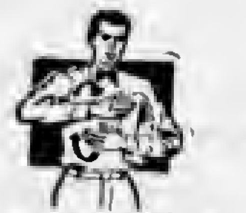
This week's game will pit the league leaders against the cellar dwellers who have not posted a victory in 19 games or scored a touchdown in 12 meetings.

But despite their poor record, the Vikings could well play the role of spoiler against any team which becomes over-confident. On occasion the Vikings have looked good. In the first half of the Boyne City game, for instance, they showed great promise but thus far have failed to come through with any threat.

But there's always the possibility that they may and this is what the Rayders will have to look for and not let down for a minute.

Charlevoix should come thru with win No. 5 in league play barring a bad case of over-confidence which could defeat them as readily as a tough opponent.

The longest unbeaten string in football for a NMCCC team is 42, held by Charlevoix. The years were 1945 to 1951.



2. Illegal Position or Procedure

From the Side Lines . . .

We saw two teams with a great amount of defensive power battle thru three periods of almost uneventful play. The Rayders, we think should have been leading the ball game by a larger margin at the close but were hampered somewhat by penalties which cost them at least one if not two touchdowns.

Up until the last few minutes of play we had a most unhappy bunch of spectators even if they were watching one of the hardest fought football games to be played in Michigan. The hard tackling and blocking we saw would have been a credit to the big boys in the pro ranks.

We heard a little talk of over confidence along the sidelines but we have a feeling this will not enter into the picture win, lose or draw on the next three contests. Reasons? Simple, who ever heard of a team getting sloppy when a undefeated and unscored on season is in the making, it's only happened once in the history of this school but very well could happen twice. (IF)!

Youngsters Show Stamina in Hoola Hoop Contest

The big show last week was the Hoola Hoop contest staged Saturday morning by Edward's Food Mart at their north side store. More than 70 youngsters, mostly girls, were on hand to demonstrate their skill and endurance. Spectators out numbered the contestants two to one as the contest started at 10 a.m.

Erin Arvilla, daughter of Mrs. Lyla Arvilla, whirled her hoop continuously for two hours and 45 minutes to win first place in the 8 to 11 year age group. The next four prizes in this group went to Janice Sundberg, Janice Plum, Ellen Arvilla (twin sister of the winner), and Toni Novotny. After the elimination of the other 37 starters in this division the remaining three appeared to be capable of an extended endurance contest.

Patty Boss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank, won the event handily in the 4 to 8 year old division. She went at the job like a champion with easy swinging rythm. She was prepared too, to renew her energy. When the contest had been going for about an hour she pulled a chocolate bar from her pocket and started munching and the hoop continued to whirl. Later she quenched her thirst with a bottle of orange pop without interrupted the 100 whirls per minute of the hoop. She was finally told to stop after two hours and five minute when the runner-up, Annette Stanek lost her hoop.

Other winners in this division were Susan McKerrucker, Patty Sawtelle and Joyce Skippergosh. in the above order. All three had stayed in the contest for more than an hour and a half before weariness, laxity ur a possible detraction caused the hoop to get beyond control.

Awards for each division were: 1st, $3.00; 2nd $2.00; 3rd, 4th and 5th, $1.00 each.

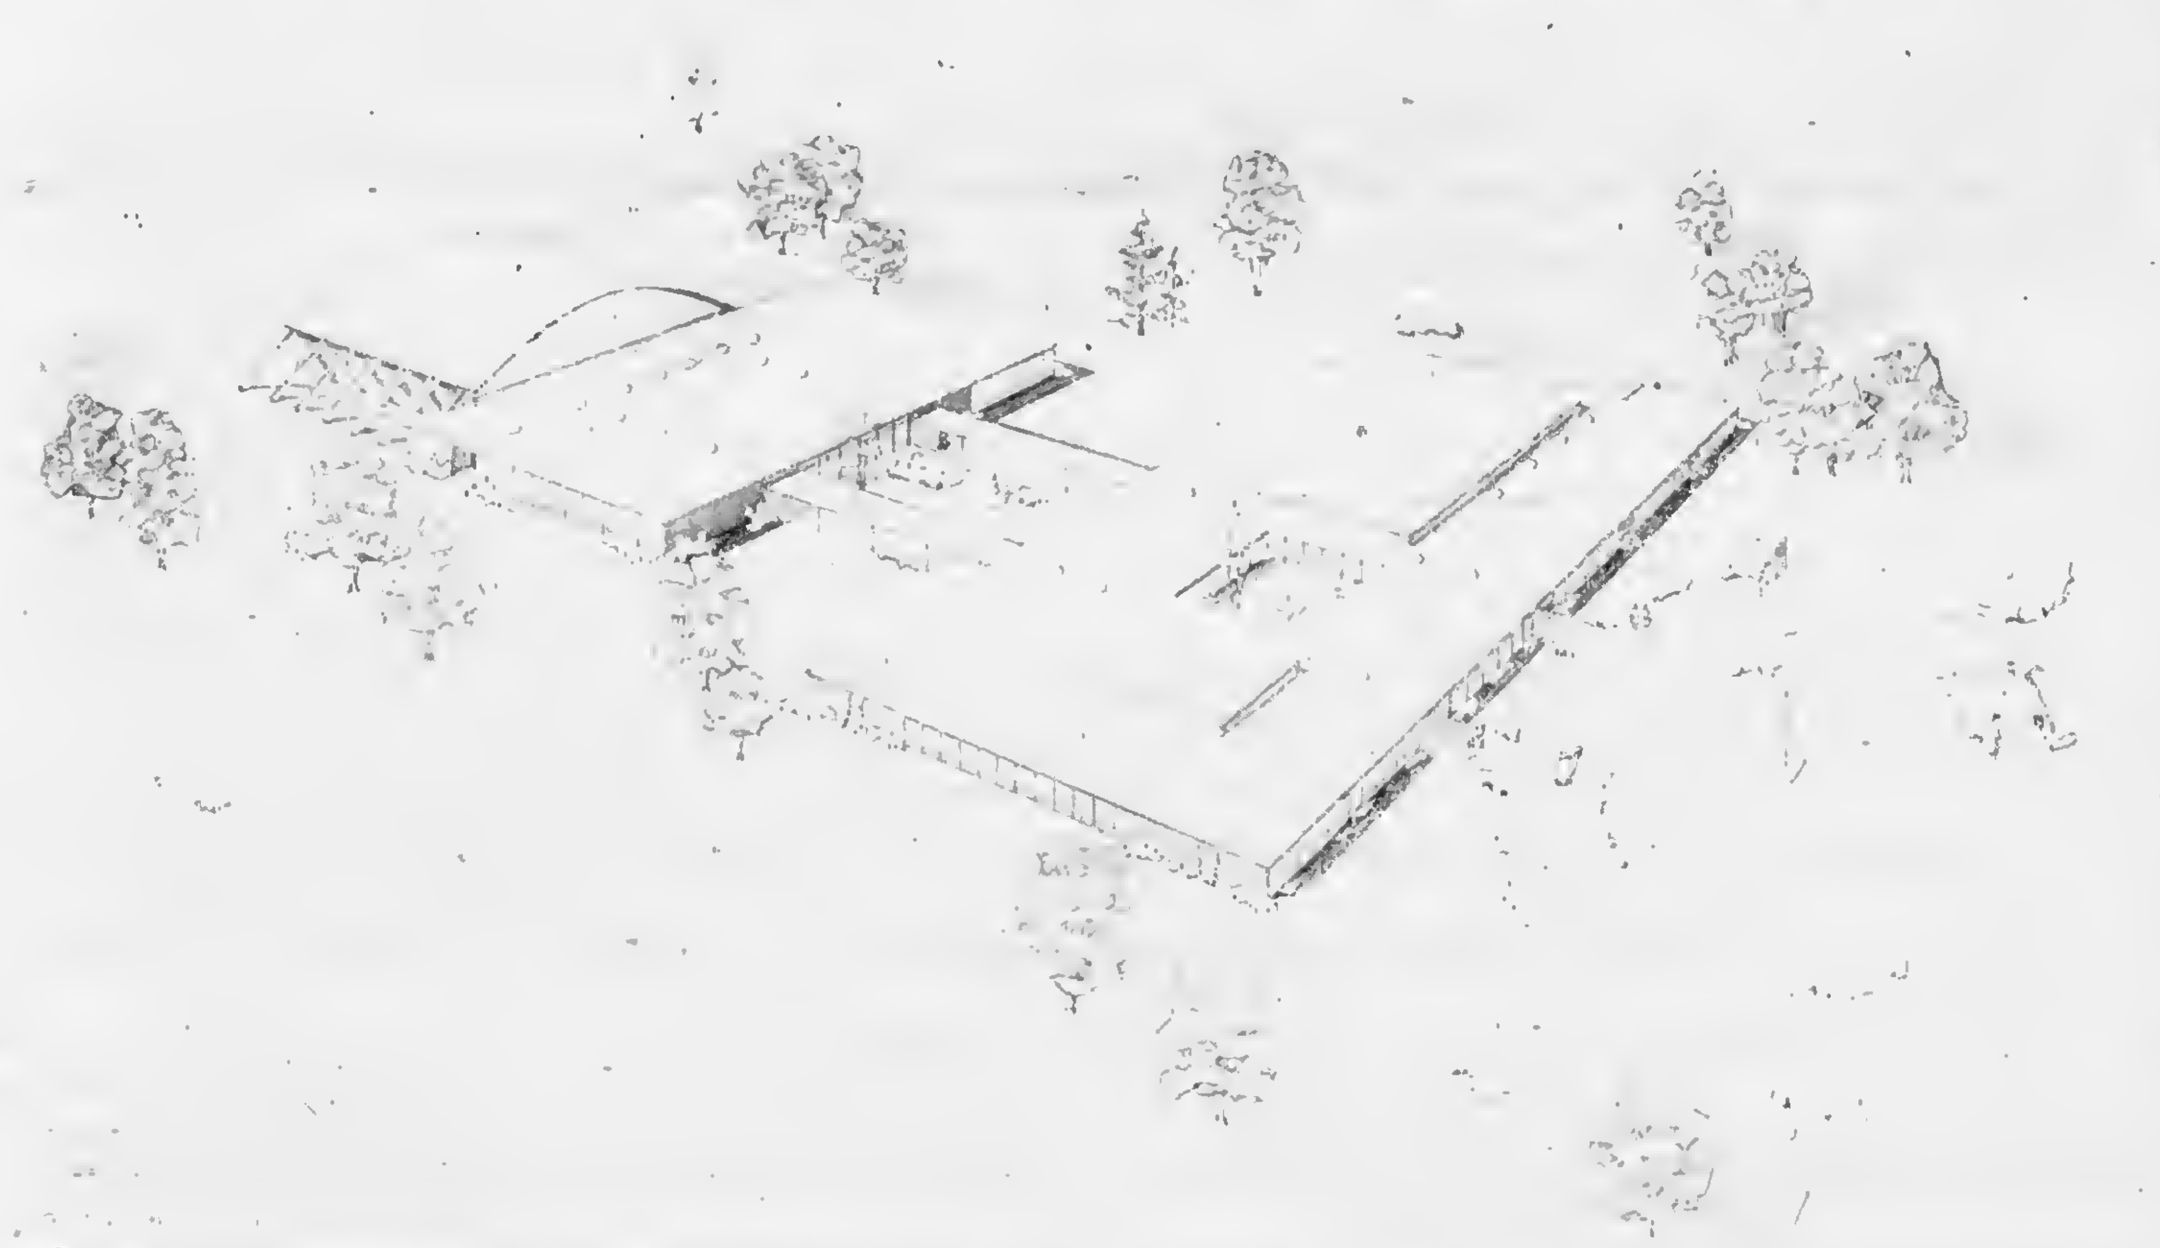
New School Designed to Meet Educational Needs



Architech's conception of the proposed new Charlevoix Junior and Senior high school to be erected on the school property adjacent to the athletic field. The building in the right foreground, facing Garfield ave., includes classrooms, science laboratories, school library, general education rooms (assembly room) for both junior and senior high.

Two covered breeze-ways lead to the activities building which houses shop, drafting room, cafeteria and kitchen, boys' and girls' locker rooms, heating plant and maintenance room. Connected to the south end of this building is the gymnasium with a seating capacity of 1,500 (first designed for 1,000). Layout of the entire plan is designed to afford the most economical expansion should the need ever arise.

To Explain New High School Proposal at Open Meeting Nov. 5

A campaign was launched this week by the Charlevoix Parent-Teachers association, assisted by a delegation of volunteer workers, to take detailed information about the proposed new high school into every home in the school district. Volunteer workers met with school representatives and the PTA committee Monday evening to discuss and familiarize themselves with the complete project.

Complete details of the new high school plan will be presented at a public meeting in the high school gymnasium next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Those present at this meeting will have an opportunity to ask questions regarding the school plan. Present to explain various details will be representatives of the Board of Education, Gordon Cornwall, the architech, and a representative of Michigan State University Department of Education.

Under the PTA program, the entire school districts has been divided into areas and volunteers assigned to call on all property owners in each area. Workers are supplied with four-page brochures which clearly present the need for a new high school, the proposed building to meet the need, and how the project can be financed. The brochures were printed by the PTA with the approval of the Board of Education.

Volunteers also have been assigned to contact and present the program before various clubs and organizations in the district according to Mrs. F. D. Hawley, president of the Parent-Tecahers association. Should any group or organization desire a speaker for a particular meeting, arrangements may be made by calling either Mrs. Hawley or Mrs. Gordon Freedman.

The Monday evening meeting was attended by more than 60 residents who have volunteered to carry this informative program into every home in the district. Through this organized plans the sponsoring organization will endeavor to have every voter thoroughly familiar with the proposed new high school plan before voting on the issue Nov. 10.

Emil L. Pischner, Native of Beavers Dies Suddenly

Emil L. Pischner, 49, engineer aboard the Michigan Conservation Department patrol boat No. 1, died unexpectedly at his home at 905 Bridge st., Monday.

Funeral services were held at the Winchester funeral home Wednesday with the Rev. Robert J. Ynnkman officiating. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Born on Beaver Island Feb. 2, 1909, Mr. Pischner attended the island schools joining the law enforcement division of the Michigan Conservation Department in 1930. In 1937 he and his family came here to make their home. In recent years he had served as engineer of the patrol boat whose home base is here. He was a member of Charlevoix lodge No. 282 F. & A. M.

He is survived by his wife, the former Delores Gillispie whom he married in 1932; a daughter, Mrs. Howard (Joann) Pearl of Pontiac; two sons, Roger and Barry of Charlevoix; one grandchild; his mother, Mrs. Herman Pischner of St. James; a sister, Mrs. Dale Prokop of St. Ignace and four brothers, Willard and Elston of St. James, Charles of Green Bay, Wis., and Arthur of Two Rivers, Wis.

Post Office to Extend Rural Service Saturday

R.F.D. service will be extended to many rural families served by the Charlevoix postoffice effective Saturday according to Postmaster Peter H. Timmer.

After trudging to the family mail box on the corner for countless years, this will be the first day in which they can see the mail man stop 'in front' of their homes. A recent policy adopted by the Post Office Department provides service where travel of one-half mile or less is necessary to serve one family.

Thirty-eight families served by local carriers will receive this new service beginning Saturday.

Council Revises Improvement Plan

The city council, at one of its briefest meetings in recent months, approved a revised contract with the Michigan State Waterways Commission for 1958 harbor improvements. The changes in the contract were minor ones and did not affect the cost of the program which is being completed on a matching funds basis.

The council also gave its approval to an additional board of 12 election inspectors, consisting of four inspectors for each of the city's three wards, to act as a counting board for each of the boards. The first board will serve from 7 a.m. when the polls open until they close at 8 p.m. The second board will take over at that time in an effort to facilitate the counting of the record vote anticipated in the general election Tuesday.

Bills amounting to $17,535.26 were approved and ordered paid.

Community Chest Drive Bogging Down

The 1958 Community Chest fund drive to raise $9,996.06 for 11 agencies has bobgged down, according to Mrs. James Coleman who reported Wednesday that to date only $5,230.15 or 53 percent of the goal, has been contributed.

City Recreation which has asked for $800, for instance, provides a skating rink in winter and lifeguards on the beaches in summer plus the softball program. The $800, of course, does not underwrite the cost of these programs but without it, they would have to be cut, she explained.

This is just one of many programs which are carried on in the community through contributions to the Community Chest. Others are the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Community Nurse, Charlevoix Service Organization, Emergency Fund, Charlevoix Hospital, Salvation Army, Charlevoix Association to Aid Retarded Children, Red Cross and Michigan United Fund.

Certain groups in the community are carrying the load of the current drive. Residents of the comunity working at certain places give on a payroll deduction basis which averages one day's salary which is their 'fair share.' Others who are in the same salary scale but who do not give on this basis give perhaps $1.00 or $2.00 to be divided among 11 agencies.

The 1958 goal is $9,996.06 and a total of $4,765.61 remains to be raised if the participating agencies are to continue their work in the Charlevoix area.

Legislative Control Is Issue at Stake in Off-year Election

Voters will go to the polls Tuesday to cast their ballots for top state offices and county officials as well as seats in the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives.

Szymanski, incumbent, Democrat, will be opposed by John V. Clements. The latter in each office is listed on the Republican ballot.

Let Democracy Be First

Joseph P. Kamp, author of "Meet the Man Who Plans to Rule America" which has stirred the wrath of the "left wing" Democrats to the boiling point, has made charges against Walter Reuther and his political cohorts which, if untrue, should be repudiated publicly by the targets of this "exposure" and the author made to answer for any libelous statements. If, however, Mr. Kamp's statements are irrefutable it behoves patriotic Americans to forget party lines and elect to office candidates who will answer to the people and not to Walter Reuther.

Kamp states in his booklet that Walter Reuther got his start in the labor movement in collaboration with the Communists and by using Communist tactics. He further charges that Reuther organized a Communist union in the Ford plant and was discharged for this activity in 1933. References to Reuther's Communist association are almost endless. Mr. Kamp cites the year and a half that Reuther and his brother, Victor, spent in Red Russia working teaching and studying Communist techniques of agitation and propagada.

During this period the Reuther brothers stated in a letter written to Melvin Bishop, "we are more than just sympathetic to OUR country (Russia)." In conclusion the letter stated, "Carry on the fight for Soviet America." After this letter was incorporated in the Congressional Record of June 1, 1937, Chairman Dies of the Un-American Activities committee invited the Reuther brothers to refute these charges under oath but to the best of our knowledge the invitation was never accepted.

Throughout the history of the United States two great political parties have shaped the destiny of this nation. So far as the living generation is concerned they are the Republicans and the Democrats. While their various platforms have differed, both have stood fast to the basic traditions set forth in the principles of our constitution. Other parties have been formed but never received more than token support. Reuther along with his socialistic and Communistic following apparently adopted a policy in 1958, "If you can't beat 'em join 'em," and the infiltration was started, getting its firmest foothold in the left wing of the Democratic party. It appears also that some of the so-called "liberal" Republicans have found it expedient to foster a socialistic philosophy.

All of which indicates the two major parties are divided with the old line Democrats and the old line Republicans attempting to preserve the traditions of freedom and the free-enterprise system which resulted in a standard of living superior to that found any other place on earth. On the other side of the fence are those factions in both parties which adopt the party name but use this guise to conceal the true socialistic and communistic motives which, if successful, would rob the individual of his freedom and make him completely subservient to the state and the master-mind who runs it. We may well keep in mind such ambitous men as Stalin and Hitler and the purges used to enforce their ideology.

The voice of the voters at the election Monday may well determine the direction in which we are going. The surest way to perpetuate our way of life is to elect the candidates who have no debts to pay to a "left-wing" organization directed by a man whose background and career point directly toward a communistic state controlled by goon squads.

Public Should Know

The Charlevoix Parent-Teachers association along with those who gave so generously of their time to conduct the school study survey have done a commendable job. Now they have assumed responsibility for an even more difficult task—acquainting the voters with the facts projected in the school study survey and explain the proposed plan to solve the problems facing the school district.

This informative program along with the public meeting to be held at the high school gymnasium next Wednesday will afford an opportunity to get detailed information about the proposed new high school, and it certainly is important that they be well informed before voting on the issue Nov. 10.

It is reasonable to assume that the better informed a voter is, the better qualified he is to judge the merit of a proposition. With that in mind we would suggest that before Nov. 10 the voters in the school district get some first hand information to varify the facts revealed in the school study survey.

We suggest that, in addition to the facts presented by the volunteer workers and at the public meeting, you take a few minutes to visit the high school during school hours. See for yourself the condition of the building and note that it is of all wood construction in the interior. Pay attention to the electrical wiring and plumbing. Next mingle with the students in the hallways when class periods are changing. That would be a good time to visualize how many might be trapped if a sudden fire should sweep the building.

It is not the intent here to present a picture of tragedy but to keep in mind the fact that our obligation includes protection for our children along with their education.

We would also urge those property owners who support the school to figure the actual cost on the state equalized valuation of their property. Next compare that cost with the amount most of us spend each year for self-satisfying non-essentials. Few can conscientiously claim their small share is going to call for much of a sacrifice.

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

DON'T KNOW if Mother Nature couldn't stand the competition or what but she sure threw the bad weather switch for the homecoming . . . After several days of heavenly Indian summer the sky became overcast, the wind blew like mad out of the north and it rained, not hard, but enough to be miserable.

But despite all that the floats were lovelier than ever, the queen and her court the prettiest ever and the program an excellent one . . . The threat of rain didn't hold back the crowd at the pep rally Thursday night when dark-haired Charlene Novotny, lovely in a frosty red dress which did heaps for her dark beauty received her crown (a very pretty one, by the way) from Lt. Cmdr. Harold Muth, Skipper of the Coast Guard cutter, Sundew . . . (We might add that he's mighty handsome too!) . . . So, all in all, it was a successful pep rally which featured Bill Carey as mc . . . And before it was all over Charlevoix had won its homecoming game over Grayling (nothing like assuring yourself of a victory for this game) and everyone enjoyed the homecoming dance.

NOW THAT the homecoming festivities are over we'll turn our attention to a couple big events coming up in the near future . . . One is Hallowe'en . . . which is more fun than anything we know . . . Imagine being able to go around all dressed up in a costume and ringing door bells . . . 'Trick or treat' will be the pass word, come Friday and we are sure that everyone will greet the young pranksters and 'treat' . . . We'd like to see some of you do a 'trick' instead . . . We sure hope the kids come around early Friday night 'cause a lot of people we know will be leaving for the ball game at Kipke field and will miss the fun of passing out the treats . . . We know we are planning to go to the game . . . So we'll be expecting you some time between 6:30 and 7:30 pm. OK?

THE SECOND big event looming in the near future is the general election Tuesday . . . We know, it's hard to believe that it's November already but it is and Tuesday, Nov. 4, is THE big day . . . Now we have a lot of pretty strong feelings about voting in elections . . . We think that voting is a mighty small dividend to pay for your rights to freedoms of every kind . . . That you should lose some of your privileges in this great land of ours if you don't vote . . . That you haven't the right to gripe if you don't bother to go to the polls . . . In other words, you don't rate very high with us if you don't get with it when it comes to putting your 'X' (and make sure it isn't some other check mark) in the proper places on that ballot . . . They make it easy for you . . . You don't even have to know how to write . . . So right now let's all of us make up our minds to cast our votes in this very, very important election . . . We don't care how you vote, just vote . . . And if that isn't enough to get you out, think of the people in lands across the sea who've given their lives fighting for this very privilege which you treat so lightly.

Voice of Our Readers . . .

To The Editor:

At the October 1958 session of the Charlevoix County Board of Supervisors a small group of the supervisors, without the entire board being informed of such action attempted to eliminate the county owned abstracting service in the register of deeds office.

I, as register of deeds and county abstractor was told that it would not be necessary for me to make a full report on the operations of the office to the entire Board of Supervisors. Therefore I feel that at this time, and due to the action of these few members of the Board, that it is my duty as an elected official of this county to give all of the facts to the balance of the Board of Supervisors and to the people of this county.

The county has owned and operated the abstracting service since 1889 and thousands of people of this county have used and benefited from this service. The following is a complete report on the operations of this office from January 1st, 1953 through September 30th, 1958. Approximately 3,250 abstracts, including new abstracts, copies and revisions of abstracts, have been handled by this office during that period of time, for a total of $15,283.35 in abstracting fees, which said fees have been turned into the county general fund. A total of $26,979.57 in receipts from other sources, such as recordings, filings, photo copies, etc., have also been turned into the county general fund during this period. For a grand total of $42,262.92 during this period by the combined offices of register of deeds and county abstractor. None of these fees or receipts are retained by any of the personnal in this office. During this period of time a total of $42,284.73 has been expended for the operation of this combined office. This includes all salaries, equipment, libers, abstract supplies, photostat supplies, etc. These expenditure figures have been taken from the report of audits of the various years as made by the Auditor General's department of the State of Michigan.

As you will note from the above figures that it has cost the peoples of the county of Charlevoix, from tax monies, a grand total of $ 2181 to operate these conbined offices during this entire period of time. I might also state that this huge deficit will be eliminated before the end of the current year by the remaining receipts and abstracting fees that will be received.

If you wish to know just how valuable this service is to the property owners of this county ask any of the attornies or bankers in the county. Any one desiring further information and facts in this matter please feel free to contact me.

Bridal Couple To Make Home In Charlevoix

Mr. and Mrs. Norman L Helms who were married at Concord, Michigan, Oct. 18 have returned here to make their home at the Bird's Nest following a wedding trip to Canada

The bride is the former Verna Grace Eberly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Eberly of Concord and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ilo Helms of this city.

The Rev. Lloyd Merrell officiated at the double ring service at the Universalist church in Concord which was decorated with arrangements of seasonal flowers for the occasion.

The bride selected a ballerina length gown of white Italian silk fashioned with a round neckline accented with seed-pearls for her wedding. A tiara of orange blossoms secured her veil of bridal illusion and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

Mrs. Robert J. Drenth of Ellsworth, as matron of honor, wore a ballerina length gown of morning glory blue. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Donald Riddle and Mrs. Allan Rufe of Athens wore identical gowns in powder blue. They carried bouquets of seasonal flowers.

Mr. Drenth assisted the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Neil Eberly, brother of the bride, and Daniel Farmer of this city, cousin of the bridegroom. Deann Riddle and Nathan Rufe of Athens, niece and nephew of the bride, were flower girl and ring-bearer, respectively.

Mrs. Eberly chose a rose silk sheath gown and matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Helms, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue and white print dress and navy accessories.

A reception followed at the church parlors.

Auxiliary Holds District Meeting

Making the trip were Mrs. John Johnson, Mrs. Leo Allard, Mrs. Edgar Smith, Mrs. Mary Howe, Mrs. Ted Browe, Mrs. Luther Hannah, Mrs. Harry Webster and Mrs. Kenneth B. Forbes.

At a meeting of the local Auxiliary held last week the group voted to contribute $5.00 to the current Community Chest fund drive.

They also packed Christmas gifts, cards and wrappings to be sent to the Veterans Administration hospital at Battle Creek. The hospitalized veterans are then given the gifts for their families.

Bowling News

BY DES

Well here we go again. After 2 months and 8 full weeks of bowling we find the Neff Grovery is leading the pack by two full points over Sinclair. Neff helped their cause along by winning 3 points from Brown Motors. Neff's had 3 men over the 500 mark, Buck Ditlifson 517, H. Struthers 509 and the big man with a 537 series including a terrific of 258, Bob Livingston. Beautiful game Bob, congratulations. It should go for high game of the year but you never can tell. For the losers Norm Empey led the way with a 204, 500 series.

And here comes Sinclair again. They've been climbing steadly and now they're in 2nd place only 2 points out. The Oilers had quite a night for themselves as they rolled a season high of 2648. Three men over the mark with "Clipper" Cellner in front with a 578. "O'Riley" next with a 212, 561 and Meg following up with his 200, 547. Sinclair didn't have an pushover though as Ron Wojan led Lake Construction with a 203 game 568 series. The Lakers had a total of 2513 as both teams hit over the 800 mark every game. Gotta give Steve his due—70 pins over his avg. If Hal Forbrig had only got 7 less pins in the 2nd game he would have had a triplicate of 111. I'm not saying whether that would be good or bad.

Moonlight held on to their same position as they split with Browe. Jim Lawyer again led his team with a 524 series, while Ted Browe was also leading his team but with a 495.

The Airport Inn held on to their numbebr 6 position as they also split 2-2 with Hess Furniture. Des & Hank leading their team with a 206, 565 series and 211, 543 respectively. R. V. Jr. led his team with a 201 game in a 536 series. Hess's might have taken three points had not Jess Penn rolled his senational 98 in the 2nd game.

Puff moved up a notch as they won 3 points from Freedman No. 2 who can't seem to get many points. Puff was the big man again as he rolled himself a nice 214—big 598 series. Harry Pearsal with his crazy back-up led Freedman No. 2 with a 451.

I'd like to invite all you bowlers and your girlfriends as well as anyone else who may read this (colum?) to our Halloween party at the Airport Inn following the East Jordan game Friday, Oct. 31st. Hot dogs and Sauerkraut. For you bowlers who can't bring your girl friends, bring your wives.

Probate Court Sentences Four; Six Arraigned

Four men were sentenced and six others arraigned before Judge Charles L. Brown during the opening days of the October term of circuit court here.

Thomas C. Mann, 17, of Grand Rapids, who with Paul A. Jones, 16, also of Grand Rapids, had pleaded guilty earlier to a charge of breaking and entering in the daytime, sentenced to three to five years in Southern Michigan prison. Jones was placed on three years probation with the first year to be spent at the Pugsley probation camp near Traverse City. The McGeach Farm Bureau met last week at the home of Mrs. Colin McKenzie.

There was a large attendance out. At the business meeting the group voted to send a check to the 4-H Foundation of Michigan to help build Camp Kitt near Cadillac. A very interesting discussion followed on "The Future of the Farm Bureau." It was decided that the group was satisfied with the services as they are and that the dues should remain at $10.00.

WE NEGLECTED to mention it last week, but do you realize that Christmas is less than two months away . . . Oh yes, Nov. 20 is the deadline for mailing overseas packages to service personnel outside the U.S.

HOW ABOUT those upsets in college football over the weekend . . . Hope you didn't have too much money riding on any of them . . .

And speaking of football, we sure hope our little ole Rayders continue their winning ways . . . They have to win the remaining two to be assured of a title . . . We think they've got their feet on the ground and won't be carried away on a wave of overconfidence . . . We sure hope so 'cause we'd sure like a title . . . they'll go all the way . . . they've earned it.

EVERY NOW AND then we hear a story that seems unbelievable and renews our faith in human nature . . . Seems the Clarence Murrays went to Detroit recently . . . When Mrs. M. arrived she discovered she'd lost her wallet which contained a few dollars and some change . . . She couldn't even remember having it after leaving East Jordan . . . In addition, the wallet had been a gift and she was bemoaning the fact that she'd never see it again . . . A few days after returning home she had a call from Pete Timmer, our local postmaster, telling her she had a parcel at the post office with postage due on it . . . Was she interested? . . . She was and imagine her surprise when she found it was her lost wallet . . . Seems she'd left it in a telephone booth in a Detroit postoffice . . . Someone had found it and dropped it in the mail box . . . The Detroit post office sent along the wallet with a note explaining how they had come into possession of it and so . . . Mrs. Murray has her wallet back, complete with the money . . . Too bad that the person who found Mrs. Ole Nielsen's wallet containing cash from her husband's pay check couldn't have been as honest.

Vikings Keep Up Record, Shut Out For 14th Time

The Charlevoix Rayders racked up their fifth league shut-out of the season Friday, trimming the Grayling Vikings 54 to 0 in a game which saw the entire squad of 32 members in action.

In the game in which Charlevoix scored four touchdowns ,one for each time they got the ball in the first period, the Grayling Vikings picked up only one first down as the Rayders controlled the ball throughout the game although they scored only twice in the second half.

Grayling kicked off to Charlevoix with Stan Smith taking the boot on the 28 and returning it to the Rayder 45. Bud Balch, on the next play, romped to the Viking 11. An offside penalty set them back to the 16 from where Ron Vandenberg went in to score. Dick VanRaaphorst kicked the extra point and the Rayders led 7 to 0.

VanRaaphorst then kicked off to the Vikings who took the ball on their own 27. On the next play they fumbled with Bill Poquette recovering and going to the 24 where he was brought down. After moving the ball to the 16 on the next play, Balch scampered into the end zone to put the Rayders ahead 14 to 0 after VanRaaphorst's kick was good.

Again the Rayders kicked off. After three tries Grayling was forced to punt and Charlevoix took over on their 41. A pass from Mike Gencit to end Joe Beaudoin moved the ball to midfield. Two plays later Balch broke away on a 43 yard run to score and Gencit ran the ball around right end for the extra point.

Grayling had the ball for one play before Balch intercepted a Viking pass on the 32 and advanced to the 12 before he was brought down. Tom Lakies carried to the three but an offside penalty set the Rayders back to the 17 from where Gary Chew took the ball in to score. Again VanRaaphorst's boot was good as the Rayders went ahead 28 to 0 as the first period ended.

On the first play of the second quarter, Grayling fumbled and Charlevoix took over on their own 32. The Rayders picked up two first downs to the six from where Buddo Cross went into score. An offside penalty, however, nullified, the touchdown and the Rayders were set back to the 13 from where Cross scored the second time. The kick was wide and the score remained 34 to 0.

Charlevoix kicked off again and after three unsuccessful tries Grayling punted. Balch returned the punt to the Charlevoix 49. Lakies carried to the Grayling two but a clipping penalty on the Rayders set them back to the Gaylord 40. In four plays the Rayders went to the two from where Stan Smith went in to score. The kick was wide. The half ended four plays later as Grayling made their only first down of the game.

Charlevoix kicked off to Grayling to open the second half. After three tries, the Vikings punted and on a series of plays Charlevoix moved into scoring position. With the line-up changing almost every minute and many younger players seeing regular action for the first time, Cross scored two touchdowns which were called back because of offside penalties before he finally hit pay dirt from the six yard line. VanRaaphorst's boot was good.

Charlevoix was in possession of the ball on Grayling's 20 as the quarter ended after taking a Grayling punt.

The local second and third stringers failed to pick up first down and lost the ball to Grayling on the later's 15 to open the final period.

The Vikings punted after moving the ball only three yards on three tries and Charlevoix took over on their own 43 where they started a march which took them to the Grayling 31. Balch romped 31 yards to score on the next play and VanRaaphorst booted the extra point to give the Rayders 54 points.

Charlevoix was on the march as the game ended after taking a Vikings punt on their own 27 yard line.

Everyone in uniform played with the regulars seeing only limited action in the second half.

Mancelona Edges Gaylord; East Jordan Swamps Harbor

The Mancelona Ironmen moved into sole possession of second place in Northern Michigan Class C standings Friday night by edging Gaylord 13 to 12 while East Jordan was upsetting Harbor Springs 26 to 6 and Charlevoix was rolling over Grayling 54 to 0.

In the fourth game, an afternoon meeting at Pellston, Boyne City squeaked past Pellston 7 to 6.

As the result of Friday's games, Boyne City and Gaylord are tied for third place, East Jordan moved into a fourth place tie with Harbor Springs, Pellston stands alone in fifth place and Grayling continues to occupy the league cellar.

Mancelona	13
Gaylord	12

At Gaylord it was a conversion point that gave the Ironmen the victory.

The Ironmen romped to a 13 to 0 lead over the Blue Devils after scoring early in the game on a 25 yard run by Don Biehl who later in the first period was benched with an injury. The attempt to run the ball over was stopped.

In the second period Jerry Biehl plunged over from the one yard line then plunged over for the conversion point which was to mean the difference between victory and defeat.

It was definitely Mancelona's game during the half with the Ironmen making 10 first downs and the Blue Devils failing to make any.

The Gaylord eleven returned to the field an inspired outfit as John Burnison scored from the two yard line early in the second half to cut the Mancelona advantage to seven points, 13 to 6.

As the game drew to a close, lineman Roy Middleditch blocked a Mancelona pass, batting it into the hands of tackle Terry Warner who romped 40 yards to score on the longest run of the game. The Blue Devils' pass for the extra point was short and the score remained 13 to 12.

Gaylord recovered a Mancelona fumble at midfield and advanced to the 18 yard line where they lost the ball on downs and thus lost a last scoring opportunity.

East Jordan	26
Harbor Springs	6

After upsetting Boyne City and dumping Pellston, the Harbor Springs Rams invaded East Jordan with victory in mind. The Jordanites, however, had other ideas for after Doug Meeker's 75 yard touchdown run early in the game, the Red Devils assumed command and scored four times before the battle was over.

East Jordan took the kickoff following the Rams' TD and marched to the seven yard line where Jack Gee took the ball over to tie the score 0-6.

In the second period Jim Spence went in from the two and Jim Yettaw scored the conversion point to put the Red Devils ahead 13 to at halftime.

Harbor Springs held the Jordanites scoreless in the third period but the Red Devils were not to be denied as Gee scored early in the final period on a 48 yard run with Yettaw again booting the conversion. Late in the period Bob Johnson recovered a Rams fumble on the 10 and two plays later Jim Kinney went in on a quarterback sneak for the touchdown to give the East Jordan eleven, a fine defensive team, its second win of the season.

East Jordan racked up 12 first down to nine for the Rams.

Boyne City	7
Pellston	6

Boyne City, after two straight losses, had trouble with a stubborn Pellston squad before squeaking by with a 7 to 6 margin.

Pellston scored first in the meeting after recovering a Rambler fumble in the first period. A pass from Ron Searles to Barry Anderson put the ball on the 19 where Gary Spencly took it over to put the Hornets ahead 6 to 0 after the conversion was missed.

Pellston was on the 10 when the half ended with the Hornets ahead after a scoreless second quarter.

Boyne City came back strong in the second half and on the fifth play from scrimmage after taking the kickoff on their own 30, Tom Kujawski scored from the two yard line. Jack Dixon ran the ball over for the extra point which was to spell victory.

The fourth quarter was scoreless but Pellston had a drive underway when the final gun sounded.

This Week With Class 'C' Teams

Boyne City and Gaylord, with identical records of three wins in five games, will be battling it out for possession of third place in loop standings when they meet on Blue Devils territory Friday night.

In other games Mancelona will host Pellston and Harbor Springs will play at Grayling. In a fourth game East Jordan will play at Charlevoix.

The two rivals have several things in common. Both have lost to Charlevoix, Gaylord by a score of 12 to 0 and Boyne City 18 to 0. In addition both have posted 6 to 0 victories over East Jordan and both have won over Grayling. The Blue Devils, however, dumped Harbor Springs 26 to 6, the same score by which the Rams upset the defending champions. Gaylord's second loss was to Mancelona (13-12) last week.

Though they have the same records, Gaylord is by far the better team of the two. They have an excellent defense and a scoring punch that the Ramblers lack.

They also have a yen to get back on the victory trail after losing to the Ironmen by a one-point margin plus a chance to avenge losses to the Ramblers in years past. This may be their year Paced by Johnny Burnison who does everything well, the Blue Devils should have a heyday at the expense of the defending champions.

Unless Mancelona lets down after its hard game with Gaylord, the Ironmen should come up with a clear cut victory over the Pellston Hornets whose only win has been an 18 to 0 win over the cellar-dwelling Grayling Vikings. Mancelona is a hard playing outfit which has racked up some impressive wins. Though the Hornets have lost two games by close scores (East Jordan 13 to 6 and Boyne City 7-6, they will not have enough to stand the crushing attack of the Ironmen, now that they have started to roll.

Harbor Springs, suffering from a 26 to 6 upset by East Jordan should get back in the credit column this week when they take on the Grayling eleven. The Vikings have record of 20 straight losses and, this hardly seems the time for them to become a competitor, especially after their 54 to 0 drubbing at the hands of Charlevoix.

Dope Sheet

The league leading Charlevoix Rayders will entertain East Jordan at Kipke field Friday night as the 1958 league schedules go into the sixth week.

A game at Harbor Springs Nov. 7 will end the season for the Rayders.

Charlevoix, with five straight wins in loop play, needs one more to share in the coveted league title currently held by Boyne City. With Mancelona, in second place with a four and one record in conference play, hot on their heels and hoping someone will upset them before the season ends, the Rayders must win their remaining two games if they are to stay on top of the heap. The Ironmen, one game out of first place, could share in the title if they won the remainder of their games and Charlevoix should lose just one.

Though East Jordan has little to gain by a victory, the Red Devils would relish the role of 'spoiler' and will be trying for this when they invade Rayder territory Friday.

Despite the fact that the Jordanites have only two victories, a 13 to 6 decision over Pellston and a 26 to 6 win over highly touted Harbor Springs, they have allowed only seven touchdowns to be scored against them in league play. This proves that they have an excellent defensive outfit that last week found its scoring punch and racked up 26 points against Harbor Springs. A young outfit that has come far since the season opened, the Red Devils will be trying hard to post a win over the leaders.

But then, Charlevoix has a fine defensive squad also for no one has crossed the Rayder goal line this season and the local eleven is determined that on one will.

If the East Jordan defense is as good as they say, this could be quite a game. However, it is doubtful if Coach Gayle Saxton's boys have the punch to crack the Rayder line or the stamina to stand up against the Rayder offense.

NMCCC STANDINGS

From the Side Lines . . .

We saw a game that gave us little satisfaction, a game that was no contest, a game we are happy to have over as it puts the Rayders one game nearer to the conference championship.

This week Charlevoix meets an old rival. East Jordan can well be termed as Charlevoix's own personal spoiler.

Boyne City has come up with some outstanding teams but on their off years when Charlevoix is on top, they haven't provided the consistent competition East Jordan has, in the past.

Just to point out a few things that have happened between these two teams: East Jordan broke the Red Rayders winning streak in 1951 at 42 games; in 1954 they gave Charlevoix their only loss and then there was last year, Charlevoix led by 13 at the half only to have the Red Devils win in the second half, 14-13.

CITIES SERVICE
5D
KOOLMOTOR

Why does oil go in clear and come out DIRTY?

Because it is doing one of its most important jobs —cleaning your engine.

You'd be amazed at the dirt and sludge that builds up inside your engine as it operates...as much as a pound in every 2500 miles of driving!

If that dirt were allowed to cling to engine parts, you'd soon have a mighty big repair bill... but instead, your motor oil seizes the dirt and holds it in suspension where it can do no harm.

Then, when you drain your oil, out comes the dirt with it.

Here at our Cities Service station, we recommend a change every 1000 miles with our 5D Koolmotor Oil.

In addition to its greater cleansing action, 5D Koolmotor actually acts as several oils inside your engine. Provides light 10W grade performance at starting...medium 20 grade performance for warm-up...and heavy 30 grade performance once your engine is hot.

Result: it increases power, stretches gas mileage, keeps your engine new. Change over to 5D Koolmotor Oil this week.

So she says, "One more question, Judge.
Why do you want the job?"

Dear Voter:
Just before the primary election in August we published this picture:

You know, I had a lot of comment on that picture. Even had some letters. And the nicest comment was when a stranger would say, "I've never met you, Judge, but I saw your picture and I feel like I know you and your family."

It's nice to meet people like that. And that is the nicest part of this job. You meet people — all kinds of people with all kinds of problems. I like people. I may punish them. I may criticize them. I may get exasperated with them. But at the same time I like them.

So, I guess that is the answer to the question of why I want this job. I think that here is an opportunity to help people — and particularly to help those who are the least able to help themselves — the children, the unfortunate, the aged. And with God's help I'll do my best.

Home Gardeners Utilize Leaves In Compost Pile

Don't throw away those leaves and lawn clippings this fall. Those leaves can be turned into valuable fertilizer, according to James Porter, Michigan State University extension soils specialist. Most garden soils are lacking in organic matter and can use the fertilizer.

A compost pile is the converter of leaves to fertilizer. You can build up a pile using materials like leaves, lawn clippings, corn stover, garden refuse or straw.

The pile is allowed to decay over winter and the following summer and then you have valuable humus material to add to your soil. It may be used in the flower and vegetable garden as a surface mulch or worked into the top soil.

Build the pile in layers, with a few handfuls of fertilizer scattered over each new supply of organic matter that is added. The best fertilizer to use is 12-6-6, 10-6-4, 10-10-10, 12-12-12 or 8-8-8. Use 100 pounds in a compost pile of 125 cubic feet. Also add about 25 pounds of finely ground lime, either mixed with the fertilizer or applied separately.

Next sprinkle a little garden soil in each layer to inoculate the pile with decay organisms. Keep the pile moist, but do not apply enough water to cause drainage. The top of the pile should be saucer shaper to catch rain or water from a sprinkler. Woven wire or picket fencing fashioned into a circle will aid building and confining the compost pile.

Don't plan your work unless you plan to work your plan.

What Happens To These Antlers?

Every winter the whitetail bucks lose their antlers. This event is not brought on by accident, or by the intention of the deer. The bucks do not need to rub or bump off their bony beams as their did the tatered "velvet" that clung to their racks in September. The shedding of antlers is a natural process, beginning in late summer when the structures lose their blood sopply and become dead, horn-like material. Then a period of bone destruction sets in, hollowing and weakening the antler just below the bur, or corona. The process may be terminated and an antler may tumble from a buck's head as he leaps over a log or as he walks across a moon-silvered, snow-covered hillside.

Both antlers may fall within moments of each other, or again a buck may be burdened with a single beam and a certain lopsidedness for as much as three weeks after the first has fallen. In the North a buck may drop his antlers as early as the last few days of November or as late as January. Records of game biologists indicate that malnoorished, injored, and sickly deer tend to retain their antlers longer than healthy specimens. Perhaps in healthy deer there exists some sore of a deep-seated biological eagerness to get on with the bosiness of making way for next year's growth of antlers.

But what happens to those shed antlers? Although thousands of whitetail bocks drop antlers each winter, seldom are any discovered in northern fields or forests. Why are they not found more frequently? Often they are eaten by porcupines, rabbits and squirrels. Meadow mice and white-footed mice gnaw them to bits in a matter of a few days. All of these creatures crave calcium, and deer antlers provide a handy supply. Especially do pregnant mother rodents need calcium for the building of the bones of their tiny unborn offspring.

Few dropped antlers escape the search of Nature's calcium-hungry children, and those that do soon disintegrate under the attack of sun and rain and melting snow, and return to the earth to begin again the long cycle by which calcium in the earth becomes calcium in bud and leaf of woodland shrub, and calcium in bud and leaf on shrub becomes calcium in cud in a deer's full stomach, and calcium in a cud in a deer's stomach becomes calcium in deer blood, and then in deer antler. And at last, in some far off December, the antler falls again to earth. The cycle is complete.

By Harold E. Kohn

NEED

One distinguishing mark of all living things is that they have needs. Non-living things do not. At least I cannot imagine the rocks that rim our shore needing anything: Nothing seems to matter to them, sunshine or rain, high water or low, summer or winter, they remain strangely unaffected. But all living creatures have needs — needs that are constant and urgent.

Even in winter, that period of the year when all the North that is not dead seems half asleep, there is this clear difference between the non-living and the living things of the ice-glazed and snow - covered earth: the non-living have no needs; the living do. Dead trees need no moisture. Living ones do. It will make no vital difference to the non-living snow if temperatures drop to 20 below zero and remain there for ten days, but such an event would mean dire suffering to the whitetail deer and death to many of the tribe of wild birds that can stand bitter cold for a few hours, but not for a prolonged period. The sunken logs and sand on the bottom of a small lake will not perish if the lake freezes over, but if ice and snow cover the water for a long time water-plants will perish. Lacking light for photosynthesis, plants die and decompose, flooding the lake with carbon dioxide, depleting the oxygen supply and winter-killing the fish. Unless their needs are satisfied all things die.

This disposition of living matter to insist upon having its needs met is well recognized by biologists and used by them to control unwanted forms of life such as fungi, bacteria, and weeds. Bread mold, a kind of fungus, needs moisture to thrive. One way to discourage the mold is to keep bread in a dry place. Heating the bread will destroy the fungus. When its need for dampness is frustrated the fungus dies.

Some fungi and bacteria love oxygen and cool places, so much food is protected from them by heating them in cans from which oxygen has been expelled. Unable to obtain the oxygen they require, and being heated above a tolerable temperature, these enemies of man's food supply are destroyed. When their needs are not met they perish.

Harmful weeds are killed by depriving them of their needs. They require roots for obtaining moisture and nutriment from the soil. The most old-fashioned way of destroying weeds to pull them up by the roots, depriving them of these necessities of life. Recently, plant poisons have been developed that kill weeds by striking at other necessities, such as upsetting the nutrient balance and causing plants to either starve themselves or indulge in overgrowth, both of which are fatal. Always, a plant's needs are met, or it dies.

One mark of a vital living spirit is that it has needs, recognizes them, and seeks to satisfy them. Just as a living bobdy is one that still has requirements, a living soul is one that has recognized need.

The urgency of having a need and being aware of it is seen in the fact that in every important mater a felt need precedes great experience. How long has it been since your mind dwelt on geometry, calculus and trigonometry? Months? Years? Perhaps you have never given any thought to these matters. If not, it was because there was no need to do so. But the engineers who planned the Mackinaw Bridge thought almost constantly about higher mathematics, because the building of the bridge made such thinking necessary. Before the bridge could be built someone had to make use of higher mathematics.

How long has it been since you last thought of the mechanics of breathing? Hours? Perhaps days. But if a loved one, dearer to you than life itself, should have pronounced difficulty breathing because of pneumonia or a heart ailment, you immediately rush him to a hospital where an oxygen tent is available, and you give much anxious thought to his having enough oxygen in his lungs. We are most conscious of the importance of air when someone dear to us is deprived of it. So with food, education, the church, so with loving kindness and patience and most things good, their importance is most vividly demonstrated by the lack of them.

One of the chief reasons for irreligion is a lack of a strongly felt need of God, and it is doubtful if anyone ever finds God unless he first senses a need of Him. A shallow person, who has experienced no profoundly disturbing trouble, no burden of guilt, no heartache, no perplexity, no struggling aspirations, no craving for a better life, can hardly be expected to find God, for he will not seek Him. Superficial people may toy with the idea of God, like boys playing with an apparatus, attempting to construct a make-believe wireless telegraphy instrument. But before one can know the importance of wireless telegraphy he needs to be on a storm-battered ship, far out at sea, and desperately needing help. So before one can sense his need of God he must be made aware of his want of a help greater than anything man can provide.

A consciousness of need prompts great public service. Those who can exist in the midst of humanity's cares and sufferings and remain unmoved, and do not notice the need, or noticing, do not minister to the lack, are already dead. The alive have an awareness of need. Jane Addams, the badly crippled child of wealthy parents, was once traveling on a London bus with her father. She saw a cabbage fall from a passing wagon and a hungry man fall upon it and ravenously devour it. Jane Addams could never forget the face of that man. Twenty years after she established Hull House in Chicago Miss Addams declared that the cabbage incident in London had awakened in her an awareness of the privation existing in the world, and aroused a determination to do something about it. Whether it is Jane Addams establishing a settlement house in Chicago, Sir Wilfred Grenfell bringing medical aid to the fisher folk of Labrador, or Dr. Albert Schweitzer operating on the stricken black people of French Equatorial Africa, behind every example of public service there lies one indispensible motivation — a recognized need.

The most exciting and stirring sound in the world is a cry for help, and nothing makes one feel so strong as to hear such a call. A call for help has been known to make the timid brave, the non-swimmer risk his life to save a drowning man, the poor divide his last meal to feed a starving child.

And what is religion if it is not this, at least — man's need for help, and God's answer, man's need and God's sufficiency?

Suggest Sprays To Protect Fruit Trees From Rabbits

If you're planning to use a repellent on your fruit trees to keep rabbits from eating the bark, be sure the chemical has been tried out on Michigan rabbits, Ed Rebman county agricultural agent, said today.

Tests made by two researchers at Michigan State University indicate that the state's cottontails have their own particular likes and dislikes of repellents. Because of the large number of orchards in the state, damage from rabbits is quite important.

Don W. Hayne, fisheries and wildlife, and H. A. Cardinell, horticulture, report that Michigan rabbits are not affected by some repellents that have proved effective for jackrabbits and some other species. For this reason, they emphasize that tree owners should use repellents that have proven useful against Michigan rabbits.

The two scientists also report that some new materials show particular promise. These are Thiram, z. i. p. (a deer repellent), and TN 2500, an experimental material. Thiram and z. i. p. are commercially available while TN 2500 is still experimental.

Here are the recommendations that Hayne and Cardinell make using two of the new materials as well as for rosin, a formerly recommended one.

Thiram — Mix one gallon of asphalt emulsion and one gallon of water. Add one pound of thiram as wettable powder, either "Tersan 75" or "Arasan SF-X" or like product containing 75 per cent thiram. Apply with brush on full length of main trunk and on base of lower limbs.

Z. i. p. — Mix one gallon of asphalt emulsion and 1½ gallons of water. Add 10 pounds of z. i. p. paste. Apply with brush.

Rosin — To one gallon of ethyl alcohol, add seven pounds of crushed rosni. Allow the mixture to stand in a closed container overnight in a warm room to dissolve the rosin. Apply with brush.

Michigan drivers
go 1st class!

For the new heavy-duty highways that count most... the choice is modern CONCRETE!

On important Michigan highways already completed . . . on others now building . . . on more still coming . . . concrete means tax savings and real dollar value

Michigan's newest concrete roads will last 50 years and more. Even the older ones outlasted other pavements 2 to 1.

Upkeep will run as much as 60% less than for asphalt! Remember, even on the new Interstate System, where Uncle Sam pays 90% of the price of the highway, Michigan pays for the upkeep—every red cent of it. With concrete the initial cost isn't just a down payment.

Don't forget that gliding smooth ride you get on modern concrete. And the extra safety, too. Mighty reassuring—that grainy, skid-resisting surface—when you have to stop in a hurry. At night, light-reflecting concrete lets you see—doesn't kill light the way black pavement does.

How Much Is Your Share?

How much is the new high school going to cost the individual taxpayer? That appears to be the important question regarding the proposed school, and answers have been varied and some of them unintentionally misleading.

The plan for financing provides a levy of 5.8 mills on the state equalized valuation. The term "state equalized valuation" is the cause of most of the misunderstanding because the tax statement received by the taxpayer shows only the local assessed valuation on his property and the two valuations are not the same.

If we just forget the term millage and turn to dollars and cents we can come up with the approximate amount it will cost each taxpayer to build the new school. The taxpayer need only to know the assessed valuation of his property as shown at the lower left hand corner of his tax receipt. For each $1,000 valuation shown there the levy for the new school will be approximately an additional $4.20 over our present rate. A detailed schedule of rates, arranged by E. Darrell Dinwiddie, local certified public accountant who has worked extensively on the school study survey committee, appears on another page of this issue of the Courier. It should be noted that these figures are based on approximate property taxes for 1958.

It should be further noted that the assessed valuation figures are not the market value of the property. The valuation established by local assessors for taxing purposes is only about two-fifths of the amount the property should sell for today. For example, if a taxpayer estimates the value of his property at $6,000 the local assessed valuation should be approximately $2,400 and his additional tax to finance the new school would be about $10.08. This is an insignificant amount for education when compared with the money that most of us spend for non-essentials.

It should be remembered most of us who are taxpayers today had the benefit of free public school education in our youth. Who paid for it? The taxpayers of that day. If we would look back to 1901 when the present high school was build we would undoubtedly find it cost the taxpayer more then than it will cost us today, net in dollars, but in hours worked to earn those dollars to pay taxes. If we are to be as considerate of our children as the taxpayer was then, we will vote "YES" at the school election next Monday.

State and County Offices Closed Nov. 11

Who Can Vote on Bond Issue?

The question of who is eligible to vote next monday on the proposed school band issue has been confusing to some residents of the district. The law provides that any person, meeting the age and residential requirements, who owns property on which school taxes are levied is eligible to vote. This is especially applicable to person such as a farmer who rents a farm but pays a tax on personal property or a business person who is not an owner of real estate property but pays a personal tax on the inventory and equipment used in the business.

The published notice of the special school election to be held Monday states who can vote and reads as follows: "Each person voting on the proposition of issuing the bonds of said school district must be a citizen of the United States, above the age of 21 years, have resided in the State of Michigan six months and in the school district 30 days next preceding the election, and have property assessed for taxes within the school district or be the lawful husband or wife of a qualified voter of the district having property so assessed." It should be noted that this does not stipulate real or personal property.

Democrats Swept Into State Offices

Lt. Gov. PHILIP A. HART

G. MENNEN WILLIAMS

Unofficial returns which included all but two precincts in the state, the Democratic candidates were swept into state offices by margins of nearly 200,000 votes.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams was re-elected for his sixth term. Other candidates elected to state offices on the Democratic ticket are: John B. Swainson, lieutenant governor; Paul L. Adams, attorney general; Frank S. Szymanski, auditor general; James M. Hare, Secretary of state and Sanford A. Brown, state treasurer.

While all the Democratic candidates apparently won by comfortable margins, Brown and Hare led the ticket for the part, receiving about 50,000 more votes than their running mates.

Call for Help to Complete Slopes At Mt. McSauba

Dr. Robert Anderson, president of the Charlevoix-Mt. McSauba Recreation Corp., has issued a call for workmen to participate in a work-bee at Mt. McSauba Sunday.

The work bee will be held at 1:30 p.m. on the north side or back of the mountain and will require from 40 to 50 workers with chain saws and axes. One run is almost completed and another has been started on this side of the mountain, Dr. Anderson said.

Work on the new runs is progressing satisfactorily, Dr. Anderson added. A new tow will be installed to take care of these runs. The poles for the new tow are now at the run.

This will be the last work bee until after the deer hunting season so everyone who can is asked to join the bee Sunday in completing the work which must be done before the winter season gets underway.

Children and Matches Cause Cottage Fire

Two local youngsters, nine and 10 years old respectively, have been turned over to the probate court here for burning down a small cottage at Pine Point Sunday while playing with matches, according to Trooper Weldon Forrest of the Petoskey State Police post and Deputy Philo Sumner of the Charlevoix county sheriff's department who investigated the fire.

The fire was reported at 4:10 p.m. Sunday by another resident of the small resort, Mrs. Gordon Bartlett. The cottage was in flames when the Charlevoix fire department arrived at the scene.

An investigation was initiated after the boys told firemen where things were located inside the burning building . . . things they couldn't have known without being inside.

Downs Defeats Bice In Non-Partisan Race For Probate Judge

A near-record vote in the general election Tuesday returned all incumbent Republican county officials to office and gave Congressional and state officials on the Republican ballot a majority although the results in this county did not follow the trend elsewhere in the state.

In the only close contest William T. Downs, incumbent, edged his opponent C. M. Bice by 38 votes for the office of probate judge on the non-partisan ballot. Downs who was appointed to the office in March polled 2,599 votes while Bice tallied 2,561 in unofficial returns.

On a county level where all incumbent Republicans were returned to office the candidates received the following number of votes in the unofficial tabulations: prosecuting attorney, Harvey C. Varnum, 3109 and Charles R. Fisher, 2102; sheriff, Glenn E. Rose, 3429 and Frank W. Shaler, 1898; county clerk, Fenton R. Bulow, 3231 and James I. Kelts, 2020; county treasurer, Lillis M. Flanders, 3160 and Minnie Webster DesJardins, 2119; register of deeds, Grover C. Geneit, 3041 and Edna LaBlance, 2202; county surveyor, Mary C. Feindt, 3164 and Henry G. On the state ticket the Republican candidates polled the following votes in the county though they lost elsewhere: Governor, Bagwell, 3001 and Williams 2376; lieutenant governor, Brown, 2960 and Swainson, 2235; Secretary of State, Plank 2576 and Hare, 2441; Attorney general, Honigman, 2804 and Adams, 2367; State Treasurer, Weatherwax, 2800 and Brown, 2375; Auditor General, Clements, 2902 and Szymanski, 2240.

Know Your Community Chest

Right now the Charlevoix Community Chest is $1,808.30 short of its $9,996.06 campaign goal for 1958.

This startling statement was made Wednesday by Mrs. James Coleman, fund campaign chairman.

If Charlevoix is to successfully complete its 1958 fund drive drastic measures must be taken, Mrs. Coleman said. "Residents of the community who have not given must contribute and others must re-consider and perhaps add to the contribution they made during the early days of the drive," she added.

Why should everyone give, and give generously, to the Community Chest? Because everyone benefits, directly or indirectly, from the 42 local, state and national agencies supported by the local Community Chest.

Everyone wants the services offered by these agencies and therefore everyone should pay for them to the best of his ability.

The sensible way to do this is through 'fair share' giving. What is your 'fair share'? That is something you must decide for it is big or as small as the responsibility you feel toward the agen- that make Charlevoix a good place in which to live.

When you are considering your responsibility to the community take these things into consideraton: would you want to live in a community that didn't have active Boy and Girl Scout troops or a well-rounded recreation program for its youngsters; that didn't adequately support its hospital or community nurse; didn't seek to educate its retarded children; didn't remember its young men and women in the Armed Services (and Charlevoix has approximately 100) didn't extend a helping hand through the Salvation Army or didn't have a Red

Register of Deeds Services Needed

The importance of one little period cannot be over emphasized, particularly in designating figures. This was brought to our attention when the period did not appear in a figure quoted by Grover Geneit, register of deeds, in a letter to the editor. He stated that the operation of the register of deeds office has cost the people of the county, from tax monies, the sum of $21.81. Delete the period and we get two thousand one hundred and eighty-one.

That leads us to question the advisability of the county discontinuing the abstracting business of the office and turning it over entirely to private business. Such a plan was proposed in the waning hours of the recent session of the board of supervisors. While that plan might prove satisfactory in the county today, we have no assurance that it would be equally as satisfactory in ten, twenty or thirty years from now.

There were more motives behind the proposal than appeared on the surface, according to the interpretation of some members of the board of supervisors, specifically, to eventually eliminate the office of register of deeds and turn the duties of the office over to the county clerk. Possibly the county clerk has plenty of time to take on those extra duties but we have always been led to believe that the clerk has all of the duties he can handle now.

The offices of county clerk and register of deeds have been combined in a few counties in the state. We have no information as to the situation which brought about the combine or how beneficial it is in those counties but we are not convinced the situation in Charlevoix county warrants such a change in view of the service rendered by the office of register of deeds at a cost of only $21.81 a year.

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

DID YOU EVER see so many trickers and treaters? . . . We had 'em from all over town . . . and each was cuter than the other . . . dressed to the teeth in the darndest outfits you'll ever see . . . Of course, you never recognize even those closest to you in those outfits . . . We asked one litle guy who he was, remarking that we didn't recognize him . . . His answer? Oh yes you know me 'cause you know my mother . . . Have any idea whom it might be? . . . Anyway, it was great fun and we hope the kids enjoyed it as much as all the grown-ups . . . It made you want to be a kid again.

WE TURNED OUR calendar over the other day and suddenly realized that the deer hunting season will open just a few days from now . . . depending on what day you're reading this . . . Anyway it's Saturday, Nov. 15 . . . when the hunters go into the woods to outsmart the bucks who have had things pretty much their way all year . . . And it's going to be mighty interesting to watch what happens . . . We do hope that everyone will be careful when they're handling guns, whether it's in their homes, cars or the woods . . . Hunting accidents are the result of carelessness on someone's part . . . So won't you be more careful than usual . . . We love to write about your 'kill' but when we do we mean the four-legged deer . . . Lots of luck.

BUT IF THESE same hunters are expecting tracking snow, they may be disappointed . . . According to the long-range forecast for November, the weather is going to be drier than usual and temperatures higher . . . Of course we know those can be blown to bits by a good old-fashioned snowstorm but we thought we'd tell you for what it's worth . . . And if your family boasts any hunters, how's about giving us a buzz, telling us where they are going, who's in the party, etc. . . And won't you call too, when the hunters fill their licenses . . . If there's one thing that irks us is to have someone say, after they've read a story on deer hunting . . . "I went hunting and you didn't bother to mention my name" or "What do you mean, he got the first buck . . , Why I got mine 20 minutes before that" . . . We have one answer to that, part of which isn't printable . . . "But you didn't call us about your luck, so there."

HOW DID YOU LIKE the window painting contest sponsored by the JayCees . . . We think it was terrific . . . Everyone cooperated from the teachers to the storekeepers who donated the use of their windows . . . and the kids realized an old ambition . . . to paint windows on Hallowe'en . . . And some of them were might nice . . . It was quite a venture for the infant JayCees who are just getting their bearings . . . but a commendable one . . . We're sure another year that a lot more planning will go into the project and it will be even more exciting as well as rewarding . . . So orchids to everyone who had anything to do with it.

LEAVE IT TO the kids to come up with something in an emergency . . . Seems the paints provided by the JayCees for the window painting contest didn't include red . . . But how to get the color when none was available anywhere . . . So they took the black paint and mixed it with that detergent whose praises are being sung on every other TV commercial and presto! . . . They had red paint.

IT WILL BE two years ago the last day of this month that the freighter White Swan went aground on a reef some 28 miles north of here in Lake Michigan . . . near Skillagalee, if memory serves us correctly . . . Within two weeks the little freighter was lost in a storm which washed it off the reef . . . And last week Mike Herrington, walking along the shore near the Beach Hotel, found one of the ring buoys from the craft . . . Given time, old Lake Michigan gives up many things.

* * *

QUITE A GAME Sunday . . . or didn't you see it? . . . Detroit lost but they played good ball and what more can you ask . . . But we didn't mention the game just to be talking about football but the stadium where the game was played . . . Kezar Stadium in San Francisco . . . We've never watched a game from there yet that we haven't noticed the seagulls gliding over the field and some of them coming in mighty low . . . Is the place near the water, fish market or what?

WHEN YOU READ this it will all be over but the post-mortems . . . We're talking about the election . . . Right now we think we know how it's going to go . . . and it's going to be mighty interesting when the final tally comes in . . . But we do hope that you took time out to cast your ballot . . . 'cause when you start griping because your candidate didn't win, the first question we're going to ask you is this "Did you vote?" and if your answer is "No" then we don't want to hear anymore.

1958 IS RUNNING out . . . As of today, Nov. 6, there are 55 days left in the year, 49 days til Christmas, three weeks til Thanksgiving and 37 shopping days til Christmas . . . So don't say we didn't remind you.

A CALL FROM Mrs. Ole Nielsen early this week brought the news that the police had apprehended the persons who found her wallet with a sizable amount of money in it that we mentioned in this column last week . . . The culprits were found when the police called them in for questioning about something else.

IN THE MAIL . . . a note from Mrs. William Woods who with her husband and daughter, Pam, were badly injured in an auto accident at Lake Bluff, Ill., last month . . . She asked that we acknowledge for her the many letters, cards and other remembrances that have been sent to them at Lake Forest Hospital . . . The note was brief which is understandable because both her arms are fractured . . . She said if they continued to improve they might be able to go home by Christmas.

A NOTE, ALSO, from Miss Gertrude Shryock, hospitalized at St. Mary's hospital in St. Louis, Mo., as the result of injuries received in an accident while she was enroute home from Charlevoix . . . She is now about to sit up for a short time and is progressing satisfactorily . . . She sends her thanks for all the letters and cards sent by her Charlevoix friends.

ONE LAST WORD to our Charlevoix Rayders and their coach . . . lots of luck to all of you . . we hope you accomplish the goal you've set for yourselves . . . it's a 'toughie' but we know you can do it if you give it that little extra that's needed . . . We'll be around next week . . . to offer our congratulations.

Voice of Our Readers . . .

Yes, this might be true if the child was going to school in 1901. The present school built in 1901 was designed to accomodate 150 students but at present it contains 413 pupils.

When we, the seniors, started school there were 67 in our grade but in the present kindergarten class there are 108. Other classes have similar increases in enrollment which result in more pupils in each room than it can accomodate; more pupils per teacher than the prescribed ratio of 14:1, which educators believe will bring the best results in educational gains.

With the possibility of space travel in the near future, more emphasis is being placed on science and the scientific field. How can our students become adequately prepared for this work in a laboratory that is equipped with facilities of 50 years ago.

We cannot make citizens of the future wth facilites of the past. The students of Charlevoix are asking you to vote 'YES' on the school issue next Monday.

Esther Louise Boss Married Saturday at Reformed Church

Esther Louise Boss became the bride of Garry D. Vandenberg in a double ring service solemnized Saturday afternoon at the Barnard Reformed Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John L. Boss and Mr and Mrs. John Klooster.

The Rev Donald Boss of Lansing, cousin of the bride, officiated at the ceremony in the presence of more than 125 guests. Arrangements of yellow and white mums decorated the church for the occasion.

Mrs. Hans DeYoung of Atwood, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied the soloist, Vincent Chew of Flint, who sang "Because," "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white slipper satin for her wedding. Fashioned with a fitted bodce, long fitted sleeves and a scoop neckline, the gown featured a bouffant skirt. A rhinestone tiara secured her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white mums and sweetheart roses.

Myrna Rae Veenstra of Ellsworth, as maid of honor, wore a street length gown of white crystalette over sea green taffeta styled with a fitted bodice, cap sleeves, scoop neckline and full skirt She wore a black velvet head band and carried a bouquet of yellow and white mums.

Kathy Boss, sister of the bride, and Mary Ann Berg as bridesmaids wore mint green taffeta gowns-styled similar to the honor attendant's, black velvet headbands and carried bouquets of yellow mums.

Jaclyn Boss, daughter of the Franklin Bosses, and Wilson Boss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Boss, cousins of the bride, served as flower girl and ring bearer, respectively. Jaclyn wore a white satin gown styled like the bride's and carried a basket of white mums and pink rosebuds.

Ronald J. Vandenberg assisted his brother as best man. Kenneth Boss, brother of the bride, and Robert Drenth of Ellsworth were groomsmen. Herbert Boss and Nathan Boss, also brothers of the bride, seated the guests.

Mrs. Boss selected a charcoal print dress, black and white accessories and a corsage of white carnations and red roses for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Klooster, mother of the bridegroom, wore a rose beige brocaded satin gown, beige and black accessories and a corsage of white carnations and pink roses.

A reception followed in the church dining room. The bride's table was centered with a tiered wedding cake made by Mrs. Herbert Boss. Arrangements of autumn flowers decorated the table: Assisting were Mrs. Robert Drenth, of Ellsworth, Mrs. Raymond Cunningham, Mrs. Franklin Boss and Mrs. Dale Fall of Traverse City.

After a wedding trip through the Upper Peninsula, the couple will make their home in Mt. Clemens. For traveling the bride wore a black and white taffeta dress and matching accessories.

Both are graduates of the Charlevoix high school. The bridegroom also attended Northern Michigan College.

Wedding guests were present from Traverse City, Grand Rapids, Detroit, Mt. Clemens, Lansing, East Jordan, Atwood, Central Lake, Ellsworth, Midland, Zeeland, Kalamazoo and Flint.

FAY'S
Declares

November is proclaimed appreciation dividend month at FAY'S.

What is this dividend event? What does it mean?

It simply means this:—We have set aside the month of November as the month to offer back to our customers a dividend credit in appreciation for their continued patronage. In the past ten years, FAY'S have developed 10 ladies apparel units throughout our Northern area and we realize that this could not have been accomplished without constant favor by the buying public. This will be the first year that a New FAY'S has not come into being; and so we can give hack some of the yearly profits in the form of a dividend deducted from the normal sales price.

Why is November the dividend month? As November is the month in which most people buy Christmas gifts (that is, if they are wise) we felt that this month would be of most benefit to our custmers. We encourage, also, the use of our Layaway Plan during this Dividend Event.

How much will you save during November? You can save 10 percent on any purchases $5.00 and over; from any of our 10 units. This is not a closeout event, nor a Clearance Sale—it is simply a desire on our part to give back to you a saving on purchases you make during November.

Begining November 1st and lasting through November 31st—November is officially declared Dividend Appreciation Month at all FAY'S SHOPS — which includes FAY'S BO-GI SHOP in Cheboygan, as well as the department store, and basement store in Onaway.

Winnick-Petersen Exchange Vows in Christ Episcopal Church Ceremony

The Christ Episcopal church was the scene recently of the wedding of Dolores Pauline Winnick and Larry R. Petersen.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Winnick and Mrs. Floyd Brown.

The Rev. Robert J. Yonkman, vicar of Christ church, assisted by the Rev. Vincent J. Anderson, pastor of St. Paul's church in Elk Rapids, officiated at the double ring service in the presence of their immediate families and close friends on Saturday, Oct. 25. Baskets of autumn flowers decorated the church for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a gown of white Chantilly lace over tissue taffeta for her wedding. The fitted bodice was styled with a scoop neckline and bracelet length sleeves. The bouffant skirt was street length. Her Juliet cap was of hand clipped lace and she carried a colonial bouquet of sweetheart roses.

Mrs. William Haas of Lansing as matron of honor wore a gown of champagne lace over taffeta similar to the bride's and brown accessories. She carried a bouquet of bronze mums.

Ralph Hess jr. assisted the bridegroom as best man. Charles Bennett and Mr. Haas seated the guests.

Mrs. Winnick wore a moss green sheath dress and brown accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Brown, mother of the bridegroom, wore a navy sheath and navy and while accessories. Each had a corsage of sweetheart roses.

A wedding dinner for the bridal party and their immediate families was held at the Rod and Gun club.

An evening reception for more than 200 guests followed. The bride's table was centered with a tiered wedding cake and decorated with arrangements of autumn flowers. Music for dancing was by the Novotny Trio of Petoskey.

The couple has returned to Detroit to make their home.

Wedding guests were present from Muskegon, Lansing, Chicago, Traverse City, Detroit, Petoskey and Flint.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Brown were hosts at a rehearsal dinner at the Grey Gables Inn.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear daughter, sister and mother, Marion Dennis, who passed away six years ago today, November 4, 1952.

When the evening shadows have fallen,
And we sit here all alone,
To our hearts there comes a longing,
If you could only come home.

Bowling News

BY DES

Well it was another night of pretty fair bowling, especially for Sinclair as they kept up their torrid pace. They took 4 points, set a season high for total and finally moved into first place. Ken Cellner paced the team with his big 609 series including games of 215 and 204. Next high was Ted Ager with a big 236 game, 578 series. Then came Louie McKenzie with his games of 201 and 216 in a 562 series. Meg followed with a 545 and then last but not least, (I should say at least, or at last — or something) came "Bantam Ben" Wallace. Wally was in there trying all the way, but the best he could muster was a 434. The victim of this onslaught was Browe Electric. Although they bowled over their average everytime, with handicap, it still wasn't enough. Stan Hare was high for the losers with a 414. You would have been the star on this team Wally.

Neff ended up the night one point out of first as they dropped 3 points to Freedman No. 1. Here we have another 600 series, this one setting a season high of 624 by Bill Baker. Bill started off good and improved each game as he rolled 201, 202, and 221. John Swanson also helped the cause by his 205 game in a 554 series. For Neff's the best they could do was a 499 by Buck Ditlefson. That Buck will be in there against you all the time whether its bowling, golf, bumper pool or what have you.

Brown Motors stayed right up in the running only 2 points out as they won 3 points from Swanson's. Harry Elzinga was high man for Browns as he rolled a 467. For the losers, Bob Ferguson finally came around and rolled himself a 205 game, 556 series. That game where Bob rolled his 205 was the only game Swanson's could win. It's a good thing Bob had that because I see that Larry Swanson had a big fat 86 — Larry!!!

Puff's moved up a couple of notches as they won all 4 points from Lake Construction. Puff himself was the big man again as he had a 558 series, although Byron Wright rolled 100 pins over his average — and that's always nice to have your low average man do that. For the Lakers only Ron Wojan could get started and led the way with his 518.

Moonlight edged by Hess Furniture by taking 2½ points as they tied the 2nd game. Lyle Ance had a 205 game but could only reach a total of 496.—Still high for the team though. Hess put up a game struggle (literally and figuratively) but they only had 3 men and the best they could produce was a 434 by Jess Penn. I will say one thing though, "Itch" is one of the best dressed bowlers you'll see.

And here comes usins — The Airport Inn struggling to get over that 500 mark but not quite able to — yet. We split 2-2 with Freedman No. 2 as I (that's me — Des) was the only man able to get over the 500 mark with a 532, and I needed a 201 game to help me. Hank had too much basement, and Soupie must have had to much of something too, (or else not enough) as all he could roll was a 107 second game. For the Freedman team Harry (back-up) Pearsol was high with a 445. — Oh well, even though we split, a good time was had by all—except Soupie in that second game.

High Game — Ted Ager 236
High Series — Bill Baker 624.
Team High Game — Sinclair 938

Service When You Need It . . .

that's the kind of service that counts the most, and it's the kind of insurance service you can get only from a home town agent who is always nearby, eager and able to serve you.

We're independent businessmen—not employees of an insurance company. We advise you according to your best interests and when you have a loss, we represent you and you alone.

For the protection and service you need, see your local independent agent . . . who serves you first.

Strictly Independent!

In a nutshell, here's what that means when applied to an insurance agent.

It means that he represents not one company, but many, and is free to place your business where it is best for you.

An independent agent is not a full time, salaried employee who sells insurance and helps settle claims in but one company. Representing many on a commission basis only, the first loyalty of an independent agent is to a client . . . you . . . when it comes to the settlement of a claim.

For the best insurance service that money can buy, choose an agent who is strictly independent. That's us!

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Called "Passing the Buck"?

Sitting on my porch the other night, Buck Hanson told about a nifty new warning light for his tractor. It gives him protection on the highway at night—cost, just 75 cents.

Buck made the light from an old windshield wiper motor with a taillight attached in place of the wiper blade. He clamped the motor on to the rear of the tractor.

When the motor is hooked to a hot wire and grounded, the light moves back and forth and sure attracts attention. (The wires work off a battery, a headlight—anything "hot.")

From where I sit, it's a tradition in America for neighbors to get together and exchange ideas. We're a better country for it. Tell you what—drop in on the next session on my porch, have a glass of beer and join in. If you'd rather have a glass of milk—fine! Respecting people's preferences—that's an American tradition too.

Unfinished Business

When I look around me on the natural world I am impressed with the realization that everything I see once existed only in the realm of possibiblity. The long, lush grasses near the lakeshore were ence but seeds. Tall trees that grace the shoreline were once but maple seeds carried by the wind on smooth, winged, incurved double planes, or little winged nutlets dropped by birches, or seeds hidden in the cones of spruce, hemlock and balsam fir. Timid deer that haunt our shores at sundown and daybreak were once but microscopic germs of life that resembled grown whitetails in no way whatsoever.

This world is full of incompleteness. At most well-ordered business meetings there comes a moment when the chairman asks, "Is there any unfinished business?" Often there is. But in the agenda of life there is always unfinished business. There are seeds meant to become grasses and trees whose destiny is yet unfulfilled, and there are the germseeds of future deer that must continue to develop for months to come before more wide-eyed fawns can skip and frolie across the sunlit glades in our woods. Wherever one looks in nature there are latencies to be developed into actualities, seeds of the future alive with possibilities.

The potentials latent in people caught Jesus' attention and fascinated Him. He recognized seeds of goodness that no one else saw —and by His encouragement He helped the sleeping possibiblities to awaken and grow into established realities. He saw in Mathew, the taxgather all the avarice that was there, but something else too — a dissastiefaction with what he was and an aspiration to be better. He found in Mary Magdalene a longing for purity. Nobody else guessed she was eapable of that. He discerned in Simon a sturdiness of soul that was hidden from more casual eyes. He saw what God sees, not only what man is, but what he is eapable of becoming.

In one of George MacDonald's stories a character cries in wild frustration, "I do not see why God ever made me," to which her friend responds, "God hasn't made you yet. He is making you and you don't like it." We sometimes wish that when we were born the whole man and the whole woman could have emerged into completeness. But as it is we are not born once and for all, but again and again. When an infant comes into the world he is incomplete. His head is born, but not his imagination. That must develop. His heart is born, but not his affections. They will come later. His feet are born, but not the goals of life toward which he will strive. A newly born babe is unfinished business. We all are.

Some of us need patience. God won't send it to us full-grown and well developed. We all have within us seed-like possibiblities of this grace. If we want more than that we will need to feed what patience we have, and exercise it so that it can grow There is enough frustration and disappointment already in the lives of most of us upon which we could exercise our little patienee if we would. The differenee between an irritable, flustered person and a long-suffering, forbearing one is not usually the amount of patienee they had when born. One has nurtured his patience on lifes plentiful adversities. The other has not.

When one becomes a follower of the Master, he is still a long way from being a complete Christian. Many have chosen to be Christians for reasons of fear. They have been frightened into it as a kind of escape from hell. Some have become Christians for selfsh reasons, seeking a reward of heaven. Selfishness that is blessed with the name of religion is selfishness still. There is some unfinished business such people need to attend to growng beyond fear and selfishness and into loving God for God's sake, rather than for their own benefit alone.

Just as in the dormant seed there rests a plan for the mature tree and within the embryo there is hidden a pattern of what the grown animal will be, so within every child of God there're traees of what is expected of us — the tiniest inclinations toward goodness, a bit of hunger for God, at least some desire to count in the world. The chief goal of life is to become, under God, what we are capable of becoming, developng all the latent possibilities.

The Brooklyn Bridge was built while its architect, Roebling, was sick in bed. While he was unablbe to watch the construction of the project, he did send advice to the contractors from his sick room. When the great structure was finally finished friends propped Roebling with pillows in a half-reclining position in a small boat and maneuvered the boat into a favorable position in the East River beneath the vast span of steel and concrete. There the orchitect lay for a long time, looking from the hridge to the blueprints he held in his hands and then back to the bridge again. After a long silence, Roebling sank back into the comfort of the pillows with a smile of satisfaction and exclaimed, "It is like the plan."

One of the highest contributions of Jesús Christ to mankind has been that of providing a blueprint of what life should be like. And a supreme satisfaction would be to come to the end of a single day and to look from our work of life-building to Him and be able to say "It is like the plan."

Will Charlevoix Fail . . . Because of You?

Don't Turn the Page, Face the Facts Fairly and Squarely

Will Charlevoix's Community Chest fall short of goal because YOU didn't give a Fair Share?

Right Now, the Chest is $1,808.30 Short of Its $9,996.06 Campaign Goal

IT'S TIME TO FACE THE FACTS

1. Everyone in Charlevoix directly or indirectly benefits from the 42 Local, State and National agencies supported by Charlevoix's Community Chest. Since everyone benefits, everyone should give.

2. You wouldn't want to live in a community that didn't have active Boy and Girl Scout troops or a well-rounded Recreation Program for its kids; that didn't adequately support its Hospital or Community Nurse; that didn't seek to educate its Retarded Children; that didn't remember its young men and women in the Armed Services; that didn't extend a helping hand thru the Salvation Army; or that didn't have a Red Cross unit ready to speed relief to disaster victims. Of course, you wouldn't.

3. You want these services — and you've been getting them. But they cost time and money. The time is freely given by volunteers — but the money must come from you. There is no other source.

4. The sensible way of obtaining this money is through a well-organized yearly 'United' drive. A single campaign eliminates waste of time, effort and expense — and the nuisance of many individual drives. And proper budgeting by the Community Chest assures that each agency will get its Fair Share of community support for its work.

5. BUT . . . a 'United' campaign can succeed only if everyone gives a Fair Share. 'United' campaigning does cut fund drive expenses tremendously . . . but . . . when folks who should and would gladly give a dollar to each of ten agencies campaigning separately still give only a dollar to these agencies under a 'United' campaign it stands to reason that 'United' campaigning will fail. One dollar just can't do the work of ten. Your 'Fair Share' is needed.

NOW — JUST WHAT IS YOUR 'FAIR SHARE'? Nobody's going to tell you. It's entirely up to you to decide. Your 'Fair Share' is as big, or as little as the responsibility you feel toward the agencies that make Charlevoix a decent place in which to live. Many communities, however, have adopted certain 'rules-of-thumb' to spread 'Fair Share' giving equitably among their various classes of donors. Some propose' one day's pay per year' or 'an hour's pay per month' or ¼ of 1% on incomes up to $5,000 and ½ of 1% on incomes over $5,000. The 'Fair Share' formula, however, is just a handy yardstick. Whether you use it or not, is your private decision.

A word about The Michigan United Fund. Last year, six MUF agencies spent $619 on behalf of Charlevoix County residents researching heart diseases, arthritis and rheumatism, cerebral palsy, epilepsy, multiple sclerosis and cancer. Four MUF agencies spent $4,008.02 on direct service to residents of Charlevoix County. That's a total of $4,627.02 for only 10 of the 33 MUF agencies. But, last year, Charlevoix County paid in to MUF only $3,493.00. The difference of $1,134.02 was actually underwritten by the more populous down-state counties. These are the counties that are now feeling the impact of high unemployment — with many regular 'Fair Share' givers out of work.

Here is Charlevoix's 1958-59 Community Chest Budget — Showing how a $10 gift will be split up among the ten agencies:

Charlevoix Community Nurse	$1,450.00	$ 1.429
Scenic Trails Council — Boy Scouts	1,450.00	1.429
Charlevoix Hospital	1,121.06	1.105
American Red Cross	1,000.00	.985
Charlevoix Association to Aid Retarded Children	950.00	.936
Charlevoix City Recreation	800.00	.789
Charlevoix Girl Scout Council	750.00	.739
Charlevoix Service Organization	450.00	.443
Salvation Army	325.00	.320
Michigan United Fund	1,452.00	1.431
Emergency Fund	300.00	.295
Campaign Expenses	100.00	.099
TOTAL BUDGET	$10,148.00	$10.000
From Reserves	152.00
CAMPAIGN GOAL	$ 9,996.06

As matters stand, $1,808.30 is needed to make goal. But that doesn't mean that the cash is needed right now. You may make your 'Fair Share' pledge now and pay later . . . in installments if you desire. The main thing is that the total allocations to all agencies be paid off 100% during 1959.

It's CONCRETE . . . so it will last you 50 years, and then some!

When they give you modern concrete—they're giving you the best. Michigan highway engineers have always known this—that's why so many of the State's big roads are concrete.

And that's why concrete is the preferred pavement for the new Interstate System—the biggest highway project ever planned.

Concrete pavements have outlasted other types 2 to 1. The new roads will do even better! Fifty years from now, cars will be rolling smoothly on this same concrete . . . and the same surface. (It won't have been resurfaced 4 or 5 times).

That's why it stays flat and smooth riding—doesn't get rippled and wavy. That's why, too, upkeep costs stay so low—up to 60% lower than for asphalt. Yet, surprisingly, concrete roads usually cost no more than asphalt built to carry the same load.

Engineers build for your safety. Concrete means a skid resistant pavement . . . and one that lets you see better at night.

A modern concrete road is a solid investment in a lifetime of pleasant driving for you.

Rayders Cinch First Place With 6th Loop Win

Gaylord Dumps Boyne City; Harbor Springs, Mancelona Win

The Charlevoix Rayders posted their sixth shut-out of the season and at the same time clinched at least a share of the 1956 Northern Michigan Class C title Friday night when they trampled East Jordan by a score of 62 to 0.

Mancelona retained its second place standing by rolling over Pellston 40 to 0; Gaylord trimmed Boyne City 32 to 13 to take over sole possession of third place and Harbor Springs defeated Grayling 38 to 24 to move into a fourth place tie with the defending champions, Boyne City.

Mancelona	40
Pellston	0

In a free scoring game at Mancelona the Ironmen romped over the Pellston Hornets, scoring six touchdowns with either Jerry or Don Biehl having a part in each of the six.

Don Biehl got the Mancelona scoring attack underway when he took a 30 yard pass from quarterback Jerry Bingston to score with Jerry Biehl adding the extra point. Still in the first period, Jerry then took a five yard pass from Bingston to score and then went over for the conversion point.

In the second quarter it was Jerry again, this time on a 70 yard run with Bingston passing to Don Biehl for the conversion. Later in the same period Don took a pass from Bingston for a play that covered five yards to make the halftime score 27 to 0.

Coach Matt Jacobson played his reserves for most of the last half before sending his regulars into action in the final three minutes of play.

Jerry Biehl plunged over from the three yard line and then retraced his steps as he went over for the extra point. A 35 yard pass from Bingston to end Roger Dickson put the ball in scoring position.

The final tally came in the final minute when Bingston let loose with a 25 yard pass to Don Biehl.

Gaylord	32
Boyne City	13

Playing at Gaylord, the defending champions made a good showing in the first half as they held the Blue Devils to a 14 to 13 halftime advantage. In the second half, however, Gaylord blew the game wide open as John Burnison scored on three runs for the lopsided win over Boyne City.

In the first quarter John Burnison got off a 35 yard pass play to end Bruce Walker and later passed for seven yards to John Johnston for the tally. The latter came after the Blue Devils had recovered a Boyne City fumble on the Rambler 31. Boh Burnison booted the extra points as Gaylord took a 14 point lead.

Boyne City came back in the second period with a touchdown by Tom Kujawski from the four yard line and an 80 yard touchdown run by John Kirby with Kujawski plunging for the extra point to make the halftime score 14 to 13.

The threat was short-lived however, as John Burnison scored from the 46 in the third period and from the two and the 14 in the final quarter. A lateral from Will Wright to Burnison set up the final tally.

Harbor Springs	38
Grayling	25

Though they failed to win, Friday was a banner day for the Grayling Vikings who scored for the first time in 14 games as they held the Harbor Springs eleven to a 38 to 25 victory.

Ron Niswander made a 23 yard trip around end to open the Rams scoring attack against the Vikings who snapped back with a touchdown by left halfback Roger Hatfield from the eleven to knot the score.

Doug Meeker, on a reverse around right end and then romped 42 yards to score with George Coveyou booting the extra point.

Grayling moved the ball into scoring position late in the period and on the second play of the second quarter Steve Sink went in for the touchdown on a quarterback sneak.

Meeker took the kickoff following the Viking touchdown and rambled 80 yards for the tally. Grayling took the kickoff and moved the ball to the one foot line as the half ended 19 to 12.

Niswander scored his second touchdown from the 29 early in the second half and Coveyou again converted. Bill Lucksted went over right guard from the one foot line to put Grayling back in the game.

On the second play of the final period Meeker broke away for a 68 yard touchdown run and George Pamp went in from the six to conclude the Rams offensive attack.

Sink scored from the 14 on a quarterback sneak and Hatfield plunged over for the extra point as the game ended.

The Charlevoix Rayders assured themselves of at least a share of the 1958 Northern Michigan Class C title Friday night by trouncing East Jordan 62 to 0.

The Rayders will conclude their season this week when they travel to Harbor Springs to take on the Rams who have a record of three wins and three losses. With Mancelona hot on their trail, the Rayders must win this game if they are to have a clear title to the league championship now held by Boyne City.

The game at Kipke field Friday night featured a bit of everything including a blocked punt which Ron Vandenberg scooped up for a touchdown, five pass interceptions, three of which the Rayders converted into touchdowns, fumbles by both teams, a thrilling 85 yard run by Tom Lakies and eight out of nine successful conversion kicks by Dick VanRaaphorst.

It also featured outstanding play by both Charlevoix's offensive squad which scored almost at will and the defensive squad which devoted its efforts to keeping the Red Devils from crossing the Rayder goal line.

Charlevoix kicked off to the Jordanites but gained possession of the ball at midfield when the Red Devils were forced to punt. With Bud Balch and Lakies carrying the ball, the Rayders moved to the 33 from where Lakies broke away for a touchdown. VanRaaphorst converted.

East Jordan took the kickoff, failed to gain necessary yardage and Charlevoix took their punt, this time on the visitors' 47. With Mike Geneit, Lakies and Balch toting the ball the Rayders moved in to the East Jordan three from where Lakies took it over for the tally. VanRaaphorst converted.

Again Charlevoix kicked off. This time the Red Devils took the ball on their own 25 yard line. They lost two yards on the first try and then were set back to the 13 yard line on a clipping penalty. After three tries they were forced to punt. Steve LaBlance broke through to block the punt. Vandenberg scooped up the loose ball and, with no one near him, romped into the end zone for a touchdown. VanRaaphorst converted.

The first period ended with the conversion play. East Jordan took the kick-off to open the second period which saw East Jordan pick up their first two first downs of the game. An exchange of punts saw East Jordan in possession of the ball midway in the period when Bill Poquette intercepted a Red Devil pass on the Rayder 31. However, a fumble on the East Jordan 38 yard line, five plays later gave the visitors the ball with less than a minute remaining in the first half. The Jordanites punted to Charlevoix who took the ball on their own 10 yard line as the half ended.

East Jordan kicked off to Charlevoix to open the second half. The Rayders took the ball on their own 39 and on a series of plays, marred by a clipping penalty, they moved the ball to the East Jordan 11 yard line. Halfback Stan Smith went through the line to score on the next play.

East Jordan took the ball on their own 27 on the kick-off and moved it to the 30 on the next play where they fumbled in the hackfield and LaBlance recovered on the 26 yard line. Gary Chew picked up five yards on the first play from scrimmage before Lakies moved the ball to the one foot line from where Smith again carried it over for the TD. VanRaaphorst converted to make the score 35 to 0.

After taking the kickoff on their own 36, East Jordan failed to pick up the necessary first down and punted. Charlevoix took the ball on their own 35 and, with Chew, Geneit, Smith, Charles Coleman and Lakies carrying the ball as the line-up changed, moved it to the 16 from where Chew scored. Again VanRaaphorst converted as the play marked the end of the third quarter.

East Jordan took the ball on their own 20 when VanRaaphorst's boot went into the end zone. East Jordan then threw caution to the wind and started passing. Tackle Ken Wojan intercepted the ball on the 20 but the Rayders fumbled on the next play and East Jordan recovered. East Jordan, in two pass plays moved the ball from their own 16 to their 33 when Vandenberg intercepted on the East Jordan 35 and romped the distance to score. The conversion kick was wide and the score remained 48 to 0.

Determined to score against the Rayders, East Jordan again started to pass after taking the kickoff on their own 17. On the second pass Wojan again intercepted on the 14 yard line and was dropped in his tracks. With Chew and Coleman carrying the ball, Charlevoix moved to the one where Steve Wells took it over for the touchdown. VanRaaphorst converted to make the score 55 to 0.

East Jordan took the kickoff on their own 25 and picked up a first down to the 38 from where they were forced to punt.

Charlevoix took the punt on their own nine yard line and picked up five yards when East Jordan had too many men on the field. On the next play Lakies broke away for an 86 yard run to make the score 61 to 0. VanRaaphorst booted to make it 62 to 0.

Charlevoix kicked off to East Jordan and then gained possession of the ball on the East Jordan 31 when a Rayder fell on a free ball. On the next play Smith romped for a touchdown which was nullified when a holding penalty was called on Charlevoix. On the next play East Jordan recovered a Charlevoix fumble on their own 40. They took to the aid but were unsuccessful in their attempt to gain ground as the game ended.

Coach Don Carey emptied his bench as everyone in uniform got to play. Erik Arvilla, who has played regularly throughout the season, was out with a knee injury.

This Week With Class 'C' Teams

Northern Michigan Class C teams presently in the first division in league standings will be protecting these positions when they go into the final games against loop opponents Friday.

The league-leading Charlevoix Rayders will play at Harbor Springs; second place Mancelona will play at Boyne City; fifth place East Jordan will take on the cellar dwellers, the Grayling Vikings, on the latter's field in games scheduled for 8 p.m. and third place Gaylord will take on the Pellston Hornets at Pellston at 3 p.m.

Boyne City and Harbor Springs are now tied for fourth place; Pellston is in sixth and Grayling in last place.

It looks as though Mancelona, with a record of five wins and one loss will avenge earlier losses to the defending champions, the Boyne City Ramblers, this season when the teams meet Friday. During the past two seasons the Ramblers have edged the Ironment by slim margins but this year, barring an upset, the Mancelona eleven, paced by the Biehls, Don and his uncle, Jerry, should come up with a decisive victory over the Ramblers who have a three and three record Boyne City may be without the services of veteran George Shiotelis who suffered an ankle injury in Friday's game with Gaylord. Coach Paul Pfahler said it was doubtful if Shiotelis would be able to play. This would not only weaken the line but would do much to undermine the morale of the team.

Mancelona is expected to be at full strength and out to take this game. They should come up with a win by a lopsided score.

East Jordan, after a bruising loss to Charlevoix last week, will journey to Grayling to take on the Vikings who last week found their way across the opponent's goal line for the first time since the 1956 season.

Unless they let down too much, the Jordanites should come up with Win No. 3 for though the Vikings managed four touchdowns against Harbor Springs it is doubtful if they have enough to pierce the Red Devil line or the speed to go around it. Until Friday's game with the Rayders East Jordan had allowed only seven TD's to be scored against them. Though the line could not contain the Rayders, they should he able to hold the Vikings and thus come up with a win which could move them into a three-way tie with Boyne City and Harbor Springs if the latter two lose to their respective opponents, Mancelona and Charlevoix.

Paced by John Burnison, leading scorer in the loop, the Gaylord Blue Devils will take on the Pellston Hornets in the only afternoon game this week. Though the Hornets show promise for another season, they are not expected to halt the march of the Blue Devils who have only lost to Charlevoix (13-0) and Mancelona (13-12).

Dope Sheet

The league leading Charlevoix Rayders with a record of six shut-outs in the same number of loop games will invade Harbor Springs this week with an eye to finishing the current season with a perfect record.

The Rayders will not only be out for a victory which will give them their first league title since 1955 but will be protecting their defensive record for along with their six victories to date they have kept all comers from crossing their goal line.

Harbor Springs may well be the team to spoil this record for they have a speedster in the person of Doug Meeker who last week scored on runs of 42, 68 and 80 yards. Such speed is always a threat and the Rayders will have to be up for every play if they are going to come up with another shut-out.

Meeker would be the greatest scoring threat the Rams have to offer now that they have lost the passing combination of George Pamp to Ken Garver, a two-some that accounted for a couple victories before. Garver suffered a badly fractured knee that will bench him until February.

Though they are going into the game as the underdog, the Rams may well play the role of spoiler, perhaps not to upset the Rayders but to spoil their other record which has become almost an obsession with them.

A victory by the Rayders will give them the title. Should the Rams pull an upset and Mancelona defeat Boyne City then Charlevoix would have to share the title with the Ironmen. With so much at stake, it is doubtful if the Rayders would pick this time to rest on their laurels.

If the Rayders can attain the goal they have set for themselves, that of keeping all opponents out of their end zone, it will make the first time since the 1945 season that any local team has accomplished this feat.

From the Side Lines . . .

We saw the Rayders play East Jordan with just two things in mind WIN and remained unscored on. With the outcome of that game just as the boys wanted it we can swing over to the coming game with Harbor Springs this Friday evening at Harbor. Each player and spectator will be up for this one as it is the BIG one, will we go all the way with an undefeated season or all the way with an undefeated unscored on season?

As far as we can determine there has been but one team in the history of Charlevoix high to go through a season undefeated and unscored on, that being the team of 1945, coached by Ray Kipke.

We would like to see the team of 1958 match that record and it can be done IF and once again that big little word enters into the picture. Let's all turn out for this one and see IF.

Albert Novotny Named President At Band Meeting

Albert Novotny, veteran drummer with the Charlevoix city band, was elected president of the city band association at the annual election of officers held this week.

Jack Stebe was named vice-president and Pat Moran secretary-treasurer.

The band has embarked on its winter schedule. The director, C. A. Odmark, has issued an invitation to interested adults in the Charlevoix area to join the band in its rehearsals held each Monday from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the high school band room.

There are vacancies in several sections. Clarinets, saxophones and French horns are particularly needed, Mr. Odmark said. Membership is open to all interested adults and to high school students upon invitation.

While preparing for the summer concert season, the band this winter will prepare and present a concert as a benefit for the Park Stage fund. Details of this will be announced later.

was gutted and front of the building destroyed. Besides the usual furnishings in a cottage, a new hot water heater and bathroom fixtures still in the shipping crates were destroyed.

The boys told police that they had found the door of the cottage open, entered and read comic books before lighting some matches.

Police estimated the damage at $5,000. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Police also said the boys had destroyed other property in the vicinity and had entered several other cottages where burned matches were found.

And don't forget the assistance given to residents of the county by the agencies of the Michigan United Fund. Last year six of these agencies spent $619.00 on behalf of Charlevoix county residents researching heart diseases, arthritis and rheumatism, cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis and cancer. Four other agencies spent $4,008.02 on direct service to residents of the county which adds up to a total of $4,627.02 for only 10 of the 33 agencies included in the Michigan United Fund.

Last year, however, Charlevoix county contributed only $3,493.00 to MUF leaving a difference of $1,134.02 to be underwritten by more populous downstate counties. These are the counties which this year are feeling the impact of high unemployment due to the recession with many regular 'fair share' givers out of work.

So who is going to pick up the tab for county? No one but the people in the county who must carry their fair share of the load because there is no one else to do it.

That is why everyone must give some serious thought to Charlevoix's current Community Chest fund drive.

If you have not given to the current drive, won't you do so at once? And if you have, won't you think it over and perhaps add a little more to your contribution so the 1958 Community Chest fund drive may be brought to a successful conclusion.

Senior Class to Present Annual Play

Ginger (Carol Belfy) in football uniform, displays only contempt for the story of an injured ankle Eddie (Scott Supernaw) is telling Mrs. Carol, (Cynthia Curtis) Ginger's mother, in a scene from the three act comedy "Time Out for Ginger" to be presented at the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday.

The highly enjoyable comedy, "Time Out For Ginger" will be presented by the senior class of the Charlevoix high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday.

It's the story of a tomboy, Ginger, played by Carol Belfy, who finds herself ditched by her boyfriend. Tommy, (Bill Morrow) for conduct unbecoming a girl.

Ginger's predicament starts when her father, Howard Carol, played by Don Beeman, feels that he needs some sort of creative release and finds it in lecturing in local high school classes on the need of self-fulfillment. It quickly develops, however, that Ginger, the youngest of his three daughters, has been very much impressed by her father's exhortations. She has further decided that her own true fulfillment can best be realized by going out for the football team.

Any number of complications result: the father's job is jeopardized because of the band president. Ed Hoffman (John Bingham) doesn't approve; Ginger's sisters, Joan (Jill Davis) and Jeannie (Pat Belfy) insist that their social life has been hlighted . . . especially Joan whose boyfriend, Eddie Davis (Scott Supernaw) is captain of the football team; and the girl football player herself finds that playing football and being a girl is not always compatible, particularly when her own boy friend disapproves of what she is doing.

After any number of riotous mishaps in which the mother, Agnes (Cynthia Curtis), Liz (JoAnn Geer) the family maid, and Mr. Wilson (Erik Arvilla) the high school principal participate, the play ends on a happily tender note with the whole family going out to see one of the other sisters in the high school play.

Mrs. Robert G. Martin is directing this comedy which is not only hilarious but human, warm and touchng.

The welcome will be given by Janice Stutzman and 'between acts' entertainment will be hy members of the high school girls glee club.

Steve Wells has been named technical director.

Chamber of Commerce Reviews Achievements At Annual Banquet

Achievements of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce during its first year of operation were reviewed for the benefit of the 90 members who attended the first annual dinner of the organization held at the VFW post home Tuesday evening. Chairmen of the various committees briefly summarized their activities and suggested projects for the coming year.

Presiding at the meeting, president Max Hosmer expressed his appreciation to the members for their loyal support. He was optomistic about the future of the organization and the benefits possible to the community thru increasing support. Operating on a limited budget has necessarily curtailed the promotion program.

He pointed out there are still many potential members in the community who were reticent in supporting the program the first year but he was confident some of these will give their support the organization when they realize the benefits possible.

Dean Davenport, chairman of the program committee, cited the success of the three-day Venetian event, noting that the total attendance was estimated at 35,000 persons. This committee recommended the building of a band stage and was instrumental in re-organizing a chapter of the Barber Shoppers which will receive its charter Dec. 13. A feature of this event will be the appearance of the famous Great Lakes Chorus along with a number of other ranking quartets in the state.

The advertising committee, headed by Bob Miles, was responsible for the attractive sign located about the city. Mr. Miles called attention to the Venetian night pictures obtained this year which will be valuable for future publicity promotions. The committee recommends placing two highway signs, more local directional signs along with an extended publicity program.

Robert Neff, chairman of the retail division stated this group is working on a local credit system and has also solicited co-operation of merchants in establishing uniform evening open hours.

Membership pledges paid to date amount to $8,839, according to Robert Leiberman, chairman of the finance committee. Unpaid pledges amount to $1,162.00. He reported a balance on hand of $1,486. He said expenditure amounted to $6,165 which included $1.919.00 for Venetian days, and $3,129 for secretary's salary. The balance was spent for stationary, postage, printing, travel expenses and other miscellaneous needs.

Dick Fochtman reported the industrial committee had been working on a number of leads. He stated his committee is in the process of compiling statistical information which will be of specific value to industries interested in locating plants.

Norman Ance, treasurer, had on optomistic outlook for the future of the Chamber of Commerce and its potential value to the community. He anticipated an increase in membership support of the organization.

Summarizing the activities of the first year, Tom Symons, secretary, listed the sign program, the 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. hours the information office was open, the housing bureau set-up, the weekly fishing reports to more than 300 newspaper and broadcasting stations, and the efforts mode to book conventions. He said 4,000 pieces of literature had been mailed in reply to requests for information about Charlevoix, plus 1,100 personally answered letters. In addition 450 replies had been sent to industrial prospects.

The dinner was served by the Womens Guild of Christ Episcopal church.

400,000 Hunters Licensed to Take Deer in State

More than 400,000 hunters will open Michigan's firearm deer season on November 15.

By season's end, Conservation Department officials estimate 450,000 hunters will hove been afield.

The opener this year falls on Saturday, which should intensify the usually heavy hunting on the front end of the season.

Among the hunters who departed this week for hunting camps in the upper peninsula were Frank Bird, Clarence Coblentz, Floyd Brown, H. G. Bird of Traverse City and Douglas Bird of Ann Arbor who are at their hunting camp on the Two Heart river in Luce county.

Bonnie Nickerson, Ted Ager Ken Ager of Flint, Ralph Shapton of Detroit and Keith Nickerson of Petoskey have also gone to Ontonagon county.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Rose and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Pemberton plan to leave today (Thursday) for their camp near Foster City.

Going to the Seney area are Frank Boss, John Martin, John E. Boss and Dean Boss who were to leave today for the upper peninsula.

Again this year, the Department will operate deer checking stations along principal north-south highways where hunters may, if they like, have their deer checked for age, weight and physical development. Information gathered at these stations helps state biologists with deer management programs.

Also, highway counts of deer on cars will be made and the figures statistically calculated to determine total deer kill.

Parent-Teachers Head Campaign to Build New High School and Gym

The proposal to bond the Charlevoix school district for $995,000 to be used for construction of a new junior-senior high school was approved 600 to 514 at the special school election Monday. Approval of the program brought to a successful conclusion an extensive four week campaign, sponsored by the Charlevoix Parent-Teachers association, to inform the public about school needs and to get electors to the polls for the special election. A record 1,127 votes was achieved by the drive.

Immediately following voters' approval of the bond issue, machinery was put in motion to get the bond issue approved by the state and offered for sale. Under o suggested schedule, actual construction is expected to start next summer and the entire project completed for the opening of school in the fall of 1960.

There is every indication that there will be keen competition among buyers to get Charlevoix bonds as many of them have indicated they regard this issue more attractive than many of the other school bond issues in the state. This is likely to result in a much lower interest rate than suggested in the proposal.

The results of the school study survey conducted the past year by the Parent-Teacher association in co-operation with Michigan State University department of education focused public attention on the overcrowded conditions and general inadequacy of the school. An extensive study of recommendations made in the survey report culminated in the building and remodeling program presented to the voters prior to the election Monday.

The main task of presenting the program to the electors was carried out by the Parent-Teachers association along with many non-members volunteers. Following a well planned promotion program, workers endeavored to contact all voters in the district prior to the election. This was followed by a public meeting for the purpose of explaining any questionable parts of the project. Public acceptance is evidence of the thoroughness of the promotion.

When the results of the election were announced, Mrs. E. D. Hawley, president of the PTA, lauded these who gave so generously of their time to promote a new school for Charlevoix. She said that more than 70 persons participated in the personal call program and 16 persons worked most of election day getting voters to the polls.

Tomorrow's Town

Voter approval of a bond issue to build a new high school is another step in building tomorrow's community. The new high school will be another accomplishment in the growing plans so necessary to every community if it is not to become "yesterday's town."

Community planning is becoming a more important consideration in a program for attracting new industry. Manufacturers are convinced it is advantageous to place new plants in areas that plan for the future. A plot of ground is no longer sufficient to attract a new industry.

Industries take a broad view as it determines location for a new plant. It is interested in a community that has a plan to provide adequate streets, designated areas for residential, commercial and industrial growth, schools that provide sufficient class rooms, municipal sewer and water services that can be expanded to meet local growth. Churches and medical facilities must also be adequate.

Charlevoix is headed in the right direction and rates high in some of the essential requisites necessary to be tomorrow's town.

Need for adequate planning is of vital importance in any community which expects to attract new industry or retain the industry it already has. These things can only be accomplished when municipal officials receive wholehearted public support.

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

IT'S OFF TO the woods this week for the hunters . . . and if the weather we've had over the weekend keeps up, the deer will be smarter than the people because they'll hide under the cedars in the swamp . . . But everyone is hoping . . . the hunters, that is . . . that there will be tracking snow . . . The only trouble with snow is that sometimes it keeps coming and gets so deep that couldn't make tracks through it if you tried . . . Anyway, don't forget to call us about your luck . . . if you can't get the office, call us at LI 7-6633.

ANOTHER OF OUR Charlevoixans broke into print last week . . . Helen Goldstick, now living in Arlington, Va., and a member of the Aububon Society of the District of Columbia, whose article "An Aquarium for Non-Swimmers" appeared in the current issue of the Atlantic Naturalist . . . An avid bird watcher, Goldie told in the article how she utilized an aquarium as a bird feeder in the window of her apartment at Arlington . . . A mighty clever idea by an equally clever gal.

HAVE YOU MADE your contribution to the Community Chest yet? If not, do it at the earliest possible date because the campaign is running behind . . . and your contribution is needed.

OUR RAYDERS came through in great style . . . with a perfect season and we're mighty proud of them . . . We think a great deal of credit goes to Coach Carey and his lads . . . they worked long hard hours in all sorts of weather and they've worked as a team . . . It's not easy to take this number of kids, each with his own ideas and personality, and mold them into such a fine outfit . . . We're bustin' with pride and we hope you feel the same way.

AND BESIDES being a great team, this outfit's composed of a lot of thoughtful kids as a couple guys we know will verify . . . Every night someone had to tote these kids to and from the football field . . . this job fell to Martin Elzinga and Earl Crandall . . . Last week they were rewarded for all the bad times these rambunctious kids gave them . . . for on the last trip the kids presented each with a real nice gift . . . And as Earl said when telling us about it "It sure makes you feel good."

BACK IN 1927 when the present elementary school and gym were constructed we heard talk of a new high school . . . to replace the one now in use . . . That was some 31 years ago . . . And now we're going to have a new high school . . . If you're like us, the idea's going to take some getting used to . . . If you know what we mean . . . But we think it's pretty wonderful . . . that the kids coming up through the grades will have a wonderful new school . . . We hope they will appreciate it.

Veenstra-Boss Wedding Vows Exchanged Saturday at Church of God Ceremony

The Community Church of God was the scene Saturday evening of the wedding of Myrna Rae Veenstra and Kenneth J. Boss.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Minert Veenstra of Ellsworth and Mr. and Mrs. John L. Boss.

The Rev. George L. Majors officiated at the double ring service in the presence of more than 300 guests. Arrangements of white pompoms and greens and lighted tapers flanked the altar which had been decorated by Delora Richardson and Mrs. Ingma Pontious.

John Elzinga of Atwood, the organist, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied the soloist, Marvin Shooks, who sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a waltz length gown of white net over taffeta for her wedding. The scalloped neckline of the lace bodice was embroidered with seedpearls and sequins. The gown also featured long tapered sleeves and a full skirt of net with inserts of lace. A seedpearl and sequin tiara secured her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white frenched carnations and snowdrift pompoms centered with pink roses.

Mrs. David Kass of Grand Rapids, as matron of honor, wore a ballerina length gown of frosted aqua fashioned with a lace bodice and a bouffant taffeta skirt. She wore a black velvet headband and matching black velvet choker and carried a white muff to which arrangement of pink roses and white carnations had been pinned.

Mrs. Garry Vandenberg of Mt. Clemens and Kathy Boss, sisters of the bridegroom, as bridesmaids, wore similar gowns of pink crystalette, pink velvet head dresses and black velvet chokers. They carried white muffs to which an arrangements of pink carnations were pinned.

Susie Boss, niece of the bride and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Boss, was flower girl and John Whitley, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer. Susie wore a pink nylon dress and a matching floral headband and carried a basket of pastel pompoms.

Herbert Boss assisted his brother as best man. Nathan Boss and Garry Vandenberg of Mt. Clemens, brother and brother-in-law, respectively, of the bridegroom, were groomsmen. Donald Aardema of Central Lake, cousin of the bride, and Minert Veenstra jr., brother of the bride, were ushers.

Mrs. Veenstra chose an olive green knit suit and bittersweet accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Boss, mother of the bridegroom, wore a charcoal print dress and black and white accessories. Their corsages were of yellow pompoms.

A tiered wedding cake centered the refreshment table which also held a bride doll cake and the groom's cake. Mrs. James Landis of Detroit, Mrs. Robert Best of Ellsworth, Mrs. Cass Russell, Mrs. William Kerr and Jeanne McDonald assisted.

After a week's wedding trip through the upper peninsula, the couple will return here to make their home. For traveling the bride wore a black knit suit and winter white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride is a graduate of the Ellsworth high school and the Carnegie Medical Institute of Detroit and is presently engaged as a medical assistant at the office of Dr. Gerald Drake in Petoskey. Mr. Boss, a 1955 graduate of the Charlevoix high school, is employed by the Chicago Bridge and Steel Co.

Wedding guests were present from Ellsworth, Central Lake, East Jordan, Holland, Detroit, Grand Rapids and Petoskey.

The new Mrs. Boss was honored at a miscellaneous shower recently given by Mrs. Clarence Murray, Delora Richardson, Mrs. John Fratrick, Mrs. Cass Russell and Mrs. Ingma Pontious. Thirty-five guests attended the event which was held at the Community Church of God Fellowship hall.

Earlier Mrs. Robert Best of Ellsworth entertained at a personal shower honoring the prospective bride.

Elizabeth Marie Blum Becomes Bride Of Walter Poquette in Petoskey Service

The First Presbyterian church in Petoskey was the scene recently of the wedding of Elizabeth Marie Blum, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Blum, and Walter George Poquette.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Poquette of Charlevoix are the parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. Lloyd Brassure officiated at the double ring service Saturday, Nov. 2, in the presence of their immediate families. Arrangements of white mums and gladioli and ferns decorated the church of the ceremony.

Mrs. Gertrude Fiarbairn at the organ played a program of traditional wedding music and the wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white lace over satin for her wedding. The sabrina neckline, fitted bodice and the tips of the long tapered sleeves were ebroidered with seed pearls and sequins. The pleated satin midriff draped to a large back bow which accented the full sweeping skirt. A crown of seedpearls and sequins secured her fingertip veil and she carried a lace fan covered with a spray of white roses.

Mary Blum attended her sister as maid of honor and another sister, Bonnie Blum, was bridesmaid. They wore identical street length gold sheaths with net overskirts. Their wrist corsages were of autumn colored mums and leaves and bittersweet.

Joseph Etienne of Charlevoix assisted the bridegroom as best man. William Poquette, brother of the bride, seated the guests.

Mrs. Blum chose a gold and light blue print dress and matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Poquette, mother of the bridegroom, wore an aqua gown and matching accessories. Their corsages were of yellow roses.

4-H'ers Enroll for Winter Projects

Charlevoix county 4-H Club members are now enrolling in winter projects, according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent. This is the start of the winter 4-H Club program which will end with a Spring 4-H Achievement Day in Charlevoix.

This year for the first time, 4-H members are enrolled on individual cards. This will make it easier for the 4-H leader and will give the Extension Office a more up-to-date complete record of the 4-H members.

4-H leaders who are starting clubs are asked by the Extension Office to let them know many cards they need for their members. These will be sent to the leaders and upon completion by the members returned to the Extension Office.

Any 4-H Club wishing assistance in starting a 4-H club or in carrying out their projects are asked to call the Extension Office and help will be given.

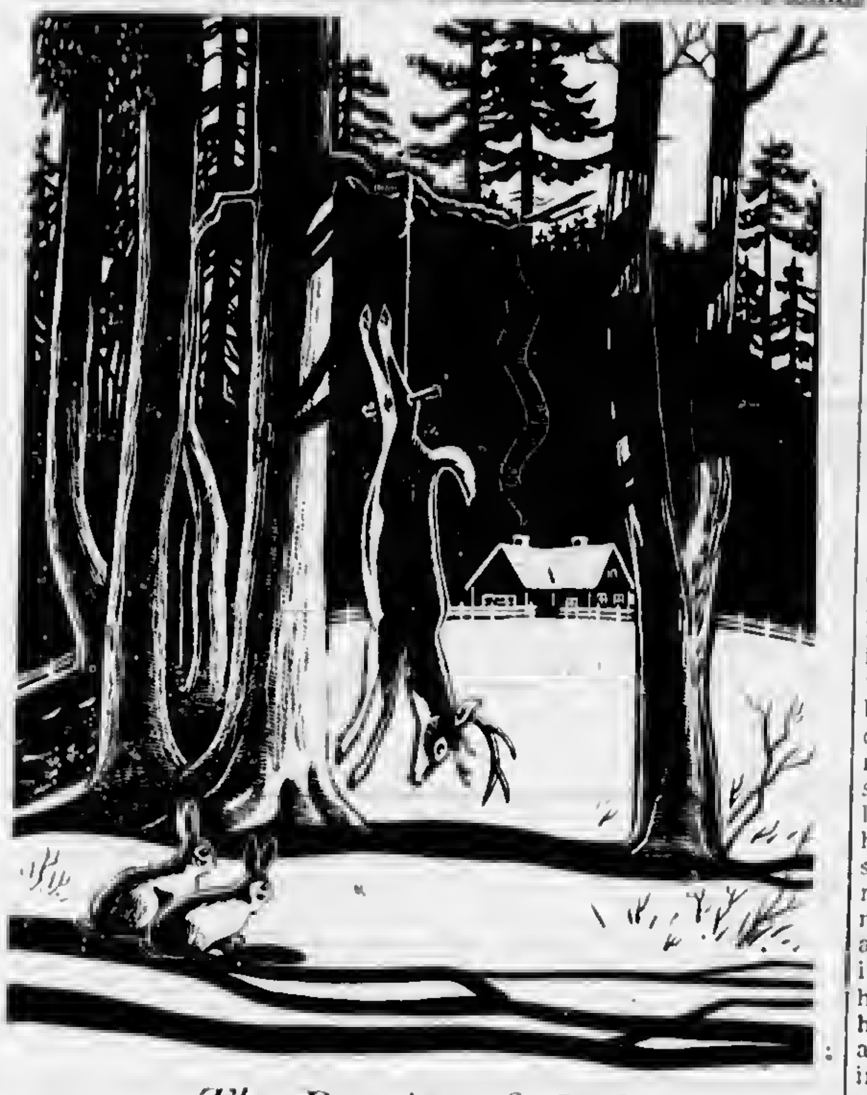
Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn



The Brevity of Life

Deer hunting season arrives this week. Once more we shall hear the roar of rifles in the woods and the triumphant shouts of excited hunters who have bagged their game, and here and there we shall see the strung-up bodies of whitetails that a few hours before throbbed with life. While I know full well that in many Northern areas either deer must be killed or they will starve, and while I am no gushing sentamentalist, still I never see a dead deer but that I feel a twinge of regret.

One thing that bothers me about deer hunting is that most deer are brought to such an early death by the hunter's guns. A deer's natural life-span is above fifteen years, and many a deer has been kept in captivity for well over eighteen years. But it is a lucky deer indeed that attains ten years in the wild. And where hunting pressure is intense, most deer shot will be less than five years of age, which means that these graceful, vivacious animals die when they have lived about a third of their natural life expectancy. It is somewhat as if most human beings in our locality died violently before they were twenty-three years old.

Life is brief enough at its best. For the bear it is a span of only twenty to thirty years, for the fox less than a decade, about the same for a gray squirrel, ten to fifteen years for the wolf, and a mere three years for the white-footed mouse. But then the violence of their natural enemies, and the predation of man reduces their lives still more. The moral of all this not that man should not hunt, but rather that when he does take his gun into forest and field it should be to hunt sparingly rather than greedily, intelligently and appreciatively rather than blood thirstily, knowing that the lithe bundle of vitality he reduces to lifeless flesh will likely have lived only about one third of its years. There are haunts it will never visit, streams from which it will never drink again, offspring it will never sire. The hunter has contributed to the brevity of life.

The brevity of life, is one of its obvious characteristics. Each form of living thing has its own limitations upon longevity. No deer lives to be ninety years of age as does many a human being, nor does any mouse live to the age of eighteen as do some deer, and no May Fly attains the age of three as do meadow mice. No human life span has reached three thousand years as do sequoia trees in California. Human life seems brief, no matter its length, if a person lives with enjoyment and packs his days full of interest and plans for the future. When some people die it does not seem to be much of a tragedy, because they never really lived. They were grumpy rather than joyful, they existed in the past rather than in the present and the future. They would not know what to do with the tomorrows if their lives had been prolonged. But for others almost any span of existence offered them would be too short, because there would always be more to accomplish, more good to be done, more hope and cheer to spread around.

Some of our greatest thrills and excitements stem from the limitations life imposes upon us. A football team does not have all day to score against its opponent. The teams have only an hour of playing time. If a team is six points behind its opponent, and on the march toward the adversary's goal line, and there is only one-half minute left in the game, excitement rises to delerium. If the time were then extended from one-half minute to one-half day, interest in the game would immediately subside. Limitations provoke fascination. The baseball batter is allowed but three strikes. Grant each player two dozen strikes each turn at bat and the game would become unbearably tiresome. The real fun in the game is derived from the limitations imposed upon the players.

Religious people sense the challenge life flings at mankind in the form of restrictions. In the Ninetieth Psalm the writer presents a sobering, doleful thought: "The days of our years are three-score years and ten; and if by reason of strength they be four-score years, yet is their strength labour and sorrow; for it is soon cut off, and we fly away." A solemn reflection, isn't it? But the Psalmist continues toward a conclusion that has adventure in it: "So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom." The scripture writer felt the pressure of life's limitations. He knew his physical resources were not boundless. He would not live forever here. The Almighty Umpire has placed a time limit on the game of life. Very well, then, that is what makes our days interesting. They are not interminable. All that we do must be accomplished before the period is over. Every score must be affected before the bell tolls. That adds excitement and interest to our days.

Not only do time boundaries add zest to our lives, but our days take an additional meaning, too, when brevity is recognized. When the wise know their time is limited they are apt to use it more carefully. Mind you I say "use it" not "save it." We time-conscious Americans are forever trying to "save time." We use an automobile rather than to walk to "save time," and we have our automobiles geared to drive at ridiculous high speeds—to "save time." We have invented a vast number of gadgets for kitchen, shop and office that are advertised to "save time." Yet no one ever saves time, not if we mean by saving it, hoarding it, as some people do string and others do money. All the time you are given today you will spend before midnight — every bit of it. Cut all the corners you please, live at a furious rate, race through every moment of the day, and still you cannot save a moment for use tomorrow. All of today's minutes must be spent before midnight. Time can be squandered, spent foolishly or spent wisely But somehow, somewhere it must be spent. It cannot be saved.

Consciousness of the brevity of time leads some of us to spend it foolishly. Since life is short, live it up, some people say. Live it hilariously, seekng pleasure as the greatest good. Don't take life so seriously, the proponents of this view contend, for none of us have much time. Life is so short! Spend it freely. That is like a farmer saying that because he has only ten acres of land, instead of six hundred as does his neighbor, therefore it does not matter what he does with his ten acres. Rather, if he owns so little, it is all the more imperative that he make the best possible use of his limited land resources. The arguement in favor of squandering life because it is short is like a man who has lost a million dollars and is down to his last ten saying, "After all, it is only ten dollars! It doesn't matter what I do with that little amount." Rather, because ten dollars is all he has he must see that he makes it count. If his money were unlimited he could afford to be somewhat prodigal. But with so little he had better invest it carefully.

Have you heard it said "You are only young once" as an excuse for living carelessly? Youth will not last forever, why not spend ones early days wildly? No intelligent young person ever falls for that line of argument. It is because childhood and adolesence are brief that they ought not be wasted. These are the impressionable, formative years when patterns of feeling, thinking and acting are established. It is the growing period of life. No youngster will ever grow so much again, change so much again, nor be so impressionable again. Because one is young only once he ought to see to it that his mind is exposed to the highest thoughts, the best friendships and that he eats and drinks of the good things of life that make for future courage, hope, loyalty, cheerfulness and service.

Where did we get the expression, "the dangerous forties?" It comes from the long experience of the race where many a generation has seen the middle-aged behave more foolishly than when they were young. People in their forties see their youth slipping away. Women fear their glamour is disappearing. Man find belt lines enlarging, hair vanishing and athlete prowess waneing. So in their forties people are bound to be tempted. They want to see if they have the same old zip, the same sex appeal. Flirtations are frequent. Many a man and women who in early years were above moral reproach and whose loyalty in early marriage was unquestioned, fall in middle age because they fear powers are waning, glamour is going and they are stunned with a consciousness of the shortness of life.

If life is so short we must be all the more careful of its use. Middle-age should be one of life's most satisfying periods. With the uncertainties, giddiness and instability of youth behind, and with the physical liabilities of old age not yet arrived, middle-age can be the bright noon of life. The wise person will handle his middle-years in a thrifty fashion.

Aging people feel the brevity of years more than do most others. Growing old is not so bad if we consider the only alternative, but it is troublesome enough if we still have much we would like to accomplish, and vigor is diminishing, and life's brief day is nearing sunset time. Then especially, we should give our time to the things that matter most. The fact that "the time is short" can be a stimulant rather than a depressive. At seventy-four Emanuel Kant wrote his finest philosophical works. When he was eighty Verdi produced "Falstaff" and five years later his hauntingly beautiful "Ave Maria." Goethe was eighty when he completed "Faust" and Tennyson eighty when he wrote "Crossing the Bar." Michelangelo finished his greatest work at eighty-seven and Titian painted the historic picture, "Battle of Lepanto" at ninety-eight. A consciousness of a limited future brought forth the best efforts of these servants of human kind. It should in all the aged. As long as an old person has a single human contact left there is good to be done. And scoring within the time limit can be as sporting and thrilling as in any other game our years have offered.

No matter our age or situation, what can any one of us do about the brevity of life? We can remember that if life is short we have time only for the best. Among our good public servants are the junk man and the garbage man. They get rid of refuse, trash and clutter, helping us to simplify life by carting away the unimportant stuff, the useless. But

BY DES

First of all I've got to correct a mistake in last week's column. I gave Browns 3 points over Swanson when actually it was the other way around. Please accept my most humble apology.—Especially Swanson's!

Well the Oilers finally ran into it — but good — and in the form of Freedman No. 2. I've said right along this team would hurt somebody and they finally came through. They took 3 points from Sinclair and in doing so set a league high game of 980, which will be hard to beat. It's hard to say who was the big gun for Freedmans as they all rolled over their averages but Ted Potter was high with his 527, followed by H. Pearsoll with a 515. For the losers O'Riley was right in there again. This time with a big 608 series. Tip had 2 nice games of 203-231, but faltered in the third game and had a 174. Bob Wallace was trying to make up for last week's showing and had a 512.

Freedman No. 1 ran up against something also as Puffs won 3 points. Somebody finally beat Puff for total on his team. It was Ed Lemeke who had a nice 557. Puff came in second though with a 213 game in a 533 series. Ron C. might have had a nice series but his second game really hurt, I won't tell them you only had a 94 Ron. For Freedman's Baker was the only man over the 500 mark. Bill had a 202 game in a nice 572 series.

The other top team, Neff's also lost three points. The spoilers this time was Hess Furniture. Ralph himself led the way with a big first game of 228 and ended up with a nice 559. I see they're trying Herb out in the number two spot now. It must of helped —a little. He's up to 440 now. For Neff's, nobody had anything big and the best they could produce was a 484 by Howie Struthers.

Now we come to the highlight of the evening. (At least my highlight) The Airport finally got over the .500 mark as they won 3 points from Brown Motors. Soupie hit 500 right on the button, Hank still has "basementitis" and I had one of those rare nights that everybody gets once in a while. Hit a 613 series with games of 246 and 207 and then like Tip faltered in the third game and could only get a 160. We both had Baker's series of 624 in our sights, but couldn't quite reach it. Maybe another night, Tip! For Browns it was a bad night for everybody and the best they had was a 412 by Norm Empey.

Lake Construction and Moonlight Gardens split, 2 points a piece. For the Lakers it was Hal Forbrig having a good night and having his first 500 series of the season. Hal came in with a 521 followed by John Wojan with a 505 series including a 201 game. For the Moonlighters (as was with Puff's) somebody also finally took the spotlight. Instead of Jim Lawyer, this time it was Grover Geneit. Grover had a 493 but Jim had the high game of 204.

Swanson's took 3 points again Electric as the best Browe this week (I've got it right this time) Their victim was Browe could do was a 462 by Ted. For Swanson's, who have really been coming in the last three weeks, jumping from 9-12 to 18-22, Ron Swanson led the way with a 535. Bob Ferguson was next with a 524 and then a newcomer to the team W. Taylor who looks as if he should do them some good had a 201 game in a 505 series.

* * *

She's tightening boys — watch out after deer season, everybody will be out for blood. There will not be any column next week because there won't be any bowling Tuesdav — Deer Hunting — which reminds me — for a nominal fee (say a piece of venison) I could get your name in the paper.

Local Producers Start Campaign To Sell Milk

Milk producers of Charlevoix county, supplying Maxbauer Creamery, this week launched an advertising campaign to promote the sale of their product. Purpose of the campaign will be to make the public more conscious of the high quality milk consistantly made available to consumers in this area, according to John Weiland.

Mr. Weiland points out that through the close co-operation of the producers and the local dairy, the quality of the milk supplied the Charlevoix area is rated with the highest quality milk produced in the state. Equally important to the consumers, he says, is he fact that because of the small area served it is always possible to supply fresher milk here than in communties where the source of supply is a great distance from the point of consumption.

- Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dickie left Tuesday for Zephyr Hills, Calif., where they will spend the winter.

The Wilsons got married last month. Each day Jim and Anne count the hours 'til they're together. They're eager to share the present . . . happy to dream of the future.

Jim figures that anything so good to come home to needs an extra measure of care. And he intends to provide it.

For one thing, he's already signed up for Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection. Jim knows it offers the most care when it's most needed . . . both today and in the future when youngsters start coming along. It saves him worry about unexpected hospital and medical bills, too.

But how about you? Don't you think your family ought to have the security only Blue Cross-Blue Shield provides? Ask about it, especially the new "M-75" medical plan.

Brevity of Life . . .

they can only carry off what we set out for them in the trash and garbage cans. The choice is ours. We need an improved sense of discrimination, knowing what is worth discarding and what should be kept. Since life is too small to hold everything, what shall we keep? Since most of us have limited time for reading, what shall we read — the great books about great men, a great spirit, great facts and problems? If a person could read all day every day he could afford to peruse third-rate literature, but with limited time for reading we need to choose the best.

Life is too brief for grumpy fault-finding and earping criticism, too short for grudges, malice, and revenge, too fleeting for indulgence in the things that death so quickly snatches away. Our days are just roomy enough to accomodate the gifts that time cannot corrode — like faith, hope and love.

Live each day in grateful wonder as if it were the first day you had ever seen, and live each day thoughtfully and effectively as if it were the last you would ever see.

Reading Consultant Conducts Clinic Here

Miss Eloise Johnson, reading consultant for a publishing firm, held a reading clinic at the Charlevoix public school Thursday, according to Glenn B. Snider, elementary school principal.

Elementary teachers observed a second grade reading class during the afternoon and later met for a discussion period.

The clinic serves as a refresher course and to introduce new teaching methods.

Festive Dresses at a Discount During November at FAY'S

Ellsworth Seniors To Present Play

Ellsworth — Friday and Saturday evening November 14 and 15, the Senior Class of Ellsworth will present their annual Senior play "Happy Daze" at 8:00 p.m.

This is a three act farce comedy all happening in one evening Here is a short synopsis of the play: "And Hominy Joe was really in a tight place now. Boy, this really got suspense, ain't it, Wilbur. They had him in their clutches, but Hominy Joe, with the brain of Ellery Queen, The muscles of Dick Tracy, and the courage of Lassie, swung into action, Boy, this has really got class, If you didn't know how would you think he got out of this mess, Wilbur."

Come and find out about one of the hectic stages in a girl's life, when she finds herself too old to do what she used to do but still too young to do the things she wants to do. This is exactly what's troubleing Betty Lou Maxwell (Margaret Hasting) Sister Connie (Kathy Essenberg) goes out with the fellows right and left, and little brother Wilbur (Dann Vander Ark) is running his legs off right to his shoulders, but Betty Lou has to stay at home. So Bernadine (Sue Lather) a good friend stops by with the idea of all ideas. If Betty Lou could be kidnapped, she could have every thing her own way in a downhill pull. So together they write a ransom note, and stick it to the wall with an icepick. According to plans Mama (Mary Jean Essenberg) and Papa (Jim Campau) are frantic. Then a couple none-to-bright, would-be-robbers, Elmer (John Dillon) and Muggsy (Joe Ooosterbaan) do away with Betty Lou!

Come and find out what happens. Remember Nov. 14 and 15 at 8:00 p.m.

Maple syrup is exclusively a product of North America since the maples of other lands do not make an acceptable sugar.

Know Your Community Chest

The Charlevoix County Red Cross chapter, Salvation Army and the Boy Scouts are three of the 11 agencies participating in the 1958 fund drive now underway to raise $9,996.06.

The Red Cross, whose services are well known, has requested the same amount as last year, $1,000. The chapter's quota for the county is $3,461.00, approximately 50 percent of which will be allocated to the national organization for use in its many programs including disaster.

In the county the Red Cross assists servicemen and veterans, fire victims whether they are veterans or civilians. The scope of their program is limited due to a shortage of funds but certain phases of the program including home service, classes in home nursing and water safety are carried on. Last June the chapter sent one local resident to the Water Safety School at Whitehall in order to learn to teach swimming and water safety.

The Salvation Army has requested $325, the same as last year. The requested amount is considered the community's share for use by the state organization which benefits residents of this area through its varoius services.

Services which the organization renders to non-corps areas in the state include Home and Hospital which assists unwed mothers; Prison and Police work, disaster and emergency as well as many special programs for the agent, Indigent, unemployed and children.

The Scenic Trails Council of Boy Scouts of America has entered a request for $1,450.00, the same as last year.

The funds requested are used to support the Boy Scout Council whose headquarters is in Traverse City. The Council offers assistance in the organization of the Boy Scout program which has well over 100 boys in Cub, Boy and Sea Scouts.

From The Side Lines

What is wrong with high school team rating systems in Michigan?

This question came up along the side lines after the Rayders winning of the Northern Michigan Class "C" Conference.

The Rayders, an 'average' team at times has an impressive record, in the past 14 years of season play the Rayders have won 10 Northern Michigan Class "C" Championships — 10 out of 14 — but have never been rated as Class C State Champions while Boyne City and East Jordan each held the State Championship Title during the 4 years Charlevoix was not in possession of the northern "C" crown.

Eight of the Rayder Championship teams were undefeated in conference play; two (1945 and 1958) were undefeated and unscored on, six were consecutive championships without defeat.

Few teams in the state of Michigan can boast of a championship record such as the Rayders —few would want to boast of teams such as these which have never held a State Class "C" Title!

In those 14 seasons Charlevoix has a record of 84 games won, 4 tied, 11 lost in 99 starts, a total of 2422 points scored with only 577 points scored against them.

The facts are here where are the championships, why hasn't Charlevoix won a State Crown?

We could say "tune in next week for the climax of this thrilling episode—find out why the Rayders have never held a state crown," but We don't have the answer, maybe next season we will.

Charlevoix Has Most Graduates; Mancy, East Jordan, Harbor Next

Friday's games marked the final prep gridiron appearances of some 76 young Northern Michigan Class C athletes, the majority of whom will join the 'cap and gown parade' next spring.

Among those bowing out of the scene are 13 members of the championship Charlevoix Rayder squad, all of whom played major roles in bringing Charlevoix its first title since the 1955 season.

Mancelona, East Jordan and Harbor Springs also will be hard hit by graduation with each losing 11 players; Pellston will count 10, Gaylord nine, Grayling seven and Boyne City only four.

The Mancelona Ironmen who finished in second place behind the Rayders will lose such outstanding players as Jerry Biehl, top scorer in the league this season with a total of 80 points, his nephew, Don Biehl, and Rod Chase, regular backs, Roger Dickinson and Tim Meeder, ends, Leslie Robbins, a tackle, John Hart, center and Dan Rahilly, a guard, all members of the starting line-up and Bill Stradinger, Bob Gaylord and Glenn Collins, regular sugstitutes for the Varsity.

Another team losing 11 players is East Jordan where the list will include Jim Kenny, Jim Yetshaw, Jack Gee and Mike Schenck all regular backs, Wilson Taylor, a substitute back, Jack Kraemer, Jerry Chanda, Bob Johnson, Buck Cihak and Curt Thompson, all starting lineman and Joe Pienta, a back who made a name for himself in the final game of the season by running back two kickoffs for touchdowns.

Six regulars are named on the list of seniors at Harbor Springs. Among them are Ken Garver, an end, who is hospitalized with a knee fracture which is expected to keep him sidelined until February, John Borowski, a regular guard who received a badly torn ligament which required surgery following the Charlevoix game, Stan Huffman, 220 pound tackle, Jerry Burns, an end, Ed Meyer and Ron Niswander, regular backs. Other are Gerald Wells, Arnold House, Dilk Rosemeier, Bob Bernhardt and Gary Moulton.

Only four regulars will be lost to the Boyne City Ramblers this season. They are John Kirby, a back, George Shiotelis, and end, Paul Hibbard, a tackle and Pat Bryan, a guard.

At Pellston the Hornets will lose five regulars, Bill McClutchey and Allen Cameron, ends, Lucius Cabinaw and Nelson Marshall, tackles, and Bob Ford, fullback.

Charlevoix Coaches

The Charlevoix Red Rayders finished their 1958 season last Friday without a point scored against them. This marks the second time that a Charlevoix team has accomplished this.

This also marks the tenth Northern Michigan Class C Championship for Charlevoix. Winning their first with the 1945 team, then five consecutive titles in 1946, 1947, 1948, 1949, 1950.

In the 1948 and 1949 seasons East Jordan was co-champions with Charlevoix. Playing to a scoreless tie in 1948 and then to a 13-13 tie in 1949.

In 1950 Ray Kipke retired from coaching, leaving behind an outstanding record. After arriving on the scene in 1945 his teams had won 32, tied two and lost none.

Del Terrill coached the 1950 team and prnceeded to lengthen the winning streak. But in 1951 Charlevoix played to a scoreless tie with Boyne City and lost to East Jordan 0-6.

East Jordan won the title in 1952. But the Rayders came right back in 1953 and 1954. Terrill then quit coaching with a very successful record of 29 wins, 1 tie and 5 losses. Then Don Carey took over. In his first year as coach of Charlevoix the Rayders won the championship in a thrilling 13-12 win over Boyne City. The Boyne City Ramblers grabbed two undisputed championships before Carey's powerhouse 1958 team came on the scene.

Harbor Springs Is 8th Victim: 67-0

The Charlevoix Rayders trampled Harbor Springs 67 to 0 Friday night to capture the 1958 Northern Michigan Class C title. The game also marked the end of the Rayders first perfect season since 1945.

The Rayders scored 321 points to 0 in seven league games and one non-conference game with Rogers City.

The defending champions, the Boyne City Ramblers, ended the season in a three-way tie for fourth place with East Jordan and Harbor Springs. The Mancelona Ironmen who have finished in second place more times than any other team in the loop finished behind the Rayders. Gaylord ended up in third place; Pellston in fifth and Grayling in last place.

The Charlevoix Rayders, intent on keeping their defensive record intact, spent most of their time in the Harbor Springs backfield Friday night as they broke through, time and again, to down the Rams ball carrier before he could get away.

Only once, on next to the last play before the half, did a Ram break away for a run. He was the speedster, Doug Meeker, who romped 83 yards only to have the touchdown nullified by an offside penalty. The half ended on the next play.

The Rayders, up for the game capitalized on the Rams many errors, recovering fumbles, intercepting passes and, in general, giving the Rams few opportunities to gain ground.

The Rayders kicked off to the Rams but gained possession of the ball on the Harbor Springs 20 yard line when Steve LaBlance blocked a punt. Tom Lakies carried to the five before taking the hall over on the next play. Dick VanRaaphorst added the conversion on a boot.

Again Charlevoix kicked off and this time Ron Niswander took the hall and returned it to the Harbor 45 where he fumbled as he was tackled and Kenny Wojan recovered. On the next play Bud Balch went in to score from the 45. The kick was wide and the score remained 13 to 0.

This time Charlevoix got off a short kick which the Rams took on their 33. The ball was fumbled on the attempted punt when the Rayders broke through the Ram defense and again Wojan recovered, this time on the Harbor 38. Lakies carried to the 33 and Balch to the 25 but an offside penalty set the ball back to the 38 from where Lakies went into the end zone on the next play. VanRaaphorst's boot made the score 20 to 0.

Charlevoix was in possession of the ball on the Harbor 25 after taking a Rams punt as the quarter ended.

An offside penalty set them back to the Harbor 30 and after failing to make a first down, VanRaaphorst tried a field goal from the 21 but the ball went wide and the Rams took over on their own 20.

Two plays later the Rams fumbled and Ron Vandenberg recovered the free ball on the 18. A holding penalty on the next play set the Rayders back to the 33 from where Balch broke away to score. VanRaaphorst added the conversion to make the score 27 to 0.

On the next series of plays following the kickoff, the Rams, with the assistance of an offside penalty on Charlevoix, picked up their first first down. However, they were forced to punt on the second series of downs and Mike Geneit returned the ball to the Harbor 49. On the next play he broke away for a touchdown run but the play was nullified by a major penalty, putting the ball on the 33 yard line. On the next play Balch went in to score. The kick was wide and the score remained 33 to 0.

It was on the series of plays following the kickoff that Meeker went 83 yards only to have his touchdown run nullified by an offside penalty on the Rams.

Chralevoix received to open the second half. Wojan took the ball and returned it to the Charlevoix 46. With Steve LaBlance, Balch and Geneit carrying the ball the Rayders went to the one yard line in three plays. Geneit carried over on a quarterback sneak and VanRaaphorst booted the conversion to make the score 40 to 0.

Harbor Springs took the kickoff on their own 22 and on three plays moved to the 30 where they fumbled. Scott Supernaw scooped up the free ball and went in to score. Again VanRaaphorst's boot was good.

The next series of plays followed the same pattern with the Rams fumbling on their own 26. This time Vandenberg picked up the free ball and went in to score. VanRaaphorst made the score 54 to 0.

Charlevoix was in possession of the ball on the Rams 36 after taking a Harbor Springs punt as the third period ended.

Early in the final period Charlevoix fumbled and the Rams recovered on their own 41. The action slowed down midway in the period with first the Rams and then the Rayders punting. The Rayders finally took over on fourth down on the Harbor Springs 38. With Lakies, Charles Coleman and Vandenberg carrying, they moved to the three where Vandenberg went in to score. VanRaaphorst connected for his seventh conversion of the game to make the score 61 to 0.

Harbor Springs took to the air and on four plays moved the ball from their 30 to midfield where Stan Smith intercepted a pass and broke away to score. The kick was not good and the score remained 67 to 0.

The game ended with the kickoff.

The game marked the end of the 1958 season for the Rayders and the final prep game for some 13 Rayders including Erik Arvilla, Geneit, Lakies, Bill Poquette, Rod Ostrum, Steve Wells, Scott Supernaw, Wojan, Dick Muma, Larry Minch, Floyd Genia, Vandenberg and Steve LaBlance, all of whom are seniors.

It gave the Rayders their first title since 1955 and also their second under Coach Don Carey.

Coast Guard Continues Search for Remaining 33 Members of Crew

"Mayday . . . Mayday . . . This is the Carl D. Bradley We are breaking up in heavy seas 12 miles southwest of Gull Island . . . Mayday . . . Mayday . . ."

This curt message repeated over and over for a 11 minute period beginning at 5:31 p.m. Tuesday was the last that was heard of the 615 ft. steamship of the Bradley Transportation Co. with headquarters in Rogers City.

The Charlevoix Lifeboat station picked up the distress message as did other short-wave radios monitoring Channel 51.

Thus unfolded one of the greatest lake tragedies in recent years.

The B[illegible] only water as ballast. Only a short time before, the skipper, Capt. Roland Bryan, had contacted his home office via radio stating the boat was proceeding according to schedule despite the mountainous seas and gale winds up to 65 miles an hour.

And then came the universal distress signal "Mayday."

A German motorship, the "Christian Sartori," was in the general area and immediately initiated a search for survivors after the skipper reported seeing flares or a possible explosion.

The Bradley, a 615 ft. self-unloader, had a crew of 35 aboard at the time. Approximately 30 of the crew were from Rogers City and the surrounding communities of Onaway, Posen, Cheboygan and St Ignace.

Upon receiving the distress message, the 40 ft. patrol boat from the Charlevoix Lifeboat station was dispatched to assist [illegible] A short time later the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Sundew, based here, reached the scene. Because of the heavy seas and gale wind the patrol boat was ordered to return to Charlevoix while the Sundew and the cutter Hollyhock, stationed at Sturgeon Bay proceeded to the scene. They joined the Sartori at 10:40 p.m.

Meanwhile, the amphibinus plane from the Traverse City Coast Guard Air Station joined the search and assisted by dropping flares as the Sartori and the cutters combed the area for possible survivors.

At approximately 11:30 p.m. the Sartori reported finding a tank and a raincoat.

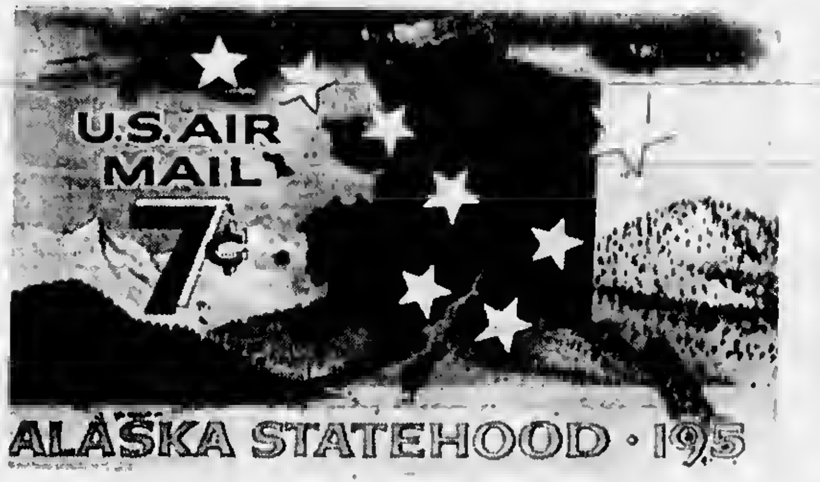
Commemorative Stamp Designed By Son of Norwood Couple



Local stamp collectors should fine double interest in the 7-cent commemorative airmail stamp to be issued at Juneau, Alaska, when that territory becomes the 49th state in the Union. The stamp was prepared by the noted designer, Richard C. Lockwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lockwood who in 1955 purchased a home in Norwood where they have retired.

Since the actual date of admission must wait on a proclamation by President Eisenhower, no date for first day sale of the stamp can be announced according to Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield who released photos of the new stamp Saturday. Master dies and engraving plates are now being made at the Bureau of Engraving with both "1958" and "1959" dates to permit prompt printing of the stamps when the admission date is determined.

The stamp features the "Big Dipper" and North Star as portrayed on the Alaskan flag. In the background are wooded hills and snow capped mountains, indicative of the terrain and the vastness of the area and its wealth. Printing will be in blue, matching the color of the Alaskan flag.

An initial order for 90 million of these stsamps has been placed. Across the bottom of the stamp will be the inscription "Alaskan Statehood 1958" or "1959" depending on the year. Stamps will be issued in sheets of 50 and will be arranged horizontally. The stamp measures .84 by 1.44 inches.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations are instructed to send addressed envelopes to the Postmaster, Juneau, Alaska, at any time and the covers will be held until the new stamp is released. Request must be accompanied with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed. An enclosure of medium weight should be placed in each envelope and the flap either turned in or sealed. The outside envelope to the Postmaster should be endorsed, "First Day Covers Alaska Statehood Stamp—Hold for Release."

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

WE'RE NOT running competition with the Conservatinn Department and we haven't the vagest idea how they check the number of deer taken . . . We depend on word of mouth . . . with the taker doing a bit of braggin' about his luck . . . and by this method we've found that not too many hunters filled their licenses over the weekend . . . Of course the weather wasn't exactly conducive to good hunting . . . Heard lots of tales of does walking right up and practically asking to be shot . . . but the bucks were few and far between.

WILLARD DROST reported the first one . . . He said he was down wind on a knoll when he spotted the deer . . . He watched it for 15 minutes, hoping it wouldn't detect his presence, until it was light enough to see whether it had horns . . . It did have and in nothing flat he was in town, reporting his luck . . . But not too many were that fortunate.

NEVER SAW so many seagulls in our life as we did the other afternoon . . . You could see them from the northside and when we got down the hill, they were flying, gliding and squawking down near the city dock . . . big ones, little ones, white ones, gray ones and heaven knows what else . . . dozens of 'em . . . Haven't doped out yet what it was all about . . . Maybe they've heard that this is a good place to spend the winter.

AND SPEAKING of the channel, did you notice the barber poles on the nnrth side of the channel . . . down from the Weathervane . . . We couldn't believe our eyes but you must admit they're 'different' to say the least . . . Incidentally, this thought just came to mind . . . Aren't the poles along the canals of Venice striped similar to these?

ANOTHER WEEK and it will be Thanksgiving . . . Our thoughts naturally turn to the first Thanksgiving when the Pilgrims, after their first year in the new land, invited their friends, the Indians, to join them in giving thanks . . . for so many things . . . Wouldn't it be a nice gesture if each of you invited someone to join you on this Thanksgiving.

What have you to be thankful for? So many things . . . family, friends, health, love, freedom of speech . . religinn . . or just plain freedom . . . a roof over your head . . . a square meal . . . a job . . . And if you need any other reminders, just come around and we'll get on our soap box because we think that being grateful for your blessings is important . . . not only on Thanksgiving Day but every day of your life. So a happy Thanksgiving to you . . . and you . . . and all of you.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Whitey "Auto" Not Sell Now

Folks thought it was a big joke when Whitey Fisher—who owns a chicken farm up on Murphy Hill—bought an old taxicab.

"Bought it mainly to haul eggs," Whitey told me. "Take out the rear seat and there's as much room as a truck. Put it back, and I can take all the kids on the Hill to school.

"In warm weather," he continued, "I can slide back the roof and get sunshine. And when I go hunting, I'll wind up the glass partition and the dogs can't lick the back of my neck!"

From where I sit, things aren't always what they are at first glance. "More than meets the eye" is often true whether you're talking about Whitey's "cab," or a new neighbor down the street. Give things a chance to be proved... give every man a chance to be heard. Sit down over a glass of beer or buttermilk and get to know each other. It's the American way... a road of "tolerance" we all ought to ride on.

LONG AGO IN MICHIGAN there lived an Indian who had quite a reputation as a weather prophet. One fall, he predicted a long, cold winter. When somebody asked him how he knew this, he pointed down the road to his neighbor's house. "Paleface put in two extra tons of coal," he said.

UNLESS YOU HAVE AN INDIAN handy you'll just have to wait and see how hard a winter this one will be. But you can be sure of one thing. You won't be able to visit friends and relatives as much as you'd like. And there'll be many days when getting to the store will be difficult, if not impossible. But cheer up, there is one thing that laughs at rain and cold—your telephone. Use it often to keep in touch, to order supplies. Since the invention of the telephone, winters are never as bad as they were. When snow piles up, just go by phone.

YOU NEVER CAN TELL where the benefits of telephone research will turn up next. Bell Telephone Laboratories have just been awarded a Navy Certificate of Merit for their work on guided missile control systems. And from Nebraska U comes word that a cow is giving cattle researchers valuable information on rumen pressure by means of a small radio in its stomach. What made the tiny radio possible is the transistor—a Bell Laboratories invention first used in Long Distance circuits. The cattle people say the information they get from the radio will help them improve the quality of beef and dairy cattle.

The only real way to celebrate Thanksgiving is to seat the whole family around the dining table and fill them with turkey. But if some of the family can't get home, remember the next best thing: have your family party by Long Distance. Call your loved ones on The Day. They'll enjoy it. So'll you!

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn

The Appeal of the Practical

Benjamin had taken an intensive six-month course of instruction for stutterers at a well-known speech correction school. Upon his return home a friend met him at the train station and asked, "Well, Ben, how was it? Did the course help you?"

"Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers," Ben replied with perfect diction and evident ease.

"Splendid! Wonderful!" his friend exclaimed. "Why I can't repeat that tongue twister myself!"

"Yes, it's w-w-wonderful. B-b-b-but its b-b-b-blame d-d-difficult to w-w-w-work into an ordinary c-c-c-c-c-c-c-conversation."

One trouble with much instruction, philosophy and religion is that it's blame difficult to work into an ordinary day. In short it is impractical.

Gertrude Stein is best known for her famous line "A rose is a rose is a rose," which she claimed is poetry. She might have become a great doctor rather than an eccentric poet, for she once was a remarkably talented student at Johns Hopkins Medical School. She showed rare competence in the dissection of corpses but was refused a degree because she had absolutely no interest in living patients. Much theory, philosophy and religion are like Gertrude Stein's interest in medicine, entirely detached from life. As such, it will not pass, and it has little appeal. Gandhi onetime said, "God himself dare not appear to a hungry man except in the form of bread."

But when faith is practical, having some connection with everyday life, useful in the ordinary conversation, linked to the living patient, presenting itself to a hungry world in the form of bread, it is nearly irresistible. Few men have received the world-wide acclaim that came to Sir Wilfred Grenfell, the medical missionary to Labrador. Born into the family of a clergyman who had descended from a long line of sea fighters, Grenfell combined in his nature a profound piety with a wild craving for adventure. Early in life he decided to be a doctor, a profession in which he could link his devotion to God, his love for man and his natural venturesomeness.

While a young doctor in London he was returning home one night from visiting a patient when he was attracted to a big tent where Dwight L. Moody and Ira Sankey were holding a revival meeting. A long-winded bore was leading the congregation in prayer and prayed on and on until Grenfell arose in disgust to leave. Just then, Moody, a sensible sort of a man, called out, "Let us sing a hymn while our brother finishes his prayer." Struck by such a practical solution to a delicate problem, Grenfell returned to his seat and listened to Moody's sermon. Later, recalling the incident, Grenfell said, "When I left it was with the determination to make religion a real effort or frankly to abandon it."

The young doctor carried out his resolution. He became the central figure of one of the most practical demonstrations of faith and sevice in the history of Christendom.

After serving as house surgeon for Sir Frederick Traves at London Hospital, Dr. Grenfell sailed for Labrador in 1892 to supervise the medical mission here. There he lavishly spent his energies upon the fisherfolk who were suffering from beriberi, scurvy, rickets, pneumonia and tuberculosis, from necrosis of the jaw that resulted from unattended toothache, from injuries that had turned gangrenous from lack of medical attention. Innumerable times he risked his life while racing across the treacherous sea ice to save a native from almost certain death. His sacrificial self-giving was characteristically shown when a man was brought to him with both hands blown off. Grenfell bone-grafted two "flippers" and then covered these man-made hands with strips of his own flesh.

Dr. Grenfell persuaded the fishermen to open their own stores, purchasing and selling merchandize collectively. He introduced vegetable gardening, cattle and sheep and lumber mills to bolster the health and economy of the bleak North. Hospitals and orphanages were established under his guidance. Every practical application of Christianity caught Grenfell's interest and devotion. Labrador, Newfoundland and the whole world watched, entranced, as one man demonstrated how Christianity could be woven into the daily life of the natives of the North.

It has been said that "A sentimentalist is one that does not carry an idea to its logical conclusion." Such a sentimentalist talks with high emotion about loving his wife without showing it in daily helpfulness. He can become tearful when speaking of his mother, but when she is in need he leaves practical service to his brothers and sisters. He sings with profound feeling "Like a mighty army moved the Church of God" but when the roll is called for the army to march he is absent from the ranks. He chokes up with religious fervor when he thinks of what God has done for him, but when a chance is offered to do something for God, he proudly puts a mere quarter in the offering plate. The big idea of religion is that God is utterly sovereign over the universe and all it contains. The logical conclusion of that religious idea is that we are completely God's — all of our time, all of our energies, all of our material resources. Then there is no question of what proportion of our belongings we shall give to God, but only what proportion of God's belongings we shall keep ourselves. The practical religious person, not the sentimentalist, carries the idea of religion to that logical conclusion.

A simple way to distinguish between theory and practice is to say that theory is thinking about a thing while practice is doing it. A small boy when asked to define "agriculture" said, "Well, agriculture is something like farming but farming is doing it." The world needs improved agricultural theory, but even more it needs better farming. For it is not agricultural theory, but farming that feeds the world. And it is not theology but applied faith, like Grenfell's, for which the world is hungry.

March of Dimes Chairman Summarizes Activities for '59

The Charlevoix Community Chest fund drive was within $941.09 of meeting its 1958 goal of $9,996.06, Mrs. James Coleman, campaign chairman said Wednesday.

Mrs. Coleman went on to say that a concerted effort is now underway to bring the drive to a successful conclusion.. An appeal has been made to everyone who has not contributed at this time to mail or bring his contribution to the Charlevoix County State Bank, to Mrs. Coleman or Fran Martin.

If the participating agencies which include the Girl Scouts, Boy Ccouts, Community Nurse, Charlevoix Association to Aid Retarded Children, the United Fund, Charlevoix Hospital, City Recreation, Red Cross, Salvation Army, Charlevoix Service Organization and the Emergency fund are to carry on their work in the Charlevoix area it is imperative that everyone give to the current drive. If, for some reason, you have been missed by the area solicitor you may still do your part by giving now.

This is the first time in a number of years that the Charlevoix Comunity Chest campaign has floundered before reaching its goal.

Enrollment in School Goes Up, Population Down

According to the most authorative source of information substantial losses in population for nearly every northern Michigan county can be expected in the years immediately ahead.

Almost as a challange, however, the school membership continues to show gains each year. Since most of the gain is in the elementary membership, the additional numbers can not be credited to the holding power of the secondary schools, according to Charles A. Robinson, Charlevoix county superintendent of schools, who has compiled the following figures.

Women's Clubs Sponsor Speaker At Weathervane

Mrs. Max Hosmer, Mrs. Robert Winchester, Mrs. E. D. Hawley and Mrs. James Coleman have been named to head the ticket committee for the luncheon meeting at which Mrs. Katherine W. Wilcox will be the guest speaker Dec. 1.

The luncheon meeting will be held at the Weathervane Inn Dec. 1 under the sponsorship of the Shakespeare and Dickens Study clubs. All women of the comunity are invited to attend and hear Dr. Wilcox speak on "Women and their Emotions."

"... We Need 'em Fast!"

THE SCENE IS the traffic department of any of the hundreds of manufacturing plants in Michigan. The time is 4:00 P.M. on any day of the week. The traffic manager is talking long distance to a supplier in another state about some parts needed for production.

"Send 'em by truck," he says, as he prepares to hang up, "we need 'em fast!"

He knows from experience that motor transport is the fastest link between shipping and receiving. He knows he can depend on it. In fact, he and thousands of his fellow traffic managers have been the men most responsible for the rapid growth of motor transport. Once they experienced the efficiency and speed of trucks, there was no satisfying them with anything less — and today their companies could not operate successfully without truck transport!

That's something for every wage earner in Michigan to think about.

Judith Ann Simpson Nuptials Solemnized in Home Wedding

Judith Ann Simpson and Max Clayton Murray exchanged their marriage vows at a quiet ceremony solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. Simpson, Saturday, Nov. 8.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Murray of Central Lake.

The Rev. Frederick McNeil officiated at the double ring service in the presence of their immediate families. Arrangements of yellow and white chrysanthemums formed a setting for the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length gown of off-white nylon and taffeta styled with a fitted bodice, scoop neckline and bouffant skirt. Her half-crown hat was of light blue velvet and she carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds and white carnations.

Patricia Reeves, of Port Huron, as maid of honor, wore a turquoise lace dress and matching accessories. Her bouquet was of white carnations and pink roses.

Leo Murray of Central Lake assisted his brother as best man.

Mrs. Simpson selected a forest green sheer gown and matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Murray, mother of the bridegroom, wore a slate blue dress and black accessories. Their corsages were of pink roses and white carnations.

A reception for more than 35 guests followed. A tiered wedding cake centered the refreshment table. Bouquets of yellow and white mums decorated the rooms.

Michigan drivers go 1st class!

On important Michigan highways already completed ... an others now building ... on more still coming ... concrete means tax savings and real dollar value

Michigan's newest concrete roads will last 50 years and more. Even the older ones outlasted other pavements 2 to 1.

Upkeep will run as much as 60% less than for asphalt! Remember, even on the new Interstate System, where Uncle Sam pays 90% of the price of the highway, Michigan pays for the upkeep—every red cent of it. With concrete the initial cost isn't just a down payment.

Don't forget that gliding smooth ride you get on modern concrete. And the extra safety, too. Mighty reassuring—that grainy, skid-resisting surface—when you have to stop in a hurry. At night, light-reflecting concrete lets you see—doesn't kill light the way black pavement does.

Our Wild Northern Neighbors

The Bugler

During early autumn the bull elk can be heard bugling in North Central Michigan. Upon rare occasions they sound their mighty bellowing cry in other seasons of the year, but it is during the fall months, in their rutting season, that the males most commonly give forth with their full-chested and resonant calls. They bugle as a summons to their harems, as a mating call, and as a challenge to other bulls to fight for the favors of lady elk.

In Michigan many people travel for long distances to the Pigeon River country near Wolverine hoping to catch sight of some members of a large and thriving elk herd. Most of these animals are descendants of a small group released in that area in 1918. In 1916 those animals had been imported to Michigan from near Jackson Hole, Wyoming. They were kept in an enclosure in Northern Michigan's Roscommon County for two years, but suffered from the confinement and were given their freedom. In this hilly land, with its grassy valleys and second growth of hardwoods and many shrubs, the herd prospered. Here they still graze the pasture lands in summer and brouse from shrubs and trees and strip bark from the hardwoods in winter.

These cousins of the white-tailed deer mate in late September and the spotted calves are born the following June to cows that are as solicitous of their young as any mothers to be found in the wild. Woe betide the coyote, dog, or bobcat that approaches a cow elk's new-born calf. A mother elk has been known to attack even a black bear that threatened her offspring.

The thirty-pound new-born elk grow rapidly and may eventually attain a height of five feet or more at the shoulders. Old bull elk have weighed as much as 1,100 pounds, but the males average much less than that, approximately 700 pounds, and the females somewhat less.

When a bull calf is about a year old prominent knobs form on the crown of his head, forecasting where his antlers will be. An elk's first antlers will likely be only spikes, from 10 to 20 inches in length. Each year he casts off his old set and grows a now pair of antlers which, in a mature bull in his prime, may reach a length and spread of over five feet.

It is when the bull elk has developed his long sweep of antlers and he has polished off the last tatters of the summer's velvet, that this great sultan of the wilderness can be heard early mornings and late evenings bugling his strange, unmusical call. The wild sound begins on a low note and rises to a high, intense pitch, dropping to an anguished scream. Then follows a kind of uncouth grunt: "E-e-e-eough, E-e-e-ough!" Sometimes a rival bull comes in answer to the call, and a vicious duel with antlers follows until one or the other is exhausted or wounded and driven off.

More often a cow elk responds to the summons, and another conquest is added to the sultan's harem. A powerful male may collect as many as sixty females.

When the mating season is over, only rarely, if at all, will a bugle note be heard in the wilderness. Then, if you wish to see these large members of the deer family, you will need a sharp eye, a great patience and much luck in being in the proper place at the right moment.

March of Dimes Chairman Previews Projects for 1959

The March of Dimes campaign in 1959 against the major crippling diseases of arthritis, birth defects and polio is the greatest health challenge ever presented to the American people, Charles A. Robinson, Charlevoix county campaign chairman said this week after returning from a March of Dimes leaders from throughout the state.

Mr. Robinson went on to describe the medical program for which the March of Dimes is campaigning in 1959 as the most comprehensive ever formulated by a voluntary health organization. He had this special comment "If the public responds with the same overwhelming support it gave in the critical days of the polio battle, a successful crusade will be launched which could lead to ever greater medical victories than the Salk vaccine." It was pointed out that with proper public support, scientists backed by the March of Dimes could quickly follow up the promising research and rehabilitation leads uncovered in polio, thereby offering new hope in discovering the cause and prevention of arthritis and birth defects.

Care and rehabilitation of all polio victims is to be continued as in the past, and beginning next year, direct patient aid will be offered to young people thru 18 suffering from arthritis and three types of birth defects.

The entrance of the March of these diseases, which cripple hundreds of thousands of persons each year, will give new hope to those who suffer from them just as the formation of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis gave new hope to polio victims in 1934, Mr. Robinson said.

Commenting on the scope of these problems, he pointed out that arthritis and the other rheumaitc diseases cripple more Americans than other chronic disease. Doctors estimate that there are more than 11,000,000 persons now affected. Birth defects, which aflict more than 250,000 children each year, are described by the American Academy of Pediatricians as the nation's greatest unmet childhood health problems.

At the same time it was noted that polio will still require a major share of March of Dimes funds in 1959. National Foundation chapters will spend approximately $19,000,000 on direct aid to patients this year. There are still more than 50,000 patients on their rolls, most of them long term cases. Because many areas, including Wayne couny in Michigan where the use of Salk vaccine was not widespread, report more polio cases this year than in 1957, the polio needs in 1959 can still be expected to be substantial.

The 1958 March of Dimes raised $35,000,000 in the last national appeal exclusively for polio. The 1959 appeal for $65,000,000 to be held Jan. 2-31 must virtually double last winter's efforts, Mr. Robinson said.

"This means that all of us must double our efforts in the next two months. There must be twice as many volunteers at work, twice as many activities and events planned, twice as much effort devoted to public education. And it also means that the people of our area must contribute twice as much ot the March of Dimes as in past years if this great program of service to the people if this is to be inaugurated in 1959," Mr Robinson concluded.

Mrs. Walter Davis of East Jordan, veteran county March of Dimes chairman, was honored at the meeting in Detroit when Dr. Paul Bagwell, State Chairman, announced that she had been selected to represent the hundreds of volunteer workers for the National Foundation.

Attending the meeting in Detroit were Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Davis who represented Charlevoix county.

Coast Guard Continue Search For Crew

At approximately 2 p.m. the Sartori asked to be released from the search in order to proceed to Chicago in order to carry out its mission and return to the east coast before a given date in December when such traffic is halted.

The Coast Guard cutters and aircraft continued their search throughout the night. At daybreak the steamer, Robert C. Stanley, joined the search and during the morning other steamers in the area offered assistance. Three helicopters also joined the search.

It was one of these that first spotted two survivors who later were identified as Elmer Fleming and Frank Mays, both of Rogers City. At 9:50 a.m. the Sundew took the survivors aboard.

With the finding of the two men, the search for other possible survivors was intensified.

As the morning wore on helicopters reported a number of bodies floating, face down. At noon three bodies had been taken aboard the Sundew. One was reported to be that of Paul R. Horn of Rogers City. The others had not been identified. Others had been sighted in shallow water approximately a quarter of a mile north of Gull Island. The 40 ft. rescue boat was dispatched from Charlevoix at 11:15 to assist in recovering the bodies.

Orange life jackets, a life raft and other debris believed to have come from the ship was spotted by searching craft but at 2 p.m. no other survivors had been found.

Crewmen from the cutter Sundew who were off duty at the time the ship left port were flown to Beaver Island during the morning by Gordon Freedman who volunteered the use of his plane for the search, and Joe McPhillips of the McPhillips Flying Service here. These men manned boats from the Beaver Island Lifeboat Station which proceeded to the area west of Beaver Island to assist in the search operations.

An active beach patrol along the west shore of Beaver Island as well as the adjacent islands was inaugurated by the Coast Guard during the morning.

Dick Allgire, former editor of the Petoskey Evening News and now public relations director for the Michigan Limestone Division of the U. S. Steel Corp., which owned the vessel, told the Charlevoix Courier at 12:30 p.m. that he had been notified that the Sundew was due to leave the search area at approximately 1 p.m. to bring the survivors to Charlevoix. The bodies which had been recovered would also be returned here.

The possibility of an explosion aboard the Bradley had been discussed but one of the survivors Elmer Fleming who had the watch, was quoted by the Coast Guard as saying that "the ship just broke up in the heavy seas. There was no explosion to my knowledge."

At 1:30 p.m. the Sundew was heard asking other ships in the area if they had a doctor aboard.

The sinking of the Bradley on Tuesday recalls the 1940 Armistice Day storm on Lake Michigan when 60 lives were lost when two freighters, the William B. Davock and the Anna C. Minch went down off Little Point Au Sauble in Lake Michigan with their crews. It was during the same storm that the tug, Three Brothers, out of Pentwater, owned by a former Charlevoix resident, Clyde Cross, rescued 17 crewmen from the grounded Novadock.

The area where the Bradley broke up and went down is approximately 38 miles northwest of here and 24 miles off Beaver Island. Gull Island is the most westerly island in the Beaver Group.

Sea search and rescue operation for the Bradley was conducted under the direction of Joseph Etienne, Commanding officer of the US Coast Guard Group Charlevoix with headquarters at Charlevoix.

Carl D. Bradley Christmas Fund Increasing With Every Mail

Contributions for the Carl D. Bradley Christmas Disaster Fund, are beign received from nearly every city in Michigan, many from Indiana, Ohio, and Ill.

Proceeds of this fund will be turned over to Mayor Kenneth T. Vogelheim, chairman of the Detroit Times Ship Disaster Fund located in Rogers City, home port of the Bradley. Funds are to be used from this drive to do whatever material things money can do to make this Christmas a little more pleasant.

All persons wishing to contribute to this fund are asked to mail their contribution to the JayCees Box 145, Charlevoix, or put it in any of the many canisters, located throughout the city.

In many cases letters and short notes were attached to the donation, the following is one of these letters, which most typifies the feelings of the American people in time of disaster.

Junior Chamber of Commerce,
Charlevoix, Michigan
Dear Members:

Englosed find our check for five dollars which please add to the fund which you are administering for the families recently bereft by the disaster of the Carl D Bradley.

Our deepest sympathy goes to these families. Words are so inadequate, but we hope they can feel that their friends — and we are all friends since this happened — are close to them; wish them well in their efforts to go on without the man who did not come home from his last trip.

We, and many others, are very proud that your organization have turned your hands and hearts to helping these families to reestablish themselves; to be able to use the up-coming holidays as vehicles whereby they can carry on their usual traditions for the sake of their children.

May the Heavenly Father keep His Spirit very close to the people in Rogers City and other points, during these coming days.

Very sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Smith

Highway Dept. To Resurface Slippery Street

The slippery condition which exists on US 31 from Park ave. north to Dixon ave. will be corrected in the spring according to a communication from the Michigan Highway Department which was read at the regular meeting of the city council Monday night.

At that time the street, which becomes extremely slippery when wet, will be treated with a covering of resin latex impregnated with aluminum oxide grit.

The same letter advised that the city's request for replacing the curb and gutter and the widening of US 31 (Bridge st.) from Park ave. south to Hurlbut ave. is being considered.

Rescue Operations In Bradley Disaster Reviewed by Board

The story of the sinking of the Great Lakes freighter, the Carl D. Bradley, with the loss of 33 lives 12 miles southwest of Gull Island in northern Lake Michigan in a gale last Tuesday night was re-told Saturday and Sunday before a U. S. Coast Guard board of inquiry headed by Rear Admiral Joseph A. Kerrins.

Appearing before the board and officials from the Michigan Limestone Co., owners of the 615 ft. vessel which broke in two and sank shortly after sending out a disaster 'Mayday' call at 5:31 p.m. Nov. 18 were Lt. Cmdr. Harold D. Muth, skipper of the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Sundew, Ch. Bosun Jones L. Crooper, executive officer of the Cutter Hollyhock of Sturgeon Bay who was in command of the ship at the time of the disaster, CWO Joseph Etienne, commanding officer of Coast Guard Group Charlevoix, Pharmacist Mate Warren J. Toussaint, who cared for the survivors who were picked up by the Sundew 14 hours after the Bradley sank, and the two survivors, First Mate Elmer Fleming and Deck Watchman Frank Mays.

There was no new information revealed during the inquiry which was conducted by Adm. Kerrins, Cmdr. Charles Leising jr. of Detroit, Cmdr. Joseph Change of Chicago, and Cmdr. Garth Read of Cleveland. The hearing was held for the purpose of acquiring a chronological account of the disaster in an effort to determine if there was evidence of neglect or inefficiency on the part of the U. S. Coast Guard in conducting the search and rescue operation following the disaster and the cause of the disaster.

The hearing was held aboard the Sundew and at the Charlevoix hospital where the survivors, Fleming and Mays, were reported in satisfactory condition Tuesday.

The inquiry brought out facts that were already known. How the skipper of the Bradley, Roland Bryan, had radioed to his home port of Rogers City that he was proceding up Lake Michigan without incident despite gale winds of 60 miles an hour from the southwest. It was only minutes later that he returned to the air to report his position and ask for assistance because the ship was breaking up and going down. The distress message was first heard at 5:31 p.m. and radio contact with the sinking vessel was lost at approximately 5:45 p.m.

The German ship, Sartori, a few miles from the Bradley changed course and started for the stricken vessel in the hopes of picking up survivors. The skipper of this ship reported seeing the Bradley's flares and later an explosion as the ship sank.

The Cutter Sundew, with little more than a skeleton crew, left at once for the scene 12 miles southwest of Gull Island off the western shore of Beaver Island. The cutter Hollyhock out of Sturgeon Bay joined the all night search which was lighted by flares dropped by the plane from the Coast Guard Air Station at Traverse City.

With winds up to 70 miles an hour and waves 20 feet high, the ships crisscrossed the area without finding anything but pieces of debris. At daybreak helicopters from the air station and several lake freighters joined the search.

The 'copters sighted the raft which carried Fleming and Mays who were taken aboard the Sundew at 8:50 a.m. Wednesday. They were treated for shock and exposure as the search went on. During the day 18 bodies were recovered in the area off High Island. Debris, empty life jackets and a lifeboat from the Bradley were also sighted and later recovered.

At 4:20 p.m. the Sundew sailed into the harbor carrying the two survivors who were examined by Dr. L. E. Grate before they were taken by ambulance to the Charlevoix hospital.

Then the crew of the cutter, hollow-eyed and grim, went about the job of bringing ashore the bodies of eight members of the Bradley's crew which they had recovered during the search. Later the Hollyhock and the patrol boat from the Beaver Island Lifeboat station brought others. They were taken to the city hall where a temporary morgue was set up.

Then came the grim task of identifying the 17 bodies. The job was completed at 3 am. The body of another crewman was picked up by a lake freighter and taken to Milwaukee.

At 4:30 a.m. Thursday the Sundew and the Hollyhock returned to the scene of the disaster. However, only life jackets and a lifeboat were found. Helicopters from the air station joined the search and put Coast Guardsmen and volunteers ashore on all the small islands in the Beaver group where they patroled the beaches throughout the day, searching for any possible survivors, bodies and debris.

The surface search was called off Friday night but a daily air search over the area is being continued. On Sunday an oil slick was spotted over the last known position of the Bradley and a patrol boat sent to secure samples in an effort to determine the exact location of the ship's grave.

And while this was going on Rogers City mourned its loss. Saturday was proclaimed a day of mourning as services for nine of the men were held at the Catholic Church. Services for others were held at the Lutheran Church and at a Rogers City funeral home. Others were returned to the home towns of the crewmen for burial.

Looking forward to Christmas the Charlevoix JayCees have established a disaster fund to accept contributions for the families of the lost crewmen. A total of 50 children who were left fatherless by the disaster are among those who will be helped by the fund.

The disaster, the greatest lake tragedy in 18 years, was covered by newsmen from throughout the midwest. All major news services, newspapers and magazines were represented by the newsmen who converged on Charlevoix. News reel cameramen and photographers brought the picture story to newspapers and television stations across the United States..

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

OLD LAKE MICHIGAN went on a rampage last Tuesday night, Nov. 18. and when it was all over one of the greatest lake disasters of our day was history . . . 33 lives lost in not much more than a split second . . . with only two surviving the ordeal to relate the last minutes of the 615 ft. Carl D. Bradley, proud ship of the Bradley fleet out of Rogers City . . . Everyooe knew the ships of that fleet for their records were fine ones . . . But now the Bradley lies in more than 200 feet of water off Gull island . . . and what actually happened and why can only be guessed . . .

WE LISTENED nearly all that night as the Sundew, the Hollyhock and the German freighter, Sartori, tried in vain to locate survivors in waves that rolled over the ships . . . How these ships sailed out that night without losses among their men will remain a mystery the sea was so rough . . . And how two men could survive such an ordeal seems like a miracle but they did . . . We think the skipper of the Sundew said all there was to say when he said "They had help from someplace."

And when it was all over 33 men were dead . . . and some 50 children fatherless in the community across the state from us . . . What it is like for Rogers City no one can imagine . . . But if it will help the hurt just a bit we hope that they know that the people of Charlevoix offer their deep sympathy . . . People say "What would it be like if we lost even half that many people" and then shudder at the very thought . . . One wonders how anyone or any community can recover from such a great sorrow . . . We know they will but that's oo consolation oow.

AND WHAT of those guys who risked their very lives on Lake Michigan searching for survivors . . . It's no secret that we've always thought the Coast Guard was tops . . . This just proves more than ever that we're right about them . . . We hope that each of you will in some way let these swell joes know that you appreciate them . . . 'cause we sure plan to do just that.

WE'D LIKE ALSO to bow low to the wives and families of these men . . . It wasn't easy for them to know that their men were in such danger . . . We think Charlevoix should be proud til It pops buttons that it has Coasts Guardsmen in its midst.

AS A RESULT of the lake disaster we saw the big leaguers of the newspapers, magazines, radio and television world in action . . . And believe us, it was an experience . . . If we ever had any asprations to be 'big time' they're long gone . . . Henceforth we'll be content to write the everyday things that come our way and leave the big stories to other communities.

BACK TO THE Bradley one mioute . . . In the event you haven't heard, the Charlevoix JayCees have started a Christmas fund for the families of the men who were lost in the disaster . . . Money, we knnw, cannot buy back what has been lost but it is their thought that perhaps it would help a little to soften the blow . . . especially where the children are concerned . . . So, if you haven't given it any thought, please do and mail your contribution to Box 145 in Charlevoix . . . The funds will be turned over to the proper authorities in Rogers City for distribution to the families involved.

DID YOU SEE that white stuff in the air the other day? Makes one realize that it's nearly December which to us means winter . . . But if this weather lasts it's OK with us . . but we do want a white Christmas . . . We just didn't like the green one we had last year.

AND SPEAKING of Christmas, the big day is just four weeks away . . . so if you haven't settled dowo to make any plans . . . (and we haven't 'cause we can't get in the spirit) than you had better get with it . . . You will be hearing Christmas carols before you know it.

AND ANOTHER week and the basketball season will be underway . . . Our little ole Rayders will be playing at Boyne City to open the season on Dec. 4 . . . Let us ask you . . . what ever happened to November . . . we have had a lost month instead of a lost weekend.

CONGRATULATIONS to our football player, Kenny Wojan, who was in Detroit over the weekend where he received all sorts of honors as All-State player . . . We're mighty proud of him and of the coaches and team that produced such a grand player.

AND SPEAKING of football, Coach Paul Phaler of Boyne City asked us the other day if we wouldn't relay to Coach Carey and his Rayders the congratulations of the Boyne City team and its coaching staff . . . for the wonderful team and the equally wonderful season . . . We're happy to do it and to Coach Phaler and his crew we say "Thank you."

AND WHEN YOU go to church on Thanksgiving Day or this weekend, won't you please remember the people of Rogers City and the families of the men lost aboard the Bradley in your prayers.

BUNDLED UP in a winter jacket and ear-muffs, Earl Young of the Weathervane Inn was seen Monday picking a bouquet of roses from the bushes on the wall alone the channel . . . Brave little things, those roses.

IN ANSWER to our comments about the many sea gulls we'd seen over Round Lake last week, we've been informed that those are the 'orphan' gull from Mackinaw City . . . the gulls who lost their happy homes and regular eating places when the Mackinac Bridge was opened a year ago this month . . . We should have known there was some logical explanation for the influx.

The sugar maple is a vigorous, rugged species, being able to adapt itself to many varied conditions and to survive abuse that would soon kill another tree.

Youth Offers Pet to Leader Dog Training School

"Gee, Mom, King's such a smart dog I think he could be trained to lead the blind. Maybe then he could be Lud's dog."

Mike Bost, 13 year old, was the youngster who addressed this remark to his mother, Mrs. Guy Bost, one day early this fall at their home in Marion township. King was Mike's German Shepherd dog and Lud was a former neighbor, Lud Greiner, who was blinded in a construction accident several years ago.

Mike had often heard his parents and family friends speak of Lud who now lives in Allendale and say that he should have a dog to lead him about.

Now that King had grown into such a beautiful and intelligent animal, Mike recalled these remarks about Lud and a dog. He knew that there was a limit to what he could teach the dog and he felt that the dog had a lot more to offer.

So finally at her son's insistence, Mrs. Bost wrote to Leader Dogs for the Blind at Rochester. By return mail they received a letter and other information on Leader Dogs from Harold L. Pocklington, executive director of the program.

They learned that the Leader Dog program provides dogs for the blind at no cost to the person receiving it and that German Shepherds, Retrievers and Purebred Collies are preferred as leader dogs. They were told that th dogs are given a month's training in obdience and another month of basic training in Rochester before going to Pontiac for advanced training on the city's busy streets.

After the dog completes his training, he awaits the arrival of a person needing a dog. If the dog and the prospective new master are compatible, they undergo a month's training at the home of Leader Dogs where the blind person lives in a dormitory, learns to work with the dog and eventually learns to trust the highly trained animal with his life. At the end of a month they are graduated and leave the school.

Last week Mike said goodbye to King. It was a sad parting but as the train pulled out, Mike straightened his shoulders and repeated what he's said earlier: "King's a real smart dog." Now he knows that the animal will he trained as a Leader Dog.

Mike knows that there's a possibility that King won't pass the week's of rigid training ahead so he's arranged to have him returned to Charlevoix in the event he 'flunks.'

Just before he sent King off to Rochester, Mike learned that his friend, Lud, had already completed training with his new dog so King will be given to some other blind person. When he is, Mike will receive a picture of his pet and the new owner.

Michigan Mirror

By ELMER E. WHITE

SCHOOLS WITHOUT prospering industries to tax, and college students without prosperous parents both figure in the latest education crises in Michigan.

The schools, already borrowing heavily against next year's state aid payments, expect rough financial problems this winter.

Plight of students, upon whom fall the burdens of the future, is being more and more recognized.

Many state problems, and there are more of them than solutions at the moment, have their roots in money and education. Even though sizable funds have been allocated to education in the last decade, there is need for more.

SLIGHTLY MORE than 400 school districts have already borrowed more than $31,000,000, using state aid due next year for collateral.

When aid payments come thru for us next year, they will already have been committed for these obligations.

PART OF THE PINCH, too, comes from the necessity for paying a maximum four per cent interest on the loans for money needed this year. Next year, this cost will also be counted.

Another phase of the school problem is the inability of the state to pay the $190 per student aid it "promised" during the controversies of the 1958 legislative session.

The top fiscal experts predict the state will fall at least $3,000,000 short.

They must continue to borrow millions to construct new buildings and find new sites for future buildings. The influx of 70,000 new [illegible] this year [illegible] expected [illegible]

[illegible] felt [illegible] —the taxpayer's pocketbook.

Dem[illegible] Lansing are blaming the Republican-controlled legislature for not raising more money. The whole problem has developed into a cycle.

DEMOCRATIC philosophy opposes "consumer taxes," and insists that business, industry or the federal government pay the bills.

Republicans are charging that this attitude is already discouraging industries and businesses from staying in the state; is killing the goose that lays the green dollar bills.

So, Republicans have been waiting for the legislative tax study to be completed and delaying any new taxes. Democrats, fighting to keep industries in Michigan, claim they get a fair tax shake here but are not indicating they do not plan more taxes at that level.

THE COLLEGE STUDENT is getting a few breaks in the wake of the near-panic about scientific education following the ascention of the Russian Sputnik and various American satellites.

This year, banks are arranging student loans, direct payments of tuntion and fees to colleges and universities. The student and/or his family repay on a budget plan.

There are more scholarships.

THE LATEST IDEA is creation of a semi-official state agency to accept gifts and grants for investment.

Rep Willard I Bowerman (R-[illegible]) will push for his plan [illegible] the 1959 legislative session. It [illegible] its roots in the techniques of [illegible] finance.

Under the system, the new authority can lend out 12½ times the size of its assets. Students are expected to repay the loans [illegible] period of time.

[illegible]

PRESSURES ON higher education [illegible] vastly booming [illegible] in the next few years [illegible] to come under the [illegible] of the latest research on the subject.

Dr. John Dale Russell, director of the two-year study for the legislature, made his report recommending that the big universities get no bigger.

Without mentioning Michigan State University's 20,000 students or the University of Michigan's 28,000, the meaning was plain.

Russell's report also hinted strongly that branches of these two educational giants at Flint, Dearbobrn and in Oakland county should eventually become independent.

PUBLIC CONCERN for problems of higher education has not been strong. But it can be assumed more interest will develop rapidly when more and more graduating high school students are told they cannot be accepted for college training.

THE TURKEY MAKES IT THANKSGIVING

The big golden turkey is the star at the Thanksgiving feast. And it's the bread stuffing that gives it its plump good looks and extra flavor. Try toasted yeast-raised bread crumbs combined with butter, seasonings and fresh mushrooms for a rich mellow stuffing for this year's bird.

BREAD AND MUSHROOM STUFFING

- 4½ quarts soft enriched yeast-raised bread crumbs
- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup chopped onion
- ⅓ cup chopped green pepper
- ½ pound sliced fresh mushrooms
- ¼ cup chopped parsley
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 2 teaspoons poultry seasoning
- ¼ teaspoon black pepper
- Chicken stock or milk

Spread bread crumbs on baking sheet and toast lightly in oven. Saute onion, green pepper, celery, mushrooms in butter till tender. Add bread crumbs, parsley and seasonings. Add chicken stock or milk to make stuffing as moist as desired. Lightly stuff neck and body cavities of a 12-pound turkey.

Editor of Charlevoix Courier
Charlevoix, Michigan
Dear Sir:

First a hearty hello to the people of Charlevoix County who may remember me. As I have happy memories of my boyhood days on Beaver Island, where I was born and raised until I graduated from St. James High School.

I am writing this letter and quoting the following statistics to impress upon the people of our State, the importance of Michigan in connection with the St. Lawrence Seaway as Michigan shores control 2300 miles, or ¼ of the entire route of the Seaway.

The Great Lakes and their connecting channels form a natural transportation highway having a water surface area of over 95,000 square miles and a shore line of over 8,300 miles, (as I stated above 2,300 miles or ¼ of this shore line is in Michigan.) and affording access to a region notable for the magnitude of its natural and industrial resources. From the Straits of Belle Isle, at the mouth of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, the sailing distance to Duluth, at the head of Lake Superior, is about 2340 miles and to Chicago, at the head of Lake Michigan about 2,250 miles. About 1,000 miles of each distance is below Montreal, which is at the head of present deep draft ocean navigation on the St. Lawrence river, and about 975 miles of the Duluth distance and 950 miles of the Chicago distance are in the open Great Lakes. Navigation from the ocean to Lake ports is limited above Montreal, until the St. Lawrence seaway is completed, to vessels of 255 ft. in length 42 ft. in beam and 14 ft. draft.

The limiting headroom under high level fixed bridges over St. Lawrence river is 150 ft., and under vertical lift bridges over the Welland ship canal, between Lakes Ontario and Lake Erie is 120 ft. The width of channel through bridges exceeds the limiting width in the canal locks. In connecting rivers and ship channels which govern navigation between Lakes Ontario, Erie, Huron, Michigan and Superior, the available draft is at least 20 ft., the only canal locks are in the Welland ship canal and in the St. Mary's river near Lake Superior and they afford usable length of 859 ft. and width of 80 ft. Except the McArthur lock at Sault Ste. Marie, which is larger.

As mentioned before our Great State of Michigan controls 2300 miles of shore line. The upper and lower peninsulas are separated by the Straits of Mackinac, the connecting body of water between Lake Michigan and Lake Huron. The southern or lower peninsula is bounded on the E. by Lake Huron, Lake St. Clair, Lake Erie, and the Detroit and St. Clair rivers, on the SW and W by Lake Michigan and on the N by the Straits of Mackinac, Lake Michigan and Lake Huron. The Northern or Upper peninsula is bounded on the E. by the St. Mary's river which connects Lake Superior and Lake Huron and on the N and W by Lake Superior on the S by Lakes Michigan and Huron and the Straits of Mackinac. The lowest point in Michigan on Lake Erie is 572 ft. above sea level. Thus we see the importance of and magnitude of Michigan's shore line.

Each day, or almost so, in our nation's papers, we read about the developing of channels and harbors and the planning of deepening present port facilities. But nothing is said or done about protecting those facilities, by damage from foreign vessels, which are not required to take a local pilot, as are ships in most parts of the world. Any vessel coming from foreign ports is compelled to take on a local pilot upon entering coastal ports on the East, West and Gulf ports. Yet they are permitted to enter our inland Great Lakes and harbors without experienced local pilots.

All Coastal States have laws making it compulsory for vessels entering from foreign lands to take on local pilots. When are we in Michigan, that controls 2,300 miles of shore line, going to have the same laws? After all when the St. Lawrence seaway is opened to foreign trade, our shores will also be opened to foreign trade. And we will have Masters of foreign ships entering the Great Lakes, not acquainted with local conditions. They do not have a license for our inland waters. They do not know our harbors, nor do they have a knowledge of the pilot rules of the Great Lakes, which are entirely different from those they are required to know. We have collisions that can be, in almost all cases, blamed on not having had numerous soundings and knowledge of local areas and the Great Lakes Pilot rules. Lets ask our State for a law similar to New York, Louisiana, California and some other coastal states, before we have some great disaster happen from lack of local marine knowledge.

With warmest regards.

Yours Truly,
Captain Justin C. McCauley

WHY EVERY CITIZEN SHOULD VOTE

By Jackie Leist
Grade 6, Horton Bay

When our government was being formed, the leaders of that time tried to plan one in which the citizens would be able to make the important decisions. So they decided on a republic with each citizen having the right to vote. This heritage is ours today.

We vote because it is our duty as citizens to show that we are interested in what is going on in our country. I think that it is a privilege and a responsibility to vote.

In many countries today the people have no voice in the government and it is unthinkable that a woman be allowed to vote. For many years the women in our country have enjoyed this right and privilege. Not only are they allowed to vote but also to hold office. This is a rare privlege, for the same thing is true only in a very few other countries.

Many times we hear people who are complaining about our government but, unless they are voters they have no one to blame but themselves if something doesn't suit them.

It is our responsibility as voters to keep our government in the hands of the right people. We can only do this by getting to know our candidates and their ideals. Not only is it our responsibility but our opportunity.

In the United States we enjoy many blessings because of the people's vote. Let's not exchange them for something less. Aren't you glad you live in the United States? Then, why not take advantage of your opportunity and privilege? I intend to take ad- I am old enough to vote I'm going to be very sure that I vote so that I may help keep our country a democratic nation forever.

By Patricia Jean McCurdy
Boyne City, Grade 12

We the people of the United States, enjoy a great freedom which the people in many European and Asian countries have never experienced.

That privilege is to elect the leaders who guide our country and our communities.

How our country will be led and Governed can be determined by a simple check mark placed in the square before the name of a qualified candidate. That is our method of determining leadership. However, just anyone can not go to the polls and cast a ballot. They first must be of age and a registered voter in their city or township.

Many people, neglect to vote even though they are registered, therefore, their vote is lost. Others do not value their freedom highly enough to even register.

These people, in their neglect, endanger the future of not only themselves, but also the children which they have brought into a free America.

They now enjoy the four major freedoms and many minor ones, for which our forefathers have fought and suffered and many have died to give us, but they did not stop at just giving them to us they gave us the right to keep them by electing our own represenatives in Government.

A great man, in our nations' history, once said, "The only thing we have to fear is fear itself," but now we have another thing to fear, neglect. We must not neglect our nations' heritage and our future.

Will there be, when I am twenty-one years of age, the privilege of voting; will I have the right to exercise religious freedom and worship in my own way. Our nation was originally founded for the purpose of religious freedom. Let's keep it that way by doing our part as a citizen.

Will my children, when they attend school, be able to say, "I pledge allegiance to the flag, of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation, under God, indivisable, with liberty, and justice for all." Or will they have to say, "Hail . . . " in a communistic land. Will they be able to sing of the freedom of America in their chorus as we do in ours; or will freedom be a forbidden word to the children of the future?

In 1896 83% of the eligible people voted. In 1952 50% did so, thus the percentage of voters decreased 33%. That is a decrease of 6% for every ten years.

In our states last local election only one out of every five registered voters cast a ballot, and that does not include the persons who neglected to register.

How long can this decrease in voting last, and America still remain free and strong? If men and women continue to leave voting to the other person and the percentage continues to drop 6% or more for every ten years the results could and probably would be drastic.

With the decrease in voting, and the lack of interest in the candidates, by the voters, a corrupt politician or even a communist could become the ruler (not the leader) of our country.

Some people do not take time to find out about the candidates for whom they vote, if they do vote. They look only at the party name, and place their check in the square opposite the candidate whether he is qualified or not. However, I am confident that when the American Public is made aware of what they are doing to their freedom by their neglect, they will, like their fathers of old, come to their nations' rescue at the polls and keep America free.

I pray to God, that my fellow citizens will uphold our Government and our future by registering, and becoming informed, by voting in the elections now and in the future. With the hope that they will remember, "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, let us strive on . . . to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and all nations."

East Jordan Grade 8

Our government is just like building a house. First we buy a piece of land from any former owner so that when the house is finished that person has the right to keep it. The same process was used in freeing our land from England by the Declaration of Independence. Now the next thing to do is build a good, secure foundation. George Washington, Benjamin Franklin, Alexander Hamilton, and a lot more must have really had a good house in mind when the Constitution of the United States was written. By the Constitution our thirteen brought themselves together as one new nation. The representatives from each state, representing their people, accepted the laws in the Constitution by signing their name after George Washington. So the foundation of our home (or nation) was laid. Then we started to build in earnest. New states were admitted into the union. More people from other lands became citizens, seeing the good foundation our house was built on. As years went by, many laws had to be changed and new laws added.

New repairs have to be added to our house. We want to be sure to use good material. So when we want laws changed and new laws made we want the laws to serve all people well.

We vote to elect people to make our laws to serve all people well. Abraham Lincoln said in the Gettysburg Address: "That government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from this earth." If we keep our houses to serve our family as a place to live, then all members must work together to keep it so. If our nation continues to serve all the people in it, then all the people must work together, by voting, to keep it strong and democratic.

Growing Pains To Be Discussed At Policy Meet

The third session of the Public Policy meetings will be held next Tuesday, according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent. The sessions will be held at the 4-H Center in Petoskey from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Gar Wood, extension specialist in agricultural economics from Michigan State University, will be the discussion leader in charge. The topic will be "Standing Room Only" and "Water Wonderland".

Super highways, housing, industrial plants, recreation, farms, all need space. As our economy grows, the competition for room in Michigan will become more intense. The space needs of our growing population may seriously afffect your livelihood. What if a super highway were to bisect your farm? What can zoning do in your neighborhood? Can it help guide the future use of our lands? By 1980 we will have more people in rural areas than in urban areas. Can we smooth the flow of these urban people back to the countryside?

Michigan, the "water wonderland", is facing a water problem. How can we best develop our water resources? What right do you have to the water in our streams and lakes or in the ground? What are the alternatives in determbining these rights?

If you are interested in these topics you are invited to attend

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn

A Love of Foreigners

From our front windows at Wide Sky Harbor we can see cottontail rabbits nibbling among the St. Johnswort plants along the beach. Four hundred years ago the great grandsires of these rabbits hopped along this shore as they do now, but not one rabbit in all America had ever tasted St. Johnswort. This plant is a foreign immigrant which the soil of this continent has accepted just as it has welcomed the Spanish Conquisators, the Puritan Fathers, the Virginia Colonists and all the rest. And now this pretty European lives in Abundance along lakes and streams, in fields and at roadsides in almost every county of the eastern states.

The tough-stemmed, yellow-flowered little visitors to these shores, the St. Johnswort, symholizes something of the greatness of America. This country, at its best, is warmly hospitable to strangers. This autumn the graineries of American farms are well-filled with the harvested gold of foreign plants. Some of these cultivated plants originated in Europe and others in Asia, but all of our common small grains have been introduced from the Old World. Oats are natives of eastern Russia and were cultivated by the barbarian inhabitants of Europe long befort the birth of Christ. Wheat, too, is a foreign import. One of the oldest of all the cultivated plants, wheat is known to have grown in the Mediterranean portions of Asia and Africa before 4,000 B.C. This grain was brought to Mexico by the Spaniards in the sixteenth century, and it was introduced to Virginia and Massachusetts by the seventeenth century English colonists. Rye is a foreigner. It originally grew in the Mediterranean region and was cultivated and harvested by the ancient Greeks. Probably not a grain of rye grew in America until after 1550. So with barley and millet, sugar cane and sorghum, carrots and cabbages, timothy, redtop and white clover, and many of the fruits we have on our table, they found their way to America in the baggage of immigrants from the old countries on the other side of the sea. America has been hospitable to them. Here they have grown and prospered.

"Give me your tired, your poor,
Your huddled masses, yearning to breath free,
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore.
Send these, the homeless, tempest tossed, to me;
I lift my lamp beside the golden door."

The history of this great country could not be understood or appreciated without seeing that America is magnanimous, big-hearted, with an instictive affection for foreign plants and ideas and people.

Wherever, in the life of a nation or the soul of an individual, we find such hospitality toward the stranger, we know we have chanced upon greatness. Small spirits shrink from strangers. They cannot entertain a new idea nor welcome a person of different color, or manner of speech, or religious faith into their midst. They are overly conscious of differences. The greater the soul, the more room he can make in his heart for the outsider.

It is reported that during World War I three soldiers, — one a Protestant, another a Roman Catholic, and the third a Jew — were marching together toward the thick of battle. While passing through a French village near the battle line a stray shell burst near them instantly killing the Protestant soldier. His companions went to a nearby parish house and begged the priest to bury their fallen buddy. The priest, a kindly soul, assured the boys he would give the lad a fitting burial, but he could not inter him inside the Catholic cemetery, because that ground was consecrated for people of the Catholic faith. However, he would bury the Protestant soldier as close to the holy ground as possible. After their friend had been laid to rest the two remaining soldiers moved up into a fierce engagement with the enemy. After several weeks of bloody fighting and hair-breadth escapes from death the two surviving buddies were granted a furlough and returned to the little village, called upon the priest, and asked him to accompany hem to the final resting place of their friend. To their astonishment the priest led them inside the gate of the cemetery and to a flower bedecked plot near the fence — but just inside. The boys thought the priest must be mistaken for they had seen the young soldier buried outside the fence. How could this be his grave? The priest, understanding their surprise, explained, "I assure you this is your friend's grave. You see, I was not allowed to move his body, but no one could stop me from moving the fence!"

Most of the time we cannot change our fellow men, converting them to our way of seeing things. They will not all come to our church, join our political party, vote our way on a referendum, or unite with us in our favorite crusade. There is one thing we can do about them, however. We can move the fences of sympathy, concern and goodwill, to take them in.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Trimble to Observe Golden Wedding with Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Trimble, lifelong residents of the Charlevoix area, will observe their golden wedding anniversary Friday.

An open house from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. Friday will be held at the couple's home in honor of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Trimble were married at Charlevoix Nov. 26, 1908 and have always resided in this area, first on a farm south of Charlevoix and at their present home since 1911. Mr. Trimble is a carpenter by trade and though he is retired he follows it as a hobby. Last summer he started a small cabin on the Jordan river and is presently completing the 'haven,' as he calls it.

Mrs. Trimble, the former Etta Sutton, is well known for her flowers. What started out many years ago as a hobby has developed into a seasonal business for her tulips and gladioli are sought everywhere in the community. Mr. Trimble was born here Nov. 5, 1836. Mrs. Trimble was born in Norwood township Sept. 17, 1890.

Mr. and Mrs. Trimble are members of the First Methodist church here and the Barnard Grange.

Joining them in the observance of their anniversary will be their two daughters, Mrs. Clarence (Doris) Arnold of Detroit and Mrs. W. J. (Winnifred) Alford of Escanaba; their six grandchildren including a granddaughter, Mrs. Bernard (Lois Buddy) Meddauch of Detroit whom they reared and three great-grandchildren.

Another guest at the reception honoring the couple will be Mrs. Trimble's mother, Mrs. Emma Sutton, who is 91 years of age.

Red Rayders Practice For Opening Tilt

Drills and fundamentals are currently heading basketball practice sessions at the Charlevoix high school gymnasium as Coach Don Carey whips his Rayders into shape for the opening of the 1958-59 basketball season.

The Rayders will open against the Boyne City Ramblers on the latter's floor Friday, Dec. 4. The following week Grayling will play here.

More than 60 young aspirants are reporting regularly, seeking berths on the Varsity and Reserve squads. Terry Rice is reserve coach.

Among the candidates for this season's Varsity squad are Ron Vandenberg, Joe Beaudoin, Dave Schuchard and Bill Pouquette veterans from last year's team along with Steve LaBlance, John Bingham, Scott Supernaw, Mike Geneit and Ken Case who lettered in the sport. Bud Balch who saw some action with the first team last year is also trying for a regular assignment this season.

Coach Carey would not say this week who would get the nod for the opening day, stating that the team had a long way to go before it would be ready for the opener next week.

Several teams are playing preseason games with non-loop opponents. The Boyne City Ramblers will open against Petoskey at Petoskey Friday. On the following Tuesday Gaylord will play at Cheboygan and Harbor Springs will travel to Petoskey to take on Petoskey St. Francis.

William Warfield, Noted Baritone to Appear in Concert

A magnificent artist, one of the world's finest vocalists, William Warfield will appear in Petoskey on Thursday, Dec. 4 in concert under the auspices of the Northern Michigan Community Concerts Association. The distinguished baritone has been chosen on four occasions as a cultural emissary and commended for being a good will ambassador extraordnaire, by the United States Department of State.

It was late in 1956 that Mr. Warfield made an unprecedented recital tour. Penetrating the heart of Africa, he brought concert music to people who had never before heard it, thereby spreading his fame across still another continent while carrying out a vital mission for the U. S. Government. Following this tour, he concertized in the Near East and the major cities of Europe.

In Vienna they hailed him as "a magnificent singer, a magnificent musician . . . wherever he sings his success is record-breaking. a record making tribute to "America's Singing Ambassador to the World."

Never one to rest on hs laurels, Warfield returned home for 35 concerts between Christmas and May including performances of Handel's "Messiah" with the New York Philharmonic under Leonard Bernstein and Brahms "Requiem" with Bruno Walter and the Chicago Symphony.

During this past summer, he appeared at the Hollywood Bowl and in the fall began a concert tour throughout the United States and Canada. In 1958, he will return to the Far East as an emissary of the State department. He will also spend 10 weeks touring Austrailia and then concertize extensively in Europe.

Mr. Warfield's appearance in Petoskey will be one of the outstanding highlights of the 1958-59 Series of Northern Michigan Community Concerts Association. Admission to the concert will be only by membership in the Association.

SALT MINE under metropolitan Detroit, Michigan, offers a unique civil defense opportunity for a large target city to provide both blast and fallout shelter for a substantial number of its citizens with a minimum amount of additional excavation. The mine—second largest rock salt mine in the world—is 1,137 feet under the surface. It would need more equipment and access ramps or elevators to serve as a mass shelter from attack. Some New Christmas Ideas For Family Eating

Keep This In Mind

According to researchers' experiments, low temperature meat cookery yields 10 to 30 percent more meat to serve.

Beef Patties Appearance

To dress up beef patties, prepare this spicy sauce as a topping . . . ¼ cup catchup, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard and ⅛ teaspoon cloves.

New Year's Resolution

With the approach of the New Year, now is the time to make a few resolutions. Resolved: To serve your family bigger and better breakfast meals from January through December. To do this, learn how the various meat cuts can be incorporated into a breakfast menu. Not only are sausage and bacon breakfast boosters . . . learn how chops, steaks, bologna and many other meats can serve as breakfast fare. Meat at breakfast will give your family a meal that'll have a stick-to-the-ribs quality.

Cranberries To The Rescue

For a holiday meal quickie, turn your attentions to pork sausage and cranberries. Cook 1 pound bulk pork sausage until crumbly and lightly browned. Pour off drippings. Add ½ cup cranberry sauce and ¼ cup salad dressing to sausage and mix thoroughly. Split 3 English muffins and lightly toast on cut side. Spread ¼ cup sausage mixture on each toasted muffin. Broil 3 to 5 minutes until top of meat is lightly browned. Garnish with parsley.

New Broiling Pointer

When broiling steaks or chops, make several cuts in the fat along the outer edge so as to keep the chop from curling. Be careful not to cut into the meat.

Rules and Regulations

When preparing a pot roast, use a small amount of liquid. Cover the meat tightly and simmer slowly until tender. Never cover the meat with water, as is recommended when preparing meat cubes for stew.

Principles of Leftovers

When planning to use cooked meat in a second-day dish, make sure that meat is well wrapped so as to retain its moisture. An idea in this type of recipe would be stuffed green peppers. Simply combine finely chopped cooked beef with rice or mashed or diced potatoes and seasonings and place in green pepper shells. Cook until peppers are tender and meat mixture lightly browned.

For That Big Christmas Feature

For a colorful way in garnishing a Christmas ham, lend an ear. Carve citron in the shape of holly leaves. Tint them in green food coloring. Use red cinnamon candles to simulate red holly berries. Arrange citron leaves and cinnamon candies on orange slices. It will lend that final Christmas touch to a holiday hame dinner.

Applesauce-Date Pudding Elegant Yuletide Finale

Generally speaking, many homemakers will agree that the Christmas season has more good meaning when we prepare luscious baked products to share with others.

One such feature suggested by a well-known home economist and meat expert, Reba Staggs, is called Applesauce-Date Pudding.

However, do not relegate this recipe to just the holiday section of your cookbook. It's a prize winner any time of the year.

The shortening used in this pudding . . lard, naturally. Once again the fine qualities of this shortening in addition to its fine "shortening power" show up in the finished product.

The topping for this fancy dessert is a delightfully new combination of sour cream and applesauce. Just try this tasty twosome as a topping.

Applesauce-Date Pudding

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup lard
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1 can (17 ounces applesauce)
1 cup chopped dates
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup dairy sour cream

Grease an 8 x 12-inch baking dish. Sift together flour, soda, salt, cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg. Cream lard and sugar together. Add egg and beat until light and fluffy. Add sifted ingredients alternately with 1¼ cups applesauce. Reserve remaining applesauce for topping. Fold in dates and nuts. Pour into baking dish and cover tightly. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 50 to 60 minutes. Cut into 12 pieces and serve while warm with sour cream spooned over each square. Top sour cream with remaining applesauce. Yield: 12 servings.

ANSWERS TO SOME QUESTIONS ABOUT HAMS

Often you'll hear meat retailers being bombarded by homemakers' questions concerning hame—types, storage procedures, preparation methods, etc. It's no wonder, because there are many questions about this cured pork cut which could arise.

Let's look to an expert in the meat cookery field, Reba taggs, as she answers a few questions most frequently asked concerning hams.

Q. How long may the smoked hams on the market today be refrigerated before use?

A. Approximately one week because of their mild cure and for their quality to be its best.

Q. Should ham be frozen?

A. Freezing is not recommended, and although hams may be frozen, when necessary, freezer storage time should never exceed 60 days for the ham to be at its best.

Q Smoked ham is rich in which food nutrients?

A. High-quality protein, iron, phosphorus and the 8 vitamins. Pork is an outstanding source of vitamin B-1 (thiamine).

Q. Is a smoked picnic the same as ham?

A. No. A smoked picnic comes from the shoulder. It is cured and smoked in the same manner as a smoked ham.

BE SURE TOYS ARE SAFE

Adults should insist that all toys be safe—incapable of causing fire, shock, or explosion.

Good judgment is essential in purchasing chemical sets for children. Toys requiring alcohol, kerosene, gasoline or carbide lamps may be hazardous in young hands.

On heat-producing toys, the UL label is especially important.

Your best assurance of getting a safe electrical toy is the UL label or tag on the toy.

Parents should supervise all play with electrical toys or toys involving fuels and chemicals.

26 Died Last Christmas

National Board Tells How To Help Prevent Loss of Life

Last year's Christmas death toll was one of the highest on record. In that one-day, midweek Wednesday, fire took 26 lives. Among them:

New York: Four died in two fatal fires.

Pitman, N. J.: An 11,year old girl reaches safety from her blazing home, becomes confused in the thick smoke, runs back inside and dies.

Zanesville, Ohio: Four Youngsters in their home.

How can you help to prevent loss of life and suffering this Christmas?

Here is what the National Board of Fire Underwriters suggests:

Set up tree in a cool part of room, standing it in pail of moist earth or water, away from doors or exits.

Check electric light wiring and discard sets with worn or frayed cords and loose sockets. When buying a new set, get one bearing the UL label of safety against fire and shock.

Ornaments should be of fireproof materials, never cotton or paper, unless fireproof

Don't set up electric trains under tree, and be sure switch for tree lights is at a safe distance.

Because portable heaters are often used during the winter months to provide added warmth without proper regard to the care necessary for their safe use, the National Board of Fire Underwriters makes these safety suggestions:

Keep portable heaters clean and in good condition.

Set heaters level, out of the line of traffic and away from combustibles such as curtains, bedding, etc.

Avoid using electrical portable heaters in the bathroom.

Be sure every gas heater is vented to the outdoors, unless clearly labeled that this is unnecessary.

Delegate the job of filling and cleaning an oil heater to a responsible member of the family. Instruct that person to wipe up spills immediately.

Never fill or carry an oil heater while it is lighted.

Keep a door or window slightly open in any room where a gas or oil heater is in use.

Kitchen of Today Is Showplace

Hidden away in the back of the house, the old-fashioned kitchen was a gloomy place of drudgery for most women. By contrast, today's kitchen is likely to be a showplace. Batteries of gleaming appliances make it one of the most attractive and exciting rooms in the house, and have done almost as much to emancipate women as the right to vote.

Of course, the "good old days" boasted their appliances too. Powered by elbow grease, they were crude and heavy affairs, often hammered out by the local blacksmith. It was almost as much effort to use them as to get along without them.

Today's lightweight, highspeed appliances owe their existence both to the wonder of electricity and to a machine most people have never heard of much less seen — the continuous sheet mill. Developed by the American steel industry during the 1920's, the continuous sheet mill spews out a ribbon of steel faster than a mile a minute. And much of this ribbon will end up in the kitchens of America in the form of appliances.

Everyone Is Up For Breakfast On This Day

On [illegible] morning [illegible] of the [illegible] Christmas [illegible] no need to call the family. It may be only 5 or 6 a.m., yet the lights are on, the children have [illegible] wrapping paper strewn all over and even Dad is already enjoying his new pair of slippers. Mom, of course, will have the responsibility of serving a colorful breakfast on this [illegible] special!

To do this, home economist Reba Staggs proposes that you prepare this Quick Cherry Coffee Cake. It is something special — try it and you'll find out.

The preparation of this baked product is facilitated by having some Homemade Biscuit Mix handy. The mix yields 10 cups and can be kept in the refrigerator, covered closely, for a month.

Simply sift together 8 cups sifted enriched flour with ⅓ cup baking powder and 4 teaspoons salt. Cut in 1 cup lard until the crumbs are about the size of small peas. That's all there is to it.

When you're ready to prepare this coffee cake, presto, your mix is ready.

Note that lard is used as the shortening. If you've never used this shortening for your baked products, plan this expermeine products, plan this experiment. It will be well worth your time.

Quick Cherry Coffee Cake

1 can (1 pound) red sour pitted cherries
2 cups biscuit mix
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
⅔ cup milk
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ cup biscuit mix
2 tablespoons soft butter or margarine

Drain cherries well. Mix 2 cups biscuit mix, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg and ¼ teaspoon cinnamon. Stir in milk. Flour hands and knead dough gently for ½ minute. Pat dough to cover bottom of a greased 9-inch cake pan. To make crumb topping, combine ½ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, ¼ cup biscuit mix and butter or margarine. Spread cherries over dough. Sprinkle crumb topping evenly over cherries. Bake in a hot oven (400° F.) for 25 to 30 minutes.

Coach Don Carey and Rayder lettermen who will form the nucleus of this year's squad pictured under the new glass backboards which were purchased earlier and given to the school by the Charlevoix high school Varsity club headed by Scott Supernaw

The Varsity club which purchased the backboards is composed of young high school athletes who have lettered in some major sport.

The Rayders will open the current season at Boyne City Friday and will entertain Grayling and East Jordan on successive Friday nights before the holidays.

Class 'C' Conference Teams Play Opening Game Friday

The 1958-59 Northern Michigan Class C cage season will officially open Friday with all eight teams meeting league rivals for the first time.

The Charlevoix Rayders will open against their arch rival, the defending champions, Boyne City; Harbor Springs will travel to Pellston; East Jordan will entertain Mancelona and Grayling will host Gaylord.

Coach Don Carey, whose Rayders finished in fourth place with a 7-7 record in league play last season, has not named a starting line-up for the game to be played at Boyne City. However, he did say that it would probably be selected from among the following players although much depended on work-outs this week: Ron Vandenberg will get the nod for the center spot while the guard and forward positions will be filled by Joe Beaudoin, Bill Poquette, Dave Schuchard, Steve LaBlance, Jim Ladd or Charles Coleman. All are letter winners with the exception of Ladd and Coleman.

At Boyne City Coach Paul Phaler is thinking seriously of bringing at least two lower classmen up to Varsity status after his defending champions lost to Petoskey by a score of 52 to 33. They are Doug Grubbe and Jack Dixon who, he hopes, will give some punch to the line-up he used against the Northmen. The line-up included the only veteran from last season, George Shiotelis, who is still being bothered by an ankle injured in the Charlevoix-Rambler football game, Pat Bryan, Denny Milbrandt, Tom Christiansen and Mike Kane.

The Harbor Springs Rams who finished in second place last season with a record of 11 wins and three losses will have their hands full this week when they take on the Pellston Hornets who have two regulars and one letterman in their starting five.

Ken Garver, the only regular from last season's team which advanced to the State Class C semi-finals in March, is out with a knee injury and it will not be known until after Dec. 12 if he can play this season. That leaves Coach Charlie Paige with only four lettermen, George Coveyou (6' 3"), Terry Burns, Bill Fowler and Gary Moulton who saw limited action last year. Therefore he must select others from among the following who are up from the Reserves: Jim Hill, Gary Stutzman, Francis Lauer, Tom Graham, Jay Van Hoven and George Pamp. The latter is the six feet and the tallest of the group.

Coach Gayle Saxton has three returning regulars in Dick Hayden (6' 2"), Louis Kraemer and Larry Hayden, both six feet who will start up front with Dick Kraemer filling the center spot and the others the forward positions. East Jordan finished in the loop cellar last March.

Coach Jake Schurman at Mancelona will have two veterans, Rod Chase and Jerry Biehl, in the line-up when his squad opens at East Jordan.

C Teams Get Test in Pre-Season Games

The Gaylord Blue Devils dumped Cheboygan 60 to 43 and Harbor Springs bowed to Petoskey St. Francis in pre-season games played Tuesday night.

Playing at Cheboygan, the Blue Devils, paced by John Burnison with 24 points, led the Chiefs 12 to 6 at the quarter, 26 to 21 at halftime and 40 to 30 going into the final period. Del Jewell had 13 for Cheboygan.

The Harbor Springs Rams, paced by George Coveyou with 24 points, trailed the Petoskey St. Francis quintet 16 to 10 at the quarter, 31 to 29 at halftime and 46 o 35 at the three-quarter mark. With four minutes remaining they were behind 48 to 38 but managed to cut the margin to two points as time ran out.

Joe Smith and Joe Flynn shared scoring honors for the victors with 14 points each.

Northmen Topple Ramblers 52-33 In Non-Conference

The Boyne City Ramblers bowed to the Petoskey Northmen by a score of 52 to 33 in the opening game of the 1958-59 basketball season.

Petoskey jumped into an early lead which they held by an 11 to 9 margin at the quarter; 27 to 18 at halftime and 45 to 28 going into the final period.

Gary Shanley paced the scoring for the Northmen with 12 points followed by Ed Colwell with 11 and De Fincout with 10 points.

Decorations Give Main Street the Christmas Look

The first Christmas decorations have made their appearance in the community as city crews erect 'over the street' greetings on Bridge st. and prepare to erect a Nativity scene as well as the traditional Santa Claus and his reindeer in East Park.

Local businessmen are reminded that they may purchase Christmas trees from the JayCees. They are urged to do this as soon as possible so city utility crew may light them. The trees are placed in parking meter posts along Bridge st. Utility crews then string wires to the trees so they can be lighted.

Local residents are also reminded of the Christmas decorations contest being conducted in the residential area. Three prizes totaling $30 will be given in each of the city's three wards for the best decorated homes. One prize will be given for the best decorated home outside the city limits using city current.

No one will beb called for preinduction physicals.

Santa Claus to Make Visit Here Friday Evening

Santa Claus is coming to town! That's right! He'll make his initial visit to the community at 7 p.m. Friday under the sponsorship of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce.

He'll be met at the airport by the local fire department according to Tom Symons, secretary-manager of the Chamber. After a trip down Bridge st. to see the Christmas decorations and a look at the well stocked business places, he will go to the community room of the city hall where he will greet the youngsters of the community and give them candy canes.

All youngsters in the Charlevoix area are invited to visit with Santa at this time.

The time: 7 p.m.; the date: Friday and the place: community room of the city hall.

Marine Club to Be Organized at Meet Wednesday

Boating enthusiasts are requested to attend a meeting at the city hall next Wednesday evening to formally organize a marine club in Charlevoix.

Promoting the organization are Robert Hamilton, Dick Fochtman and Lee Moerland along with other interested persons who believe an active organization would be beneficial to the community as well as visiting boatmen. At a recent informal meeting the group elected Mr. Hamilton temporary chairman and Mr. Fochtman temporary secretary and decided to invite all interested persons to meet and formally organize the club.

One of the first projects which might be considered would be the construction of an outboard launching ramp in Charlevoix. Such a ramp is needed if the city hopes to attract the thousands in the state who have taken to outboard motoring, Mr. Hamilton said. The club could also render valuable service by helping promote all waterfront improvements.

It is deemed advisable by the promotors to have the local club affiliate with the Michigan Outboard Club and the Lake Michigan Yachting Club.

Mr. Hamilton urges all persons interested in the plan to attend the meeting at 8 p.m. next Wednesday.

Community Choir Calls for Singers

An urgent call for more voices, particularly basses, has been issued by C. A. Odmark, director of the Community Choir which started rehearsals last week for its annual Christmas Vesper Concert.

An initial turnout of some 20 voices was a gratifying response Mr. Odmark said but added that the apparent need of the choir is for basses. Anyone interested in singing with the choir is asked to contact Mr. Odmark and report for the next rehearsal scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday at the high school band room.

The choir is preparing for its annual Christmas Vesper Concert scheduled for 4 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 21. The best in Christmas choral literature will be presented at that time in an hour-long program.

Guest group will be the Charlevoix high school girls glee club of 65 voices singing a group of Christmas numbers for women's voices.

Apologies

Despite the garbled headings on the two church suppers publicized in last week's Courier, we have been informed the Congregational supper served Tuesday evening was well attended and we trust the Episcopal supper and bazaar tonight (Thursday) will be as well patronised.

We were not met with flying dishes and adjectives at the Congregational church Tuesday evening and we trust the Episcopalians will be equally restrained tonight. Our apologies to both churches.—Editor.

Survivors of 'Bradley' Express Appreciation to Community

In a telephone call from Rogers City Monday Elmer Fleming, one of two survivors of the recent sinking of the freighter Carl D. Bradley in northern Lake Michigan with the loss of 33 lives, asked the Charlevoix Courier to express gratitude for the many kindnesses shown him and Frank Mays, the second survivor.

He paid special tribute to the U. S. Coast Guard whose efforts saved the lives of the two men who were rescued Nov. 19 after more than 14 hours on a raft in storm-tossed Lake Michigan; the entire staff of the Charlevoix hospital including the doctors and nurses for their fine care and kindnesses to their families and to all the people of Charlevoix for their many kind acts in their behalf as well as to the families of the men who were lost.

They particularly appreciated the television set furnished by Bud Gill.

He concluded by saying that "Frank and I have not the words to express our thanks for all your kindnesses. You can never know what they have meant to all of us at this time."

A letter from Andrew D. Staursky, assistant to the District director of public relations for the U. S. Steel Corp. of which the Bradley Transportation Co., owner of the Bradley, is a subsidiary, addressed to Chief of Police Joseph L. Smith expressed his sentiments as follows:

"Now that I am back in Cleveland I want to take a moment to express our appreciation for the many kindnesses you showed me.

The fact that you were so helpful made it possible for me to do the job I was sent to do. The company is very much aware of what you and the others of Charlevoix did in handling the Bradley disaster and I assure you that you'll be hearing from them in the not too distant future.

I certainly hope that some day I may see you again under more pleasant circumstances."

In a personal letter from W. B. (Bud) Gebeau, former resident who is now administrator of the Rogers City hospital addressed to Fran Martin he said:

"I would like to ask you to express the thanks of our entire community to all the people of Charlevoix for the wonderful treatment and courtesies they extended during the recent grave disaster. Needless for me to say that this has been a terrific blow to the entire community as everyone in town either had a relative or friend aboard the Bradley.

Special gratitude is felt toward the members of the Coast Guard even though in line of their work I am sure they went on and above their call of duty to do everything possible and to the doctors, Miss Baumgartner, her capable staff and your wonderful hospital for best of care given the two survivors, Mr. and Mrs. Fleming are personal friends of my family and I have heard nothing but good reports on the treatment given the men and the concessions granted relatives, friends and Calcite personnel when they called at the hospital. I can fully appreciate how something like this can upset the entire routine of the best of hospitals yet your hospital took it in stride and administered the best."

Ed. Note — We have taken the liberty of including the Card of Thanks from Mr. Fleming and Mr. Mays in the above story.

Major Blizzard Brings Winter To Charlevoix

Winter blew into Charlevoix on a northwest wind Tuesday night bringing with it the first major blizzard of the season.

By Friday a total of five inches of snow had fallen. However, high winds had blocked side-roads in the area and made driving hazardous as visibility was cut to a few feet.

The snow continued through Wednesday when the Charlevoix county road commission reported a total snowfall of five inches with snow banks in some areas several feet high.

In the eastern section of the county a 19 inch snowfall was reported.

All roads in the area are open but packed snow has made some of them very slippery in spots.

Temperatures over the Thanksgiving weekend hovered between 10 and 20 dgrees above zero.

Five Rayders Get Mention on All-State Teams

Five members of Charlevoix's Northern Michigan Class C championship team received mention on the Detroit Free All-State teams announced. Others were: Bob Carey, 1947; Charlie Fairbanks, 1950, both of Charlevoix; and Carl Charon, 1957 of Boyne City.

Wojan also won a berth on the All-State third team (all classes) for his fine performances during the recent season.

Back Tom Lakies, tackle Dick Muma, end Steve LaBlance and center Bill Poquette were given honorable mention.

John Burnison, versatile Gaylord back who won recognition as a back on the Class C All-State team was among the other Northern Michigan Class C players who received recognition.

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

WINTER sure came in on a blizzard over the Thanksgiving weekend . . . It all started Wednesday and by Saturday it was a mid-winter snowstorm with drifts piling up and snow moving like mad on a 50 mile an hour northwest gale off Lake Michigan . . . It's been some years since we've had a Thanksgiving weekend like this one altho', there have been years when we've had more snow . . . Like the Nov. 11 a few years ago . . . about 1950 . . . when we had two feet of snow overnight . . . and everything stopped.

MAYBE NOT everyone's happy about this weather but the skiers are . . . Of course, many were caught short and had to rush around waxing skiis and getting out other equipment and clothing because, after last season, who ever thought this could happen? . . . And with temperatures being what they are . . . well below freezing, this weather might continue . . . Which to our way of thinking, won't be to bad . . . At least we'll have a white Christmas . . . we missed last year . . . As far as we're concerned, it just isn't Christmas without snow.

AND SPEAKING of Christmas . . . the big day is just three weeks away as you read this . . . (if you read it on Dec. 4, that it) . . . So if you haven't made out that list and started that shopping you'd hetter get with it but fast.

When you're making out that Christmas card list, don't forget a few for the people you know who are shut-ins or who are hospitalized at Grandvue hospital or elsewhere . . . It's so easy for you to send cards to them and it means so very much to the people who receive them . . . So, just keep that in mind, as a special favor to us, won't you?

INCIDENTLY, we received our first Christmas card of 1958 on Saturday . . . It came from England and no doubt was mailed early because of transportation . . . which is very erratic unless you use airmail . . . It came from a family one of my brothers knew when he was stationed near Peterborough during World War II . . . We are always pleased when we receive cards from people such as these . . . It's good to know that you're remembered from half a world away.

AND SPEAKING of being remembered from half a world away, we had a letter recently from Gary Smith who's now stationed in Japan with the Marines after spending some time in the Philippines . . . He sends a hello to everyone . . . and asked especially about that red hot football team we boasted this fall . . . He hadn't received the Courier with the news of our new title at the time the letter was written.

IT WAS A SUNDAY afternoon some 17 years ago . . . Listeners had their radios tuned to the symphony concerts and to a variety of other programs when the news of the bombing of Pearl Harbor which made World War II a reality came over the airways . . . to those who were a part of it, it may seem like yesterday . . . To others it's history . . . But whatever it is, it left its mark on all too many . . . Chances are this anniversary will pass with vory little recognition but we do hope that somewhere along the way someone will remember to utter a prayer for peace . . . real peace.

CONGRATULATIONS to the five memhers of our Rayder squad who received all-state recognition . . . Kenny Wojan who was named to the All-State third team which takes in all classes . . . and to Bill Poquette, Tom Lakies, Dick Muma and Steve LaBlance who were given honorable mention . . . Nice going, we'd say.

* * *

YOU KNOW HOW we're always kidding about Charlevoix's wildlife . . . Seems as tho' we don't know the half of it . . . Earl Young was telling us the other day about the family of skunks that live under the bridge and stop hy for a hand-out now and then . . . the family of muskrats who live in the piling in the channel side of the Weathervane and the snooty racoons, a pair of 'em, who live someplace in the area and who beg at the kitchen door of the Inn . . . Smart animals, these, don't you think?

WHEN OUR SHERIFF, Glenn Rose, returned from hunting in the U. P. he brought us a copy of the Escanaba Daily Press which carried a story about the Soo Line bandit who robbed the line of $700 at the Gladstone depot hack on April 7, 1914 . . . The account of the event which lead up to and followed the robbery was contained in a 44-page manuscript which was given to the Flint library a year ago and later turned over to the library at Escanaba . . . What interested Glenn about the story was that the second man involved in the robbery and the author of the manuscript was from Boyne City . . . And the fact that the bloodhounds imported to search the swamps for the bandits were brought in from Charlevoix . . . The bloodhounds, we understand, though it was not mentioned in the story, were owned by Fred Coon . . . Probably some of you old-timers remember them . . . as did Glenn who said he'd seen them in action when he was a kid . . . P. S. Both bandits were captured and paid their debt for their crimes. We did not mention the name of the Boyne City man because he might still be living there

LETTERS AND clippings are coming in from every place about the recent sinking of the Bradley . . . Former Charlevoixans were quick to pick up the story . . . for they well knew of Lake Michigan's wrath when aroused . . . What all have mentioned in sending the letters and clippings was the pronunciation of "Charlevoix" which is so simple for us but which seemed to pose a problem for announcers . . . A lot of people, it seems, called radio and television stations to correct those who insisted on calling it "Charlevwa" or "Charlevoe" . . . but no matter how they said it, these former residents recognized it.

THANKS to Bud Gebeau who is administrator of the Rogers City hospital who sent us a special copy of the Rogers City paper, the Presque Isle County Advance which dedicated last week's issue as a memorial to those who lost their lives on the Bradley . . . We can only pray that God will be good to these people . . . He's all some of them have left . . .

* * *

HOW ABOUT those Baltimore Colts . . . Their first title won in a most exciting manner . . . And when it was all over the Maryland outfit needed those shoulder pads and helmets more than they had in the game . . . to protect them from the crowd . . . Pandemonium reigned supreme following the 73 yard run that put them ahead . . . and from there on in the Colts could do nothing wrong and the San Francisco '49ers could do nothing right . . . Since Detroit didn't have a chance we started plugging for that guy Unitas and his outfit . . . It's games like these that make us love football.

Janice Stutzman Enters Contest For Homemakers

Janice Stutzman, Charlevoix high school senior, has entered the competition for the annual Betty Crocker search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

On Tuesday she entered the state contest by taking a 50 minute examination administered at the local school. By taking the homemaking knowledge and attitudes test, she became a candidate for $106,000 in college scholarships and an educational tour which this year includes the middle wests in addition to historical sites in the east.

The 1959 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be announced in Minneapolis April 10 at the American Table Dinner. She will be selected from among 48 state Homemakers of Tomorrow and the representative of the District of Columbia.

Minneapolis replaced New York in this year's finals site to permit homemaking representatives from every state to visit the new Betty Crocker kitchens located in the home of General Mills, sponsor of the program. The state winners and the advisers will travel to Minneapolis after six days of educational sight seeing in Washington, D. C., colonial Williamsburg, Va., and New York City.

The All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $5,000 scholarship. The runner-up will receive a $4,000 grant, third place winner a $3,000 award and fourth place winner a $2,000 scholarship. Each of the other state Homemakers of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship and the runner-up in each state will receive $500 toward her college education.

Janice is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stutzman of Norwood township.

Mrs. John Doran came Friday from Muskegon to spend a week with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Hamilton and family.

To all the followers of no-hook Des — I am deeply sorry, but due to circumstances beyond my control, I have been unable to write a column for this week's bowling. It wasn't because I had my worst night of bowling, a 476, (it was bound to happen), but rather it was because — well let just say it was a bad night all the way around — except for Puff's who moved into first place. I'll be here next week you can "Bessie" your boots on that. (Bessie — that's Chinese for Bet.)

Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn

Crooked Streams and Crooked People

Winter is revelation time, stripping the last reluctant leaves from deciduous trees, reporting the secret hiding places of long-hidden birds' nests, and disclosing the runways of deer and rabbits and whitefooted mice by preserving their tattle-tale footprints in the snow.

Especially winter exposes the path of our favorite stream. In spring, summer and autumn the brook hides behind clusters of marsh marigold and beneath the edges of blankets of fern. It whispers in the shadows of poplar and birch, ash, elm and maple. In three seasons of the year the roving ribbon of water is timid secretive and vague in feature. But winter has painted a plainer picture with legions of snowflakes, vividly outlining the path of the brook as it rambles across our woodland acres.

The path of the stream is crooked. Here it dodges a boulder. There it evades a slight incline. Farther along it swerves to one side to avoid the necessity of digging a path through hard clay and, instead, gouges through black forest loam which is easier work by far. Wherever it goes the irresponsible brooklet avoids hardships and opposition, taking the easy way, and this easy way is a crooked way.

Taking the path of least resistance always makes crooked streams — and crooked people

Guild Notes...

The Women's Guild of the Charlevoix hospital will meet at the hospital solarium for its annual December meeting. Miss Anne Baumgartner, hospital superintendent, has issued the invitation and all members are urged to attend the meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

* * *

Mrs. Ralph Hamilton's committee has had a busy two months making favors for Columbus Day, Hallowe'en, Veterans Day and more recently Thanksgiving. Miniature turkeys on nut cups were featured over the recent holiday with cornicopias in the nurses' dining room and huge pumpkins filled with gourds and Indian corn in the lobby and solarium, giving the place a real holiday appearance.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

One Man's Hen is Another Man's Rooster

My last column was about Whitey Fisher and his chicken farm—and now Whitey has made news again.

Whitey entertained some folks from the city last weekend and they toured his modern barn. The visitors asked all sorts of questions. The best was: "How do you tell if the two-day-old chicks are hens or roosters?"

"Easy," answered Whitey. "Just take the chicks one at a time. Place some corn meal in front of it. If she eats it, she's a hen. If he eats it, he's a rooster."

From where I sit, some answers that sound like they make sense turn out to be the silliest of all. For instance, a friend recently objected to my choice of a glass of beer with supper. When I asked him why, he replied: "I've had only coffee with my dinner for the last twenty years." Now that's not only silly—it's intolerant too. Neighbors ought to tend to the "eggs in their own baskets."

Strange Bedfellows

Not many people realize the tremendous versatility of common wood. A Douglas fir tree, which prduces some of the nation's finest lumber, may also give up quantities of vanillin, used to make flavoring. Or the same tree may supply the raw material for photographic film, explosives, plastics, tannin, sugar, alcohol and thousands of other useful products

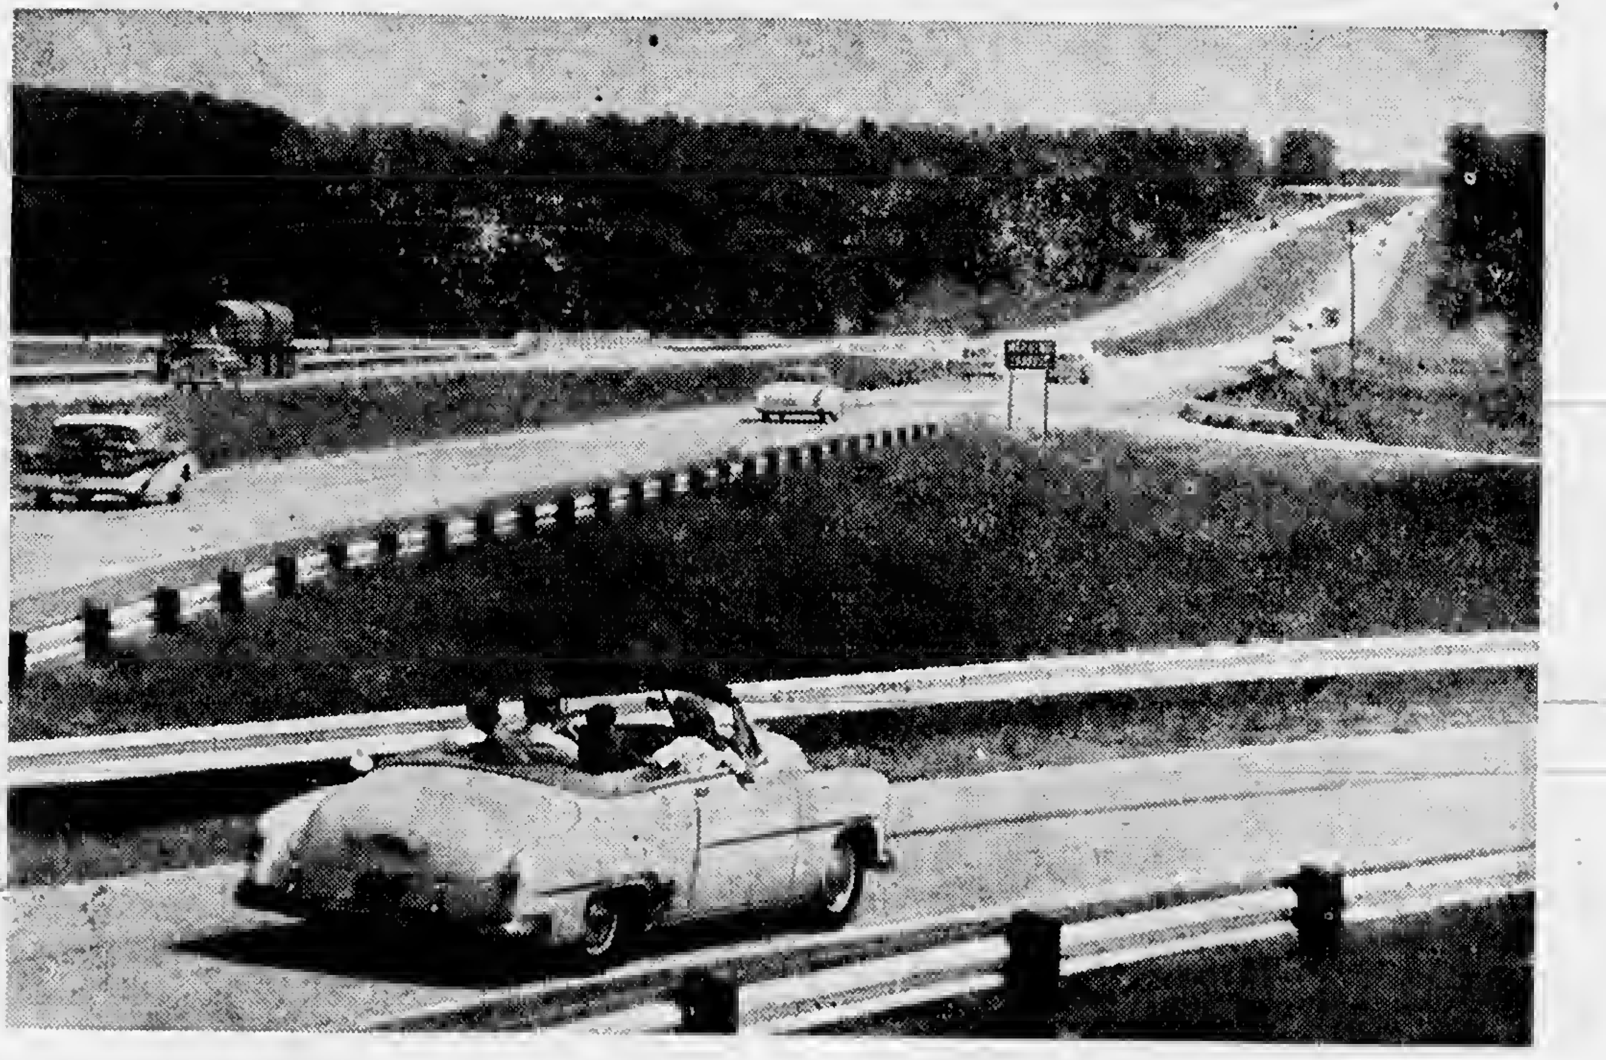
Michigan drivers go 1st class!



It's CONCRETE . . . so it will last you 50 years, and then some!

When they give you modern concrete—they're giving you the best. Michigan highway engineers have always known this—that's why so many of the State's big roads are concrete.

And that's why concrete is the preferred pavement for the new Interstate System—the biggest highway project ever planned.

Concrete pavements have outlasted other types 2 to 1. The new roads will do even better! Fifty years from now, cars will be rolling smoothly on this same concrete . . . and the same surface. (It won't have been resurfaced 4 or 5 times).

Concrete grows stronger with age—doubles in strength in 20 years. Other paving materials act just the opposite. Sun, rain, freezing can't hurt concrete.

That's why it stays flat and smooth riding—doesn't get rippled and wavy. That's why, too, upkeep costs stay so low—up to 60% lower than for asphalt. Yet, surprisingly, concrete roads usually cost no more than asphalt built to carry the same load.

Engineers build for your safety. Concrete means a skid resistant pavement . . . and one that lets you see better at night.

A modern concrete road is a solid investment in a lifetime of pleasant driving for you.

Sundew Loses Mascot

If you've noticed the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Sundew as its arrived and departed the local harbor recently you've seen its flag flying at half-mast.

This honor is being accorded the oldest member of the crew in years of service aboard the ship.

The ship's mascot, Babe, who passed away recently after 10 years of faithful service.

It was after the ship's dramatic effort in behalf of the freighter Carl D. Bradley which sank in northern Lake Michigan Nov. 18 with the loss of 33 lives that the crew of the Sundew noticed that their mascot was not her usual self. They thought at first that the ordeal on the lake had been too much for her at her age but after a few days they decided it was something more serious and she was whisked off to the veterinarian who verified their worst fears: Babe was very ill and there was no hope for her recovery.

Since her death there's been a noticeable sadness among the crew members, each of whom loved the dog as though she were his very own. Wherever crew members gather these days, their conversations invariably turn to Babe and the things they remember most about her.

Nothing much was ever known of Babe's ancestry but what she lacked in the way of a family tree she made up for in love and devotion to the men of the U. S. Coast Guard.

There's no one aboard the ship today who remembers when Babe, just a chubby little pup with white curly hair, 'joined' the U. S. Coast Guard back in 1948. She evidently had a lot of good training at the time for she became a seasoned sailor who could ride out the worst storms without becoming seasick. She knew the ship's routine as well as the other members of the crew and would leave her special place in the mess hall only when certain orders were piped.

In the ten years she served as the ship's mascot she saw a lot of servicemen come and go and she loved them all. Of course she had her favorites among the crew and there wasn't a man aboard who, at some time or other, did not vie for her attentions. How many of these crewmen she

Property Owners Get Increase on Tax Statements

More than 1,600 local property owners have received their winter tax bills which were mailed early this month.

Upon opening them they found that this year's taxes amount to $34.1391 per $1,000 valuation as compared with $32.85 last year.

Taxpayers will note that all revenue paid in what is known as winter taxes goes to the county and schools for operational costs and to underwrite special voted millage.

For instance, besides millage allocated to the county for operational costs there appears on the tax bill the millage for the courthouse sinking fund which is appearing on the bill for the last time and the Grandvue hospital millage which is appearing on the bill for the second time.

Under schools the "school voted millage" is that approved in 1952 to finance the construction of the music and industrial arts building and four classrooms on the elementary building and has only one more year to run. The special school voted was the tax levy approved earlier this year to underwrite operational costs.

The following chart shows how the millage is apportioned:

County:
County operational allocated	10.925
Courthouse sinking fund	1.6808
Grandvue Medical Facility	3.045
	15.6508
Schools:
Schools allocated	11.7652
School Voted	5.0423
School operational	1.6808
	18.4883

Taxpayers will note that the city receives no revenue from winter taxes and serves only as a collection agency.

The city receives its funds from the summer taxes which are levied in July at the rate of 17 mills.

JayCees Raise $4,900 In Bradly Fund Drive

The Charlevoix JayCees Tuesday night turned over to the Carl D. Bradley disaster in Rogers City a total of $4,959.44 contributed by more than 4,000 people from throughout the nation.

The fund was established by the Charlevoix JayCees soon after the freighter Bradley of the Bradley Transportation Co. of Rogers City broke up and went down in a storm on northern Lake Michigan Nov. 18 with the loss of 33 lives, leaving some 50 children fatherless. The fund was established to accept funds to help the children whose fathers were lost in the greatest modern day disaster on the Great Lakes.

As soon as the fund was announced, letters started pouring in from every state in the nation. Many came from families of former sailors, others from crews of Great Lake freighters but the majority were from people who, until the disaster, had never heard of the Bradley or Rogers City. They just wanted to help make this a happier Christmas for the families who had suffered such a great loss.

In Rogers City Mayor Kenneth Vogelheim and John Blasky who heads the Bradley disaster fund committee which will administer the fund, greeted a delegation representing the local JayCees. In accepting the monies collected by the Charlevoix group, Mayor Vogelheim thanked them on behalf of the people and Rogers City and added that "At times like these we realize the inherent goodness of the people of this great country of ours. Surely the generosity of people whom we will never know has helped soften the blow dealt Rogers City in the loss of so many of its citizens."

Making the trip to Rogers City to make the presentation were Don Brown, president of the group, Robert Winchester, vice president, David Fowler, Harold Lang, James Pettis, treasurer of the group, Robert Ouderkirk, Ivan Whitley and Jack Mol.

Joining Mayor Vogelheim and Mr. Blasky in accepting the contributions were Carroll Hopp, Robert Studier, Frank Buza, Wallace Peltz, Duane McClennan, Rev F. J Steen and Robert Haag representing the community of Rogers City some of whom had relatives aboard the Bradley when it broke up and sank within a few minutes in a southwest gale while returning to her home port of Rogers City.

The local JayCees are still accepting contributions to the disaster fund. At a later date funds received in the following weeks will be turned over to Rogers City officials of the fund.

Mr. Blasky said that a certain amount of the monies received to date has been turned over to the families whose bread-winners were lost in the disaster. Remaining funds will be used to establish a trust fund for the children of the crewmen.

Mr. Brown, president of the JayCees who headed the delegation to Rogers City, said that without the fine assistance of

In re-organizing, the Charlevoix-the-Beautiful chapter membership hopes to revive this event next September. Proceeds from Saturday's public program in the high school auditorium will be used to underwrite this event.

Veterans Committee Wants No Tampering With Its Trust Fund

The Charlevoix County Veterans Trust Fund Committee is notifying Governor G. Mennen Williams and their representatives in the State Legislature that the committee is unalterably opposed to any tampering with the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund, chairman Harold Price announced today.

They said their stand was prompted by recent reports that "Veterans' groups were resigned" to liquidation of the fund, in view of the state's acute financial position.

Chairman Harold Price, of Boyne City, said "The latest like those which cropped up in previous years with each change in the state's economic climate, are financially unsound and would actually increase the state's deficit."

Nearly $8 million dollars has been granted to over 155,000 veterans in Michigan in the past 12 years, and about $6 million dollars was appropriated from these earnings by the Legislature to such veterans' agencies as the Readjustment Center at Ann Arbor, Michigan; the Michigan Veterans Facility at Grand Rapids; and the Pine Lake Vocational School near Doster, Michigan.

"We have given out $22,878.00 to needy veterans in Charlevoix County since 1946," Chairman Harold Price stated," and with very few exceptions, all of this money was spent right here in the county for financial obligations incurred by veterans and their families who were confronted with emergencies beyond their control."

According to the Committee, the state would lose several million dollars if the bonds were cashed in today, years ahead of maturity. "Not only that" Chairman Harold Price stated, "but if the Legislature had to appropriate one and a half million dollars a year out of the general fund, as proponents of liquidation recommend, the state would merely be increasing its deficit by that amount every year, when at the present time it doesn't cost the taxpayer one cent, because, as we mentioned, we are using only the interest, and if the bonds are held until they mature, the state will eventually get its $50,000,000 back intact."

Serving on the committee with Mr. Price are Thomas Galmore of East Jordan and Kenneth Staley of Charlevoix.

She lost one tooth, cracked another and suffered lacerations of the tongue and painful bruises. She was examined by Dr. L. E. Grate and placed under observation.

Sundew Answers Assistance Call To Sturgeon Bay

The U. S. Coast Guard cutter Sundew interrupted its aids to navigation duties late Friday to answer an assistance call in the Sturgeon Bay, Wis., area.

In answer to the call, the ship steamed out of the local harbor at 12:10 a.m. Saturday into a southwest gale which slowed their progress as the ship battled heavy seas.

After assisting in pulling off a tanker which had gone aground in the Sturgeon Bay area, the ship spent some time in northern Lake Michigan, picking up buoys and removing crewmen from lighthouse stations. The ship returned to port briefly Monday night before departing early Tuesday to continue its fall duties which have been delayed by bad weather.

Where Is the Dollar Going?

Most of us realize the dollar has lost more than half of its purchasing power since the pre-war era. Will your dollar be worth ten cents?

That question is the title of an article by Roswell Magill in the Nov. 22 issue of the Saturday Evening Post. Mr. Magill, a lawyer and teacher, was Under Secretary of the Treasury in 1937-38, and now heads the Tax Foundation, Inc.

In his views: "The United States now presents the curious spectacle of the richest country in the world being unwilling or unable to raise enough money in taxes to pay its current government costs." He quotes Senator Byrd as predicting that the way things are going, the federal debt will reach $350 billion in five years. That works out to $6,250 for every family, which actually is more than average family income.

The problem is what can be done to get the government back on a sound financial basis. He observes that "the usual answer is that taxes should be raised and government spending should be cut." But, as he goes on to show, we are near the end of the road when it comes to tax increases. According to a Tax Foundation breakdown, the average $4,500-a-year man spends more working time to pay taxes than for any other major item of living expense—more than for his food, his housing, his clothing, or anything else.

On the basis of an eight hour day, taxes alone account for two hours and 29 minutes — close to a third of total working time.

Obviously the solution must be found elsewhere. There is plenty of room for economy in government operations, as Mr. Magill sees it. He points out that, even though defense items account for the largest part of government spending by far, the biggest increase has been in non-defense spending. This has risen by $12.5 billion since 1945. And the largest increase for any single item in this category has been in the farm programs, whose costs rose almost $3.8 billion in five years and now amount to almost $6.5 billion a year.

The federal highway program is pointed to as another example—it cost $586 million in fiscal 1954, as against an estimated $2.5 billion this year. That is more than a four-fold jump. Next Mr. Magill says that the 2,300,000 federal civilian employees are paid substantially higher salaries than the employees of either the states or private industry.

The job we need to face now, he writes, is to distinguish what is essential from what is desirable." In his thinking a genuinely economy-minded Congress could reduce the budget to $70 billion a year, which is nearly $10 billion below the present level. As an immediate goal, he suggests $75 billion for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

But government economy, in Mr. Magill's mind, does not tell the whole story by any means. Our tax structure, he is convinced, needs a major overhaul. It was largely developed on a hit-and-miss basis. It is hard to believe—but until a mere 45 years ago, when the income tax came into being, federal revenues all came from taxes on liquor and tobacco and custom duties.

To quote him again: "It is fair to say that the Federal tax structure never has been surveyed and revised in the light of its powerful effects, for good or evil, on our economy." Tax laws and policies which would offer maximum encouragement to investment and industrial growth, it is obvious, would bring in increasing revenues in the normal course of events. In other words, the problem lies in devising a system of taxation which will raise the needed money and do it in a manner that will encourage, not depress, the economy.

In conclusion he writes: "Surely American intelligence can be mustered to help our Government build a sound fiscal system, to match a sound economy and a sound defense."

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

AND IT SNOWED . . and how it showed . . . When one isn't used to winter this early it's mighty hard to take . . . this white stuff that seems to come down down every day . . . As this is being written there's more snow on the ground than there was at any one time last winter . . . And the temperatures . . . If it gets above 25 degrees it's warm.

WATCHED the Miami U-Oregon State football game from Miami Saturday and could hardly believe that it could be so warm there when it was so very cold here . . . Those lucky people! . . . But then, don't think we'd like living in the south even if we could.—

* * *

HAVE HAD A number of calls and letters from people who have told us about the headlines Charlevoix made during the recent Bradley disaster . . . The story made headlines in the Daily Iberian of New Iberia, La., and Harry Stewart gave us the paper to prove it . . . Mrs. George Glados received a Spokane, Wash., paper from her daughter, Mrs. Lowell Merica . . . Mrs. Fred Gill, visiting in Milwaukee, told us the story was big news there since both the Sundew and the Hollyhock had been stationed there . . . The story also made the papers in the hometowns of the crew members of the Sundew . . . for most of the boys had participated in the search and each was mentioned as being a member of the crew of the ship.

AND SPEAKING of the Sundew . . . This just hasn't been their fall . . . They were about to start the annual fall job of picking up buoys and completing other work before the closing of the navigation season on the Great Lakes when they were called out to engage in the search for survivors of the Bradley sinking . . . Then the weather got so awful that there were days they couldn't get out because it was too rough for the work they had to do . . . And if that wasn't enough they were called to the Sturgeon Bay area to assist in an operation there . . . a tanker had gone aground . . . They left here shortly after midnight Friday . . crossing the lake in another sou'wester which must have raised havoc with everything . . . including the crew for with the ship rolling in that sea . . . well . . . And another delay in their regular work . . . Who says the Coast Guard isn't a tough service.

MRS. ALBERT Edwards who returned recently from a trip to Phoenix, Ariz., where she and Mr. Edwards visited their son-in-law and daughter, the Versal Shearers, brought us a copy of the roto section of a Phoenix newspaper which carried a picture story entitled "Halftime . . . Behind the scene there's no pageantry . . . just the serious business of football" . . . It's a picture story of halftime activities in the locker room at Arizona State in Tempe where a former Charlevoixan, Charles Fairbanks, is assistant coach . . . Charlie's picture appears several times . . . along with those of head coach Frank Kush and assistant Cecil Coleman . . . We found the story most interesting . . . because of our boy, Charlie, of course . . . and informative, too, because we've often wondered what went on at halftime.

A RECENT letter from Mrs. Jule Guild brought news of them and the Charlie Martinis who left in mid-September for a trip through the west before going to Tucson, Ariz., from where the letter was mailed . . . Since leaving here they'd traveled 6,000 miles through the northwest, Canada, and the far west . . . visiting anything and everything that sounded interesting . . . even did some salmon fishing . . . They visited in Phoenix where they helped the Harry Walsteds, former local residents, observe their thirty-sixth wedding anniversary . . . She also mentioned that her son, Glenn Cook, a staff sergeant in the U. S. Air Force, was presently in Florida but would return soon to Cambridge, Wis., his permanent station . . . His wife and two daughters were expected to return early this month from a trip to Paris, France . . . The travelers were to meet the Ted Knobees in Tucson and later go into Old Mexico for the winter.

IT'S GETTING on toward Christmas . . . we hope you have all your shopping done and your cards addressed . . . If you have, you earned our admiration . . . 'Cause we just haven't been able to get into the spirit of the season . . . But we're warning you that there aren't too many shopping days . . . and even fewer mailing days, left 'til Christmas

WHAT DO YOU think of that basketball team of ours . . . They have one down and some 15 to go before the season is over . . . And we're hoping it will be a good one for Coach Don Carey and his Rayders . . . This week it's Grayling . . . the tallest team in the league . . . and even our kids are going to look like midgets along side the Vikings . . . But we figure they will make up in scrappiness what they lack in other departments and we're counting on them to come thru in fine shape . . . Fans will see the new backboards for the first time . . . The team in recent years had been hoping for glass backboards . . . but since they weren't forthcoming they went out and earned them . . . that is, the Varsity club did . . . This is just one of the fine things this group has done to further the athletic program in the schools . . . We don't hear much about them but they're in there pitching every minute . . . just as they are on the field or floor.

BY THE WAY, are you feeding the birds these days . . . It's pretty slim pickins for our feathered friends so if you can, won't you give them a hand-out.

One person who feeds the birds regularly is Chevy Sevcik whose house on the hill is a favorite spot with the birds . . . (the fare, no doubt, is excellent) . . . On Sunday she reported a flock of cedar waxwings . . . about 50 of them . . . had joined the others at her feeding station.

RIGHT HERE and now is the time to send a special holiday greeting to our guys and dolls stationed far away with the service . . . You may be far away and feel very much alone as the holiday season approaches . . . But we love you all and you're in our thoughts . . . just as you always are . . . We hope another Christmas will see you back in the family circle.

* * *

ONE OF OUR veteran forecasters, Ed Allen, called the other day to say he was sure that we'd have a break in the weather about Jan. 1 and from then on we'd have an open winter . . . We hate to disagree with Mr. Allen but we sure wouldn't place any bets on his forecast right now.

Miss Vida Black Married Saturday to Cecil Richardson

The Community Church of God was the scene Saturday afternoon of the wedding of Vida M. Black and Cecil E. Richardson.

The Rev. George L. Majors officiated at the service.

For her wedding the bride chose a black and white afternoon dress, with black velvet accents, matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Carl Pape of Petoskey was her sister's only attendant. She wore a beige suit, matching accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Mr. Pape assisted the bridegroom as best man.

Following a wedding dinner at the Holiday House in Petoskey, the couple left on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, N. Y. After Dec. 14 they will be at home at 307 Mason st. in Charlevoix.

Follow the Stream of CHRISTMASNESS

You'll be far prettier for the next few weeks — in spite of all the extra work, than you have been at any other time during the year. You'll get an extra portion of three emotions — excitement, pleasure and happiness—during this season that always makes a woman more beautiful than usual. Excitement brightens the eyes and adds a bit of color to the face. Pleasure erases tension lines and the smile becomes something more than an upturved mouth. Happiness puts a halo-on-your-head-and-brings out the glow.

It's the season to be glamorous and with this added natural beauty, it's easy. You'll want a new Christmas dress; some jewelry; hose; and certainly you won't put the new over old, so you will want lingerie and foundation, too.

The dress will be a colorful print or lovely Peau De Soie; geared properly for festive living. Jewelry will supply the glitter and bauble for any occasion and sneer, sleek seam or seamless hose will slim the shapely ankle. The mirror can then tell the finished story, assuming of course that all of this was started with new bra, girdle and slip. FAY'S DRESS SHOP is a one-stop-shop when it comes to Ladies' wear. From skin-to-show there is beauty and fashion in every article of wearing apparel for the feminine figure. Fine for gift-giving, too.

From now until Christmas, FAY'S DRESS SHOP is giving free, a one dollar bottle of FAY'S COLOGNE with the purchase of $10.00 and more. This is bottled especially for FAY'S and makes excellent Christmas gifts. Remember, we offer it again—Free.

Band Directors to Meet for National Convention Dec. 14

C. A. Odmark, director of music in the Charlevoix public school, plans to leave Saturday for Joliet, Ill., to attend the annual national convention of the American School Band Directors Association being held Dec. 14 through 18.

The convention will feature outstanding clinicians; the Chicago Symphony Brass Ensemble, the University of Michigan Symphony band, and the famed Joliet high school and grade school bands which many feel were the original school bands in America.

The A. S. B. D. A. is a relatively young professional organization which was formed six years ago and whose membership is by invitation. Its present membership of approximately 500 is made up of outstanding band directors in the secondary schools of the country. Thirty-three Michigan men have been accepted as members. Among them are Mr. Odmark, Max Smith of Petoskey and Ray Opland of Traverse City.

Mr. Smith will accompany Mr. Odmark to Joliet. They plan to return next Wednesday.

The Charlevoix city band will meet at the usual time, 7:30 p.m. Monday despite the absence of C. A. Odmark, band director.

Rehearsal will be devoted to selections requested by the band. Full attendance of all members is desired.

Guild Notes . . .

The Guild sponsored a Thrift Shop last month, selling 'second best' clothing which had been donated. The project netted $331.25 to be applied toward the purchase of the new delivery room light which is now in use. It was most successful and plans are now under way to enlarge it another year. Mrs. G. B. Saltonstall, Guild president would like to acknowledge the fine support given this project.

Mrs. Karl Schultz of the sewing committee has issued a call for people who like to sew. There's a crying need for puppets which are given to all children who are admitted to the hospital. The Guild supplies the faces and the workers complete them. The puppet's name is 'Perky' and he certainly does a wonderful job of making a child's stay at the hospital a happy one.

There's also a need for bonnets to be put in the layettes which are given to indigent mothers. It doesn't take long to knit or crochet a little bonnet so why not take along some yarn and needles next time you're out for an evening and make a bonnet or two for the Guild.

Contributions may be made to the Guild in honor of or in memory of a loved one. The funds are then used to purchase some piece of needed equipment at the hospital.

Mrs. James Hiller, chairman of the candy committee which supports the nursing scholarship, reports that candy sales have been good. A number of new candies are now being offered for sale and make an ideal 'little' gift for the holidays. If you would like some of these attractively packaged candies, pick them up at the hospital or call Mrs. Hiller.

In a letter to each of the skippers, Adm. Kerrins stated:

"We wish to express our appreciation for the services rendered by you and your crew men in the search for survivors of the SS Carl D. Bradley. Michigan drivers go 1st class!

For the new heavy-duty highways that count most... the choice is modern CONCRETE!

On important Michigan highways already completed . . . on others now building . . . on more still coming . . . concrete means tax savings and real dollar value

Michigan's newest concrete roads will last 50 years and more. Even the older ones outlasted other pavements 2 to 1.

Upkeep will run as much as 60% less than for asphalt! Remember, even on the new Interstate System, where Uncle Sam pays 90% of the price of the highway, Michigan pays for the upkeep—every red cent of it. With concrete the initial cost isn't just a down payment.

Don't forget that gliding smooth ride you get on modern concrete. And the extra safety, too. Mighty reassuring—that grainy, skid-resisting surface—when you have to stop in a hurry. At night, light-reflecting concrete lets you see—doesn't kill light the way black pavement does.

Assembly of God Church to Burn Mortgage Sunday

The Assembly of God church will burn its mortgage in a special ceremony during the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday according to the Rev. T. B. Thodeson, pastor of the church since

The Assembly of God had its beginning here under the Rev. and Mrs. R. B. Warner on Jan. 2, 1949. At that time services were held in the parsonage located at the corner of Bridge st. and Hurlbut ave. which is now part of a parking lot.

Ground for the present church located at 203 E. Upright ave. was broken on March 27, 1949. The first services were held in the new church May 25, 1950.

A great deal of volunteer labor and funds built the church. The continued generosity of the congregation is making it possible to retire the last debt at this time.

In making the announcement regarding the burning of the mortgage, the Rev. Mr. Thodeson said that he and the church board would like to express their appreciation for the support given the church during the past 10 years.

Voice of Our Readers . . .

Sleepy Hollow Trailer Ranch
Tucson, Arizona

Dear Friends:

It was with great sorrow we learned from the local paper and on radio newscasts about the terrible lake tragedy of last week. Needless to say we were proud to hear the name Charlevoix mentioned on every newscast. (And they pronounced the name correctly) but when Tucson Daily paper came out with the news saying, "This town's little one story City Hall," that we did not like. We think we have a pretty nice and good size City Hall.

I am inclosing the story from one of the papers. We have dug out of the unheard of snow storm of last week and now back to the normal warm sunny days.

The Guild, Martini and Kibbbe families are enjoying our stay here and look forward to the paper each week.

Pretty proud of those Rayders Congratulations to the Coach and all the boys.

The Three Charlevoix Families from Tucson

Dear Editor,

I would like the opportunity, through the public letter box, to thank all those who worked in my behalf and who voted for me in the past election.

While I would have liked the opportunity to show our citizens what I could accomplish as governor of this great state, I am grateful for the experiences of the campaign and the friendly reception given my wife and me wherever we went.

I thought it was a good campaign which focused attention on some of the major problems facing our state. If, as a result, wise and constructive action is taken to meet those problems, I will feel that the public interwes was well served.

This is the great function of political parties in our free society — to discuss public programs and offer constructive solutions. Once the people have made their decision, we all abide by it and work together for the common good of the state.

To all those who worked for me and voted for me, I can express only my heartfelt gratitude. Personally, I feel richly rewarded by your friendship and expression of confidence.

Sincerely,
Paul D. Bagwell

Pioneering Spirit Keeps Americans On the Move

And north, and south, and east.

Each year, one out of every five Americans moves. Most take the family chattels and pets to another house in the same city or county. But about 10 million Americans — more than the entire population of Belgium — pull up roots and move to another state.

Every state has received at least 10 per cent of its population from another state. In seven western states, and Florida and the District of Columbia, more than half the residents are migrants.

This mobility of population is a peculiarly American phenomenon, the National Geographic Society says. Having grown up in a country born of immigration the United States citizen is likely to be restless, bold-spirited, and optimistic.

Take one moving company's favorite customer. He was a New York printer who wearied of Manhattan's canyons. A January impulse took him to Miami. Four months later he called the mover and had his household transferred — lock, stock, barrel and parakeet — to Houston, Texas. Summer heat lessened the printer's interest in the Lone Star State. So, in June, he followed his own restless star to Denver.

American industry, in recent years, has tended to transfor its most promising young executives regularly. Moving companies find the bulk of their business coming from industrial and military families. But the peripathetic groups are accompanied, in their treks from state to state, by citizens seeking better jobs, a better climate, or a more appealing place to live.

The Census Bureau reports that several states have increased more than 30 per cent since 1950. These include Nevada, Arizona, Florida, Delaware, and California.

Nine states are expected to get larger delegations in Congress after the 1960 census: notably California, in addition to Florida, Michigan, Texas, Arizona, Indiana, Maryland, Ohio, and Oregon.

Americans seemed to have been seized by an aggrevated itchiness of feet since World War II, but they have followed well-worn trails.

The main current of migration has long flowed westward, ending in California. Since gold-rush days, California's majestic size, sunny climate, and variety have given it the aura of a promised land. One boom after another — wheat, railroads, citrus fruit, oil; industry and two world wars — have kept new citizens coming by stork and by car.

California had only two per cent of the population in 1900. Now it ranks second, its numbers having jumped 613 percent in a half century.

Another channel of migration has been from the South to the North. This flow of persons has been at least partly reversed by the large-scale southerly migration of industry.

A third current of migration is from farms to cities. At present only 20,400,000 Americans live on farms, as compared to 25,000,000 in 1950.

Christmas Trees Replace Parking Meters on Street

Charlevoix's business district is taking on a holiday look as the first overhead Christmas decoration make their appearance.

Christmas trees also have been placed in the parking meter posts along the street and city crews are stringing electric wires overhead so Christmas lights may be used to decorate the trees. The trees were placed by the Charlevoix JayCees who sold them to the businessmen along the street.

Christmas trees in the park will be lighted in the near future and a lighted Nativity scene will be placed in East Park. The traditional Santa, his sleigh and reindeer will also be placed in the park at a later date.

Varsity Club in Campaign to Fill Christmas Trees

Got your Christmas tree yet? If not the Varsity Club of the Charlevoix high school will be happy to sell you one.

The club has 300 pines of various sizes on sale at the home of their coach, Don Carey, at 706 Bridge st.

The trees are being sold at a moderate price to raise funds to underwrite the cost of the new glass backboards purchased for the school. Funds raised by the sale of the trees will make it possible for the club to finish paying for the boards.

You may stop at the Carey residence and select your trees or call LI 7-2553 and your order will be taken.

Superintendent Attends American Industry Meeting

R. G. Bennett, superintendent of the Charlevoix public schools, returned Friday from New York City where he attended the National Association of Manufacturers 63rd annoal Congress of American Industry as the guest of the Freedman Artcraft Corp.

The theme of the Congress was "America — Today and Tomorrow" and an impressive list of speakers discussed such subjects as the effect the recent election will have on the future of business; what businessmen can do about it; the legislative action which can be expected from the new Congress; the country's present foreign trade policies and how they will affect the future growth of uubsiness; new markets which are opening and the management techniques required to make them available.

Visiting statesmen reviewed present policies and their effect on future world affairs with particular emphasis on hemispheric solidarity and a noted researcher made a forecast into the future functioning of the American social and economic system.

There were many outstanding speakers including Dr. Charles H. Malik, president, 13th session U. N. General Assembly who spoke on "The United Nations looks at the United States;" Dr. Jose Correa, ambassador of Ecuador to the U. N. whose subject was "Latin America looks at the United States" and Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, Philippine ambassador to the United States who spoke on the subject "Asia looks at the United States."

Mr. Bennett was among the ten educators from Michigan who attended the Congress at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel as the guest of industry. Purpose of the meeting to which educators were invited was to build a more sympathetic understanding of industry's problems and policies. The attitudes and policies of industry in relations to education and society as a whole become better understood as they are translated to an increasing number of people, Mr. Bennett said in commenting on the purpose of such a meeting.

In announcing the success of the drive to date, he voiced the gratitude of all JayCees for the fine support given them by these groups and the contribotors to the fund for their excellent response to so worthy a cause. "Certainly these people will enjoy a happier Christmas because of their generosity" he said in conclusion.

Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn

The Real Thing

Walking is conducive to wondering — especially when one is sauntering through the woods in the snow on a cold and brittle day. A wooly white blanket muffles the sounds of earth, until the world is so quiet one can almost hear the cold, distant morning star, Venus, squeaking as it turns on its axis. And one is never more all alone with his thoughts than when he trudges along a snow-drifted trail in a Northern woods.

So today, while at the woods edge, I fell to thinking about the nearness of Christmas, and how it would soon be time to cut our Christmas tree, and pull the box of decorations out of storage, and purchase a fresh supply of artificial icicles and imitation snow. And I grinned foolishly at the incongruity of it all. We cut or buy our Christmas trees while evergreens stand all about us in the woods — the real things, not severed from their roots and mutilated. We buy artificial icicles and snow to spread over the limbs and beneath the boughs of our Christmas trees, while real icicles hang sparkling from our eaves and real snow blankets the sleeping earth. Aren't we human beings odd creatures paying money for uprooted and maimed trees, and artificial icicles and imitation snow when all we need to do is look about us to see and enjoy the genuine orticles?

But that is the way with our race. Human beings are those creatures who will indulge themselves in expensive imitations, when the real thing can be had for a lesser price. Happiness for instance! Real happiness is not as costly as its counterfeits. The most miserable people I know are those who have made happiness their chief goal in life, and are trying to buy it, and in their eagerness to possess it they purchase many a cheap copy of the genuine object. They pay excessive prices in honor for popularity, and in physical and moral health while reaching for pleasure. They spend intemperately on whims and baubles that fail to satisfy their quest. The happiest are those who do not seem to be seeking happiness at all, but have found someone to love, some work they enjoy doing, some causes worth serving, some purposes to live fr, sme hopes worth treasuring.

Real love may cost us anxiety and suffering (for the things we love most can hurt us most) but even then it is less expensive for our mental and moral health than those imitations that pass for love—flirtations, infatuations and infidilities. They are extravagantly costly in honor, trustworthiness and peace of mind.

Fake friendshin that rests upon gushy flattery is an expensive commodity. It is a little like blackmail, there is no end to the payments that must be made. Miss one installment of praise and the relationship is threatened with catastrophe. But real friendship is far less complicoted. It consists of simply being a friend.

Imitotion religion is always more costly than the genuine article. Hypocrites pay for their deceit with the constant fear they will be detected, and with the apprehension that the crises of life will disclose a break in the thin veneer of piety overlaying their pretense. But when ones faith is genuine he can allow it to be examined, tested and tried with the serene confidence that beneath the surface it is as solid and trustworthy as it appears to be. Lifes testings treat faked and genuine religion like fire does paper and precious metal. Fire destroys paper and refines gold. Serious trouble dissolves pretenses and purfies real devotion.

Life's expensive imitations remind one of certain exorbitantly priced toys in the department stores for the elite. The customer pays more for o toy bunny than a real rabbit costs, and a life-size toy horse is priced higher than a flesh-and-blood pony. And the imitations are far less satisfying than the real thing. Bishop Bruce Baxter once told of a man whose young son wanted a horse for Christmas. A horse was the only thing on the boy's Christmas list. The father bought the three-year-old a beautiful picture of a horse, done in vivid colors. But the boy complained "That isn't a real horse!"

The father than bought the lod a book of horses, showing every type from Indian pony to Arabian racer, hoping that the many pictures would placote the youngster. Still the boy was displeased.

His dad searched the toy stores and found a life-size cardboard horse that could be assembled at home, and he helped the lad put the horse together. Yet the three-year-old was annoyed and discontented, and when his father explained that the gigantic toy was the color of a horse and the size of a horse, the boy plaintively and fretfully answered, "But, daddy, it is not a real horse. It's made of cardboard. I want a horse that's made of horse!"

It may be thot one reason we are discontented and fretful in our times is because of the prevalence of the man-made and the artificial. We need a simple insistance upon reality, horses made of horse, happiness with a content of genuine joy, love mode of true love, friendship that is little else but friendship, and religion packed with earnest devotion.

Postmaster Urges Early Mailing of Cards and Parcels

The Charlevoix postoffice will be open until 3 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 13 and 20 to encourage patrons to make early mailing of packages and cards, Postmaster Peter H. Timmer has announced.

Out of state parcels should be mailed no later than Dec. 13 while out of state cards should be on their way by Dec. 15 in order to insure delivery by Christmas. Mail addressed to Michigon cities should be deposited in the postoffice by Dec. 19. Local cards may be mailed as late as Dec. 22.

To speed handling of Christmas mail, patrons are asked to use label furnished by the postoffice for 'local' and 'out of town' cords. They also are asked to mail their cards in bundles rather than by dropping them in the box one by one.

Patrons are reminded that unsealed Christmas cards, which must not bear a message, require 3 cents postage this year. The local postoffice has o supply of Mackinaw Bridge commemorative stamps, which are three-cent stamps, on hand for those patrons who would like to use this attractive stamp. Mr. Timmer warned that cards bearing three cent stamps are sent to the dead letter office if they cannot be delivered.

Rural patrons are requested not to place unstamped letters in their boxes for the carrier to pick up and stamp during the Christmas season. Carriers have an adequate supply of stamps with them and they can be purchased prior to mailing the cards.

PRODUCTIVITY PAY WINDOW

PRODUCTIVITY PAYS EVERYBODY IN TOWN

Productivity is a great quality to possess. It can do more to make a town prosperous than almost anything.

Productivity is the delivery of a full measure by machines, money, men or materials. The best productivity results from constant striving to better past performance. Productivity pays off for everybody whenever everybody works at it.

When it comes to attracting business, a new industry for example, the very reputation for productivity will give your town a special pulling power. Competition these days makes it necessary for a company, or town, to have productivity around in plain sight. Otherwise the company or the town won't be in plain sight very long.

"Lucky" Now Leads the Way for Lud Greiner Blinded in Accident

The first week in December has been proclaimed Leader Dog week by Gov. G. Mennen Williams to call attention to the fine work being done by the Leader Dogs for the blind program at Rochester.

During the past two weeks residents of Charlevoix have had an opportunity to view, first hand, the results of this work for one of the school's recent graduates, Ludwig Greiner, a former resident now living at Allendale, and his leader dog, Lucky, have become a familiar pair in the community.

In the cities and larger towns of southern Michigan this is a comparatively common sight but in this area the dog and her charge have been discussed at length by those who have had the good fortune to see them in action.

In a recent interview, Mr. Greiner, who lived here until recently told of learning to work with a leader dog. And it is quite an experience.

Lud, as many of you know, was blinded several years ago as the result of an industrial accident in which his optic nerves were severely damaged. Since then he has been dependent on a cane but his activities were extremely limited, especially when his charming wife, Ruth, was working.

As time went on, he became more and more impatient with his confinement and finally, after a great deal of thought, decided to apply for a leader dog.

"I found that the first important step was to make up my mind that I was willing to trust myself to a dog which had been trained for this purpose" he said in telling of his decision. After that came the long process of applying for a dog and finally getting the 'green light' for training with the animal. This came in September and early the following month he went to Rochester where he became a member of a class of five to receive training in the use of a leader dog.

Upon arrival the students, who were to live in a large dormitory during their stay at the school, were greeted by Fred Maynard, the head trainer and his staff They were given lectures on what was expected of them and of the problems which would lie ahead. During this time they were warned that not everyone who comes to the school leaves with a dog.

Within the next few days each was given a dog assigned by Mr. Maynard who, knowing the dogs which had been trained under his supervision, gave them to students with comparable temperments. From then on the dog became the full responsibility of its new master, sleeping by his bed at night and becoming dependent on him. During the next four weeks the blind persons, both men and women, learned to become equally dependent on their dogs.

With Lud and Lucky, a beautiful German shepherd, it was love at first sight.

After a brief orientation period during which the trainers play the role of the dogs, the students take to the streets of Rochester for their training period.

It must be remembered that none of these people are familiar with the community and, when assigned a mission, must memorize the number of blocks and the names of the streets along the route to their destination. Lud added that a good sense of directions sure helps a lot.

It is a very nerve-racking experience for both the student and his dog and many times the dog, overcome by the responsibility placed on him, will have a nervous breakdown.

After a week in Rochester the students and their dogs then are transported by bus to the busy streets of Pontiac. They are told in advance what their arrignments will be, the number of blocks they will travel and the names of the streets they will cross. The routes to be traveled by the teams usually include all sorts of traffic problem such as traffic lights, bus stops and other hazards typical of the average community.

The student and his dog are then put on their own. Instructors follow them to give assistance if it becomes necessary but usually the student and his dog are left alone to work out their own problems.

"This is when it becomes necessary to keep your head and not panic because that can be your undoing," Lud relates. "A good sense of direction helped me greatly as did my sense of humor because without the latter you're lost," he continued.

Like the day Lud and Lucky became lost in a residential area of Pontiac. He didn't have the vaguest idea where they were so he and Lucky took up a stand on a street corner, waiting for someone to pass. It wasn't long before a woman came clicking down the street on high heels, Lud recalls, and, as she neared, he politely asked if she could tell him where he was. Without stopping, she cooly answered "Why of course, you're in Pontiac" and clicked along her way. But it wasn't long before someone more understanding came along and guided them on their way.

The story of his month at Rochester is filled with many equally heart-rendering but amusing incidents but his sense of humor and the patience he had learned through the years brought both him and Lucky through the intensive training period with flying colors.

Now that he and Lucky are at home they are happy together. Anxious to carry out her mission, Lucky looks after his welfare at all times even when she isn't in harness. When she has her harness on she tends strictly to her business and will not be detered from her assignment. However, when on the leash she will allow others to pet her but she remains ever-conscious of her responsibility to her master.

Mr. and Mrs. Greiner live in Allendale, a new little community west of Grand Rapids. Lucky's had a little trouble adapting to the community because, as yet, it has no sidewalks and she's used to sidewalks to guide her along her way. Lud said she had enjoyed being here because since he knew his way around Charlevoix, it was easy to give her instructions which she enjoyed obeying.

"I could tell you volumes more about my training period, the school and the month I've been home with Lucky. Every day brings something new. But it all boils down to this: it has opened up a whole new world to me" Lud said in conclusion.

Not that Lud ever sat around bemoaning his misfortune for he hasn't. He has his own tool and die shop in the basement of his home at Allendale. He has contracts with Detroit and Grand Rapids firms for making frames for various types of toys. During the past two years he has turned out two million pieces for these companies.

He has not allowed his blindness to dampen his spirit or his love for a numbebr of things he has always enjoyed. For instance, he enjoys working with wood so he had a friend rough out a gun stock from a piece of bird's-eye maple cut on his father's farm in Marion township more than 50 years ago. Using wild cherry for contrast he has fashioned a beautiful gun stock which he has mounted on a rifle. And who uses the rifle? Lud, of course, for shooting has always been a hobby with him He has someone place him in a certain spot a given distance from the target and bangs away. "The most amazing thing is that I hit the target as often as most of the people I shoot with," he commented.

Supported by the Michigan United Fund and other contributions the Leader Dogs for the Blind supplies dogs and training to the blind at no cost to the individuals.

Vandenberg who paced the scoring for the game with 24 points started his scoring attack in the first quarter with two baskets. Ron Grubbe had a field goal and Mike Kane a single for the Ramblers' three pnints.

Boyne City got back in the game in the second half with Pat Bryan dumping in three buckets, Tom Christensen and Kane one each and Jerry Belford a free throw.

The Rayders' scoring was confined to five points by Vandenberg and a charity shot by Beaudoin.

Nine of the Rayders 15 points scored in the third quarter were made from the free throw line with Vandenberg hitting on four of five attempts, Schuchard adding three and Pouquette two. Vandenberg also scored three field goals.

Christensen added three field goals, Bryan two and George Shiotelis three pnints to put the Ramblers back in the game.

This Week With Class 'C' Teams

Gaylord will entertain Boyne City; Pellston will invade Mancelona; East Jordan will play at Harbor Springs and Charlevoix will host Grayling as the basketball season goes into its second week Friday.

The defending champions, Boyne City, will travel to Gaylord this week to take on the Blue Devils who, despite the fact that they lack height, have turned into a fast-moving ball-hawking outfit that is sure to come up with another win. The Ramblers lost to the Rayders last week by a four-point margin. If Gaylord's performance at Grayling is an criterion of what to expect from them they should rack up a lop-sided victory over the Ramblers.

The Pellston-Mancelona game should be a thriller. Both teams won by decisive margins over East Jordan and Harbor Springs last week. On the basis of returning regulars and lettermen they are fairly well matched, both have a couple veterans who will give them needed height and scoring punch and both are depending nn newcomers to fill guard positions.

This should be a real close game with the outcome a toss-up.

East Jordan will travel to Harbor Springs to take on the Rams who last spring lost fnur of their starters by graduation. The fifth, Ken Garver, is benched with a knee injury. As a result Coach Charlie Paige is depending almost entirely on players up frnm the Reserves. East Jordan, on the other hand, has several returnees and can he expected to improve as the season progresses.

The Jordanites should come up with a victory this week though they may be hampered by the Rams cracker-box floor.

Dope Sheet

The Charlevoix Rayders will host the Grayling Vikings Friday in the first home game of the 1958-59 cage season.

The Rayders who posted a 38 to 34 win over Boyne City last week will find themselves pitted against the tallest team in the loop when they take on the Vikings who boast a 6 ft. 6 in. center in Jack Hull and a 6 ft. 3 in. forward in Frank Gross. Other starters, Roger Hatfield and Roger Horning, are 5 ft 11 in., but the fifth member of the team, either Dave Wyman or Gary Springs, will push the nverall height of the team to well over six feet since both are 6 ft. 3 in.

The Rayders, on the other hand, have nothing to compete with this for their tallest players, Ron Vandenberg and Joe Beaudoin, are only 6 ft. 1 in.

Therefore the local quintet will have to depend on speed and a scoring attack from outside.

The Vikings were unable to hold their own against the Gaylord Blue Devils last week and this outfit is probably the shortest in the loop for their tallest player is only 5 ft. 11. However, they utilized speed and in so doing stayed ahead of the Grayling eleven, pulling away to an 11 point lead at one time in the game which they won 54 to 46 despite the fact that Grayling tied the score 46-all in the closing minutes.

If the Rayders can press and take advantage of the breaks they should come up with a victory over the lanky Vikings.

A highlight of the opening game will be the presentation of the new glass backboards to the Charlevoix high school by the Varsity club presently headed by Scott Supernaw.

Generals Lee and Grant fought on the same side in the Mexican War.

BY DES

Well here we go again after three weeks vacation. The first two were legal Covering last week, all I can say is I'm glad we dnn't bowl Sinclair every week—especially when I have to ride home with Meg.

Puffs lost three points to Hess but still held on to their slim lead of first place. For Hess two men hit over the 500 mark with Ralph Jr. leading the way with his 512 Herbie finally came to life and followed Ralph with a 507. (It couldn't have come at a better time Herb). For the losers, it was there anchor man Terry Rice who was high with his 524 Ed Lemcke hit 500 right on the nose. Puff finally came down from cloud nine.

The Airport Inn making their bid won three points from Browe and moved into 2nd place, 1½ points out. For the Inn, Hank, over his "basementitis" rolled a 539 followed by yours truly with a 519. Ted led his Electric team with a big 225 last game in a 489 series. There wasn't much juice in them the first two games but then Ted found the fuse box and they rolled 954 the last game, high for the night.

Neffs dropped back a notch as they dropped 3 points to Moonlight. Jim Lawyer was the big gun as he led his team with a nice 568 series including a 212 game. Lyle Miles started out trying for a triplicate by rolling two consecutive games of 134. Then he almost doubled what he already had by coming in with a big 255 game. That's where all the juice went that Browe's couldn't find. For the lusers, Bob Livingston was high with his 528, Dick Bergmann with a 518.

Browns, who fell in a rut a few weeks back haven't found their way out yet and they lost all 4 points to Freedman No. 2 who is trying to climb out of the cellar. Bob Koakley was high for Freedmans with a 481, but Jack Grubaugh had the big game with a 219. For Browns' only one man could do much of anything and that was Norm Empey with a 495.

Another team who fell in a rut a few weeks back continued on their losing ways also. Freedman No. 1 lost three points to Lake Construction. For the Lakers, Ron Wojan led the way with a 224 game, 545 series followed by George Bergmann with a 206 game, 512 series. For Freedman's "Robert 0." was high with a 210 game making into a 529 series. John Swansnn was close behind with his 525 series consisting nf a 202 game.

From the Side Lines . . .

It looked as if coach Carey had two teams working the floor. The first of these two teams a smooth rolling, well baalnced unit with offensive drive and fine defensive action.

The seemingly other team a not so smooth unit without a contrnlled defense.

The Rayders going into this game with Boyne as the pnwer of the conference lost top honors to a small but fast Gaylord five which should give many area teams a rough row to hoe before the season is over. Gaylord put down a tall team (avg. 6' 3") with a constant full court press. The Blue Devils have the shortest team in the conference (avg. 5' 11") but make up for it in speed and daring.

With only the season opener under their belts, the Rayders could develon offensively and defensively into a team we can all back at the tournaments — Let's get out and go.

Gaylord, Pellston and Mancelona Score Big Wins On Opening Night

Gaylnrd, Pellston and Mancelona, along with the Charlevoix Rayders, racked up opening game victories Friday night and thus served notice that they were on the comeback trail after slim years behind Boyne City and Harbor Springs.

Pellston	61
Harbor Springs	44

Pellston, paced by Barry Andersnn with 27 points, jumped into a 17 to 9 first quarter lead over the Harbor Springs Rams; increased their advantage to 28 to 14 at halftime and 40 to 28 going into the final period.

Anderson scored 11 field goals and five of seven free throws to win scoring honors. Bill McClutchey, another veteran, had 14 points for the victors.

Gaylord	54

Despite Grayling's superior height, the short Gaylord quintet ran circles around them as they jumped into a 10 to 7 first quarter lead over the Vikings who came back in the second quarter to cut the Blue Devils halftime advantage to one point, 22 to 21.

The Blue Devils forged ahead 37 to 30 to open the second half but the Vikings caught fire and with a minute remaining knotted the score 46-all. However, the loss of Jack Hull, 6 ft. 6 in Viking center early in the second half and Roger Hatfield with a minute left in the game hampered the Vikings who were downed by an eight point margin as time ran out. Another starter, Curt Smith, was lost via the foul route in the last minute scramble for possession of the ball.

Hatfield paced the scoring with 16 points for Grayling. Frank Gross had 10 and Roger Horning nine.

John Burnison had 14 and Terry Cremeans 10 for the victors.

Mancelona	52
East Jordan	34

The Mancelona Ironmen showed plenty of spark Friday night as they romped into a 13 to 8 first period lead over the East Jordan Red Devils who scored only two points in the second period to trail 25 to 10 at halftime. The Ironmen held a 38 to 21 advantage going into the final period.

Jerry Patrick accounted for 19 of the Ironmen's 52 points followed by Fred Moore with eight. Mike Schenck had 13 for East Jordan.

Port Huron Gets State Amateur Golf Tourney

The 1959 Michigan Amateur Golf tournament will go to Port Huron next summer for the first time in 10 years, according to Charles L. Kendrick, chairman of the State Championship committee.

The tourney will be played July 8-12 with the final three days of march play being held on the Black River Country club course. Qualifying rounds will be played at both Black River and the Port Huron country club.

Use of the two courses will enable up to 200 more golfers to play next year than competed last summer at the Belvedere golf club here. The field at the local course was limited to 220 this year. Approximately 350 are expected to compete in the 1959 meet.

With the return of the tournament to an area where two courses are available, the qualifying rounds will be spread over the two sites with each contestant playing on both courses during the 36 hole qualifier.

It is the first time in three years two courses have been available.

Glenn Johnson of Grosse Ile is the current titleholder. He has held the title for four of the past five years.

Sundew Mourns Loss Of Crew Mate

nursed through their first cases of 'mal de mer' or homesickness no one will ever know for Babe was a true friend and never violated a confidence.

But one thing she demanded was attention. Boastwain's Mate Sam Novak tells how she'd walk into the crew's quarters when they were all sitting around talking. She'd wait just so long for someone to notice her. If the attention wasn't forthcoming she would start tugging on trouser legs until she received the attention she desired.

She became an authority on trouser legs. Somehow she recognized those belonging to crew members. She had no regard for rank and, on occasion, had been known to nip at the ankle of an admiral who did not meet her fancy. She seemed to feel a responsibility for the men of the crew and always had their interests at heart. If bibting an admiral seemed to be the thing to do to protect her men, she wasn't above doing it.

Though Babe loved companionship she didn't make up with everyone at first, according to Quartermaster John Glenn. "You sort of had to prove yourself before she'd bestow her friendship on you" he recalls as he reminisced about his early days on the ship. But once she accepted you, certain things were expected of you. She expected you to slip her a treat at meal time, to fill her coffee bowl when she was thirsty and to shower her with attention when she was in the mood. Regardless of what they thought of her demands in the beginning, every crewman thru the years became her slave.

Sailors are known to be great coffee drinkers and Babe was no exception. She'd drink three or four big bowls of coffee a day, served with plenty of cream and sugar . . . no black coffee for her.

In her younger days, 'tis said, Babe wasn't above taking a nip of something stronger than coffee. She'd make the rounds of taverns in Sturgeon Bay where the ship was stationed at that time, drinking a bowl of beer in each. At the end of a long evening she'd start back to the ship but midway would "collapse" and would have to be carried the rest of the way.

During her ten years aboard the ship she was only known to go AWOL once. That was in 1954 when, for some reason unknown to her shipmates, she went to go aboard a freighter tied near the Sundew. One day she fell thru an open hatch into the hold of the ship and suffered a severe leg injury. It was then that she came limping back to the Sundew. That experience seemed to serve as a lesson to Babe and she decided to grow old gracefully. From then on she seldom left the ship to go into town and seemed content to stay close to her friends in blue.

Her shipmates remember Babe as a 'smart' sailor. She usually slept in the mess hall but when the seas got rough she'd head for a spot at mid-ship and remain there until the storm was over.

Though she knew all the orders piped over the loud speaker her favorite was the anchor detail. When she heard this she'd come tearing and bark at the anchor chain as it hauled in or let out the anchor.

She knew the lakes and the ports as well as any sailor aboard. As the ship neared its mooring, shes would be at the side, prepared to be the first ashore. Once in a great while Babe would miss the ship, as it pulled out of port and, on several occasions through the years, skippers were known to turn back so she could rejoin the crew.

Babe never lacked for anything money could buy. The crewmen had a fund with which to pay for her medical care and to buy the 'extras' she demanded. When the ship steamed into Charlevoix last June to make this its home port, the 'best dressed sailor' aboard was Babe for she'd been bathed and trimmed before leaving Sturgeon Bay so she'd make a good impression when she arrived at her new home.

"Babe liked Charlevoix," Novak was heard to say. "She enjoyed romping on the grass near the dock and playing in the shallow water nearby. She loved to chase the gulls and ducks and they in turn would dive at her. It was a great game she never seemed to tire of," Glenn continued.

Though she is gone, there isn't a crewman from the skipper to the newest recruit who doesn't have fond memories of Babe. And wherever Coast Guardsmen gather in years to come there'll be some crew member of the Sundew who'll perpetuate the memory of a little white dog who dearly loved her many masters who composed the crews of the Sundew from 1948 to 1958.

No Punch in Office Parties

A campaign is being waged throughout industry and business by the National Safety Council to dry up the parties or cut them out. Reports indicate a number of firms have expressed a willingness to comply. Some workers may mourn the passing of the wassail bowl but its demise is certain to eliminate far more serious mourning in many cases.

Surveys made by the Council show that a sizeable percentage of Christmas traffic accidents occur early in the holiday season and that many of these can be traced to highball hilarity.

If history repeats, the approaching Christmas season might well be the deadliest of 1958 on our streets and highways. The combination of alcohol, poor weather, long hours of darkness and the universal spirit of holiday celebration can pile up serious odds against safe travel.

Omitting liquor at office parties means that no drunken or tipsy drivers will leave parties to injure or kill themselves or others on the highways. It can mean a really merry instead of a tragic Christmas for workers and their families.

Southern Publisher's Point of View

"We Should Have Won in the Sixties" is the title of a recent editorial by Albert W. Quattlebaum, publisher of the Pike County (Georgia) Jourial. While we in Charlevoix look at racial integration as something far away, Mr. Quattlebaum faces it as a realty and his satiracle comments present an interesting viewpoint from his side of the line. His editorial follows in full and I trust Courier readers will enjoy it as much as I did.

"You know, it's too bad we didn't lick the living daylights out of the Yankees back in the sixties. Things would have been better now. We would have made a reasonable, even a generous peace, and the reconstruction of both nations would have been orderly and peaceful. Of course, we have made the boogers pay for all of our stuff that was busted up, but we would have made friends with them and of them, and the two nations would have stood shoulder-to-shoulder against the world in a strong alliance. And everybody knows a strong alliance is better than a mess of a union where one part has no respect for the rights and wishes of the other part.

"We Confederates, then, would have been better off as an ally of the US. We would have been eligible for all sorts of aids, grants, giveaways and not-to-be-repaid loans. Good old Uncle Sam would have fallen all over himself to build us some dams, roads, schools, libraries, industrial plants, and most anything else we wanted. We could have charged big rents on air bases, rocket-launching stations, navy yards and Ike's vacation grounds. We could have kept Mr. Dulles brink-walking by day or night, and called for summit meetings every weekend or so.

"We could have had whatever kind of schools we wanted and our laws would have been the laws we wanted and if Mr. Warren's supreme court didn't like 'em they could lump 'em.

"In other words, we would have run our business to suit ourselves and the Yankees would have paid the bills for us. That's what they are doing all over the world or as much as they can get to.

It would have suited the Yankees better also. We would have kept our sensible congressmen and senators down south where they wouldn't have interferred with the 'liberals.' Them there 'spendthrift Yankees could have scattered the taxpayers' money high, wide and handsome with both hands.

"Come to think of it, that's what they are doing anyway."

Wistful it is—no matter from which side of the Mason-Dixon line you look at it.

ODDS 'N ENDS

WONDER WHAT the weather's going to be like this winter? . . . No, we haven't lost our mind . . . but with winter scheduled to arrive this weekend we couldn't help but wonder . . . If what we've experienced the past three weeks is any criterion of things to come, heaven help us . . . Oswego, N. Y., will have nothing on us . . . Late Sunday the fluffy white stuff continued to float down . . . six inches of it in a few hours . . . which should make for a white Christmas in God's country . . . namely, northern Michigan.

BUT DESPITE the weather we've been hearing about robins . . . at least a half dozen of 'em, who are spending the winter here . . . Edgar Smith was the first one to tell us about them when he sighted them in a mountain ash tree near his house in the middle of a snow storm . . . Since then we heard Ernest Staley telling about them . . . Either they know that this weather's going to clear shortly, that there is pleny of good rations available in that area or they're just plain stupid . . . We'll wait and see.

IT'S BEGINNING to look like Christmas . . . with the Nativity scene as well as the Santa Claus and reindeer in the park, the overhead street decorations, the lighted trees in front of the stores and the store windows . . . Christmas decorations are beginning to appear every where . . . Have you noticed the beautiful ones on the windows at the county building . . . on the north side of the building there's the Nativity scene and across the front season's greetings are there for all to see . . . Don't know whose idea it was but it's certainly a clever one.

WHAT WITH THREE dog stories in as many weeks we were told the other day that the Courier's sure goin' to the dogs . . . But stories like those are great fun to write . . . Don't know what there is about a dog but we love most of 'em . . and love doing such yarns . . . And if that's what someone calls 'going' to the dogs' then we're all for it.

YOU NO DOUBT read the story in last week's Courier about the JayCees and the disaster fund of nearly $5,000 which they turned over to Mayor Kenneth Vogelheim of Rogers City . . . Don Brown heads the JayCees here and after making the trip across the state to turn the funds over to the proper authorities was telling us about it . . . Nothing, of course, can replace the lives that were lost in the sinking of the Bradley . . . But to us the fact that so many people are interested in people they'd never heard of before is nothing less than unbelievable . . . which just bears out what we've always sad . . . Give someone . . . just about anyone . . . a chance to show what a good guy or gal he is and you won't be disappointed . . . We still say it's mighty good world we live in . . . and we wouldn't miss it for anything . . . Aren't you proud of our JayCees for serving as a receiving agency for this fund . . . We think these joes are going to have a better Chrsitmas for having been so thoughtful of someone else in an hour of need . . . Try it sometime . . . it's a pretty nice feeling.

WE KNOW THAT most of you don't have your Christmas trees up yet but we want to get our request in early . . . It isn't really ours for we're making it in behalf of King Saunders at the Mt. McSauba ski run . . . When you've finished with your trees, King would like them for use at the mountain where they are placed in strategic places designed to keep the snow from blowing away . . . or something equally as important . . . So . . . won't you take it to the mountain, to King's Dixon ave. home or give him a buzz and he'll have it picked up.

AND NOW I'D like to wish you all a happy, happy holiday season . . . I don't know what it is but there's something about Christmas and the Christmas spirit that makes me want to say 'Hi' . . . to everyone I know and wish him a happy Christmas . . . and I'd like to do just that to all those wonderful people I work with all year long . . . the people at the city hall, the county building, the hospital, sheriff's office, police and fire departments . . . the fellows at the Coast Guard whom I hound countless times for stories and temperatures . . . the many, many people who give us tips of all kinds on stories of all kinds . . . I'd love nothing bebtter than o drop you all a little note and tell you how lucky I feel to know you . . . But since I can't, my wish for the happiest and most blessed of holiday seasons

While primarily designed for the enjoyment of the student body of the local high school, the program is open to the public. There will be no admission charge.

Groups participating will be the 64-piece senior band, the 65-voice girls glee club and the newly-organized high school choir featuring more than 90 voices.

The program will open with the high school band playing the popular "Frosty the Snowman" and a fine arrangement of six traditional carols entitled "Christmas Suite" by Walters.

The Girls Glee Club will present a group of five numbers including "Say, Where is He Born" by Mendelssohn, "O Holy Night" by Yon, "The Sleigh" by Kountz, "Christmas Lullaby" by Warren with a soprano solo by Patricia Belfy who also is student director and "Jingle Bells" by Pierpont.

The Choir composed of members of the girls' glee club and 20 high school boys will then present a group of traditional carols including "Silent Night" with a descant provided by Patricia Belfy, Sharon Abfalter, Nancy Bogart, Mary Ann Klooster; "Away in a Manger" and "O Come, All Ye Faithful."

Carols sung by the audience will be followed by the high school band concluding the program with two holiday selections Berlin's "White Christmas" and "Winter Wonderland."

Mrs. Leonard Burns will accompany the Glee Club.

Barber Shoppers Present Charter Night Program

Quartets from Boyne City, Holland and Grand Rapids entertained an appreciative audience Monday evening marking the official chartering of the recently organized local chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America.

Although some of the quartets scheduled were unable to fulfill their commitments, those that did arrive furnished a full evening's program with their extensive repertorie of loveable songs sung with the harmonizing effects that mark the barber shop quartets.

Dean Davenport opened the program and introduced District President Cecil Fisher of Grand Rapids who served as master of ceremonies. Presenting the program were the Tune Spenders of Boyne City, the Extension Chords of Grand Rapids and the Chord Counts of Holland.

Charlevoix the Beautiful chapter was officially awarded a charter and welcomed into the national organization of SPEBSQSA during the program. The presentation was made by Mr. Fisher and the charter received in behalf of the chapter by Byron Wright, president of the local organization.

Following the program local and visiting barbershoppers and their friends continued the evening at a traditional After-Glow at the Weathervane Inn. A smorgasbord supper was served at midnight.

Kickapoos Serve Kedoodlers at Kiwanis Dinner

Kiwaniqueens were guests of the Kiwanis club Monday evening at a dinner which marked the close of a year-long contest between two factions of the club.

The losing Kickapoos, captained by Ralph Hamilton, paid their debt by not only furnishing the dinner but by having to serve it as well.

Following the dinner Capt. Hamilton read a prepared tribute to the winnng team, the Kedoodlers, and presented their captain, Glenn Snyder, with a home-made trophy befitting the occasion. Capt. Snyder accepted the award graciously but unveiled it with considerable apprehension only to discover a tall glass figure embellished with a big letter "K" and mounted on a silver colored base.

The more serious side of the program was handled by the Rev. Fred McNeil, pastor of the First Methodist church, who related his reaction to some of the experiences he encountered as an airforce navigator in World War II.

Joan R. Heilig Graduates from Nursing School

Bielskas, hospital chaplain, delivered the graduation address. The Nightingale Pledge was taken by the graduates at the ceremony which was concluded with Benediction celebrated by Monsignor Francis M. Schultz. Joseph L. Sullivan, organist at St. Andrew's Cathedral, provided the special musisc.

Graduation activities started Saturday with a social hour followed by the graduation banquet at the cafeteria at St. Mary's hospital. Roger Allen, Grand Rapids Press humorist, was the guest speaker. Special awards were presented by Sister Mary Xavier, RSM, director of the school. On Sunday the graduates attended Mass and later gathered at Elmwood to receive their graduates caps before proceeding to St. Andrew's Cathedral for graduation ceremonies.

Miss Heilig is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Heilig. She is a 1956 graduate of the Charlevoix high school and was the recipient of the first nursing scholarship offered by the Women's Guild of the Charlevoix hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Heilig were in Grand Rapids for the exercises.

Bowling News

BY DES

During the week Sinclair won 3 points from Swanson's. Now this week Neffs and Freedman No. 2 didn't bowl.

Well with only 3 weeks left Puffs held on to first place by a slim 1½ points. They were able to win three points from the Oilers as three men hit over the 500 mark. Puff again led his team with a 211 game in a 564 series. Ed Lemcke followed up with a 510 and Ron Cunningham with a 505. For the Oilers, Meg broke loose and rolled 3 nice games of 199, 206, and 202 for a big 607 series. Kenny was the only help to Meg though as he rolled a 543.

Airport Inn stayed in second place as we won 3 points from Moonlight. (Sorry Annie). Big gun for the Inn was "ole" Hank himself as he rolled a 549—and guess how he did it?—With a triplicate—183, 183, 183. How's that for being consistant. Nick Hamilton came through with a 525. I beat Nick by 9 points with a 536 but I was lucky to do that even though I had a chance at 600 by starting out with games of 201 and 203. "Wha-hoppen" that 3rd game I couldn't tell you. All I know is that I ended up with a 132. For Moonlight, who I must admit put up a tough struggle, Jim Lawyer was again high with a 531. Followed up by L. V. with a 522 and then Grog with a 503. (For you cats who don't dig this jive—that's L. V. Miles and "Grog" Genco) You can tell I've been watching Peter Gunn.

Brown Motors moved up a few notches as they took all 4 points from a 4 man Hess team. "Itchie" Bennett (that's Charles Thomas) led the way with a 447. Now that's what I call leading the way — no wonder Browns took 4 points. The high man for the winners, Pete Withers had a 482. As you can tell it was a high scoring match, and Jess P. aided that as he came in with another one of those fine games of his. Don't worry though Jess I'm not the kind of guy who would tell them it was a 99.

Freedman No. 1 finally shook off their slump as they won 3 points from Browe. John Swanson who has been having his troubles this year came through with a big 596 series consisting of a 200 and a 210 game. Don Gilbert was next as he rolled high game of the night with a 224 in a 558 series and then Robert "O" hitting his second 500 series in a row (and hes' had them both this year) 507. For Browe's it was Ted again trying to show his team how it should be done as he rolled a 212 game and a 530 series. Only one man seemed to get the message though and that was John Sladek as he had a 520. (Personally I think it's just that John didn't want Soupie to call him any more names like he did last week.)

Last but not least we have Lake taking all 4 points from Swanson's — and without "Steverino". Hal Forbrig led his team with a 200 game in a 518 series. For Swanson's — Bob Ferguson led the way with a 456 — I said it before and I'll say it again — "that's leading the way?"

Stevereno — next time you bowl you'd better have a cigar for Hank to welcome him into your Fraternity. You're the only two guys I know in this league who have Triplicates.

"Ferdinand is sure blowing tonight."

MERRY . . AND SAFE

The trucking industry of Michigan is again working hand in glove with Santa Claus in an effort to insure all Christmas gifts arriving at their destinations on time . . . It's just one of scores of ways in which trucks serve the people of Michigan. Transporting everything you eat, wear, or use, trucks play a vital role in the running of the home, the operation of business, the provision of roads, public utilities, and facilities for national defense . . . Trucks set a pattern for safety, too, and the State's thousands of truck drivers, in wishing you and yours a Merry Christmas, pledge to do their part to make 1959 a safe and Happy New Year.

Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn

Softened Outlenes

Now winter deepens in the North as December days creak past, carrying us ever nearer the year's end. Snow falls heavily from the leaden skies, and prankish winds toss the crystal whiteness into high drifts. Birches, poplars, maples, ash and elms on our acres are clothed with glistening mica, and the evergreens wear thick, jeweled, woolen robes. Winter's wizardry has cast enchantment over the North Country, teasing Mother Nature until, unnerved, she dropped her jewelry box, spilling sparkling beauty all around.

But even more beautiful than the dazzling whiteness is the new softness one sees everywhere. Roof peaks are rounded by the snow. The sharp needles of spruce, Balsam and pine are cushioned by a white coverlet. Jagged stump tops are capped, and the sharp ends of broken limbs are mittened. Everywhere, in woods, by brookside, or in open field, sharp outlines have yielded to the artful skill and charm of a wintry snowstorm until every object has been attired with a gentle grace.

Human beings, too, lose much of their rough, sharp angularity as December moves toward Yuletide. Much of the beauty of the Christmas season lies in what happens to the human spirit as we draw near Nativity Day. Just as the sharp outlines of roofs, trees, shrubs and fences soften into flowing elegance under the influence of fallen snow, so the harshness of the soul is touched by the celebration of the Savior's birth

Even those who are customarily selfish now begin thinking more of others. What they want for Christmas yields to what they will give to dear ones, and the "getters," like Wise Men, come to Christmas Day "bearing gifts."

The arrogant know-it-alls, positive about all things, find their obstinate certainties giving way under the mystery and wonder of the old story of the Christ Child's coming. Here is one thing that defies their easy, off-hand, self-satisfied explanations. The little King, without a palace, or a crown, or an army, or a sword, or a kingdom, and oppressed by King Herod who sought to murder Him, becomes Sovereign of Souls to millions everywhere and splits history into B. C. and A. D. How? Ask any pretentious know-it-all this Christmas season, and, softened by the mystery of the incarnation, he will doubtlessly surprise himself and you with a new-found humility and answer, "I do not know. It is beyond me."

Our rough neglect of the things that matter most is covered now with a new thoughtfulness and awareness of what is beautiful, good and true. Even the snow seems whiter and purer at Christmas, and the stars seem brighter. Friendships are more cherished. Children are dearer. Husbands and wives become a bit more tender. This is a time of receptiveness, when the opening of gifts and the opening of hearts seem to go together naturally.

While I occasionally hear wild laments about the commercialization of Christmas (and some of the complaints are justified) still, can anyone point to another period of the year when our natures are so dispossessed of greed, so caught up in beauty, joy and wonder? Is there ever another day when this sometimes grim, ugly, hard and sordid world is so overspread with splendor?

Christmas is a good time to see ourselves as we ought always to be. It is a time of kindness and forgiveness, a time of self-forgetfulness and remembrance of others, a season of quiet gratitude, appreciation and joy in belonging to one another. Christmas envelops us with the spirit that ought always be ours.

We need now to let Christmas melt on us and run down to the roots of our being, so that we shall be nourished and sustained by that spirit in all our days that lie ahead.

Teacher's Club Presents Gifts To Santa Claus

At their annual Christmas party at the Hotel Dilworth last Wednesday, the Charlevoix Teachers Club abandoned their usual practice of exchanging gifts and later turning them over to Santa Claus Anonymous. This year the club collected present money from each teacher and gave the money directly to "Santa Claus," so he could buy the presents.

With no presents to distribute, the after-dinner activities were shortened to the presentation of a desk lamp to Superintendent Bennett for his school office, the singing of Christmas Carols, and a Christmas song by D. C. Maltby.

Club President, Mrs. Robert Richards, presented the lamp, C. A. Odmark led the singing, and Mrs. Pete Burns played the accompaniments.

Legion Auxiliary Holds Annual Party

The American Legion Auxiliary met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Emerson Hull for their annual Christmas party.

At the brief business meeting it was reported that several Christmas remembrances were being sent to residents of the community and that at Thanksgiving time patients at Grandvue hospital had been remembered with a gift. A contribution was also made to the school for supplies.

A social hour, refreshments and exchange of gifts concluded the meeting. A lighted Christmas tree held the gifts.

Mrs. Hull was assisted by Mrs. Kenneth B. Forbes and Mrs. Leo Allard.

Camera Club Plans Christmas Party

The annual Christmas party of the Ch-ot-em Camera Club will be held today (Thursday) at the J. H. Perkett home in Boyne City.

Organized 12 years ago, the club is composed of amateur photographers from Charlevoix, Otsego and Emmet counties. James Avery of Boyne City is president of the organization.

CHARLEVOIX

by LES JOHNSON, Manager

SHOPPING'S A HOBBY with some people. They like nothing better than a long store-by-store hunt for a bargain. For the rest of us shopping is one of those things that just has to be done. So we put it off until the last moment—especially at Christmas—then find ourselves rushed for time. The Yellow Pages directory can make your last-minute shopping much easier. It lists the names and phone numbers of local dealers. Do your searching in the Yellow Pages—and save yourself valuable time.

Merry Christmas

TALKING OF CHRISTMAS SHOPPING, why not give your family a gift that's useful year-round, smartly styled—comes in a choice of nine decorator colors? Sounds expensive but it isn't—costs only about a dollar a month after a small installation charge. It's an extension phone—the gift that speaks for itself. One in the bedroom, kitchen or laundry room will save time and steps year after year. And each time it does, your family will bless you for your thoughtfulness. Just pick up your phone and order a phone.

WHEN SPEAKING to each other, Long Distance operators usually use a code (it speeds your service). "D-A" means the party doesn't answer; "B-Y" means the number is busy and so on. An operator was stumped recently when another operator informed her that the number being called was "O-M-C." "What does that mean?" she asked, mystified. "Out milking cows," came the reply.

THIS LITTLE STORY has a point. The telephone system for all its size is actually a network of small local offices. Each is adapted to the needs of the neighborhood and run by the folks who live nearby. Despite automatic equipment of great complexity, it is still people who make telephone service good.

A VERY HAPPY CHRISTMAS to you. And may all your telephone calls in 1959 be happy ones.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Windy Needs Less Horse-power!

A bunch of us—Windy Taytor included—went to see Easy Roberts' new two-year-old filly. She's a real beauty!

Right off the bat, Windy was the "authority." He told Easy what kind of bridle to buy, what saddle. He even suggested that Easy was not keeping her in a warm enough stall.

Finally Windy pointed to the horse feed Easy had purchased and said, "Oh, no, not that. There's a much better brand." Easy smiled and said, "Really? When was the last time you ate some?"

From where I sit, the best advice is not to give too much advice, too often. Sooner or later, you intrude on people's personal preferences. Like who to vote for, or what car to buy—even what beverage is most refreshing. Me—I'll take a glass of beer but maybe you like iced tea. Fine! Let's respect each other's choice and not debate each other "hoarse."

J-V's Drop Another

Charlevoix's Little Rayders lost to the Grayling Reserves Friday night by a score of 54 to 47 in a game which saw the local quintet, trailing as much as 19 points at one time, cut the visitors victory margin to seven points as the game ended.

The Grayling squad jumped into a 16 to 6 first quarter lead which they increased to 35 to 19 at halftime and 46 to 29 as the game went into the final period. However, in the last quarter Charlevoix caught fire and outscored the visitors 18 to 8.

Jim Dennis, Jim Stewart, Sam Supernaw, Don Nowland and Henry Wagner started for Charlevoix; Stan Martin and Barry Pierce joined the line-up in the first quarter; Tony Duerr in the second and Lee Welenga, Terry DeYoung, Perry Smith, Tom Martin and Darrell Somerville in the second half.

Scoring in the first period was confined to two feld goals by Supernaw and a gift shot by Dennis while Grayling dumped in seven field goals and two charity shots.

Grayling had its best period in the second when the young Vikings scored seven field goals and five free throws. Charlevoix came up with two field goals by Dennis, three points by Supernaw and field goals by Stewart, Wagner and Duerr.

Supernaw scored three points, Dennis, Martin and Wielenga one field goal each and one point by Wagner in the third quarter. Grayling, on the other hand, had four field goals and three single shots.

Charlevoix collected 18 points in the final quarter including eight points by Martin, four each by Supernaw and Wagner and one field goal by Duerr. Grayling had eight points on three field goals and two free throws.

Supernaw paced the scoring for Charlevoix with 14 points followed by Martin with 10. Jerry Robertson who left the game with five fouls with three minutes remaining had 24 for Gray-..

THIS WEEK'S GAMES

East Jordan at Charlevoix
Gaylord at Pellston
Harbor Springs at Grayling
Mancelona at Boyne City

Results J-V Games

Grayling 54, Charlevoix 47
East Jordan 38, Harbor Springs 28
Boyne City 39, Gaylord 35
Mancelona 47, Pellston 33

This year marks the first time that Paul Phaler's Boyne City Ramblers have failed to win in their first three starts.

From the Side Lines . . .

It looked as if we were in the wrong gym (at times that is). Some of the rough edges seemed to have been smoothed in the last week of practice or under the lashing tongues of coaches and Monday morning get-to-gethers.

In any event we are most happy we found a change in the Rayders offensive playing.

The starting line-up seemed to be fired up and played a good scrappy game of ball. Could be pressure has been brought to bear from the boys riding the sliver seat. Always was a bad place to be when you wanted to get into the thick of things. With the East Jordan game coming up Friday we think it best we hold judgement until the final gun. This E. J. outfit is hard to figure and comes up with some of the most unpleasant action.

This Week With Class 'C' Teams

Gaylord will play at Pellston in a game which will highlight the action in the Northern Michigan Class C league this Friday. Other games wll find Mancelona invading Boyne City, Harbor Springs traveling to Grayling and Charlevoix hosting East Jordan.

The games will mark the final play until early next month

The Gaylord-Pellston meeting will be an interesting one for it will pit two of the three undefeated teams in the loop against each other. Pellston has chalked up wins over Harbor Springs (61-44) and Mancelona (40-36) while Gaylord has won over Grayling 54-46) and Boyne City (47-35).

Pellston depends on its two experienced torwards, Barry Anderson and Bill McClutchey, both 6 ft. 3 in., to control the backboards and do their scoring. Gaylord does not have height and must depend on the speed and 'ball hawking' of such players as the Burnison brothers, John and Bob, and scoring ability of the entire quintet who have all, on occasion, displayed scoring ability.

This should be a very close game for both have aggresive teams who have been sparked by veterans. Pellston will have the advantage of playing on their home floor but Gaylord cannot be counted out and may surprise their hosts by coming up with a victory by a narrow margin.

The Harbor Springs-Grayling game will find two cellar dwellers meeting each other. Though Grayling has a young team, it shows plenty of promise and though the Vikings have lost to Gaylord and Charlevoix they could make their way into the win column this week. Harbor Springs is starting from scratch and may shape up as the season progresses. However, at the moment they seem to lack drive and this may be their undoing against the Grayling outfit which is aggressive to a point.

Though Mancelona lost to the Pellston Hornets last week they are still a hard playing outfit which will get tougher as the season progresses. They should come up with a win over the Boyne City Ramblers who are undergoing a re-building program and who have yet to find their stride.

Rayders Hold Vikings Down Thru-Out Game

Charlevoix Rayders rolled up an impressive 65 to 53 score over the visiting Grayling Vikings Friday to post their second win of the current season.

Charlevoix jumped into a 19 to 14 first quarter advantage and then continued to pull away from the visitors 33 to 26 at halftime and 47 to 36 at the three quarter mark. As the final period got underway Coach Don Carey emptied the bench as 15 players saw action.

Starting for the Rayders were Joe Beaudoin, Steve LaBlance, Ron Vandenberg, Bill Poquette and Dave Schuchard. When Schuchard collected his fourth foul in the second period Charles Coleman joined the line-up. Player who saw action in the final quarter were Jim Ladd, Ken Case, John Martin, Bruce Pease, Stan Smith, Rod Ostrum, Dick Van Raaphorst and Ralph Brock.

Grayling jumped into a 4 to 0 lead in the game Friday night with field goals by Frank Gross and Roger Horning before LaBlance finally found the basket for the Rayders. Schuchard gave Charlevoix three points with a charity shot and Horning countered with one for the visitors. Schuchard and Beaudoin added a field goal apiece before Vandenberg sank two charity shots to put Charlevoix ahead for the first time 9 to 8. Roger Hatfield knotted the score with a free throw but Beaudoin went in for a shot which put the Rayders ahead 11 to 9. From then on the Rayders led the visitors.

When the scoring for the quarter was completed the Rayders had 19 points including seven by Beaudoin, five each by Vandenberg and Schuchard and a field goal by LaBlance.

School Principal Attends Conference

H. E. Bingham, Charlevoix high school principal, was in Lansing recently to attend the annual Michigan Secondary School Principals Conference.

While there he also attended a meeting of the Michigan High School Athletic Association.

Dope Sheet

The Charlevoix Rayders will host the East Jordan Red Devils here Friday night in the last game before the holidays.

The Rayders will resume their schedule Friday, Jan. 2, when they travel to Petoskey to take on the Northmen.

Charlevoix is currently sharing first place in league standings with Pellston and Gaylord. All three teams are newcomers to the loop lead after finishing behind Boyne City and Harbor Springs last season.

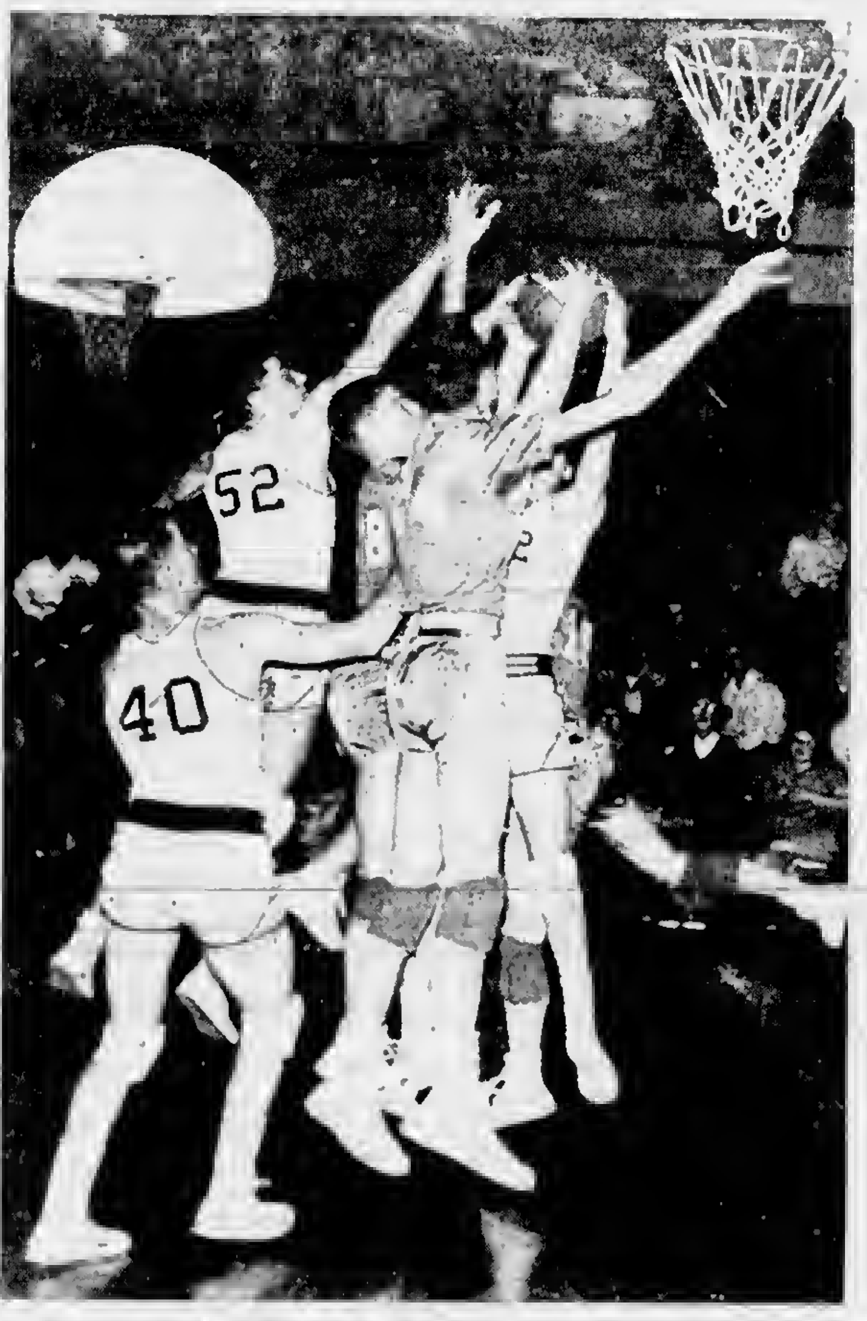
The East Jordan Red Devils racked up their first win of the season last week, a 59 to 39 victory over Harbor Springs while the Rayders have two wins to their credit, a 38 to 34 decision over Boyne City and a 65 to 53 win over Grayling.

East Jordan, however, can be a rugged advesary when the opponent is Charlevoix and this game could be a close one.

Thus far they have depended on a newcomer, Mike Schenck, a transfer from Lapeer, to do the major part of their scoring. Coach Gayle Saxton has several seasoned players and the Jordanites could be cast in the role of spoiler especially against an old rival like the Rayders.

The Rayders have come a long way since their opening game wth the Ramblers. They have gained confidence and are beginning to look like a fairly well balanced outfit that despite lack of height should come up with their fair share of wins if they play the type of ball they displayed against Grayling.

Charlevoix should stay on the victory trail but games with another county team can go either way and this could [illegible] pattern.



Everybody seems to have gotten into the act on this play but it was Rayder Joe Beaudoin (42) who came out of the fray with the ball during the Charlevoix-Grayling game Friday night which the Rayders won 65 to 53.

Pruning Not Enough

National Review points out that "over-all government spending will never be appreciably cut by a little pruning here and a small squeeze there." Instead, it goes on, "the only way to make sizeable cuts in the Big Budget is to cut whole chunks and organs out of Big Government: that is to say, by lopping off entire agencies, offices, bureaus and activities that never did belong as a part of the government of a free country, and that could be better handled — and more cheaply — outside of government."

This endeavor is not a hopeless dream, nor is it particularly difficult — if we have the resolve and the energy to act. National Review makes a number of suggestions. The government, for instance, is involved in thousands of manufacturing and service operations, large and small, which require billions of dollars worth of machinery and legions of workers. The magazine asks: "Why not get rid of them, selling the plants and machines and the going services to the highest bidders, and using the moneys received to reduce the national debt?"

A program of this kind, regorously pursued to completion, would benefit us all in a number of ways. First of all, the money gained from sale of government commercial business would be a bonanza to the treasury. Secondly, these businesses commonly operate at a loss and are tax supported—so getting rid of them would reduce the general tax load. Thirdly, they are wholly of principally tax free and, once in private hands, would be taxed, thus creating revenue for the government instead of devouring it.

Best of all, no one (except some bureaucrats) would lose anything. Private enterprise, publicly regulated, would go right on producing everything we want and need.

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

THERE'S THE greeting of "Merry Christmas" in the air as the good wishes of the season are exchanged everywhere . . . There is lights from the Christmas tree shining through the windows of most every home . . . There's carolers bringing the Christmas story in song to friends and shut-ins . . . The lights shining on the snow turn it into a myriad of priceless jewels . . . The stars in the sky seem bigger and brighter than ever . . . And somehow you know it's Christmas.

Even though you might try you can't keep that Christmas feeling out of your heart . . . You want to walk up to everyone you know, no matter where they are, and say "Happy Christmas . . . I'm glad I know you."

AND AS CHRISTMAS Eve nears you think back and wonder what it must have been like that first Christmas . . . when the star of Bethlehem guided the shepherds to the manger in the City of David . . . How awe-inspiring it must have been . . . Ever wonder what you would have done had you been there?

WE'RE WILLING to take back all the disparaging remarks we made about the lack of snow last year which resulted in a green Christmas . . . If you remember the weather was very mild and we didn't have snow til late in the month . . . But this year . . . heaven help us . . . There's been only one or two days since Nov. 25 that it hasn't snowed sometime during the 24 hours . . . We were within one inch at 5 p.m. Sunday of having as much snow as we had all last season . . . and that's official . . . Harry Ladd, as you all know, keeps the official records for the weather bureau and that's what his records show . . . You don't believe? . . . Then you're in Florida, Arizona or California and haven't seen it . . . There's snow every place . . . and it's drifted where we don't ever remember it drifting other years . . . The grill work of the north pier is covered with ice . . . And if the sun would ever shine it would be beautiful . . . But really, despite the inconvenience the heavy snowfall has caused it's truly lovely . . . The snow's as white as it's supposed to be because the fresh snow keeps coming . . . And though it's been mighty cold, we haven't minded too much . . . Incidently, Pellston was the coldest spot in the nation (wonder if that includes Alaska?) with a temperature of 31 degrees below zero Saturday . . . It's at times like this that we're grateful for Lake Michigan . . . which keeps us warm (?) in the winter and cool in the summer.

ISN'T IT FUN seeing all the youngsters home from school . . . and all the friends home for the holidays . . . A lot of holiday plans have been spoiled by the weather but people who live here aren't bothered too much by it all . . . Maybe they're slowed down a little but that's all.

AND THE SKIING . . . we hear it's teriffic no matter where you choose to go . . . Mt. McSauba's open now and we're told that the skiing's never been as good as right now . . . And the ice skating . . . well, that's just as good the skaters tell us . . . So, if you can' do anything else in weather like this try winter sports.

And if you don't like active sports, become a spectator . . . You can have lots of fun and you meet the nicest people that way . . . Honest!

IT WAS WHILE we were doing a bit of 'spectating' that we noticed the beautiful new maroon and white sweat jackets the Rayders are wearing these days . . . Real sharp, man . . . And the same applies to those glass backboards the Varsity club gave to the school . . . They're really nice and add a lot to the old gym . . . We hope they'll do as much for our basketball team.

WE HAD A STORY early last fall about the driver who struck a dog while driving on Park ave. and then drove off without stopping . . . Since then two other dogs have been struck by cars . . . One was killed outright and the third, a family pet, nearly died, not only of his injuries but from exposure . . . It wasn't until sometime later, when the dog didn't come home, that the family discovered he was hurt from blood stains in the snow . . . or so they assumed . . . They searched for the pet and finally, at 1 a.m., gave up . . . The next morning they found him on the doorstep where he'd dragged himself despite his injuries and the cold . . . Thus far he's still living but at first it was pretty much "touch and go" . . . If the driver of the car had stopped and reported the accident a lot of suffering could have been avoided . . . Everyone realizes that you can't always help hitting a dog in the street but surely you could stop and see how badly the animal is hurt and try to do something for it . . . And as one mother said . . . If it's the dogs now, how long before it's going to be one of our children . . . Which is all too true so won't you be a bit more careful.

AND SPEAKING of driving carefully . . . do just that over the holidays that are coming up . . . It's this time of the year that the accident rate sky-rockets . . . We've had more than our share of accidents this year sos won't you be a bit more careful on the highways which are hazardous because of the snow . . . We love you and we'd like to have you around, come next year.

WE DIDN'T HAPPEN to see this, but Cliff Gregory called it to our attention . . . Seems there was a picture taken in Detroit on the occasion of the opening of the new bus station . . . Approximately 200 buses were seen in the picture . . . and right there, as big as life, on the front of the bus was the name of "Charlevoix" . . . Leave it to a Charlevoixan to notice that!

WE HAVEN'T the vaguest idea what this bit of information means, weather-wise, but Mrs. Edward Lemeke reports that she has a beautiful butterfly and two lady-bugs living among the plants on her kitchen window at her home near Ironton . . . And crows and robibns along with countless other birds are sharing a feeding station over at the Robert Yonkmans . . . near the Chicago Club . . . Those must have been the crows someone else told us about.

* * *

HERE'S ONE of those fantastic deer hunting stories you hear about now and then . . . Seems Joe and Bill Armstrong and John Powell took the pastor of their church, the Rev. Bone, hunting for the first time this fall . . . Though they weren't far from home they had him believing they'd traveled miles . . . They even had to load his gun and show him how to use it . . . Within he hour he'd shot his deer and hauled it out of the woods while the others were still hunting . . . He also was the only one in the party to fill his license . . . What's that about he who laughs last?

Charlevoix Churches Announce Special Christmas Services

Two things stand out in particular, at this time of year, as reasons to be glad in heart . . . the significance of the Lord's birth in Bethlehem and of His birth in a stable.

Bethlehem translated from the Hebrew means "house of bread.' Bread was then and is now considered the "staff of life." The Lord was sent unto mankind to be the bread of life and those who would see Him must partake of the bread of life which is obtained by believeing in Jesus Christ and following His teachings.

The Lord's birth in a stable points to another spiritual and practical truth . . . only those of true humility can see God. What is a more humble origin than being born in a stable? Jesus could have been born in a plush inn or the home of wealthy friends, but God, in His wisdom, wanted the world to know that material possessions or background have nothing to do with attaining the vision of God. No, this birth story teaches that the path to God is along the road, not of humiliation, but true humility. Only those who humble themselves in the service of others can hope to see God face to face.

Thus the significance of the Christmas story will be told by priests and ministers on this anniversary of the birth of Christ the King. As the shepherds were guided to the manger where the Christ Child lay, so worshippers will find their way to Christian churches throughout the world on Christmas 1958.

In honor of this special occasion several local churches will conduct Christmas Eve and Christmas Day services.

The Holy Communion service will be celebrated at Christ Episcopal church at 11 p.m. Christmas Eve.

The Rev. Robert J. Yonkman will speak on "The Significance of the Nativity." Christmas carols will be sung by the choir.

The traditional Christmas Eve Candlelight service will be observed at the First Congregational church at the same hour, 11 p.m.

At that time the pastor, the Rev. Harold E. Kohn will present a brief Christmas Eve meditation, "The God of Little Things." Choirs under the direction of C. A. Odmark will sing the joyful carols and familiar passages of Scripture telling of the birth of Christ will be read.

At midnight the service will close with 'The Service of Lights' when the only illumination in the sanctuary will be afforded by candles held by the congregation, choir and minister, while Niedlinger's "The Birthday of the King," will be sung by the choir and soloist, Mrs. E. D. Hawley.

Midnight Mass will be celebrated at St. Mary's Catholic church by the Rev. E. Francis Denay. The choir will sing the traditional Christmas Carol Mass by Korman and the Christmas Offertory "In Nativatate Domini" by Witt-Gabing. The high school choir will sing Christmas carols beginning at 11:30 p.m.

Masses on Christmas Day will be celebrated at 8:30 and 10:30 a.m.

In commemmoration of the birthday of Jesus, a special service will be conducted at Bethany Lutheran church at 8:45 a.m. Christmas Day. The Rev. R. A. Essig will deliver his Christmas sermon on the theme "God Sent His only Begotten Son into the World."

The Sunday school classes of the Barnard Reformed church will present its Christmas program at the church at 8 p.m. The young people's class will present the play "Room for the King" and the younger classes will present a traditional program of songs, carols and recitations.

WIRES CROSSED

Several weeks ago the Courier reported a brush fire near the Loeb farm and stated the person starting the fire did not have a permit from the Conservation department.

We have been informed that a permit was granted by Mrs. Ed Hartnell when the applicant was unable to reach Mr. Hartnell at the Conservation office. After the Charlevoix fire department checked on the fire they were informed that the Conservation office had not been notified of the permits at the time the Charlevoix fire department had made the inquiry.

King and Queen Reign at Annual Christmas Ball

Carolyn Kohn and Larry Munch ruled as queen and king of the annual Christmas ball held Tuesday evening at the Charlevoix high school gymnasium under the sponsorship of the senior class.

"Mistletoe Magic" was the theme of the party that featured blue and silver decorations which transformed the gymnasium into a glistening fairyland.

Carolyn, who attended the ball as the guest of her king, was gowned in a Christmas green ballerina length dress fashioned with a bouffant skirt and scoop neckline and worn with a matching trapeze jacket.

Judy Ingalls, as the queen's attendant, wore a similar gown of poinsetta red lace. Scott Supernaw was the king's attendant.

Queen Carolyn and King Larry received their crowns from Robert Richards, class advisor.

Music for dancing was played on a hi-fi phonograph.

Band to Resume Rehearsals Jan. 5

My Christmas Tree

What does the Christmas tree mean to me?
Is it just a bauble that's pretty to see?
No! In my eyes it's a glorious sight,
Bringing me near that miraculous night.
It's a symbol, that's true, but a symbol indeed,
Is something most folks like me have a need.
A material object of heavenly things;
It reminds me of Jesus, the King of all Kings.
The ornaments symbolize gifts that were brought,
And the star, of course, is the one that was sought
By all, rich and poor, in those days of old
To make true the stories the prophets told.
As each little candle gives out its glad light
It honors the Great One born on that night.
These all bring me closer, each in its own way,
To the dear baby Jesus in his manger of hay.
The holly is the crown of thorns He wore,
A symbol to show the burdens He bore.
The tree itself is the symbol of life
Lasting forever without pain and strife.
Even the branches that heavenward spread
Represent the Gospel throughout the world read.
My heart within stirs; my soul quickens too.
Once again born to a life that is new,
Yes, the symbols of Christmas are for people like me
Who were not there in person, that first night, to see
The angels, the shepherds, the bright shining star
Giving light to the Wise Men who came from afar
Bearing gifts to the baby who in Mary's arms lay;
At the stable in Bethlehem on a manger of hay.
So I'll settle for the symbols of beauty today,
To bring to my mind that glorious day.
The simple, the complex, the meek and the mild;
We are all symbols of that heavenly Child.
A priest had the first tree, it's reputed;
But it seems it's a story that is often disputed.
The beginning of man is truly not known
So it doesn't matter where the first tree was shown.
So may I put up my trimmed tree,
A symbol of glory for all men to see.
To remind us to say "Happy Birthday" and sing
Wonderous praises to Jesus, our Saviour and King.
Yes, we now have a Christmas tree, I'm glad we do.
I can only pray that you'll have one too.
For each little star and each little light
Will hold dear to you the miraculous night. —S. L. L.

Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn

Behold

Far more important than what you receive for Christmas is what you get from Chrismas. It is possible to have ones lap heaped high with gifts, and yet be no better for having passed through this blessed season.

The celebration of Christmas depends upon ones mental weather. Some manage to keep their minds crystal clear, like a sparkling winter morning when distant objects seem near and far off sounds are distinct and intelligible. But other minds behold Christmas through a blizzard of hurried shopping, frantic gift wrapping and frenzied addressing and mailing of cards and packages. As so many million snowflakes, whipped by the wind, shroud the trees, hide roads, and dim all lights, so a multitude of Yuletide tasks and distractions beloud the real meaning of Christmas. As a result, we get gifts for Christmas without getting much from this significant day.

We are capable of a catlike attitude toward this holiday. Once upon a time a house cat took a trip to London, so an old Mother Goose rhyme informs us, and upon its return its master questioned the cat concerning its travelling experiences.

"Pussy cat, pussy cat, where have you been? I've been to London to visit the Queen. Pussy cat, pussy cat, what did you there? I frightened a little mouse under a chair."

What perceptive powers that cat had, and what an appreciation of the world around it! It had been to London, the capital of a world empire. It had wandered amidst the regal splendors of a queen's court and had entered the presence of the Empress herself. But what had the cat seen? What got its attention? What did it have to report? A mouse under a chair!

You have heard sharp-tongued gossipers called "catty." Well, here's a different sort of catty person, the kind who can stand amidst lifes awesome wonders and its shining opportunities, but see only a mouse under a chair, some small personal gain to pounce upon.

One of he chief contrasts between man and animal is in what they behold. A painting of that first Christmas night, frequently reproduced en religious literature and on Christmas cards, pictures shepherds on a hillside outside Bethlehem. They are peering into the heavens from whence came an angelic chorus singing the good news "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men." All of the shepherds are at rapt attention, enthralled with the momentous message that has reached them. At the feet of one of the shepherds stands a dog which is attentive too, but not to angel voices. His head is turned in another direction. Something else has caught his fancy, possibly a field mouse stirring in a nearby tuft of grass. History's greatest event is transpiring, but the dog is not aware of it. A heavenly light shines, but he is inattentive to it. If the angel voices were normal sounds he dog heard them even more sharply then did the shepherds—a dog's hearing being more acute. But the words carried no meaning for the dog.

The painter of this advent scene was true to the meaning of the word "behold" as it was used by the angel of whom Luke wrote. As Luke reports it, "The angel said unto them "Fear not: for behold. I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Savior which is Christ the Lord." The original Greek word "idou," translated here "behold," means "see" or "pay close attention" or "get the meaning of this!" There was real danger that the shepherds would miss this event. Like thousands of others in Judea that night, they might be preoccupied with other things. A joyous message could come from above, and their ears, like that dog's might be distracted by some faint rustling in a nearby bush. It doesn't take much to make us unaware of glory shining around us.

It seems to me one of the most important matters in the world is learning to behold, directing ones attention toward the things that count most, the things that are worthy of interest and devotion, fixing ones concentration upon the Queen rather than the mouse under a chair, being mindful of angel voices rather than the fidgeting of a field mouse in a tuft of grass. For whatever gets your attention, gets you.

Traverse City State Hospital Requests Gifts

Again this year the administration of the Traverse City State hospital is asking the citizens of the area to aid in the Christmas program by furnishing gifts for the patients. During the past two years this program has added much toward making Christmas a happier occasion for the patients, hospital officials state.

Gifts need not be expensive but they should be new. Such items as cosmetics of all kinds, inexpensive items of clothers or accessories such as gloves, scarves, hosiery, suspenders, etc., and of course cigarettes, cigars, pipes, tobaccos. It is only necessary to avoid such items as knives, scissors, razors and other sharp objects. There is a need for Christmas cards and stamps for the use of patients.

Gifts should not be Christmas wrapped but should include sufficient wrapping material. All contributions should be sent to Mr. O. J. Curtiss, Community Relations Dept., Traverse City State Hospital, as early as possible.

Services Held for L. O. Herrington

Ellsworth — Leonard O. Herrington, 69, died Dec. 16 in a Traverse City hospital where he had been a patient since July. He had been in ill health since last February.

He was united in marriage to Eva Wrisley, July 17, 1919.

Surviving besides his wife are a son, Albert at home, two daughters, Mrs. (Elsie) Garlaud Russel and Mrs. (Esther) William Kirby of Ellsworth.

Funeral services were held Friday at the Pilgrim Holiness church with Rev. W. L. Silvers officiating.

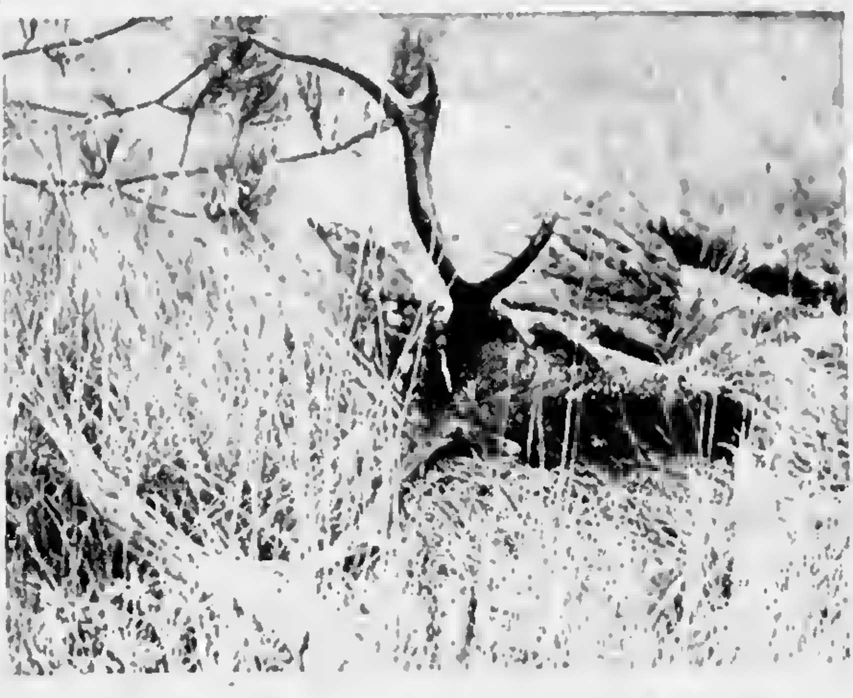
Horns Don't Make A Deer



The hunter who shot this huge bull elk near Vanderbilt didn't stay around to collect his trophy. The animal was found soon after it was shot by Charles Alexander who immediately notified district conservation officer. Mr. Alexander states he also saw cow elks that had been killed in the same territory. It's our guess is that this class of hunter could just as unwittingly have shot a man as an elk.

$30,000 Outlay Needed for Emmet County College

Plans requiring $30,000 for capital outlay purposes for the Emmet Community College have been announced by the Board of Trustees of the college which will open in September of next year.

This amount when raised will be matched by the state to provide a total of $60,000 to put the college in operating condition for the opening next year.

It has been recommended by the College Study Committee that the initial outlay for capital expendiures be raised from contributions. Dr. Dean C. Burns, president of the board, said that the board, in accepting this recommendation, felt that the people of northern Michigan were behind this project and would like to become a part of it by subscribing to the college capital fund.

Of the $60,000 to be spent only about $25,000 will be used in remodeling Sheridan school, the future home of the college. The remainder will be earmarked for furnishings and teaching equipment which can be utilized when the college must move to larger quarters.

A breakdown of planned expenditures for equipment shows $19,000 for classroom equipment including $7,500 for science equipment; $11,000 for library books; $2,000 for student center equipment; $1,000 for teachers equipment and $2,000 for administrative equipment.

While this amount of money will not provide an ideal situation, it will prove adequate for the opening of the college next fall.

The Blessed Sacrement church in Detroit was the scene Saturday of the wedding of Claire Rose Genia and Joseph Thomas Schmidt.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Genia of this city and Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidt of St. James.

Mrs. Charles Welke of Walled Lake, sister of the bridegroom, was her only attendant. She wore a light blue styled similar to the bride's, matching accessnries and a pink carnation corsage.

Mr. Welke assisted his brother-in-law as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Dyer of Highland-Park. An afternoon reception followed at the Welke home in Walled Lake.

The couple will make their home in Detroit.

The bride is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school. Mr. Schmidt, who attended St. James high school, is a veteran of two years service with the U. S. Army. He is currently employed as a member of the crew of the lake freighter Sonora.

Severe weather conditions in northern Michigan prevented the couple's parents from attending the wedding.

Ironton News

Mrs. Earl Kroll

The Sunday School of the Ironton Church held its annual Christmas program Sunday evening. From the wee angels (two and three year olds) and the cherub choir composed of the youngsters eight years and under to the older children who dramatized the visiting of the shepherds to the manger and the Wise Men with their gifts to the Christ Child. They all did a wonderful job and the program was truly enjoyed by everyone. The climax, of course, was the visit from Santa Claus.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Werth of Flint visited last weekend with Mr. Werth's parents, the Alvie Werths.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Scheid returned home last week from a visit in Jackson with their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Richard Scheid and new son.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beedle returned to their home here Thursday after an extended stay in southern Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Beene celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary Saturday evening with a small gathering of friends. Red Devils Dump Rayders; Loss Drops Locals From Top

Dave Schuchard (0) fakes his way around two East Jordan players in the Friday night contest which the Rayders dropped 51-49. Over the years the Red Devils of East Jordan have managed to beat Charlevoix at least once in some contest, be it football or basketball. Just mark them down as those "Pesky Red Devils."

Pellston Alone On Top Four Teams Jammed In Second Position

Pellston remained alone in the Northern Michigan Class C lead this week as all court activities were suspended for the holidays.

The Hornets dumped the Gaylord Vikings 48 to 44 to move into first place with a record of three wins. In other action the Charlevoix Rayders suffered their first loss of the season, losing to the East Jordan Red Devils 51 to 49; Mancelona dumped Boyne City 55 to 54 and Grayling rolled over Harbor Springs 62 to 34.

A four-way tie for second place in loop standings developed as the result of Friday's games with Charlevoix, East Jordan, Gaylord and Mancelona sharing the spot with records of two wins in three games. Grayling is in third place and Boyne City and Harbor Springs share the cellar positions with three losses.

In a game marked by fouls the Mancelona [illegible] defending champions 55 to 54.

Mancelona went into an eight to six first quarter advantage and managed a three-point 22 to 19 halftime lead before the Ramblers rolled up 23 points to go ahead 42 to 35 at the three-quarter mark. Mancelona came back to out-score their hosts 20 to 12 in the final period for the one-point victory.

Mancelona won the game on the free throw line, connecting on 27 of 44 tries while scoring only 14 field goals. They had 23 fouls called on them.

The Blue Devils got back into the running in the thrd period, outscoring the Hornets 17 to 11 but they were unable to keep the torrid pace in the final period as Pellston took the game by a four point margin.

It has been 15 years since the Conference Championship has been won by a team outside of Charlevoix county. That's football or basketball.

From the Side Lines . . .

Things looked worse than they did three weeks ago. We found a team working much too hard to overcome, something that just wasn't there, that being a better ball club. Chances are if the boys would have let E. J. shoot they would have come out with the higher score.

In looking over the score we find both teams excelling in the personal foul department but East Jordan coming up with the better average.

In past weeks of play the Rayders have shown much more self control but still having the drive and ball-hawking scrap to bring them out on top of the heap.

Let's all take a rest over the holidays and let the coaches worry about what to do with the team in the weeks before the next game, we have to live and learn and it very well may be that this team will learn along with their living.

Bowling News

BY DES

There won't be any bowling news this week because the paper will already be printed by the time we bowl. I'll get this week's bowling in next week's paper—and just think, I'll have a whole week to write it.

* * *

I thought I'd take this opportunity to tell you bowling fans (who don't read the Petoskey Review) that our one Charlevoix team which is entered in the Fraternal League in Petoskey is leading said league by six points with three weeks to go in the first half. This team is sponsored by the Airport Inn, and is the same team which won the league trophy two years ago. The team consists of such "stars" as — (This is getting kinda thick isn't it?) John Swanson, Hank Felix, Ken Cellner, Fritz Puffpaff, Don Meggison and yours truly as acting captain. Wish us luck — because believe me, there's no greater satisfaction to any of us (in bowling) then to take the trophy from Petoskey.

The Inn is also sponsoring a women's team which bowls in East Jordan. I'm sorry, but at the present time I can't say too much for them. Only that they have a strong team—because they've been holding the rest of the league up all year—if you know what I mean. What they need is a good strong 135 avg. bowler.

* * *

At this time I'd like to wish all of you a very, very Merry Christmas and I hope the coming year will be the best year yet—for everybody. —Des.

The Charlevoix Rayders suffered their first loss of the current season Friday night when they dropped a game to East Jordan by a score of 51 to 49.

Though the Rayders outscored the visitors 17 to 16 in the field goal department, they lost on the free throw line where East Jordan scored 19 points on 34 tries while collecting only 17 personal fouls. Charlevoix connected on 15 of 26 attempts and had 21 fouls.

East Jordan rolled into a 14 to nine first quarter lead but the Rayders came back strong in the second period period to go ahead 23 to 21 at halftime. After losing Ron Vandenberg via the foul route with 5:54 minutes remaining in the third period the Rayders trailed 36 to 32 going into the final period. The local five made a comeback late in the game, tieing the score several times but their efforts were not enough as they trailed by two points at the final whistle.

Starting for Charlevoix were Joe Beaudoin, Steve LaBlance, Ron Vandenberg, Bill Poquette and Dave Schuchard. Dick VanRaaphorst replaced Vandenberg with 2:10 minutes remaining in the first period when the latter collected his third personal foul. Bruce Pease joined the action in the second period. Jim Ladd in the third and Bud Balch in the final period.

Vandenberg scored one from the free throw line and then sunk a bucket to put the Rayders ahead three to 0. However, East Jordan countered with three quick buckets and a charity shot to go ahead 7 to 3 before Beaudoin found the bucket. LaBlance and Schuchard added free throws and Vandenberg another basket before leaving the game with 2:10 mnutes remaining. East Jordan ended the period with four field goals and six free throws.

The Rayders got back in the running early in the second period on a field goal by LaBlance, a free throw by Beaudoin, single baskets by Beaudoin and Schuchard and three quick ones by Pease to knot the score 21-all. A bucket by LaBlance put the Rayders ahead 23 to 21 as the half ended. East Jordan had scored seven points on two field goals and three charity shots.

Vandenberg returned to the game in the third period but collectde his fifth foul at 4:54. Schuchard kept the Rayders in the game by scoring three field goals and two free throws while LaBlance added a gift shot for nine points while the Red Devils were racking up 15 points on four field goals and seven free throws.

The Rayders, though trailing by four points, 36 to 32 going into the final period, outscored the visitors 17 to 15. Beaudoin started to hit and put in three field goals, Schuchard scored two buckets plus two singles, Pease added three from the free throw line and Balch added two. The Red Devils, however, scored six field goals and three free throws for the two-point victory.

Mike Schenck, mainstay in the Red Devil line-up, had 19 points on three field goals and 13 of 20 free throws. Schuchard had 17 and Beaudoin 10 points for the Rayders.

You can mark East Jordan as the peskiest team for Charlevoix over the last ten years. They have managed at least one win in football or basketball a year in that time.

J-V's Win One

Charlevoix's little Rayders racked up their first win of the current season by edging East Jordan 46 to 45 in a game which saw the lead change several times before the local five came up with the one-point victory.

The Rayders trailed six to five at the quarter before outscoring the Red Devils 14 to eight for a 19 to 14 halftime lead. East Jordan snatched a 32 to 28 third period advantage before the Rayders fought back for the win.

Starting for the Rayders were Jim Dennis, Terry DeYoung, Lee Wielenga, Don Nowland and Stan Martin. Sam Supernaw who was top scorer with 16 points and Henry Wagner joined the line-up in the second period.

East Jordan scored one field goal and four charity shots for six points in the first period while Charlevoix's scoring was confined to field goals by Wielenga and Nowland and a free throw by Dennis.

In the second period the Rayders found their stride and dumped in 14 points including five by Supernaw and two each by Wielenga, DeYoung, Martin and Wagner. East Jordan had three field goals and two free throws.

Going into the second half the Red Devils caught fire to score 18 points on six field goals and six free throws. Charlevoix had nine points on two field goals and a free throw by Supernaw; a field goal by Martin and singles by Wielenga and Nowland.

Trailing 32 to 28 going into the final period, the Rayders slowly trimmed the Red Devils advantage until Martin knotted the score 40-all with 2½ minutes remaining. East Jordan then went ahead 44 to 40 but the Rayders got back in the game on two free throws by Dennis and a field goal by Supernaw who again tied the score, this time 44 to 44. As time ran out Nowland sunk one from the key to put the Rayders ahead 46 to 44. East Jordan missed a chance to put the game into an overtime when Tom Raymond sank only one of two free throws just as the final horn sounded.

Raymond was top scorer for the Red Devils with 16 points. He was followed by Bill Sherman with 11.

Dennis had 10 for Charlevoix.

SUNDEW REPORTS

Heavy seas on Monday (Dec. 8) made it impossible to take the light keepers off Lansing Shoals but we were able to begin picking up buoys in the area of White Shoals east of Beaver Island Upon returning to Charlevoix early Monday evening we found snow conditions made it impossible to enter the channel. When the weather cleared we moored at the buoy depot and unloaded the buoys.

The following morning we got underway at 3 a.m. because the Steamer W. E. Fitzgerald could not get through the ice at Port Inland on the south shore of the upper peninsula. The greater part of Tuesday was spent breaking ice and getting the Fitzgerald moored

That evening we dashed across the top of Lake Michigan and moored at Mackinaw City.

All day Wednesday was spent picking up buoys in the vicinity of the big bridge The four buoys which are placed there are used by ships as guides to pass under the bridge. They weigh eight tons and have 300 ft. of chain which takes a great deal of time to get aboard. The deck force worked long hours that day. They hoisted the last buoy on the dock at 10 p.m. Wednesday at Mackinaw City where we spent the night.

We headed toward Les Cheneaux area to pick up more buoys Thursday and on our way to Cheboygan Thursday evening we picked up lighthouse personnel from Martins Reef, Spectacle Reef and Poe Reef. Needless to say, these men were glad to see us after spending many months on practically isolated duty.

Friday morning found us heading back to Lake Michigan to pick up the lighthouse personnel from Lansing Shoals, Grays Reef, White Shoals and Ile Aux Galets lights. We returned them to Charlevoix and then left early Saturday for Grand Traverse Bay to pick up two more buoys before heading again toward Lake Huron to get ready to pick up our last ten buoys in that area Sunday and Monday.

Congratulations to our deck officer, CHBosn John H. Coppens who completed 20 years of active duty with the U. S. Coast Guard on Sunday, 7 Dec. Mr. Coppens enlisted in the Coast Guard at Charlevoix on Dec. 8 and has served in numerous lifeboat stations on Lake Michigan and Lake Superior. He also served in the Pacific area during World War II. He is married to the former Mae Gallagher of Beaver Island. He resides here with his wife and four children.

Our sympathy is extended to the family of Laprino Serafico who died 7 Dec. at the Public Health Hospital in Detroit. "Charlie," as we called him, had been a patient at the hospital only one month. He had been aboard the ship three years and served as a cook for the officers' mess. His sudden and untimely death was a shock to all of us.

Dec. 14 wasn't much of a Sunday for us. We picked up five additional buoys in the Straits area and returned to Mackinaw City to off load them. We then headed down the area between the mainland and Bois Blanc island and on to Calcite which is a very small community outside Rogers City. On the way we picked up two more buoys.

Early Monday morning we got underway to pick up our last three buoys. However, after crossing the top of Lake Huron we found the water too rough to pick up any more buoys that day so we dropped anchor overnight at False Detour Passage right off the Canadian-U. S. border. On Tuesday we finished picking up our buoys and took the lighthouse personnel off Detour Light at the mouth of the St. Mary's river.

We then headed up St. Mary's river to the Soo. The Sundew was the only ship traveling in either direction. When you realize that as many as 125 ships pass any one point in 24 hours during the height of the shipping season, you can well imagine the lonely feeling the crew had as the ship went up and later came down the very busy river. The ice at the mouth of the river was much thicker than at the Soo itself.

After unloading batteries and other miscellaneous items the ship departed Wednesday to return to Mackinaw City in order to disconnect the buoys that were still flashing on the dock.

After one false return to Charlevoix Thursday morning, we finally got underway at 11 a.m. and pulled in to our "home" at 3:30 p.m.

The only personnel aboard the ship over the weekend was the duty personnel. Everyone else was either on liberty or at home.

SUNDEW SCUTTLEBUTT . . .

Couldn't pass up this opportunity to thank everyone who has expressed their sympathy to us about the loss of our mascot "Babe . . . The food has been tops during the present buoy run, thanks to Ken Anderson who has practically lived in the galley trying to keep hot food on the table at all times. We all wish Ed Minch BM1, a speedy recovery from the minor injury received while working on the buoy deck last week. Our thanks, too, to those responsible for the snow plowing of the roads leading down to the buoy depot. It would be impossible to get to the ship without clear roads. Emil Leistikow QM3 is the happy recipient of a check from "Time magazine for his fine pictures taken during the Bradley rescue operation.

You may have noticed the many 'cookie dusters' and moderated Prince Alberts on quite a few of the crew members. Most of the wives and girl friends will see that they are removed within a few days. Had a visit from Elmer Fleming, one of the Bradley survivors, while we were at Calcite last Sunday. He and his son enjoyed a tour of our ship, something Mr. Fleming wasn't interested in the last time he was aboard. Most of us were surprised at the amount of snow in Charlevoix. Most other areas we visited had less snow but lower temperatures. Our congratulations to George Livius who was advanced to EM2 (Electrician's mate) from EM3. Seasons greetings to everyone in the area from the crew of the Sundew.

Next the 'Soaring Sixties'

Business is about to enter a boom period and the next decade may possible be known as the "Soaring Sixties," that is the prediction of the Kiplinger organization as it views the changes and growth period ahead.

The business boom will flow from a population growth, plus rising productivity which will increase the output per man-hour, plus higher incomes, plus the pull of people who want more and better things for themselves, plus the nimble shifting of business patterns, Kiplinger says.

Companies will expand despite painful and expensive growth. To keep pace with changes, they will add capacity, products, diversity and new outlets.

The forecast pictures more chain stores, larger stores taking on more lines. Food stores will add many other lines and tend to become general stores. The super markets will expand to super-supers, according to the analysts. Pre-packaged and frozen foods, requiring more complex equipment, fancier fixtures will all bring on new kinds of warehousing needs.

Also there's automation. This tide is rising fast. It means more mechanical equipment and system to replace muscle power. Automaton is termed a must for our domestic business as well a for our foreign trade. This all means an increasing demand for college trained men to fill executive, technical and engineering jobs. Even the lower-echelon jobs such as foreman and supervisors will be filled by college grads.

Wages and salaries are bound to rise, says the report, and prices will rise too—probably 20 per cent higher by the late 60's, but most people will be able to afford more things. This indicates inflation will continue at about the same rate as during the past ten years. Savings, pensions, etc., will shrink in terms of what they will buy.

The increase in white-collar workers, specialists or experts in various field seems certain to have a retarding affect on unionization.

The growing economy will require more women to join the ranks of the workers during the next decade. Now 60 percent of women working outside the home are married and run households. This proportion will rise, Kiplinger says, espeeally among women in the 45-54 age group who have raised their children.

Donaldson to Oppose Boss In City Primary

Only one contest for a city office developed as the deadline for filing nominating petitions passed at 4 p.m. Monday.

This was in the second ward where incumbent alderman, Franklin Boss, will be opposed by Richard Donaldson.

Incumbents who filed for renomination in the Feb. 16 primary election were unopposed. They are: mayor, E. James Hiller; clerk, Hugh Mayne; treasurer, Nelle A. Hammond; first ward alderman, Clare L. Staley; third ward alderman, Edward P. Hansen; first ward supervisor, Ivan Phillips, second ward supervisor, Theodore R Miller; third ward supervisor, Jesse Smith.

There were no candidates for the offices of justice of the peace or constable.

Mr. Boss, second ward alderman, is seeking the nomination for his third two-year term.

This will be Mr. Donaldson's second try for the alderman post. Last year he opposed Ray L. Kipke in the primary election which ended in a tie. Donaldson lost when the candidates drew slips from a hat for the nomination.

Tragedy Greets Coast Guardsman OnHome Visit

Upon arrival he found the door of his home, located 2½ miles northwest of Mansfield, locked.

A search fo the neighborhood failed to reveal the whereabouts his parents so he returned to the house, gained entry by breaking a basement window and made his way through the house.

In an upstairs bedroom he found the body of his mother, Mrs. Mary Catherine Wolf, 42, her hand tightened around a .38 calibre revolver owned by his father.

He called the state highway patrol and then found the bodies of his father, Elvin W. Wolf, 46, and his sister, Nancy Jan. 12.

Acting coroner Dr. Donald Adair returned a verdict of double murder and suicide. The three had been dead 12 to 16 hours before they were found by the young serviceman.

The tragedy wiped out the Coast Guardsmen's entire family.

Chief D. L. Reynolds, commanding officer of the Charlevoix Lifeboat Station, said the young serviceman, who was on a five-day holiday leave, had been granted a 15-day extension and would return here in mid-January.

Church to Hold New Year Watch Night Services

The New Year's service will be a rally with many members of northern Michigan churches gathering at Gaylord for the event. The Rev. Waldo Ringer of Grand Rapids will be the speaker.

The local Assembly of God church will conduct a week of prayer beginning next Sunday. Cottage meetings are being planned with a different meeting each evening.

Committee Names Winners in Home Decoration Contest

Winners in the annual outdoor Christmas home decorating contest have been named by a committee headed by Peter H. Timmer.

In naming the winners Mr. Timmer and the members of his committee, Mrs. John Swanson and Mrs. Frank Bourgoin, said that they had found the job a difficult one because so many residents had put forth great effort to beautify their homes for the Christmas season.

It was especially difficult to select a winner in the second ward where they eventually declared a three-way tie for first place.

In the first ward the Fay Davis residence was given first place; the Kit Carson residence second and the home of Dr. G. B. Saltonstall third place in the competition. Honorable mention went to the James Coleman and William C. Fochtman homes.

The homes of Harley Ochs, Andrew Essenberg jr. and Walter Russell tied for first place honors with the prize money being divided equally. Honorable mention was given the homes of George LaBlance and Charles Heise.

The Ralph Hamilton residence placed first in the third ward with the Robert Cook home placing second and the Arthur Emmons home third. Honorable mention was given the Ray S. Hamilton and the C. D. Geiken homes.

The Robert Withers home won first prize for the best decorated home outside the city limits with the John Schroeder home receiving honorable mention.

Other decorations which the committee considered exceptional were the display on the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Sundew, the window paintings at the county building and the decorations erected over the door of St. Mary's church.

Though Mr. Timmer felt that the Nativity scene at his home should not be entered in the competition because he as a judge, the display was very atractive and rated mention.

Funeral Services Held Friday for Samuel Sorensen

attendant, wore a similiar gown laundry operator and resident of this community for 44 years, died Wednesday at Grandvue hospital where he had been a patient for a month.

Funeral services were held Friday at the Winchester funeral home with the Rev. George L. Majors officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Born in Denmark May 24, 1883, Mr. Sorenson came to this country with his parents as a child and lived in Chicago until coming here in 1914 to operate the laundry at the Beach Hotel. On Sept. 10, 1915, he was married to the former Caroline Larsen. Later he operated the Model Home Laundry on Van Pelt Place, the Troy laundry now known as the Model Home laundry which he later owned. The latter was sold to Louis Hamlin in 1947. He was a member of the Charlevoix Lodge No. 282 F. & A. M.

Besides his wife he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Anna Petersen of Chicago and Mrs. Patricia Nyby of Humboldt, Iowa.

Peter D. Gallagher, Former Islander, Dies At Grand Rapids

St. James, B. I. — Peter D. Gallagher, 88, former Beaver Island resident, died Dec. 16 at his home in Grand Rapids following a brief illness.

Funeral services were held at Sacred Heart church in Grand Rapids Dec. 19. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery here.

Mr. Gallagher was born on Beaver Island in 1870. He had spent most of his life there. His wife preceded him in death in 1953.

He is survived by three daughters; seven sons and 22 grandchildren.

Parents and youngsters were on hand the day before Christmas to learn the winners of the Central Drug store Boys' and Girls' contest. Winners of the grand prize in each division were John Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gibson, and Lynette Livingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Livingston. Each received a Columbia sports bicycle.

Other winners in the boys division were: first, a lionel deisel freight train set to Skip Young; second, a Mr. Wizard Deluxe Science Lab to Jack Bergmann; third, a bowling and shuffleboard set to Lowell Lee; fourth, Brownie Starflash camera outfit to Richard Rochtman; fifth, a Spalding fielders glove to Robert Meston.

Rayders to Meet Northmen at Petoskey Friday

The Charlevoix Rayders will resume their 1958-59 schedule Friday when they travel to Petoskey to take on the Petoskey Northmen in a series that dates back to the 1915-16 season.

The Rayders will be trying to get back on the victory trail this week after losing a close one to East Jordan by a 51 to 49 score on Dec. 19.

The Rayders will also be trying to even old scores when they take on Coach Ace Zographos' Class B outfit for they have lost both games to the Petoskey quintet during the past two seasons. Last season the Northmen won by scores of 32 to 30 and 54 to 43 and in the 1956-57 season they won by scores of 52 to 51 and 45 to 34.

However, over the past 25 seasons, the Rayders have the edge having won 30 games while Petoskey has 20 wins to their credit. Petoskey's two victories last season, however, put them ahead 39 to 37 in the series which goes back more than 40 years.

Charlevoix currently has a record of two wins and one loss while Petoskey will go into the game with a one in—three loss record.

How the game shapes up remains to be seen as the old rivalry is resumed but one thing is for sure . . . it will be a hard fought battle from start to finish as all these games have been through the years. Charlevoix, by virtue of its record to date, should have a slight edge but the Northmen are always at their best against the Rayders so the victory could go either way.

Bible Baptists to Hold Watch Night

The Bible Baptist church will hold watch night services at the new church on May st. Wednesday evening, the Rev. James Lugibihl, pastor of the church, has announced.

A social hour preceding the watch night services will be held at the pastor's residence at 209 W. Upright ave. beginning at 9 p.m.

An invitation has been extended to the public to attend the service.

Milk Producers To Hold Annual Meeting Jan. 13

Supervisors to Meet Monday

The Charlevoix county board of supervisors will meet at the county building Monday at 9:30 a.m.

The toys had been given to the sheriff's department to be repaired, painted and placed in running order so that they could be distributed at holiday time. The work was done by prisnners at the county jail here during the past year.

Sheriff Glenn E. Rose said this week that the department was again accepting toys in anticipation of next Christmas.

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

How about that football game Sunday? . . . We've seen games won and lost in a lot of ways but this was the first football game to be won in an overtime . . . And was it exciting . . . Baltimore tied the game with 10 seconds remaining . . . and then came back to win in the overtime . . . We'd hate to have to sit through many such games but it's a fitting climax to a super-season as far as football's concerned.

OF COURSE there'll be the other big college games . . . the Sugar, the Cotton Bowl, the Orange Bowl and the grand-daddy of them all, the Rose Bowl . . . We know you'll all be watching one or the other of these big ones . . . And when you watch the Cotton Bowl game be on the look-out for a former Charlevixan, Jim Bowman, who's on the coaching staff at the U. S. Air Force Academy and who will be making the trip to the Cotton Bowl with the team.

IT MUST BE because we live right . . . But wasn't Christmas Day just about the most perfect winter day you've ever seen . . . After weeks of blustery weather the air cleared and though the temperature was around the zero mark it was bright and sunshiny with every snowflake sparkling like diamonds.

And then the temperatures started to rise and there went the snow and the ice and the skiing and skating . . . Sure, there'll be more winter but it's a shame the temperature had to hit the 40 mark.

CHRISTMAS HAS come and gone . . . We hope yours was a happy one . . . Right now we'd like to thank the many people who remembered us with cards . . . Many of which carried messages about news which had appeared in the Courier or comments about Odds N Ends . . . We appreciate your thoughtfulness more than we can say . . . It's things like this that represent Christmas to us.

* * *

HOW ABOUT ALL those beautiful Christmas decorations around town . . . We understand the committee had quite a time picking the winners . . . One thing that certainly attracted a lot of attention was the Sundew, moored at the city dock, with its beautiful crosses in various colors . . . Along with scads of other lights . . . A beautiful sight as you come down the north side hill.

MADE ANY NEW Year's resolutions? . . . There's still time, you know, so how's about it . . . Now we have one in mind and only one . . . 'cause we'll have trouble keeping that . . . It's to write letters . . . that is, to answer letters . . . and we owe plenty . . . For some reason we've gotten out of the habit but, according to our resolution, we're going to get with it . . . But don't hold your breath . . . 'cause we owe an awful lot of letters and it may be weeks before we get to yours.

AND NOW WE'D like to wish you a Happy New Year . . . '59 is full of promise . . . and as we stand on its threshhold it holds all sorts of wonderful things . . . like world peace, a beautiful spring, health and happiness galore for everyone . . . good fortune . . . We wish them all for you.

And won't you take a look back over 1958 . . . through the highlights assembled from the pages of the Courier . . . We got quite a boot out of assembling the info and we're sure you'll enjoy it.

And what will you find in '59 . . . "A flower unborn; a book unread . . . A tree with fruit unharvested; A path untrod; a house whose rooms lack yet the hearts divine perfumes; . . . A landscape that lies in silent shade 'neath silent skies; . . . A wondrous fountain yet unsealed . . . A casket with its gifts concealed . . . This the year that for you waits beyond tomorrow's mystic gates."

SO MUCH for SO LITTLE

Many of today's "miracle drugs" are prescribed in small amounts and you may be inclined to exclaim — "So much money for so little medicine!" Actually, the opposite is true. You get so much CURE for so LITTLE MONEY that the medicine is the biggest bargain you can buy. When you consider how today's medicines get you on your feet faster and back to work sooner . . . how they often prevent costly hospitalization . . . you realize that far from being a burdensome addition to the cost of illness, they reduce it substantially.

What Is The Largest "Woman's Club" In Michigan?

1,690,000 Women Who Save Trading Stamps Are The Largest "Woman's Club" In Michigan.

Every day over 1,690,000 Michigan women make it a point to shop where they get trading stamps. This large group of smart, thrifty Michigan shoppers, with their common interest in trading stamps, can be thought of as a huge "woman's club" with membership in the state.

Of course this "club woman" gets wonderful things for her home and family through such favorites as S&H Green Stamps. Through her thrift and diligence she provides "extras" for her family. And although she may seldom think about it, her active saving is enormously good for business in our state.

Last year, for example, trading stamp companies purchased $9,816,000 worth of products from Michigan manufacturers. Making these things provided jobs for 1,016 Michigan people. S&H Redemption Stores, paying local rent and taxes, employ many more.

In the light of these facts it would seem that not only Michigan women, but everybody in the state can be thankful that the trading stamp is a part of our way of life.

This message is published as public information by THE SPERRY AND HUTCHINSON COMPANY, originator 63 years ago of S&H Green Stamps.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, Charles Tuhy, who passed away 3 years ago Jan. 2, 1956.

Many a lonely heartache
Often a silent tear,
But always a beautiful memory
Of one we love so dear.
They say time heals all sorrow
And helps us to forget
But time has only proven
How much we miss you yet.
God gave us strength and courage
To bear the parting blow
But what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.

Sadly missed by his wife, Mary, daughter, Mrs. Anne Staley and all grandchildren. 2x

CARD OF THANKS

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband, father, grandfather and great grandfather, Oscar Teboe who passed away January 1, 1956.

We are thankful to God today
For giving us grace to bear.
The sorrow that came three years ago.
When God took Dad up there.
Peacefully sleeping, resting at last.
The world's weary troubles and trials are past,
In silence he suffered, impatience he bore
Till God called him home to suffer no more.

Sadly missed by wife, children and grandchildren and great-grandchildren. 2x

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt gratitude and appreciation to the Charlevoix hospital staff, the doctors Saltonstall, Grate, Miss Baumgartner, the nurses, the nurse aids, to all that sent messages of comfort and cheer. Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn

The Tyranny of Time

On Wednesday of this week at midnight we shall let the Old Year go, toting away its burden of mistakes and regrets, and we shall welcome the New Year with its pockets loaded with opportunities and surprises.

The ending of one year and the beginning of another seems so important and natural to us time-conscious human beings that we accept it as part of the nature of he universe, like the presence of sun and moon and stars. But our divisions of time are not as fundamental as they seem. They are largely man-made. On New Year's Eve human beings will blow horns and ring bells to usher out the Old Year and welcome in the New. But man is the only creature that will observe the change. The chickadees at our bird feeder will not notice New Year's Day, nor will the deer browsing in our thickets. They have no interest in man's preoccupation with time. Man has introduced the time concept into the universe, splitting existence into minutes, hours, and years, now let him be bothered with it. When 1958 passes into 1959 there will be no celestial announcement of the change, no explosive blazing of a star to mark the transition, no roll of thunder. Even our watches will tick on, making no special sound to mark the last moment of 1958 or the first of 1959, and when the ancient grandfather's clock rings out the midnight hour, its gong will provide no peculiar note to salute the past or the future. Man alone notices the change of years.

In civilized society time has become an object of veneration. Almost all aspects of our living must fall down before the great god Time and do reverence. Since the invention of the mechanical clock in the fourteenth century there has been a rising tide of "time mentality," symbolized by the improvements of clocks and the increasing variety of uses for watches, until the modern watch dictates our entire existence. Americans are especially time conscious, winding their watches before retiring at night, arisng when the alarm clock rings in the morning, installing clocks in their stoves and in their cars, wearing watches on their wrists and in their lockets and cuff links, rushing about in a frenzied effort to keep tight time schedules, punching timeclocks as they go to work and as they leave, eating on the hour, and even neatly timing their worship to see that God does not get too much of their Sunday.

One of our chief reasons for envying little children is that they have not yet wholly submitted to the tyranny of time. Their vision is still uninterrupted by frequent furtive looks at the clock. When a child looks with wide-eyed wonder at the antics of a housefly, he can give the mystery his complete attention, unhampered by a sense of guilt that he should be making a phone call, attending a sales conference, mixing a salad, or totaling the day's profits. That is why a very small child really sees a fly in the way few adults ever do. He looks at it leisurely, wholeheartedly, timelessly.

A decent consciousness of the swift movements of the moments and the hours is desirable. Time merits our respect and our thrifty usage. But it is to our peril that we let the clock become our master rather than our servant.

Those who at all costs save time, save nothing else. They lose quality from their living, because they do not seek to do a thing the best way, but the quickest. They are apt to lose health, since a chief cause of many of the mental and physical problems of our time is frenzied haste and the pressures of meeting tight schedules. The time worshippers lose friends because friendships are fragile things that require care in handling. Sound and enduring friendships are slow-growing. Those who rush into them soon rush out.

Life's small, but high, moments are lost by the time worshippers, because the poignantly good must be savored to be enjoyed. A friend's gracious word, the meanings of a great book, a sip of spring water, watching the growth of a field of corn, a look at the sky's face until clouds assume recognizable forms, the study of gulls in flight, the sound of crickets serenading in the night — all the brief good moments, the inspiring moments are lost to haste.

Time-worshippers lose their children too. When one young man was given a long prison sentence, the judge sought to appeal to his sense of shame and reminded the lad that his father was a distinguished lawyer who had earned a wide reputation for his effectiveness. "Yes," responded the youth bitterly, recalling his father's excessive busyness, "When I went to him for companionship or advice, he would glance up from a book he was writing on law and say, 'Run away, boy. I am busy.' My father completed his law book and here I am." While saving time we lose children.

A tourist motoring through Georgia met a native who had spent most of a long life in a "fork-in-the-road" settlement. His unhurried deliberation in action and speech caused the traveller to ask him why he was so leisurely in manner, and the Southern gentleman replied, "Wal, son, it don't pay nobody to hurry. You allus pass up more than you catch up with."

Time conscious citizens of the year 1959 will do well to make sure that what we are trying to gain is as important as what we are "passing up."

Best Wishes for THE New Year

School Guarantee Program In Affect For Navy Veterans

A school guarantee program is now in effect for Navy veterans, Chief James Felt of the Petoskey Recruiting office.

He went on to say that in order to encourage men who are trained in the ways of the Navy, the Navy Department has instituted a program for ex-Navy men whn possibly didn't have a chance to go to a technical school during his first enlistment to do so on a re-enlistment. The Navy realizes that it has spent a lot of money training a man whn has been in the Navy three or four years and nnw is ready to send this man, if he qualifies, to a technical school, such as radar, electronics and guided missiles, to name a few.

Navy veterans interested in resuming their service careers and getting a direct assignment to school should contact Chief Felt at the Navy Recruiting office at the court house building in Petoskey.

Membership Drive Approved By W.M.T.R.A

A drive to increase membership in West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, central tourist promotion agency for 31 west Michigan counties, by 58 percent has been approved by the association's executive committee.

Goal of the drive, recommended by the association'ss membership committee under chairmanship of Fred H. Baker of Grand Rapids, is 700 new members, which would increase the WMTRA total to nearly 2,000. The previous membership record of the 41-year-old tourist association was 1,583 in 1952.

"With the tourist industry bringing hundreds of millions of dollars into west Michigan each year, it certainly is the area's number one source of income and virtually everyone in our 31 counties profits from it," said Merle Lutz of Traverse City, association president, in endorsing the membership drive.

"If the association, which is the only area-wide promotion agency for our section, is to maintain and expand its program, which is so important in this day of sharply increased competition for the tourist dollar," Lutz said, "we must increase the membership."

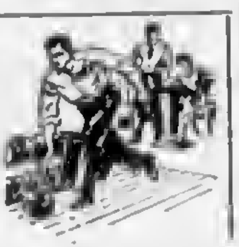
Bowling News



BY DES

In a make-up game last week Neff's tightened the league up as they won 4 points front Freedman No. 2. Nobody had anything worth while mentioning so I'll skip the details. I bet "Big" Bergmann is glad — 406!

* * *

Now to get down to business and pretty good business it is too although I don't imagine Puff thinks so. Three teams shot by him last Tuesday and put him down in fuurth place—temporaily at least. By the time this goes to press (I'm getting to sound just like a newsman) we should be able to get Puff's & Browns score in.

—Anyhoo, right now the Airport Inn is in first place. Lake Construction were the helpers as we took all four points from them. I was high with a 561 series including a 205 game. Henry and Henry battled it out for second place with Supernaw beating Felix 509-508. The Lakers couldn't get anybody going big and the best they could do was a 484 by Ron Wojan.

Sinclair stayed right in the race as they won all four points from Freedman No. 1 (and with only 4 men). O'Rile was the big gun as he rolled high game of the evening 222, and also high series —579. Meg came in next with a 210 game, 544 series. Then Kenny with a 203 game, 522 series and last but not least Louie with a 507 series. I see Sinclair took Ed McCann over to fill in for the fifth man — not legally but just for something to do. If Ed had only had 12 pins less in that last game instead of 99 he would have had a triplicate. For Freedman's only John could hit and he ended up with a 568. What happened Robert O. Couldn't make it three weeks in a row could you?

Neffs stayed in a tie for second as they won 3 points from Swansons. "Big" did a little better this week as he led the team with a 531. I think Bernie Ward would pick his average up a few points if he could just throw the ball a little harder—he doesn't get quite enough pin action. For Swanson's, it was that relative again, Bob Ferguson, leading the way with his 527.

Moonlight bounced back this week and won all 4 points from Freedman No. 2. (Grog or Groog or Grug or whatever they call him)—I know his last name is Jenette anyway. Well he was high with 522 while Dootor Ance finally hit the 500 mark—503. I hope he has better luck pulling teeth then he does hitting 500. For the losers—only one man over 400—that was Harry Pearsall with that crazy back up again—431. (Seems to me I've seen a back up someplace before.)

* * *

Browe's had a rough time but they edged out 4 points from Hessless Furniture—I mean Menless Furniture — I mean menless Hess Furniture. There I got it. Nobody showed up for Hess' so Browes got 4 on a forfeit—and with an 1853.

I remember now—its Grover Geneit—Happy New Year "Grovie"—and to everybessie.

IT HAPPENED ON ....
BEAVER ISLAND

By James W. Gallagher

We had no boat or plane service Dec. 22 because of the stormy weather.

Perry Palmer has gone to Chicago where he will work on an oil tanker this winter.

Manus Martin and a friends have returned to Holly.

Pat and Rosie Bonner flew to Detroit where they will spend the holidays. Pete the Swede is looking after the farm during their absences.

Don Burke has returned to the Island after spending the sailing season on the Great Lakes.

Andrew J. Gallagher who is serving aboard the Coast Guard cutter Woodbine flew to the Island last week to spend Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Gallagher.

Joe Ricksgers arrived via plane the day before Christmas to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ricksgers, and his brother, Francis.

We had a beautiful sunny Christmas day but along with it the lowest temperature of the year to date—two degrees above zero. A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all our Beaver Island friends.

SUNDEW REPORTS

The Sundew has completed its fall activities which includes securing aids to navigation for the winter. The ship did get underway for about a half hour on the Tuesday before Christmas but only to move from the buoy depot dock to the city dock for winter moorings. More of the crew is underway on leave and special liberty over the Christmas holidays.

Hope everyone has noticed the ship's special lighting effects for the holidays. Almost every former white light has been changed to green or red and additional lights have been added to the mast, bridge and foc-sl. Special thanks go to the electrical department headed by Chief Lawrence Opel for the extra hours spent in changing the bulbs and the wiring job.

Cmdr. Harold D. Muth has returned from a one-day ice operations conference in Chicago. The ship's movements during January and February will depend on weather and ice conditions in the Chicago and Milwaukee areas. The more ice in the southern end of Lake Michigan, the longer we will have to be there to keep navigation channels open.

The number of men on Christmas leave is too numerous to mention. Most crew members are from the midwest so the majority of the single men have been able to go home for a few days.

Sundew Scuttlebutt . . .

We have a new dog. A small one given to us by Pete Johnson. Already she has a host of friends her own dog-house and plenty of good food. We named her "Dewey," the closest we could come to Sundew. She isn't too sure of her footing as yet and needs some help while crossing the gangway. But she will always have a good 'home' aboard the Sundew.

Our thanks to the local chapter of the American Red Cross for the lovely bouquet of flowers sent for Christmas. It has been placed on one of the tables on the mess deck.

Despite the fact that it was Christmas Eve, the Coast Guard went about its rescue operations. The boxer dog seen around town fell into Round Lake near the ship. A life preserver was thrown overboard and the dog rescued from the icy water.

We had a few additional crew members last week for our change of mooring station. Some of the children of the crew members made the short trip and got a thrill out of sailing across Round Lake.

And to everyone a Happy New Year from the crew of the Sundew.

Prepared Forms Are Not Sent To Car Owners

Prepared automobile license applications have not been sent to vehicle owners this year as in the past, the Department of State has announced. Discontinuance of this service will save the state about a quarter of million dollars according to James M. Hare, secretary of state.

Applicants for vehicle license plate this year must obtain form from the branch offices of the Department of State and fill them out themselves. A properly filled out application along with title to the vehicle must then be taken to the branch office to obtain license plates. The department advises applicants to fill out the forms on a typewriter with a black ribbon or print in black ink in order to have the copies legible for processing.

Application forms may be obtained from the Charlevoix branch manager, George LaBlance at 402 Park ave., also at all garages, both banks and at the Charlevoix Courier.

All information to be printed on the application is found on the title to the vehicle. On the first line of the application form print your name, on the second line the address, on the third line the city. Make of car, year and model goes on the fourth line, serial number on the fifth line, weight and title number in the sixth line. Applicants should make sure to use the serial number and not the engine number on the form. All three parts of form must be completed.

Persons unable to fill out their own application may have it done for them at the Branch office by paying a 25 cent fee. Mr. LaBlance urges people to fill thier own applications because there is not a large enough staff at the branch office to handle the work rapidly during a rush period. He also warns that the office cannot oaccept an application that is not filled out correctly. In that event it will be necessary for the applicant to make out a new form.

The deadline for using 1958 plates is Feb. 28. After that date it is illegal to drive a vehicle wth the old plates. Mr. LaBlance advises applicants to get their plates as early as possible.

• Mr. and Mrs. Angus L. Fochtman have had as their guests during the holidays their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Riggle and family of Lansing and Mrs. Fochtman's sister, Mrs. C. S. Webster of East Lansing.

Thieves Work In Area Over Holiday Weekend

Parsel's Garage was broken into sometime New Year's Eve and $73.25 taken from a cash register according to Chief of Police Joseph L. Smith. The loss was discovered by one of the owners, Don Parsel, Thursday morning.

He said entry to the building was gained through a window broken by the intruder who tried to pry the cash register open before discovering it was not locked Nothing else was disturbed.
